Fort Hays
Kansas State College

On June 23, 1902, Fort Hays Kansas State College held its first classes in buildings on historic old Fort Hays. The Military Reservation was divided into three parts—as a state college, as an agricultural experiment station, and as a state park. The land assigned to the college totalled 4,160 acres. The campus proper consists of about 80 acres.

From its beginning with 34 students, 2 faculty members, and 19 courses, Fort Hays State College has increased to more than 2,300 students, more than 125 faculty members, and more than 700 courses.

A spirited building program is exemplified in the Applied Arts Building, new dormitories for men and women, and the Memorial Student Union Building.

The Hays area and old Fort Hays is rich in tradition of the West. Fort Hays was a last outpost for General G. A. Custer before his fate in the Wyoming hills. Custer Hall, freshman women's dormitory on the campus, is named after Mrs. George Custer, also a resident at the Fort for a time.

Fort Hays State is rich in tradition—it carries this spirit with it in progress forward.

FORT HAYS
KANSAS
STATE COLLEGE
MEMORIAL UNION
Time does not stand still. All across the campus the scene is changing. Change is progress. Leaves turn gold and brown to leave the trees bare and ready for new leaves. The seasons proceed as campus life is moving always into the future, leaving the past behind but not forgotten.

Symbolic of progress at Fort Hays State this year is the construction of the Memorial Union building, long a cherished dream, now a reality, ready for the students upon their return to the campus in the fall.

On these pages, the Reveille staff has tried to capture the stages of progress as the year has come and gone and the building has progressed from the turning of the first spadeful of earth to the skeletal structure to the outward completion of the building.

The doors are closed. The story of progress is not complete until the furniture is placed, the draperies hung, and the coffee pots filled. When Fort Hays Staters return in September for enrollment, the doors will be open. The best is ahead, for you, for Fort Hays State.

THE STAFF
Built on historical land, the campus is part of the old Fort Hays military reservation. The military post was abandoned in 1889. In 1900 Congress granted land for use as a state school and an experiment station for agriculture. Due to controversies in land titles the college was not started until 1902. The old fort hospital served as the first building until 1903 when Picken Hall was provided. Here the campus was born.
Development moved ahead during the depression and the pre-war period carrying Fort Hays State toward its goals. Around the quadrangle progress continued.
After World War II, construction again moved ahead. Within a span of 11 years, 11 new buildings and additions were erected. They now form an integral part of the campus.
IN MEMORIAM

Miss Inez Torrey served Fort Hays State as College Nurse from 1945 until her death in 1957.

Miss Ilia Newbecker served Fort Hays State as Assistant Professor of Home Economics from 1948 until her death in 1957.
Dear Fort Hays Staters:

Any college yearbook holds many memories. It is a story, in pictures, of the many things it takes to make up a college: the buildings and grounds, the students and faculty, and the activities of the many groups.

Each of you has played a role all year long, and each has made a contribution toward making this a wonderful year. You have helped the editors publish this booklet by being a Fort Hays Stater and participating in college life on this campus. You have spent a precious year here seeking the truth in whatever field you have studied and it is up to you and the other students like you on other college and university campuses to succeed in the larger task of assuming the responsibilities of intellectual leadership in the years ahead.

We are living at a time in the life of our nation when action on social, economic, political, and religious issues is becoming more and more necessary to our very existence. I am proud of the leadership and standing Fort Hays has displayed and I am happy to have been associated with you. I have faith in your ability to make a happy and successful life for yourself and your family. Let me know if I can help you and wish the best for each of you.

Most sincerely,

M.C. Cunningham

ORGANIZATIONS
The Student Council, instrument of student government, is composed of fifteen class and student body officers. They meet at 12:45 weekly to discuss problems concerning the school and student organizations. Dean E. R. McCartney is advisor to the group.
Appointed by the Student Council, members of the Social Committee plan and co-ordinate the social activities for the student body. Activities of this committee include sponsoring the Sweetheart Ball, the May Farewell, Tiger Hops and the All School Carnival, compiling the weekly and semester calendar, and introducing the new classic and foreign film series.

CAMPUS BOOSTERS

A representative from each campus organization makes up the Campus Booster Council. Promoting school spirit and controlling activities is the primary purpose of this group.
Women's Leadership organization recognizes the outstanding women students. Members are elected and membership based on their leadership, ability, service, scholarship, and character. The chief aims of the group are recognizing college problems and sponsoring cultural interests.
SEVENTH CAVALRY

Traditionally named in honor of General Custer's own regiment, the Seventh Cavalry is an organization of young men outstanding in leadership.

Compiling and distributing student directories, selling popcorn at varsity games, ushering at Artists' and Lecture programs, and promoting scholarship and leadership on campus make up the activity calendar of this group.

P. Rhine and E. Milton furnish sports enthusiasts with fresh buttered popcorn.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The 1957-58 edition of Who's Who Among students in American Colleges and Universities includes 30 Fort Hays Kansas State College seniors selected from a group of 65 candidates who qualified by having a grade point of 2.0 or above. Decisions were based on qualities of leadership, capability, citizenship, and promise for future usefulness.

The Honors Program is a plan of special provisions for juniors and seniors of outstanding intellectual ability. A student must have a record of outstanding achievement in several subject fields besides his major interest. High grades alone, however, are not sufficient qualification.

Emphasis is given to consideration of the great ideas and issues which confront mankind in the search for truth and values, rather than to the assimilation of subject matter.

The attitude toward the Honors Program may be summed up by noting that an invitation to participate is the highest academic privilege that a college can bestow.

Selected by the Student Council, the Student Affairs Committee serves as a board of appeals for traffic violators.

This group held a meeting with campus organizations to discuss the campus parking problem and the advantages and disadvantages of a zoning program.
Kappa Omicron Phi, a professional fraternity, recognizes scholarship and personality for women majoring in Home Economics. This organization is designed to further Home Economics in four-year colleges. Guest Speakers, teas and break­fasts are sponsored by the group.

KAPPA OMICRON PHI

ALPHA PHI OMEGA
PREPARATORY GROUP

Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity of college men who are or have been previously affiliated with the Boy Scouts. The purpose of the fraternity, as set forth in the National Constitution, is “To assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship and promote service to humanity.”

Gold sweaters and black skirts are the official uniform of the Tigerettes, Fort Hays State women’s pep organization.

Before each game the Tigerettes usher the varsity squad onto the gridiron or basketball court. With the help of the student body, the Tigerettes’ aim is to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship. Membership is elective, chosen from upperclassmen previously affiliated with Kit Kats.

All varsity lettermen make up the membership of the K-Club, which is closely allied with the athletic department in its projects. During the games, members serve as ushers and operate the concession stand.
The leading participants in the field of dramatics are elected to the national dramatics fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega. They assist with dramatic productions and stimulate interest in dramatic activities on the campus.

An organization of students having completed 18 hours in language and literature with a 2.35 average is Lambda Iota Tau. The group meets monthly to discuss the work of modern novelists, poets and playwrights.

Following formal initiation of Phi Kappa Phi was a banquet in the dining room of the Men’s Residence Hall.

Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, has as its purpose the recognition of scholarship and rewarding of scholastic achievement among students of American universities and colleges.

Each year the top student in the junior class, selected seniors from the upper 12.5% of the class and outstanding graduate students and faculty members are honored by receiving invitations to become members of this nation-wide honor society.

Election implies scholarship in the broadest sense—not in grade point alone, but through participation in activities and outstanding service for the college.

PHI KAPPA PHI

KAPPA PI

Membership into Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity, requires the students to have completed 12 hours in art with a "B" grade average and all other courses with a "C" grade average. Each year the organization exhibits work produced by students and faculty. A work night was sponsored by the group, one night each week. A live model was provided for sculpturing and sketching, window displays were redecorated, and discussions were held.

HONORARY AMBASSADORS OF GOOD-WILL

This fall a large group of student leaders met to select approximately 240 ambassadors from towns or communities represented at Fort Hays State. Through the years the program has acquainted many individuals with the college and brought many students to the campus.

These honorary ambassadors of good-will have acquainted themselves with Fort Hays' program of study and activities and made contact with high school students during the spring semester and summer. They worked in various ways to encourage and influence attendance at Fort Hays. Enlisting the help of other Fort Hays Staters, groups gathered during weekends, Christmas, Easter and semester vacation, spoke at local high school assemblies and approached the students in a friendly, informal manner.
Young Women's Christian Association has as its objectives fellowship with girls of various interests who work through the Y.W.C.A. and to seek and learn more about God. Money making projects during the year were square dances and a rummage sale. A horn of plenty party to raise food for the needy of Ellis County was also a highlight.

Activity organizations are the outgrowth of the classroom, the breaking down into interest groups as a result of study and preparation. Back of these organizations is the college . . . more than simply buildings, laboratories, offices and classrooms, more than just students who every day put life into these buildings, more than instructors, passing on knowledge acquired through years of study, more than administration coordinating all activities into a smoothly functioning institution.

Above these material ingredients of college is an intangible spirit of desire, a quest for knowledge and a spirit of pride in the school which increases as the student progresses from freshman to senior . . . from study to class, to laboratory, to activity, then to practical use.

Time and patience, sticky hands and dirty fingernails are only a part of college life for an art student.
The residents of Custer Hall began their first year of college life by joining many organizations. Among these were Kit Kats, Reveille staff, Leader staff and musical groups.

At the beginning of the year, the girls invited all fraternity and independent men for a mixer and open house. The social calendar was crowded with many other parties throughout the year.

Mrs. Kate Rawley was housemother and Mrs. Helen Zimmerman was the assistant housemother.

AGNEW HALL

Headed by Marvel Wineland, president, Mrs. Esther Biays, housemother, and Mrs. Malee Ingram, assistant housemother, residents of Agnew Hall enjoyed a successful year.

Highlighting the school year was an open house to "show off" the dormitory. Other festivities included hour dances, a formal Christmas dinner and a spring formal.

Agnew Hall had members in Tigerettes, WLO, Intramurals, Band and Choir. They were also well represented in Royal Courts throughout the year.
This year Residence Hall provided a “home away from home” for 170 college men.
Under the leadership of Jerry Aiken, dorm president, Residence Hall plunged into a year of action and progress. During football and basketball seasons, their pep rallies, house decorations and pep club promoted enthusiasm among the students.

B.M.O.C. at Residence Hall included football, basketball and track stars, sophomore class president, and members of many campus organizations.

Mrs. Neta Bice was housemother. Assistant housemother was Miss Beulah Lamb.

Head Coach Wayne J. McConnell completed his second year as Tiger football mentor with an even won-4 lost-4 record. He took over the reins of Fort Hays football and it is certain that the Bengals will again be a football power in the near future.

During a season plagued with game cancellations and postponements as well as numerous player injuries the 4-4 record is a great deal more than it appears.

The C.I.C. conference, traditionally tough in football, was especially powerful during the 1957 season. The championship Gorillas of Pittsburg State College were selected as one of the best small college teams in the country and their coach was named “Small college coach of the year.”

Tiger guard, Dennis Stegman, Ness City Junior, was named to the C.I.C. all-conference team and teammates Leroy Brungardt and Chuck Vernon were awarded second team honors.

The Fort Hays Tigers of the 1957 football season started slowly but once they were in motion they were hard to stop. After dropping the opener at Lewis field, 27-0 to a powerful Kearney, Nebraska team, the Bengals traveled to Northwest Missouri State where they began to show their great scoring potential, winning 40-27. They continued their road trip, invading Colorado College and losing a very close 22-20 decision. As Central Intercollegiate Conference competition opened, the Tigers engulfed the Moundbuilders of Southwestern, 40-0. The Pittsburg Gorillas, showing their championship form, humbled Fort Hays at Pittsburg 54-0. A Fort Hays squad, weakened by flu and injury, lost, in the closing minutes to St. Benedict 38-24.

Northwestern Oklahoma State was the next victim by a 21-14 margin. In the final contest of the season, a game that was postponed earlier, the Ichabods of Washburn proved no match for the men of coach McConnell, losing 19-16.

After piloting the Tigers through the first two games of the 1957-58 season, illness forced coach Cade Suran to turn over the reins of the Fort Hays cagers to head football coach, Wayne McConnell. Mr. McConnell guided the Fort Hays five through the remaining 17 game schedule against such midwestern cage powers as St. Benedict's and Emporia State College.

Suran will return as active basketball coach for the 1958-59 season. Up to the present time, the teams of coach Cade Suran, have won 164 of the 259 games played for a creditable percentage of nearly 70%. His Tiger team of 1950 won the C.I.C. and last season Gary Pancer was awarded the C.I.C. scoring crown and was named to the all-conference team.

VARiS7Y

Fort Hays State Tigers were off to a slow start in the 1957-58 campaign. They dropped their first two games to Southwestern College, 76-61, and North Dakota University, 61-68.

The Tigers roared back to sweep a two-game road trip defeating Colorado College, 50-48, and Colorado State College, 78-72. The Hays then swamped a powerful Phillips University squad, 99-65, before an enthusiastic crowd in the Coliseum. Southwestern Oklahoma was the next Fort Hays foe falling 72-66. The winning streak continued to gain momentum with wins over Colorado State College, 71-62, and a smashing 75-68 victory over the Emporia State Hornets.

Omaha University snapped a four-game winning streak with a 61-62 upset. Injury took its toll of the valiant Bengals as they dropped two games to St. Benedict’s College and two more of Pittsburg State College. Washburn University squeezed by the Hays crew, 77-73 and 75-69, in two closely contested games. Emporia State College gained revenge for the earlier defeat with a 65-76 victory.

The men of Coach McConnell proved themselves a fast starting ball club as they were almost always on top at half time, but with a lack of experience and depth they faded in the closing minutes.

Southwestern College administered the final defeat of the 1957-58 season, 76-65, to leave the Tigers in last place in the Conference.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Alex Francis and the eight cross-country runners were a credit to Fort Hays State in their second season in varsity competition, placing second at the Oklahoma State University competition and defeating Nebraska State Teachers College, 21-34 in a dual meet. Among the four returning lettermen was senior speedster, Bill Dunlap. Dunlap, one of the finest runners ever to attend Fort Hays State, placed second in the Oklahoma meet, third place in the N.A.I.A. meet at Omaha, and won top honors against Kearney, Nebraska, and the C.I.C. conference race held at Hays.
The 1958 Tiger track squad returned 21 lettermen to action, as head coach Alex Francis began his 12th season with the track men. In those 12 years his teams have never lost a dual meet or placed lower than second in the C.I.C. conference.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 1957 TRACK SEASON

Conference champions: Scoring 85½ points, the Tigers won the C.I.C. conference.

Oklahoma State Relays: Bill Teegerstrom placed first in the javelin event.

Manhattan Invitational: The Fort Hays Tigers placed 4th behind Missouri University, Kansas State and Oklahoma University.

Letterman Dan Johnson makes good use of one of the many new training devices instituted by Coach Francis.
One of the strongest places in the 1958 Tiger track squad was the javelin team, built around Lettermen: D. Hildebrand, B. Teegerstrom, and R. Wilson.
As the winter sports end, the spring sports take over. Here, Coach Francis issues equipment to D. Getty, D. Bigham, and D. Popp.

Representing Fort Hays in the distance events were: R. Lotten, D. Williams, and H. Morris.

Almost all Fort Hays highjumpers and broadjumpers were new to the team this year. L. Wingate, J. Hudson, L. Carter, and J. Nutt.

Carrying the Black and Gold in the high and low hurdles were: J. Maska, M. Sidlow, and D. Schultz.
Adding strength to the field events were: pole vaulters; B. Wilson, Lettermen O. Haase, G. Maska, and R. Soeken.

Carrying the Fort Hays colors in the middle distance events were: B. Samples, J. Nieman, B. McVicker, B. Bechard, and L. Stevenson.

The dash men of the 1958 Tiger track squad included: B. Berry, G. Sneed, D. Morrissey, M. Moore, T. Young, and P. Unruh.

Here, the middle-distance runners of the Fort Hays Track team work out, rounding a turn, each one striving for perfection and form.
Assistant football coach, Ed McNeil, assumed the coaching duties of the Fort Hays State gymnastics team and piloted them through seven regular meets and the All-College meet held in Lincoln. This season the flying rings were added to complete the gymnastic equipment. Outstanding returning lettermen and all-around gymnasts were Gerald Fahhey and Eldon Gillispie. Among the strong opponents faced by the Tiger gymnasts were Kansas State and Kansas University.

WRESTLING

In only its second year as a varsity sport at Fort Hays, wrestling gains popularity with each match. Don Shaw, former Fort Hays grappler, acted as head coach in the absence of Fred Reith, who led last year’s wrestlers to a highly successful season. The Tiger matmen competed in 11 regular matches against such outstanding teams as: Kansas State, Kansas University, Colorado University, and the Air Force Academy.

Coach Don Shaw briefs three of his lettermen: Weick, Hamel, and Velharticky before a match.

Co-ordination between Greek fraternities is the purpose of the Interfraternity Council. Members of the Council are representatives from each social fraternity. The Council provides a service to the school by regulating and co-ordinating useful projects between the social fraternities. Scholarship is promoted by awarding, each spring, a trophy to the fraternity with the highest grade average. Pat O'Brien served as president of the Council this year.
Panhellenic Council seeks to promote unification among social sororities. Representatives from each sorority compose the Council. Each semester Panhellenic Council awards, as an incentive to better grades, a scholarship shield to the sorority with the highest, percentage-wise, grade point. In conjunction with I.F.C., the Council also sponsors the All-Greek sing, at which trophies are given for the best Greek musical renditions. Serving as president this year was Rita Basgall.

Horseplay is always a part of fraternity life.
PROGRESSION OF THE YEAR
All people whose names begin with . . .
Summer heat begins to break... black and gold beanies dot the campus for the start of another college year. The dorms are infested with room-seeking students... Hopeful politicians fling handbills in hopes of getting "that one last vote"... After enrollment, students settle into the routine of classes... It's fall...

Fort Hays State.

"Square your beanie, freshman," upperclassmen; Dick Fisher, Stan Kobler and Glen Wilkens, admonish Marla O'Halloran.

Ralph Moon sighed as he signed his name for the 39th time. Result: out of 1900 x-rays taken, not a single active case was found.
Opening the social calendar for the entire student body at Fort Hays State is a "Hello" dance.

Chatting over a plate of food with a faculty member at the student-faculty picnic, a Fort Hays Stater realizes that he is a "Real College Man", not just enrollee number 999.

Dancing dreamily to "Laura" Fort Hays Staters end an eventful first week with a Tiger Hop.

The confusion of enrollment is over . . . the Social Building begins to overflow with the usual population . . . Some new faces appear through the smoke and pitch players . . . old friendships are renewed . . . Pep rallies set the pace for football . . . Fall has come to the Fort Hays State campus.
A quick change to hat, hose and heels in the middle of the day is on the agenda as these freshman girls attend the faculty women’s tea.

The revamped Billy May Band under the direction of Sam Donahue provides danceable melodies for Fort Hays Staters.

The All-Greek Formal opens the social season for more than 400 sorority and fraternity members as they dance to the music of Dave Emery and the Starlighters.

An autumn theme was adopted by Panhellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council who sponsored the formal on September 28.
Parents Day is a big event as students escort their families around the campus. After being welcomed to the campus by President Cunningham at a short program, a parade of 36 high school bands opens the festivities. The climax of the day is reached at the football game with Southwest Oklahoma, where parents and high school bands are guests of the college.

The talents of Raymond Massey, Agnes Moorehead, and Martin Gabel bring alive the historical Lincoln-Douglas debates in the Paul Gregory production, "The Rivalry," an original drama by Norman Corwin.
The Picken Players on November 11 and 12 present a modern adaptation of an ancient Greek tragedy "Medea" which is considered one of the great plays of all ages.

Phil Weber as "Jason" and Charlene Goetz as "Medea" in the lead roles of "Medea."

It is the eleventh hour, and everyone is rushing to finish floats and house decorations. Much sleep is lost, and spirits are gay as preparation for Homecoming progresses. Alumni plan eagerly to return to their alma mater for the big event. Plans are being completed for a fun-filled weekend when “flash”, the news hits the campus! The Homecoming festivities, barbecue, parade, and football game are cancelled.

Residence Hall and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority display their floats and house decorations which were completed before Homecoming was cancelled.
The "flu bug" reigns as the real queen of the 1957 Homecoming, and "flu bugs" aren't especially fitted for the role of queen.

Communication channels are set up to notify alumni, friends, and parents of the cancellation. Nevertheless, many students and alumni attend the dance planned for the Homecoming that wasn't.
Homecoming nominees, Pat Neill, Norma Boyd, Roberta Rupp, LaVon Wilson, Mary Motzner, and Peg Gibson, pose for the photographer.

At the dance, the only Homecoming activity not cancelled, Sherla Bizek reigns as queen attended by Kay Tucker and Suzanne Miller.

Homecoming royalty is chosen by the vote of the student body. Candidates nominated by petition also included Pat Neill, Norma Boyd, Roberta Rupp, LaVon Wilson, Mary Motzner and Peg Gibson.

The Bobby Mills band provides the sweet and mellow for the Homecoming dance.
Dean McCartney crowns Sherla Bizek, Queen of the Homecoming that wasn't, as princesses Suzanne Miller and Kay Tucker look on.

Princesses Suzanne Miller and Kay Tucker smile prettily for the photographer.
Stars of “Oklahoma,” C. Bowman, N. Fink, R. Rothenberger, M. Bowman, J. Stafford and J. Haney, greet us from the surrey.

The Broadway musical “Oklahoma” is presented November 21 and 22 by the Choir under direction of Donald Stout, assistant professor of music.

Jeanette Goransson, Mary Ellen Clark, Donna Heinze, Sidney Harper, Judy Lewis and Nelmarie Epperley in a dance routine.
"The Farmer and the Cowhand Should Be Friends."

"Many a New Day"
The windows of Agnew Hall are transformed with compliments of the Department of Art.

This is a switch, the photographers get their picture taken.
Football hits with full force . . .

Coats and jackets come out of mothballs . . . Trees on campus lose their dress of brown and gold . . .

A cup of hot coffee at the Social Building becomes even more important as we avoid wind and cold . . .

It's cold out . . . It's winter.

Those who frequent Custer Hall are greeted by these joyous Christmas scenes.

One of the highlights of the Reveille Ball is the grand march.

A festive air prevails in the Social Building.

Up on the rooftop the Brass Choir harmonizes for the Christmas season.
Master of Ceremonies Harold Stones reads the letter announcing Mr. Whitcomb's choice of Reveille royalty before Governor Docking invests Janice Westerman with the royal crown. Miss Westerman is presented a lavish bouquet of American Beauty roses and a trophy topped with the winged victory. The queen's two princesses, Carolyn Oller and Ramona Miller, also receive trophies.

Smiling graciously, Queen Janice accepts her presentation bouquet from Diedra Burandt, Reveille Editor, as Deanna Lockman looks on.

Revealed for the first time to the student body, the 1958 Reveille cover is spotlighted on the stage.

Princesses Carolyn Oller and Ramona Miller receive their trophies from Deanna Lockman, assistant editor.
Pageantry surrounds “Queen Janice” . . . the biggest thrill of all . . . Reveille Queen . . . and the night belongs to her . . . she is swept through the dance and the coronation before she has time to realize what has happened . . . It is a once in a lifetime affair for the college coed . . . and things are planned so she won’t soon forget.

The Teen Timers featured by Dave Emery and his band create interest at the Reveille Ball for 230 dancing couples.

After the Coronation, the Governor and Mrs. Docking, the queen and her court lead the grand march.
Jon Whitcomb, prominent magazine illustrator, selects the 1958 Reveille Queen and Princesses from seven lovely coeds nominated by men’s organizations on the campus.

Carolyn Oller, Dorothy Nuss, Marilyn Behnke, Ronnie Cook, Ramona Miller, Marla O’Halloran, and Janice Westerman anxiously await the opening of Mr. Whitcomb’s letter.
The Alpha Mu club members smile happily as their club becomes a chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma national sorority. The big weekend of reactivation includes a formal tea, banquet, initiation services for the chapter, officer training, and Sunday brunch. The activities are highlighted by a visit from national and district officers and alumni.

The “PI KAPS” GO NATIONAL

For the first time in five years Fort Hays State was represented in the finals of the debate tournament at Winfield, Kansas. The placing team, Warren Norton and Wendall Anschutz, had a record of 4 wins and 1 loss in the Junior Men’s division and were defeated by the team that won the tournament.

At the debate tournament at McPherson, Kansas, another Fort Hays State team, Larry Kopke and Richard Schmidt, were defeated in 4 rounds of the 40-team tournament.
It's not winter and it's not summer, it is simply and wonderfully Christmas. A festive air reigns at the Social Building.

A surprise Christmas party for President and Mrs. Cunningham was planned by the Social Committee.

Campus organizations signed cards to decorate the Christmas tree which is presented to the Cunninghams.

Also the Committee surprises Mrs. Cunningham with a lovely birthday cake.
The Brass Choir prepares to play for the President's surprise Christmas party.

Students crowd the Social Building for that once-a-year-day when professors serve them free coffee.

Playing Santa Claus, Milford Messer, president of the student body, presents Christmas greetings to the Cunninghams.

Happy birthday, Mrs. Cunningham.
Spring fever.
Winter is over . . . the world moves outdoors and soaks up the sunshine, preparing for graduation and summer vacation . . . Faces gaze out the windows, and minds wander . . . Rehearsals are underway for the Follies . . . Spring formals fill the night with pastel net and black bow ties . . . It's Spring, 1958.

These student nurses in their starched white uniforms and caps are ready for a day at Hadley Hospital. It's Friday, no more classes until Monday. At 3 p.m. students head for the Social Building and another T.G.I.F. dance.

An instructor and the commercial design class display the plates for the promotion material for the Memorial Union.

Workmen set up the new campus maps in readiness for spring visitors.
The Sweetheart King Candidates are: Ralph Hilmes, Sigma Tau Gamma; Walter Slipke, Pegis Club; Don Fraley, Sigma Epsilon; Tom Fellers, Residence Hall; Jerry Anderson, Delta Sigma Phi; Rex Mayer, Tau Kappa Epsilon; and Don Movehead, Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Smiling for the cameraman are the Sweetheart Queen Candidates: Jean Morrow, Custer Hall; Margaret Burditt, Pi Kappa Sigma; Connie Eaton, Theta Sigma Upsilon; Paula Schumacher, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Yvonne Smith, Agnew Hall; Verda Goetz, Delta Zeta; and Elaine Christian, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Queen Jean smiles happily as Cade Suran crowns her. Cade Suran places the crown on Don Fraley's head.
The Coliseum is dressed up in red and white for the annual Sweetheart Ball, February 14th, sponsored by the Social Committee.

SWEETHEART BALL

On Valentine’s Day at the Sweetheart Ball Jean Morrow and Don Fraley are crowned Sweetheart King and Queen by Cade Suran, head basketball coach. Elaine Christian, Yvonne Smith, Don Morehead and Rex Mayer complete the royal court.

The Social Committee presents the Queen candidates boxes of candy and the King Candidates cuff links. The Queen receives a bouquet of red roses and the King receives a kiss.
Sunday marks the beginning of a week, well named, Rush Week. Despite the weather 76 rushees attend the teas of the five national sororities on campus, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Pi Kappa Sigma, and Delta Zeta.

A humorous skit is presented by the Delta Zetas.

Members of Theta Sigma Upsilon become better acquainted with the rushees.

Actives happily greet the new Tri Sig pledges.

Delta Zeta Sorority entertains the rushees at their rush tea.

Rushees enjoy themselves at an Alpha rush party.
Rushees find fun and information at the first and second parties which begin Monday and end Saturday morning.

Tired and anxious sorority members and rushees observe quiet hours from Saturday noon until 2:30 p.m., Sunday, when 52 new pledges are greeted by their new “sisters.” Rush Week is over, but Greek life has just begun.
EVENT HALL

THE UNEXPECTED

'Twas a noble effort.

You are to provide the men with cigarettes.

Open all doors for the men at all times.

Do not molest the men.

It's an unending job.

Even the best-laid plans sometimes go awry. These pages were to tell the story of the Leap Week dance, and the selection of Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae. The Follies tryouts were to be pictured, so you would have some record of the spring activities.

Instead, the wind blew, the snow came, and school closed...
Unnecessary warning.

There's a way out of anything.

We're snowed in.

Despite the snowdrifts some students must have coffee at the Social Building.

The United States Army to the rescue.
The music department presents Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera "The Medium" February 24 and 25 in Picken Auditorium.

The Medium, Marthann Burris, orders Mr. and Mrs. Gobineau, Jerry Stafford and Nancy Fink, and Mrs. Alan, Betty Base, out of the house.

Madame Flora, Marthann Burris, kneels beside Toby, Loren Janzen, whom she has just shot.

Madame Flora, in a drunken stupor recalls the sins of her past.

In a rage Madame Flora, whips Toby.

Monica, Connie Spomer, comforts her mother while Toby accompanies her lullaby with a tambourine.
Captain Veer, P. Weber, explains his decision to Billy Budd, B. Ohlemeyer.

Jackson, K. Ruder, who is ill, explains to Jenkins, B. Young, why he shouldn't go aloft.

Billy Budd attempts to prevent Jenkins from knifing Claggart, G. Glick.

Officers discuss the case of Billy Budd at the court martial scene.

The Picken Players presented Melville's "Billy Budd" April 10th and 11th. Shown here are rehearsal scenes.

Fort Hays Song
by JACK JUERGENS

On the plains of Western Kansas stands a school we all love. For years we have been its pupils, its students, its sons and daughters.

Well, boys! Those days are gone, its glory in the land's
honor.

Praise for the black and gold, long may our majesty continue through the years. Hailing and praising
Fort Hays.
FORT HAYS
KANSAS
STATE COLLEGE
Fort Hays
Kansas State College

On June 23, 1902, Fort Hays Kansas State College held its first classes in buildings on historic old Fort Hays. The Military Reservation was divided into three parts—as a state college, as an agricultural experiment station, and as a state park. The land assigned to the college totalled 4,160 acres. The campus proper consists of about 80 acres.

From its beginning with 34 students, 2 faculty members, and 19 courses, Fort Hays State College has increased to more than 2,300 students, more than 125 faculty members, and more than 700 courses.

A spirited building program is exemplified in the Applied Arts Building, new dormitories for men and women, and the Memorial Student Union Building.

The Hays area and old Fort Hays is rich in tradition of the West. Fort Hays was a last outpost for General G. A. Custer before his fate in the Wyoming hills. Custer Hall, freshman women's dormitory on the campus, is named after Mrs. George Custer, also a resident at the Fort for a time.

Fort Hays State is rich in tradition—it carries this spirit with it in progress forward.
