Meet Dale L. Akers

Dale L. Akers retired Nov. 17, 1991, after 42 years of dedicated service to Fort Hays State University. Dale was hired as a physical plant laborer in 1949 and with the exception of three years in the military, has devoted his entire working life to the University. He advanced through a number of positions to assume the duties of Physical Plant Supervisor II.

Dale has earned the respect and admiration of faculty, staff and students for his untiring efforts on behalf of Fort Hays State University. It is because of those efforts that the University Power Plant is being renamed the Akers Energy Center. This gesture truly is an appropriate honor for a most deserving man.

Dale and wife Marge are the parents of two children, Greg and Debbie, and grandparents of four grandchildren.
