Every mortal dreams---and dreaming, soars to unknown heights, only to be brought face to face with stark reality by a crash which leaves its indelible mark upon the unthinking masses it affects.

Inevitably, but only occasionally, a whole nation dreams, and for years successfully evades a direct encounter with facts. The crash is just as unavoidable. It has come; » » » the daze which ensued is only now clearing away, and once again we have our feet on solid ground » » » with a better understanding of the reality of life and the ineffectiveness of combating it.

But even this awakening has not been without value. Memories of it, together with a finer appreciation of the human side of life as it is lived next door, will never die. There has come a deeper realization of the need for statesmanship » » » simple and sincere endeavor for the best that can be obtained » » » honest effort as was put forth by Grover Cleveland, who was inaugurated to the Presidency in the midst of the panic of 1893, and who, by his untiring and far-seeing efforts, brought our nation back to prosperity during the four short years of his term.

Cleveland's memory remains today as an outstanding example of the crying need of our times—men and women going out into the world with a definite purpose in mind and a clear, honest, human plan for reaching their goal.

This thought comes as a challenge to us—to all who would live for the honor of their alma mater. It is only to the credit of any institution that its people shall become sane, reasoning, and yet intensely human citizens. May we make our education count toward such a purpose. May our school always be known as a producer of—statesmen!
Presenting the Realities of the Year... Published by the Junior Class at Fort Hays Kansas State College... Hays, Kansas.
From the Bridge to Custer Hall
DEDICATION

To Jack Riley— and his 1933 Tigers, a group of men who are men, and who, inspired by the ambitious and yet intensely practical Riley, one of the cleanest coaches football will ever know, have made gridiron fame for our campus.

To the coach, who beside being an all-around good fellow, has grinned at the unfavorable realities he has had to face and built for the College a winning football team; and to the men who, coached by him who was once a fighting Tiger, have given the best that was in them—we happily dedicate this, the 1934 Reveille.
The Hall of Science
DR. C. E. RARICK
Acting President

We have tried faithfully to make this, the 1934 Reveille, a presentation, lasting and yet unadorned, of the realities of Fort Hays Kansas State College as they will live in your memory of happy days on the campus and lasting friendships formed there. We offer this book with the sincere hope that in these pages you may re-live the most real of your memories of life at Fort Hays State. And may they always be pleasant!
Where Industry Reigns
We count the quintessential part of all God's mercies, in this coil of twenty years,
Is that no sense of value disappears
Or fails. — You saw the challenge, heard the call.—
We calmly estimate the rise and fall
Of manly purpose in these fruitful years.
Yet your laborious works, the untold fears,
The joys, the cares, and disappointments'
gall.

Remain for thought and wonder! Truly grand
Is your creation and its spacious hope.
And these horizon-stretching plans shall bless
The heart that dared, the mind that strove and plann'd
That Youth might grow in grace, and live
and grope
For Light, and store of treasured Hap-

FRESHMEN...
The 1933 Tiger football season was one of the most successful in the history of the school, the team finishing second in the Central Conference after losing only to Wichita Municipal University, and playing scoreless ties with both Washburn and Pittsburg Teachers.

The season record shows a total of seven games won, two tied, and two lost, with 145 points to the Tigers' credit as compared with 61 for their opponents. Only Captain Bearley was lost from the first string eleven through graduation.
Unusual honors were given to outstanding Tigers this season on honorary teams. Floyd "Cocky" Sexton was given honorable mention on Gould's All-American selection, was chosen on the all-state team, and on every Central Conference group that was picked. Zeigler, tackle, and Dreiling, guard, were also named on all-conference teams. Rogers, Bender, Palmer, Bearley, and McKee were placed on second or honorable mention teams.

"Cocky" Sexton and Rennie Zeigler, juniors, were selected to captain the Tigers during the 1934 season.

Letters were awarded to eight members of the 1934 Tiger basketball squad. The list was as follows: DEAN SKAER, captain-elect, HERMAN SCHWARTZKOPF, HOWARD LAMOREUX, RICHARD STAAB, NORMAN LIETZKE, WADE MORIARITY, FLOYD Sexton, and JAMES WICKIZER. Honor sweaters were awarded to the three senior lettermen, LIETZKE, LAMOREUX and MORIARITY, and first year sweaters to STAAB and WICKIZER.

COACH "Busch" Gross has done much toward building a winning Tiger crew, although handicapped throughout the season by loss of members of his team through illness and accident.

WADE MORIARITY, guard, and RICHARD STABB, center, were named on the second all-Central Conference basketball team chosen by a vote of the five conference coaches. HOWARD LAMOREUX and NORMAN LIETZKE were given honorable mention.

Lack of interest in track events in past years has made it difficult for Coach Jim Yeager to build a winning team, but each year his squad has been improving and all indications are that sometime in the near future track will be one of Fort Hays State's outstanding sports. Virgil Brown, low hurdles and dashes, is captain of the 1934 track squad.

Lettermen from last year's squad around whom Coach Yeager built his team are: Brown, Lamoreux, Schwartzkopf, Kahler, Dunlap, Hoover, Rothe, and Francis. Other candidates for positions on the team were: Curry, Mitchell, Uppendahl, Reissig, Reist, Holm, Reinhardt, and Robinson.
The purpose of intramurals is to give all the men in the College a chance to, figuratively speaking, "show their stuff," in the field of sports included in the intramural program. Intramurals are in charge of Jim Yeager, of the physical education department, and the program has developed much in the three years he has been in charge. Soccer, basketball, horseshoe pitching, handball, and wrestling are included in the intramural program.

The Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, shown above, are intrafraternal basketball champions, having won the cup in a three game play off series from Phi Sigma Epsilon.

The intramural basketball championship, however, went to Woody Reinhold's intramural team, which was undeafeted throughout the season. Reinhold's group is shown in the lower panel.

Ralph Eikelberger, singles horseshoe pitching champion, and Karl Hartzog and Omer Voss, doubles champions, are also pictured.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was victorious in the intramural wrestling contests.

The Women’s Athletic Association is an organization of women students who are interested in various activities sponsored by the club, such as hiking, roller-skating, horseback riding, basketball, speedball, etc. The points won in these sports contribute toward "K" letters or honor sweaters.

The local organization this year was host to the convention of the Kansas State Women’s Athletic Association. The local president, LORETTO NICHOLAS, was also the state president. The club again sponsored its annual high school Play Day, April 7, for girls of the high schools of Western Kansas.

The Physical Education Major Club is composed of majors and minors in the department. Its purpose is to further the interest of the girls in the department activities. As usual, the club this year sponsored various numbers in assembly programs.

The Intramural Board, sponsored by the W. A. A., had complete charge of the revised program of intramurals. It is composed of two representatives from each sorority and independent team under a chairman appointed by the W. A. A. The program this year included major sports, such as volleyball, basketball, swimming, and minor sports, such as horseshoe, tenikoits, tumbling, social dancing. Cups and trophies were awarded.
DUCK CLUB

The Duck Club is an organization of girls with special swimming ability. From time to time, tests are taken to assure the qualification for membership. By passing the first test, a girl becomes a duckling, but is not a full-fledged duck until she has passed a second and more difficult test.

The club this year participated in a telegraphic meet sponsored by the College of Emporia. It had charge of the swimming and water games of the high school Play Day sponsored by the W. A. A. and gave a party for representatives at the State Women's Athletic Association meeting in Hays.

The Life-Saving Tests this year were not given until April. Mr. A. T. McCue, from national headquarters, again had charge of the tests. Senior life-savers who passed the tests in 1933 are: RENA REED, HELEN WHEAT, MAURINE HUNSLEY, IDA MARIE WICKIZER, VIRGINIA MAXWELL, and MARY ELIZABETH REED. VIRGINIA MCFARLAND has her examiners badge.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis is an honorary dancing club, composed of girls who have qualified for membership in the interpretive dancing classes.

The organization was especially busy this year, presenting short dances such as the "Skaters' Waltz," and again interpreting "Dance of the Hours" from "La Giaconda," for the State Women's Athletic Association convention and at the second presentation of the opera "Lucia di Lammermoor." Later in the year the club again cooperated with the music department in presenting the dance in "Fair Scene" in "Martha."
HAYS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Hays Symphony Orchestra conducted by Henry Edward Malloy has given concerts at Norton, Oberlin, and Dodge City, besides the concert they gave as a feature of the Music Festival program.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Unusually fine assembly programs have characterized the weekly meetings of the student body during the year. The programs, during the first semester, were in charge of Ernest Baker, student chairman, and during the second semester, they have been directed by Ida Marie Wickizer, spring semester chairman. Orvis Grout, prominent student in dramatics, has directed several plays for the entertainment of students during assembly hour one of which was "The Passing of the Rosary," written by Grout.

The outstanding program of the first semester was the annual Christmas pageant, "The Other Half," which was directed by Prof. James Start, instructor in speech and dramatics, assisted by Baker.

IME eraseth all things," said a famous poet long ago. As time goes on, many of the happy incidents and treasured friendships of your college days will fade from your memory. To preserve these things for your future pleasure, we have printed this book for your school. A good book, like a good friend, grows in value as the years go by. Keep this volume carefully, and it will give you much gratification and enjoyment in the years to come.

THE CONSOLIDATED
SALINA, KANSAS
With each passing year this book, your annual, will gain in importance. As you thumb the pages in the years to come, photographs and pictures will bring back wistful memories of yesterday. We, as artists and engravers are glad to have had the opportunity of recording a cross section of your life of today—that your year book may be a pictorial monument for tomorrow.

Times Change — Customs Change
but Character Endures

From year to year, from generation to generation, progress forces constant change in business practice. But there is one thing that has not changed, that will not change—that cannot change, and that one thing is character. At The First National today you will find that same reputation for honesty, integrity and fair dealing that has characterized this institution since its inception 46 years ago.
