REVENILLE

REVEILLE

Wake: the silver dusk returning
Up the beach of darkness brims,
And the ship of sunrise burning
Strands upon the eastern rims

Up, lad, up, 'tis late for lying;
Hear the drums of morning play;
Hark, the empty highways crying
"Who'll beyond the hills away?"

Up, lad: thews that lie and cumber
Sunlit pallets never thrive;
Morns abed and daylight slumber
Were not meant for man alive

Clay lies still, but blood's a rover;
Breath's a ware that will not keep.
Up, lad: when the journey's over
There'll be time enough to sleep.

Strong hands holding the globe, symbolize well the role education must play in the future world if it is to be one free of war and greed, establishing and maintaining on a world wide basis the high standards of living made possible by modern inventions.

Each college student, if such a world is possible, must discover in his daily activities and his associations with his colleagues and teachers, the hidden potentialities that may prove beneficial toward achieving this end. This presents a challenge to the institutions of higher learning that forms the nucleus of world solidarity and understanding.

This is the yearly story of a college that helps form this network, a story of the students who must help to make this better world of tomorrow.

Dedication

To the ambassador of Fort Hays State College, Hugh Burnett, this book is gratefully dedicated. His ready wit and friendliness has won many friends for Fort Hays all over the state. His understanding nature has made him one of the most popular faculty members on the campus.

A gentleman, a scholar, and a friend, he has won the respect of students and faculty alike.

Little Theater

Feats of magic and dramatic reading featured Little Theater's first workshop meeting, where everyone from carpenters to sound men were assembled. A string of pearls, an irate detective, and a murderer added up to make "Square Crooks", their first production of the year, a success. Their spring project, "The Patsy", gained for them an enthusiastic audience.

The year's activities included demonstrations of make-up, the movies "Great expectations", and "Julius Ceaser", the reading of Sheridan's "The Rivals", and the presentation of four one-act plays: "Nonikin and Ninikin", Kreymborg; "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals", Barrie; "Trifles", Glaspell, and "Ladies Alone", Rogerson and Clements.

Graduate Club

Older and wiser, yet realizing that the sharing of experiences will aid in climbing higher in the field of learning, the Graduate Club enjoys a variety of programs of both social and academic nature, including outside speakers, thesis resumes, and panel discussions. All Graduate students who are candidates for their master's degree are eligible for active membership. This year Horace Jacobini served as president of the organization, while Professor George M. Robertson acted as faculty sponsor.

Womans Leadership

Betty Lowe was elected president of Women's Leadership, which is an honorary organization. The club is limited to fifteen members who are chosen on a basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Betty Hall was elected vice president and Cynthia Wooster was elected secretary and treasurer.

The all school party held at the beginning of the fall semester was sponsored by this organization. They also directed the selling of Delators and helped in the reorganization of the 7th Cavalry.

Student Council

Gathering in Dean McCartney's office each Tuesday, the Student Council discusses and deals with problems affecting the student body.

Everything from smoking legislation to green ribbons for the freshmen can be traced to the plans of this group of fifteen members chosen from the student classes and from the student body at large.

Debate

Delores Griffing, Joe Anstine and Glenn Neumeyer qualified for Pi Kappa Delta, National forensic organization, by representing the college in more than five inter-collegiate debates this year. These three students attended the tournament at McPherson. Griffing and Anstine attended the Rocky Mountain Speech Conference at Denver. They won three out of five rounds of debate, and Anstine won a rating of superior in news commenting. Miss Griffing received a rating of excellent and was the only woman to place.

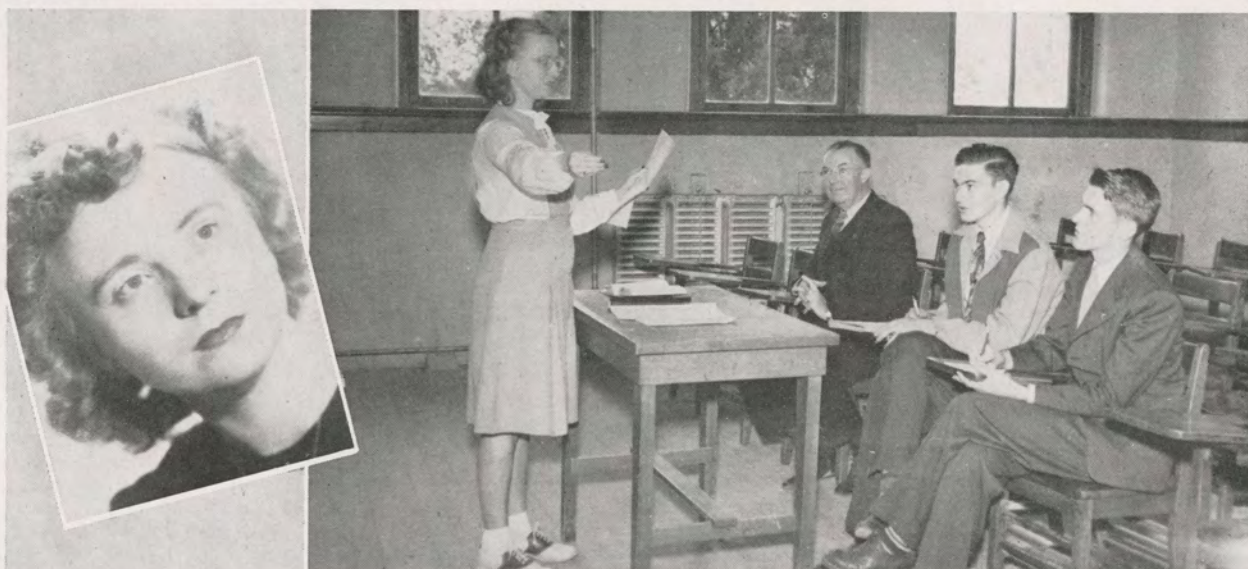

Neumeyer and Anstine attended the Kansas Debating League at Salina, winning four out of five debates.

Quill Club

The Eolh Rune chapter of the American College Quill Club is composed of students who show unusual abilities in writing. An honorary organization, prospective members must submit a manuscript which meets with the approval of the organization.

Quill Club members meet twice a month to criticise their manuscripts and make suggestions as how to improve them. Quill club also sponsored an all school assembly, and Velma Paul, president, attended the national conference at Grinnell College. Faculty sponsors of Quill Club are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coder.

Art Activity Club

Working in cooperation with the art classes, the Art Activity club does individual pieces of work for the college and community. Making posters for the artists and lecturer series, retouching campus billboards, and fixing window displays are only a few of the numerous activities engaged in.

Picnics and outings, where the members have an opportunity to sketch from nature, and the annual artist's ball were part of the year's agenda.

Erma Lee Krumrey is president of the Art Activity Club, and Drew Dobosh is faculty sponsor.

Newman Club

Upholding the ideals of its patron, Cardinal Newman, the Newman club has a three fold program, religious, educational, and social. This is an organization for Catholic students of non Catholic universities and colleges.

The Newman Club, under the direction of Rita Stramel, president, holds regular meetings twice a month for the purpose of stimulating student interest in religion, and to cultivate good fellowship and solidarity. They also worked coordinately with YMCA and YWCA in sponsoring religious emphasis week. Mr. James Start is faculty sponsor.

Y.W.C.A.

Approximately thirty girls, with Miss Rosella McCarrol as their sponsor, were active in YWCA during the fall and spring semesters. Dorothy Tuttle was elected president; Clara Rahjes, vice president; Betty Ferguson, secretary; and Carol Barry was elected treasurer.

The YWCA maintained an active existence this year, attending a church conference at Emporia as well as engaging in campus activities. This organization worked with the Newman Club and YMCA in sponsornig Religious Emphasis week and the Easter sunrise service.

Y.M.C.A.

The Young Men's Christian Association, under the able leadership of Mr. Harley Garrett, faculty sponsor, has seen an active school year. Participating in everything from watermelon feeds, hamburger fries, swimming meets, intramurals, and helping to sponsor Religious Emphasis week, there has never been a dull moment for any of its members. The YMCA is now a member of the Rocky Mountain Student Christian Movement and sends delegates to the various conferences.

Officers for the first semester were: Leland Heinze, president; Bill Jones, vice president; Glenn Neumeyer, secretary; Don Slechta, treasurer.

Pre-Medic Club

Pictures, lectures, and informal discussions help the members of Premedic Club learn more about the field of medicine. Composed of premedical students, the aim of the club is to help students who are preparing for a medical career understand more about the various fields. Organized in 1943, it has made rapid gains, both in membership and activities. Under the leadership of Jerry Wilson, the organization has made much progress toward its goal of uniting all premedical students at Fort Hays.

Dr. F. W. Albertson is faculty sponsor.

German Club

Always noted for the variety of interesting programs planned, the German club upheld and surpassed the goals of previous years. Through the use of slides, outside speakers, and parties, the meetings increased both the interest and adeptness of its members in the use of German.

The highlight of the year was the annual Christmas party whose program, decorations, and menu were typically German. With Ernest Keil as president and Mrs. Emma Golden as faculty sponsor, the year drew to a successful close.

Spanish Club

Under the capable guidance of Erma Prior, president, the Spanish Club made a noteworthy gain both in members and activities during the year. Although it was only organized last year, the fine interest and cooperation the members have shown have earned for it a deserving place on the list of worthwhile campus activities.

Professor Modesto Jacobini is the faculty sponsor.

Kappa Pi

Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity, is composed of art majors and minors, who have displayed unusual ability and have a B average for their college work.

The purposes of Kappa Pi are to promote art interest among college students; to bring art departments of various colleges closer together; to know the work of other students through other exhibits and the Sketch Book, and to recognize potential and professional ability. In their regular meetings, creation is combined with recreation.

Erma Lee Krumrey is president and Gloria Buck, secretary and treasurer. Miss Mabel Vandiver is faculty sponsor.

Engineers Club

Composed of all students interested in any phase of engineering, the Engineer's Club plans programs that will interest them in the latest fields of research.

Talks on civil engineering, anti-submarine techniques and various other phases of engineering made up the year's discussions. Under the leadership of Craig Culley, The Engineer's Club has enjoyed a successful year's activity. Mr. Everett Marshall is faculty sponsor.

Home Economics Club

Organized in an effort to give the girls an additional opportunity to work on actual class projects, the Home Economics Club combines business and pleasure in studying modern methods of improving the quality of living in home and community. A Christmas party for the crippled children at St. Anthony's hospital and a state home economics convention in Wichita added variety to the year's program.

Leaders of the group were Muriel Jones, president; Darlene Nelson, vice president; Maxine Montgomery, secretary; Sarah Fort, treasurer; and Miss Alice Beesley, sponsor.

W.A.A.

"Lots of fun for all", promised Susie Meyer, W.A.A. president, when the girls enrolled, and none were disappointed. In addition to swimming parties, basketball tourneys, and hit-pin baseball tournaments for all the girls on the campus, they held an all school carnival, complete with a king and queen to reign over the event.

Even the high school girls had their day, for the annual play day committee invited guests from several Western Kansas high schools.

Pi Gamma Mu

Membership in this national honorary social science fraternity is limited to juniors with twenty hours and seniors with thirty hours of "B" in social science. New members are elected by the active faculty members of the organization.

The purpose and desire of Pi Gamma Mu is to study all social science problems open-mindedly and to develop young men and women who are well informed in social problems.

Officers of the organization this year are: Bill Cape, president; Cynthia Wooster, vice president; and Mr. Charles Blackmore, secretary-treasurer.

Kappa Phi

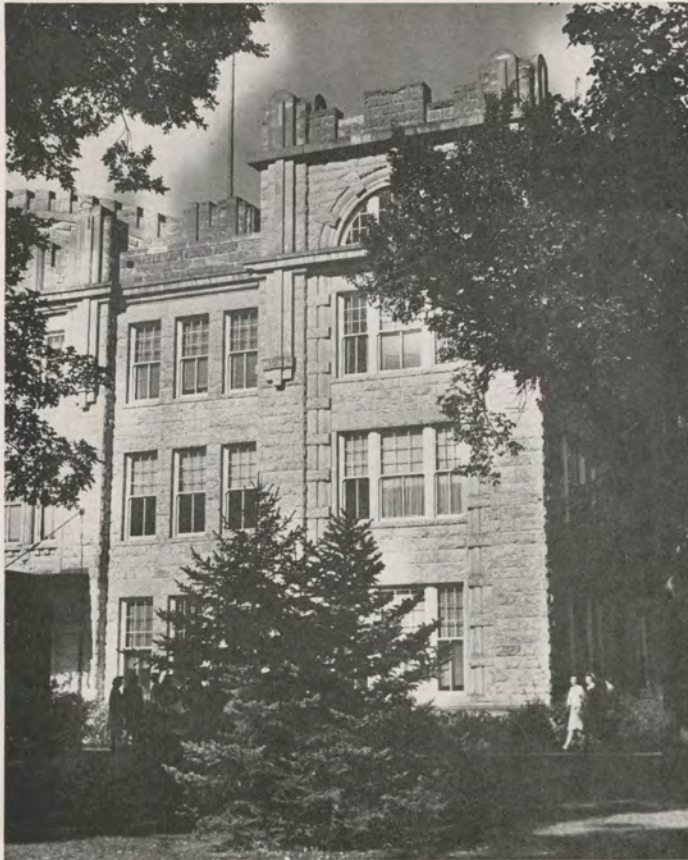

With the slogan, "I'd love to" and the motto "Others", the Kappa Phi girls built a year of fellowship around the theme, "You must be the world you want". This organization, open to all girls of Methodist preference, seeks to build Christian character and to further its aim of making every Methodist woman in the world of today a leader in the church of tomorrow.

Their monthly cabinet breakfasts were presided over by Esther Hayes, with Dorothy Harris as vice president; Carol Barry, recording secretary; Gladys Oliphant, treasurer; and Miss Cora Bibens and Mrs. Ruth Davis as sponsors.

Leader

Hot off the press! Every Tuesday you can see a group of students gathered around the bulletin board catching up on the latest school news and gossip. Thursday is Leader day, and every Monday and Tuesday there is a mad scurry of reporters hurrying to meet the Tuesday noon deadline. Then comes the frantic scratches of the red pencil as the copy is written in its final form and hurried back to the print shop to be set. On Thursday morning you can hear the roar of the presses as the students patiently wait for the first edition.

Don Slechta served as business manager this year, while "Wally" Wallerstedt and Earl Bondurant saw that the news reached the black on white stage.

Leader deadlines were met despite the fact that three different persons served in the capacity of editor during the year. Carmelita Singel and Jo Monsen started the year as co-editors, but since both had quit by the close of the first semester, Leland Heinze was named editor for the remainder of the year.

Reveille

With a sigh of relief, we turn the Reveille over to you. We only hope that you will be satisfied with it.

If you don't think putting out the Reveille is a heck of a job, just look at these grey hairs. We started the year young and inexperienced. Now we are veterans, and that is no joke, son.

It was lots of work and we hope we have succeeded in capturing a few memories of this year at Fort Hays State.

GRAKS

The Greeks

The Greeks play an important role in the day by day spectacle of college life. They offer a vivid setting for the ideals and aims of college education; they symbolize the qualities of leadership, friendship, brotherhood, and loyalty that are so vital a part of college.

Working together in their quest for enjoyment, the Greek organizations form the nucleus of campus social life. Parties, formals, and other social events provide enjoyment and relaxation as well as pageantry to college.

Enjoyment is not the only aspect of the Greeks, though. They are also conscious of the importance of the academic phases of college and there is keen rivalry among the different organizations for high scholastic achievement. The various sororities vie for the scholastic shield, and the fraternities take pride in maintaining a high grade point average.

The Greek intramural teams are also always near the top, and actively compete for athletic honors. The rush weeks are always a scene of lively activity as each organization tries to pledge those who demonstrate the qualities of leadership and brotherhood.

Each organization strives to top the other in all phases of campus activities, but the competition is friendly and when the all Greek formals come, all rivalry is forgotten.

Many friendships are established as a result of Greek fellowship that will last through the years. The Greek organizations strive to build the ideals of college education through fraternal associations. They strive to build the character and the leadership necessary to face the demanding world.

The Greeks play a leading role in the unfolding drama of life at Fort Hays State College.

Inter-Fraternal Council

To the Inter-Fraternal Council this year fell the task of reviving fraternity life as it had been before the war. The council, more than ever before formed an agency to provide for organized pledging, rushing, initiation procedures, intrafraternal athletics and social activities.

During the year a new constitution was written and approved by the council. Though concerned with the problem of establishing rules and procedures for the organization, it also worked with the Panhellenic council in sponsoring and organizing the all Greek formals which were held each semester.

Membership of the council is composed of two representatives from each of the fraternities. The officers of the organization are chosen from the active membership. Al Riedel was president of the council the first semester, and Robert Johnson served as president the last semester.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council, under the leadership of Gladys Schreiber, has done much toward uniting the various sororities for concerted action. This council makes rules concerning pledging, rushing, the activity weeks, and active services. Since its organization, the council has done much to promote friendliness among the sororities.

This year the Panhellenic Council cooperated with the Inter-Fraternal council in sponsoring the all Greek formals. It also sponsored the Panhellenic tea.

The officers of the organization are chosen on a rotational basis. This year an Alpha was president, a Delta was secretary, and a Tri Sig was treasurer. Rita Stramel represented the Deltas and Normal Ann Campbell was the Tri Sig representative. Miss Mae Paul is faculty sponsor for the Panhellenic Council.

SPORTS

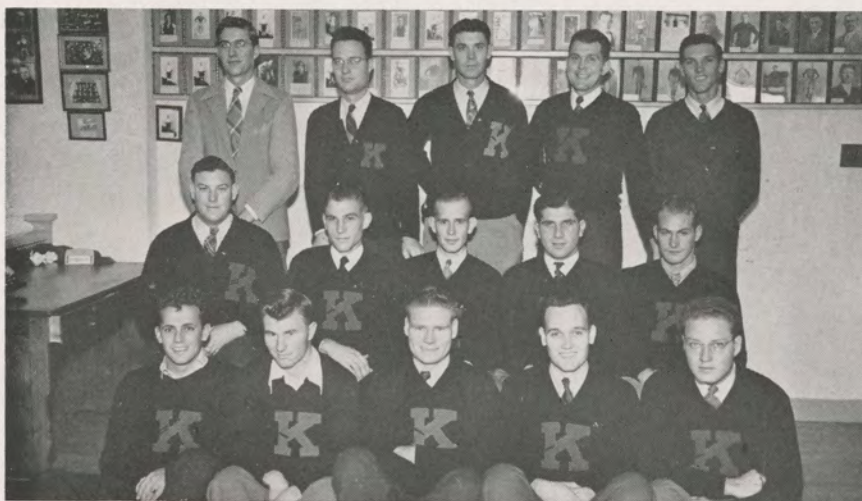

Homecoming

QUEEN BETTY LOWE
Princess Rita Stramel

KING RICHARD SAMUELSON

K Club

The K Club, one of the oldest organizations on the campus, is composed of athletes who have won at least one letter in a major sport during their college careers. All pledges must undergo a rigorous initiation service to become an active member. Dressed in typical sweater and jean attire of "bobby sockers," K Club pledges presented an amusing spectacle this year.

K Club sponsored an all school varsity, and a Dogpatch style dance. At the Dogpatch dance money prizes were given to the couple with the most authentic Dogpatch costumes.

With Joe Jellison as president and many of the old members back, the K Club has regained the important position it enjoyed before the war.

Pep Committee

The Pep Committee, under the leadership of Barney Boss, has done much toward improving school spirit this year. Taking charge of pep rallies and helping supervise the all school varsities, this organization has helped bring back that old Tiger enthusiasm.

Miss Mae Paul, faculty sponsor, also deserves much credit for the success of this committee.

Tigerettes

The black and gold sweaters of the Tigerettes are a familiar sight at any athletic event. Whether Fort Hays is winning or losing, the Tigerettes are always there cheering. Under the leadership of Doris Lamoreux, these pepsters have played an important part in Tiger successes.

The Tigerettes assisted in the Homecoming activities by directing the parade bands to their seating places in the stadium, cheering, and working in the concessions at the game. They also provided refreshments at many of the other home games to raise funds for new uniforms for the group.

Membership in this organization is limited to forty girls, and new members are admitted on a quota system from each dormitory, sorority, and from the student body at large.

Cheerleaders

Leading the cheering sections, the cheerleaders have helped encourage the Tigers on to success. The cheerleaders were elected by the student body after each candidate had demonstrated his ability in an all school assembly.

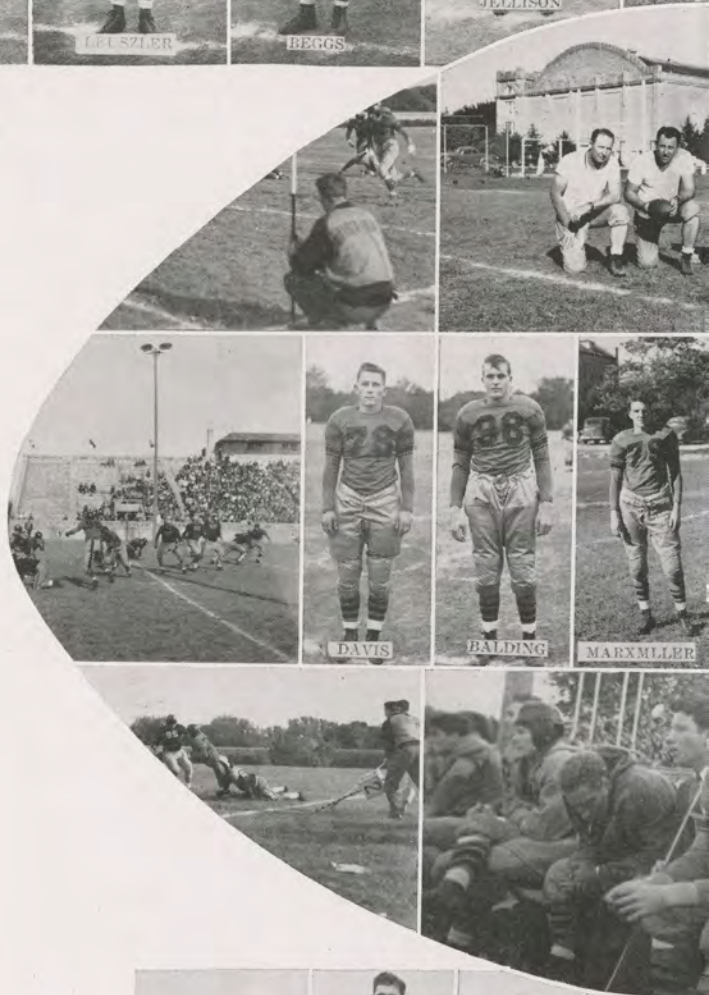

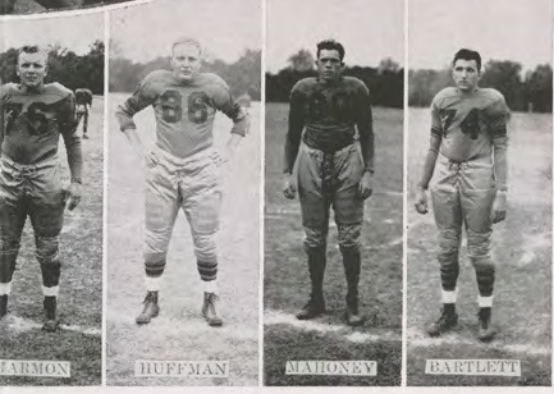

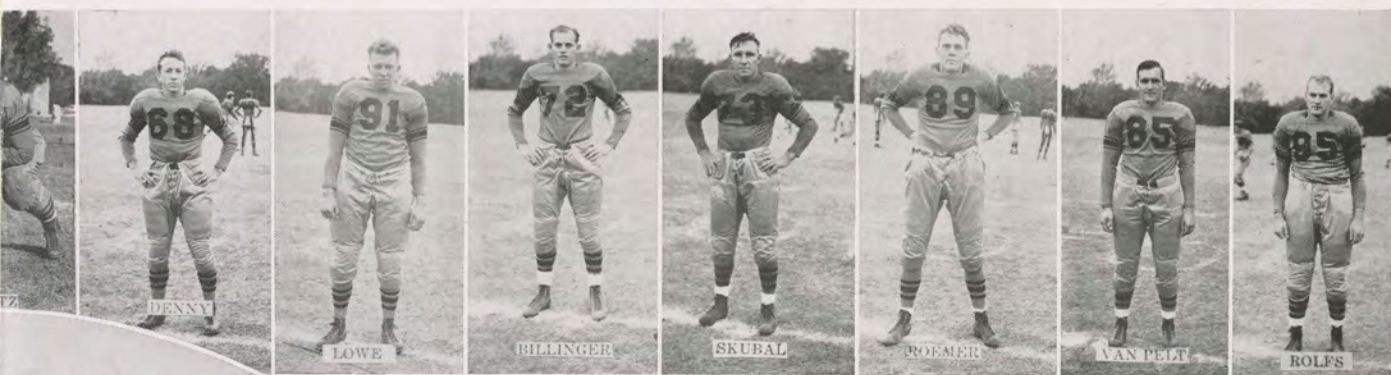

Tiger

The Fort Hays State Tigers, after a lapse of four years during the war, resumed football play in the 1946 season under the tutelage of Head Coach Ralph "Red" Huffman. With the largest number of men to report for football in the history of the school, only twelve lettermen were among the team candidates. While it was a promising squad, the Tigers were outweighed in most of their contests and greatly handicapped by lack of experience; nevertheless, they finished in a fourth place tie with Washburn in the C. I. C. standings. Fort Hays State's conference record was: one victory, two tie games, and two defeats.

With no captain being elected, the following six men served as acting captains in the various games of the season: Joe Jellison, Paul Andree, Wendell Stull, Ray Huffman, Harold Van Pelt, and Keith O'Connor.

Two Fort Hays State seniors, Harold Van Pelt and Ray Huffman, were honored at the close of the season by being selected to play on the Kansas college all-star team against a team of all-star Missouri college players in the MoKan Bowl game in Kansas City, Missouri.

Joe Jellison, outstanding Tiger lineman, was selected as tackle on the all-conference team, and Paul Andree and Rex Marxmiller were placed on the all-conference second team. Honorable mention in all-conference rating was given to Tiger players Harry Johnston, Kenneth Guthrie, Wendell Stull, Roger Wentz, Vincent King, Jack Hague, and Ray Huffman.

Tiger

Looking back over the season we find that the Tigers split their conference play with five wins and five losses while they won six of their nine-conference games. The three games the Tigers lost were one to Kansas State and two to the Greeley Colorado Teachers. Both of these teams had basketball during the war and had the odds on the Tigers in that respect.

Only one home game was lost by the Tigers and that one was by one point, 56-57, to the conference champs, Emporia State. The Tigers record on the road was not so favorable, however, as they won only two games, these from Pittsburg and Kansas Wesleyan.

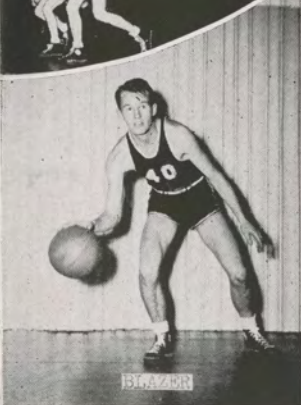

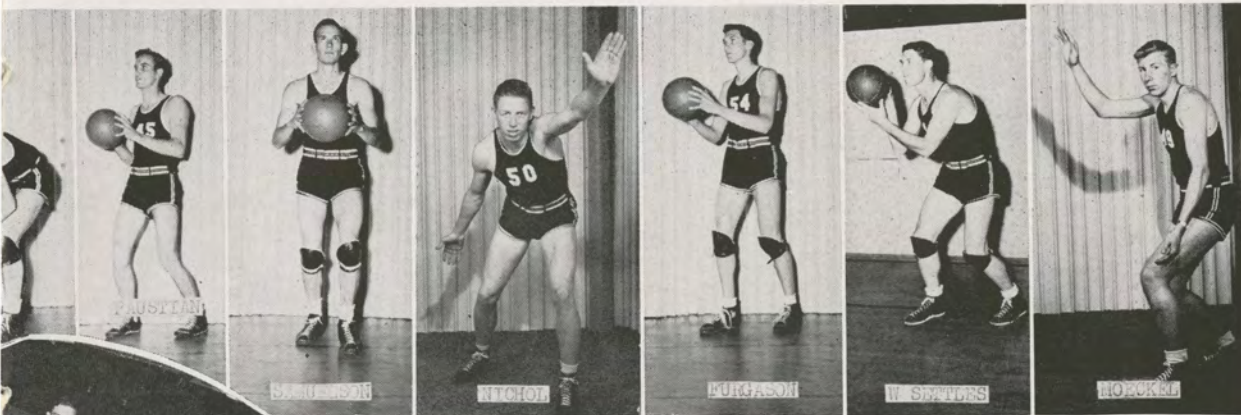

St. Benedicts received their worst beating of the season at the hands of the Tigers at Hays. The Tigers hit their peak and left the Ravens on the short end of a 81-54 score.

In the first game of the season the Tigers crushed Friends University by an 80-30 score to nearly equal the St Benedicts beating.

The season as a whole has been successful. The Tigers tied with Washburn for second place in the C. I. C., and with all but one member of the squad returning, we are looking forward to an even more successful season next year. Cade Suran's handling of the Tiger team has raised high hopes for the coming season.

Warren Settles, center, was chosen for the all conference basketball team by a unanimous vote of all the coaches. He was the only member of the team who received such an honor. Al Billinger and Sammy Samuelson of the Tigers were given honorable mention and both will be back next year.

Girls

Sports

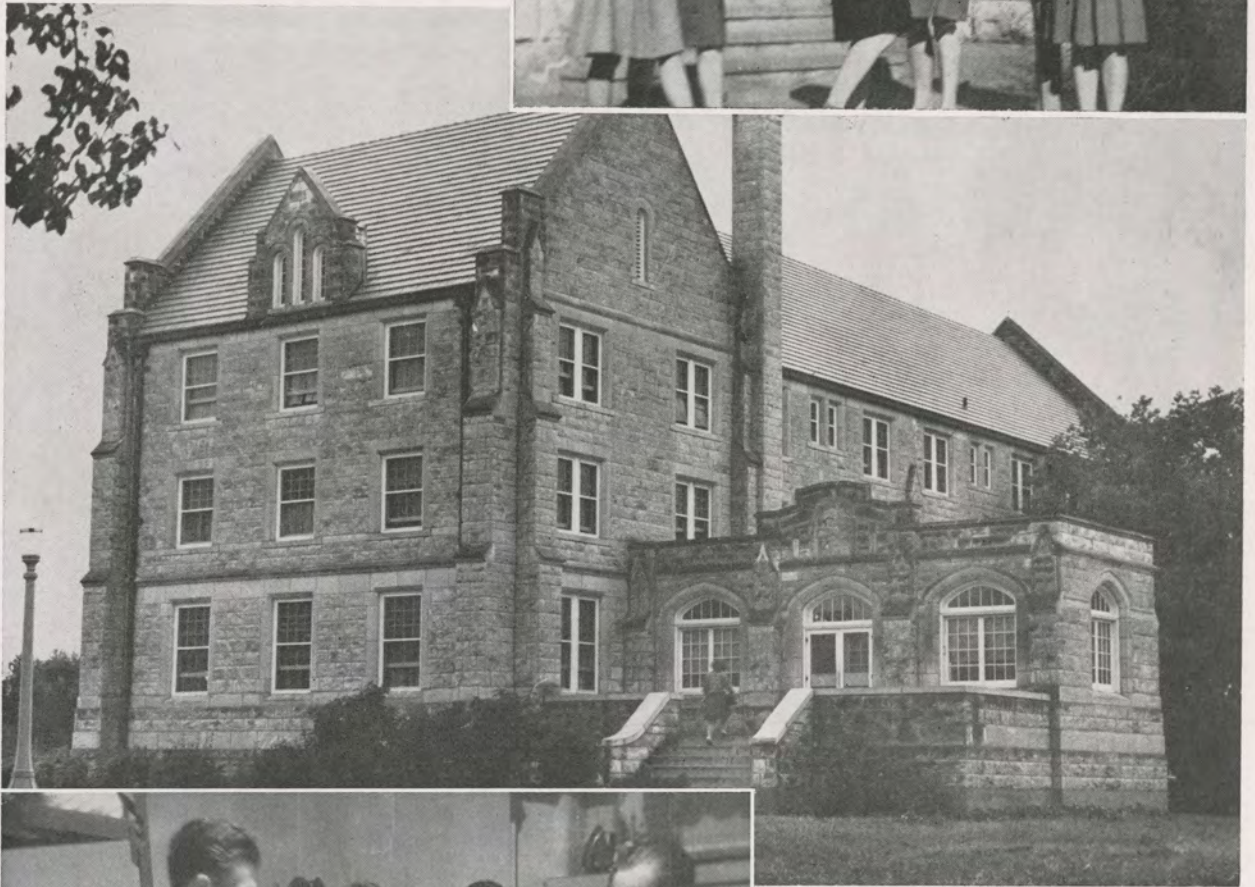

Swimming, dancing, volleyball, ping pong, hit-pin baseball, basketball—these are only a few of the variety of sports engaged in by our lady Tigers.

From the "put your little foot" routine to the advanced interpretative orchesis, the girls find emphasis placed on grace and poise.

It's not all work and no play, for with swimming, splash parties in duck club, intramurals, and hit pin tournaments in WAA, the girls have ample opportunity for friendly competition and fun.

DORMS

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

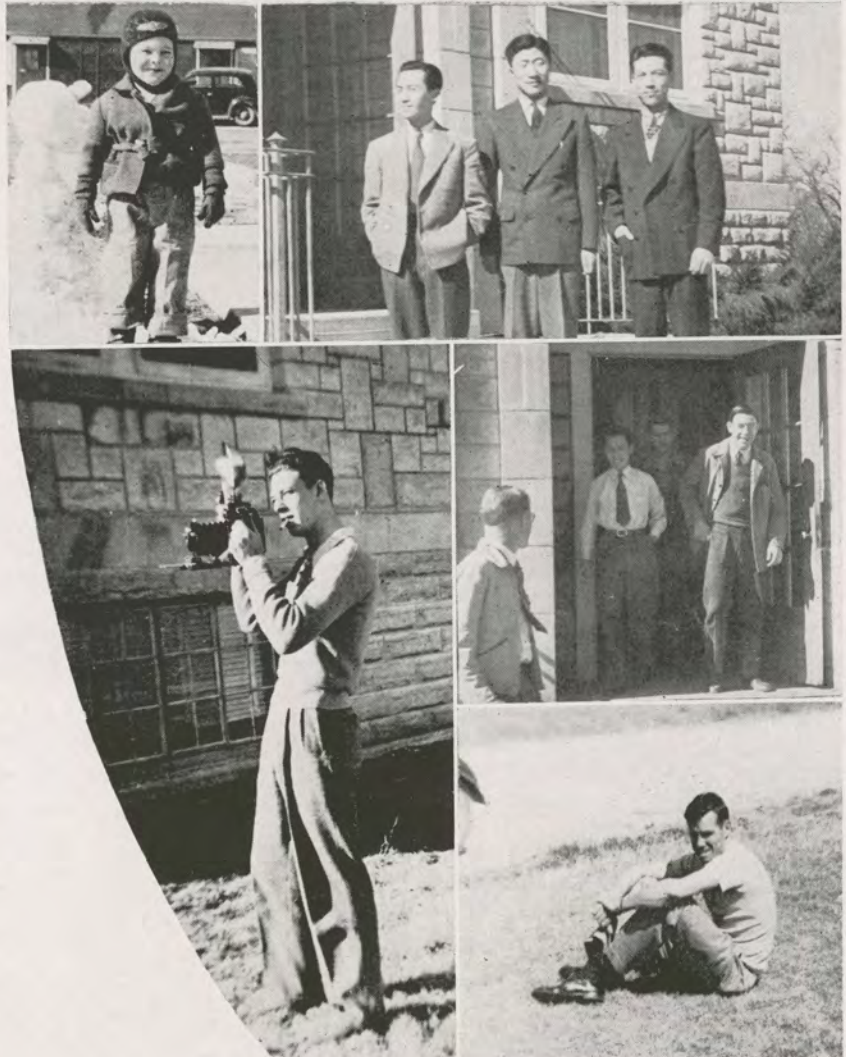

Residence Hall

Typical evenings around the piano with the usual amount of bad harmony, fellows huddled in one corner trying to study, friendly horseplay, the common "bull sessions," all these add a part to the life at Residence Hall. Under the supervision of "Mom" and "Pop" Settles, the year's activities have been friendly and enjoyable.

In spite of habitual financial embarrassment, the Dormitory managed to decorate for Christmas and cooperate with the Stadium in sponsoring a barn dance.

Bill Jones was president for the first semester and Warren Peterson was president the last semester.

Stadium

The Lewis Field Stadium is always a beehive of activity; Ping pong, house cleaning, bed making, and last but not least, studying, all have their place in life at the Stadium.

Under the direction of Dale Marcy, Lewis Field has engaged in a multiplicity of activities. Having a strong intramural team, entering in the Homecoming parade, and working with Residence Hall in sponsoring a barn dance, life has not been dull for the men who live there. An atmosphere of friendliness prevails everywhere, and many friendships are formed that will last long after college days are over.

Wesley Hall

They say home is where the heart is, and Mother Bowers has certainly made Wesley Hall worthy of that title. Watching over her forty-five girls, she enforces quiet hours for study and yet sees that friendships are formed, confidences are shared, and that plenty of laughter mark each daily round of activity.

As well as monthly house meetings, the girls and their dates this year enjoyed the annual scavenger hunt, a "June in December formal," and a March dinner party, all capably directed by Elinor Brining, President, Betty Lee Hall, Vice President, and Dorothy Harris, Secretary-Treasurer.

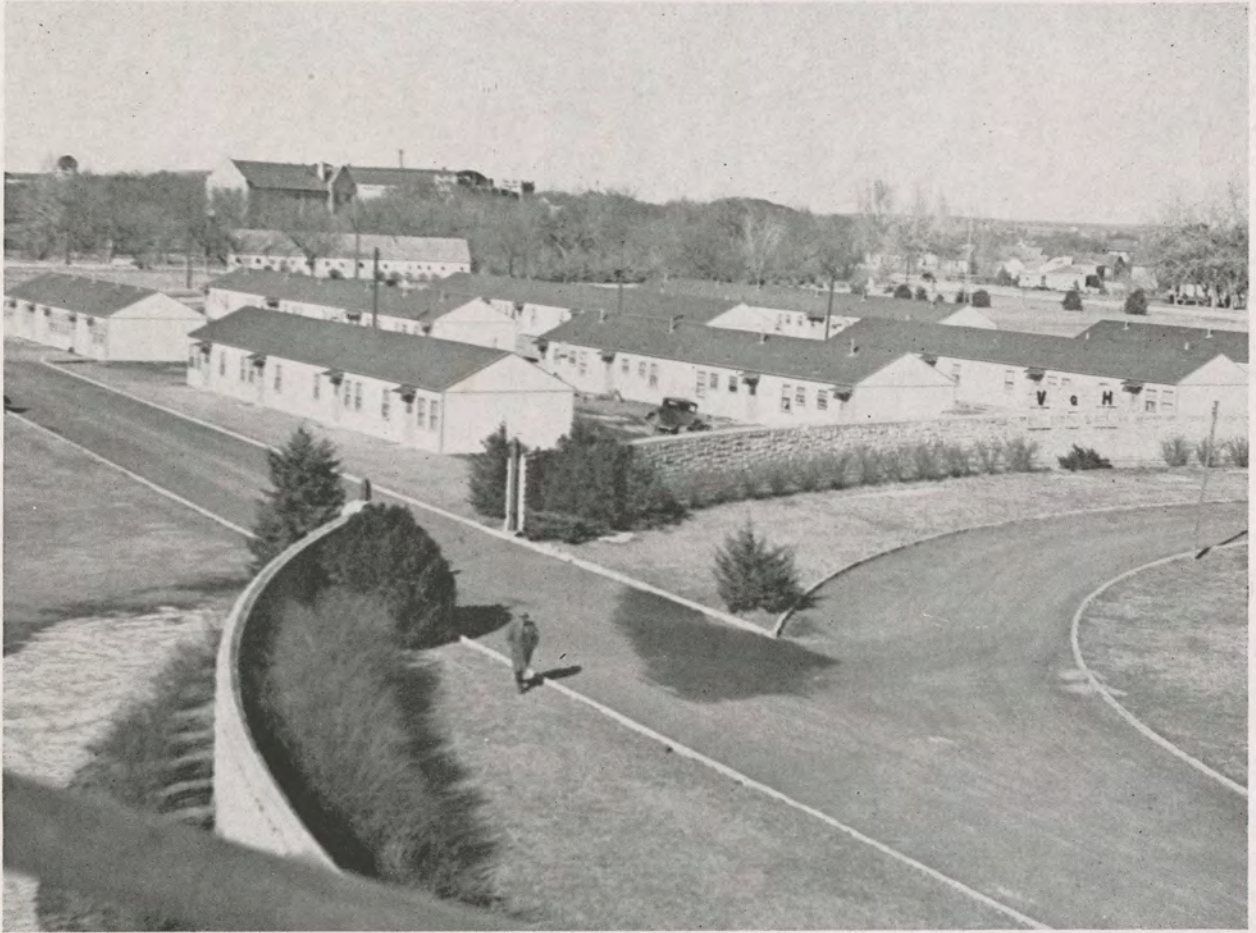

Custer Hall

Custer Hall, well protected from wolves by Big Creek and the Custer Hall bridge, is home to the girls who live there. Mrs. Gladys Stewart and Mrs. Dora Ringer, housemothers, keep peace and quiet reigning over the dormitory, which will accommodate eighty-eight girls. Law and order was kept by floor representatives under the direction of President Erma Prior, Vice President Carol Barry, Secretary Vera Cathcart, and Treasurer Ruth Ann Biehler for the fall semester. With the coming of the spring semester Evelyn Rockwell was elected president; Ruth Ann Biehler vice president; Lois Bell secretary; and Mary Helen Heick treasurer.

Custer Hall held open house during Fort Hays homecoming week and many visitors attended the tea which was held at that time. The spring formal was the high light of the year with several informal parties being held during the early semester.

Lewis Field

The Lewis Field of today presents quite a contrast to what it looked like in the early stages of its development. Under the guidance of Dr. Moreland, Lewis Field has gradually moved forward in spite of the many difficulties. The above picture of "Splinter Village," shows the latest housing additions. These new buildings for veterans and their families, contain sixty-three apartments which were built and furnished by the government and are under the supervision of the Federal Housing Authority. This latest addition makes the Lewis Field of today a small city in itself. Congratulations are due Dr. Moreland for a job well done.

RELAX and RE-FRESH

It's great to get tired; more fun to relax with a frosty-cold, sparkling, nippy-tart Dr. Pepper! How good it tastes! Within moments, you feel fresh and chipper. The flavor is unique; never monotonous. A dependable, steady standby any time you're hungry, thirsty or tired.

LOOKING BACKWARD . . .

. . . over the years events, we almost find ourselves regretting that it is all over. It was a good year, and one we will not soon forget. The parties, picnics, dances, and the many friendships will not be forgotten.

Since the first day, when the old timers stood marvelling at the number of freshmen enrolling, Fort Hays State has been a busy place. In our memory books there will be many pages from the past year—the hours spent on the steps of Wesley and Custer, busy nights in the library, the Homecoming activities, the Greek formals. These are a few of the things which shall be remembered of Fort Hays.

With the usual senior nostalgia, the usual farewells and “see you next year” promises, another year draws to a close. There is a big crowd at the bus station and depot, a bedlam of cars and students, and then with a last glance backward, another year is over.
