FOREWORD

As the daily routine of campus life moves forward, each student plans and sets his goals.

He strives day by day to meet his ideals and soon finds himself closer to graduation and the realization of his final objective.

He realizes that the attainment of his major goals has been made possible through the emphasis upon daily goals such as leadership, scholarship, sportsmanship, and the development of personality. Each of these has been gained through his classes, organizations, and the many events which have thus prepared him for service to his community and mankind.

Realizing the importance of these goals, we have taken them as the theme of our yearbook. Through layout and copy we have attempted to present them, however important they may seem, to the end that we may gain our goals.

The Staff
LYMAN DWIGHT WOOSTER, President Emeritus A.B., K.S.T.C., Emporia; Ph.M., University of Wisconsin; Ph.D., Stanford University. Scholar, Teacher, Friend.

We salute a man who has given fifty years of service to the college and has set for himself and the school, high goals; some attained and some still challenging him and us.

Dr. Wooster has been Chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences, Professor of Zoology, and Dean of the Faculty. He was President from 1911 to 1949.

An ardent naturalist, he has published nature study bulletins and numerous magazine articles. As secretary of the Western Kansas Development Association, he edits the "West Kansan" and is at present working on the history of Fort Hays State.

He is a member of numerous honorary organizations, Sigma Xi, Delta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Kappa Delta, and Phi Kappa Phi.

CALLING TO THE STUDENTS

The history of any region is one of advancing frontiers which were crossed and made useful for mankind.

Our forefathers met, in turn, geographic, climatic, economic and educational frontiers. Now, in a world torn with strife, it falls to our lot to grapple with the problems of human relationships; not so much for the sake of peace, as of order, justice and mercy; not only for the sake of human rights, but also for the sake of human responsibilities; not so much for making a living, as for living—living together in families, communities, nations and world, with the good of all uppermost in our minds and hearts. The present attention of the whole earth is focused on this frontier of human relations.

And so to youth we would say: YOUTH, this is your frontier; this is the challenge of your day and generation. The bugle call of a world trying to solve its problems of human values calls on you to throw your lives into the tremendous job of entering and conquering this modern frontier; of building the purposes of human society toward higher and finer physical and spiritual levels. You are educating yourselves for responsive living; you have the ambition, the courage and the zest of youth; you can meet and solve these problems on the level of high purpose, vigor and intelligence. You have both the idealism and realism, the educational preparedness and the courage to tackle the job. This college has confidence that you can and will meet this great challenge.

—Lyman Dwight Wooster
Written for the fiftieth anniversary of the college. 1952.
THE PRESIDENT

A college education is composed of many facets. Each edition of the Reveille sets forth, in word and picture, these facets.
This year, special emphasis is placed upon four; namely, scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship and personality development.

Scholarship goes hand in hand with leadership and develops each student, in his own right as well as in his associations with his fellowman. Education is far more than merely gaining knowledge, per se. It is the complete development of the whole man. He must have intellectual breadth, integrity, moral and spiritual development and be able to make contributions to the welfare of mankind. This issue of the Reveille emphasizes the whole personality of Fort Hays State and how it attempts to contribute to the development of each student. It shows how goals are set and attained.

Educational goals are both immediate and long range and are both individual and collective. They are accomplished by acting today but, at the same time, looking into the distant future with definite goals and accomplishments yet to be attained. Such goals can be attained only by high standards of performance, a truly liberal education, fine qualities of leadership and a genuine human understanding and appreciation of the very best of our culture.

Broadly educated men and women are necessary to the progress, security, and well being of our nation and of the world. We must have citizens with knowledge, supported by interest, ambition and initiative to develop the leadership and the total personality that we want our citizens and our nation to have. All young men and women should develop their talents and abilities to the highest potential. We shall all be citizens of society and the kind of citizens we are will depend upon what goals we set for ourselves and how hard we strive to accomplish them.

— M. C. Cunningham
A nine-member Board of Regents and its executive secretary is named by the governor of Kansas to govern Fort Hays State and other state colleges. Fort Hays State is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the National Council for Accreditation of Teachers Education, the National Association of Schools of Music and the American Association of University Women.

BUILDINGS . . .

The doorways through which we pass daily during our college career are mere symbols of the contribution of each campus building to a well-educated individual, not only academically but also to enable him to live in harmony with other people. The whole picture of the campus is not complete without the many and varied aspects of a college campus.

Sounds of music, laughter and busy office machines emanate from various buildings. The odors of oil paint, sawdust and chemicals are wafted through the air. Studying among the books, references, magazines and records, cheering with the student body at a football game, attending a dramatic or musical production, or participating in an organization is but part of the whole picture of our campus community.
FORT HAYS COLLEGE

On the plains of Western Kansas
Stands a school we all love well.
'Twas built by the toil of our fathers;
To its glory our voices swell.

Chorus:
Hail to old Fort Hays State!
Let your voices ring!
Praise for the Black and Gold
We will ever sing.
Long may our valor last
Through the future days,
Hon'ring and praising
Dear Fort Hays.
STATE ANTHEM

In the years that lie before us

We foresee our land's many needs.

Through the efforts of new generations,

We'll go on to more noble deeds.

Chorus:

Hail to old Fort Hays State!

Let your voices ring!

Praise for the Black and Gold

We will ever sing.

Long may our valor last

Through the future days,

Hon'ring and praising

Dear Fort Hays.
Within the college is a body of nine elected representatives of the faculty and three ex-officio members, the Registrar, Dean of the Graduate Division, and Dean of the College, entitled the Faculty Senate. Serving as a clearinghouse for all academic matters, this body supervises the catalogue, schedule of classes and the advisement program.

Daily the faculty and administration of Fort Hays State molds and guides the student’s life as he grows in his college career.

Within the college the student is offered opportunities in many fields; liberal arts, letters and sciences, applied arts and sciences, music and pre-professional training. Not only do the classroom lectures affect the student, but also during his student life he come to know the philosophies of his instructors and to feel their friendliness and leadership.

These are the people serving the college who are responsible for the administrative and academic aspects of Fort Hays State—the faculty and administration . . .

FACULTY
CLASSES . . .

Quietly the buildings would stand on the campus, if the students were removed. But without the students who inhabit the campus, it would be lifeless.

The laughter over coffee in the Memorial Union, the heated discussion in front of Picken Hall, the shouts of delight at the basketball game, and the shuffle of feet at the dances—all are sounds produced by the student, all must be inherent in the college to make it live.

One of the more important components of our college picture is the student pursuing his education. As the student seeks the higher truths, he strives to maintain the balance between specialization and the general subject matter.

These students, some of whom have just begun their college career, some of whom have completed or nearly completed theirs, prepare themselves for their chosen vocations, whatever they be. They are the all important — the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors and graduates who, at Fort Hays State, comprise the classes . . .
For 474 seniors, the goal of graduation is near. Some complete requirements for graduation in January; most of these will finish their undergraduate work at the close of this semester; others will attend summer school and graduate July 30. We salute the seniors, Class of 1959.

THE GRADUATE DIVISION

This spring Fort Hays Kansas State College announces the establishment of a Sixth Year Program leading to the Specialist in Education Degree. This professional education degree requires thirty hours of graduate work beyond the master's degree. It emphasizes specialization in a particular phase of school work—teaching, school administration, supervision, curriculum, counseling and educational psychology. Each student's program is designed to meet his individual needs and his abilities. Applicants must hold a master's degree, have two years of successful teaching experience and must have decided on a field of specialization.

The Graduate Council is appointed by the President to regulate and supervise all graduate work and to recommend to him for graduation the students who have completed all the requirements for a Master of Science degree. The Dean of the Graduate Division is chairman and two other members are named each year to serve for three years. The Council considers all policies of the division, recommends members to the graduate faculty, and decides upon practices used in graduate work. Any exceptions to the rules are acted upon by the Council and administered by the Graduate Dean.

A rapidly growing area at Fort Hays State is the Graduate Division, which was established January 9, 1929. In the thirty years since its founding the division has grown from a mere handful to an enrollment of 150.

On this page are pictured a few of those who form a vital and important part of the student body.
Planning the programs, making the arrangements for a meeting room, numerous phone calls and decisions are but a few of the "behind the scenes" duties that membership in an organization requires.

An opportunity to provide the student government, discussions and research in your specialized fields, promotion of a deeper Christian thinking and living, recognition of leadership in general and special fields—these are the opportunities and services afforded you by the Fort Hays State campus organizations . . .

ORGANIZATIONS . . .
A group of 32 students, having a grade point of 2.0 or higher, was selected to appear in the 1958-59 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges. These students were qualified for leadership, capability, citizenship, and promise for future usefulness.

Scholastic achievement among college students of American universities and colleges is recognized and rewarded by membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society.

Students are chosen on the basis of scholarship, not only in academic work, but also through participation in activities and outstanding service for college.

Invitations to become members in this nation-wide honor society are extended to the top junior class student, seniors from the upper 12½% of class and outstanding alumni and faculty members.

Pictured are the new members who were on campus this spring.
HONORS SEMINAR

The Honors Program offers to students of outstanding intellectual ability, an opportunity to participate in the highest academic privilege offered by this college.

Under the guidance of faculty consultants, small groups of students study broadly challenging topics. Emphasis is placed upon independent study, and the exploration of areas in which the student would like to know more. In these meetings the students meet with conflicting ideas and interpretations of students of their own mental calibre.

Admission to this program is by invitation. A student must have a record of outstanding achievement in several subject fields beside that of his major. He must also demonstrate the willingness to work and have the ability to communicate his ideas effectively.
PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman honorary society, recognizes superior academic achievement of college men at the freshman level. The main purpose of this organization is to improve scholarship on campus by attempting to popularize high grades.

This organization holds an initiation banquet and installation ceremony during the year. A smoker is given to acquaint the eligible students with the goals and requirements of the organization.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Pi Kappa Delta, a national honorary forensics fraternity, enhances the interest of intercollegiate speech activities and communication on the campus. The members participate in oratory, debate, discussion, or extemporaneous speaking.
SEVENTH CAVALRY

Seventh Cavalry is an organization of young men outstanding in leadership ability. Its members are elected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, potential possibilities for growth, and the ability to cooperate. This service club, which is named in honor of Gen. Geo. A. Custer's regiment, has many activities such as publishing student directories, ushering at Artists' and Lecture Programs, and selling popcorn at varsity games as a money-making project to provide scholarships.

In full dress, members of the Seventh Cavalry, on horseback, lead the Homecoming Parade.

WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP ORGANIZATION

To foster an ideal of leadership and to recognize and develop this leadership among women on this campus are the purposes of Women's Leadership Organizations. This organization also sponsors cultural interests among women and attempts to understand college problems, both administrative and curricular. Students eligible for membership are elected on a basis of leadership, ability, service, scholarship, and character. WLO sponsors a scholarship to an outstanding sophomore student.

Lambda Iota Tau is a national organization which meets to analyze and discuss modern novels and plays. Its members are elected after having completed 18 hours in language and literature with a 2.35 average.

Kappa Pi, a national honorary art fraternity, promotes scholarship among art students. Membership in this organization requires students to maintain a B average in art courses and a C average in all other courses, and to have completed 12 hours in art. This group sponsors the Artist's Ball, the promotion of an art student trip to a large art gallery, and honors the faculty at a coffee on the opening date of the annual Faculty Art Exhibit.
KAPPA OMICRON PHI

Kappa Omicron Phi, a professional home economics fraternity, sponsors guest speakers, holds teas and breakfasts, and other activities to further the best interests of home economics in four-year colleges. This organization also strives to develop women with high ideals of everyday living, and to aid in broader social, higher intellectual and cultural accomplishments.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, a national dramatics fraternity, stimulates interest in dramatic activities on campus. Its members are elected according to their participation in dramatic productions.

DELTA EPSILON

Delta Epsilon, an all-science undergraduate honor society, consists of faculty members and students elected from among faculty, seniors, graduates and alumni who must qualify on the basis of scholarship, scientific interest and ability, and are majoring in the department of science. The honorary members are bestowed membership because of their contributions to science. Monthly programs, Frontiers Unlimited, an award to an outstanding high school student and a scholarship for a research project are all sponsored by Delta Epsilon.

SIGMA PI SIGMA

Sigma Pi Sigma serves as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship in physics and other subjects, and a promise of achievement in physics. It also promotes student interest in research and the advanced study of science. It encourages a professional spirit and friendship among those who have displayed marked ability in physics and strives to create an interest in physics in general collegiate public.
KAPPA MU EPSILON

Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics society, provides for the recognition of the outstanding achievement in the study of mathematics. Besides helping the undergraduate realize the important role that mathematics has played in the development of western civilization this society also strives to further the interest of mathematics on campus. A member must have completed 13 semester hours in college mathematics including analytical geometry and have maintained a 2.00 grade point.

PHI DELTA KAPPA

Phi Delta Kappa, in its first year on Fort Hays campus, is a national professional fraternity for male educators. Chapters are located on campuses of all major universities and colleges that offer degrees in education.

This organization is dedicated to educational research, leadership, and service. A monthly meeting is held for fellowship and consideration of current professional matters.

Eligibility for membership is determined by a selection committee which considers professional achievement and potential of petitioner possessing a major or minor in education. Phi Delta Kappa is a fraternity for graduate students but in some instances outstanding seniors are admitted.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Appearing on campus this spring for the first time is a new freshman women's honorary society, Alpha Lambda Delta. This society was organized to continue the trend toward more recognition of scholarship and to encourage superior scholastic attainment among freshman women.

To be eligible for membership a candidate must have a grade average of 2.5 or better for the first semester or first two semesters. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors with a cumulative index of 2.5 or better are also permitted to join.
COUNCIL OFFICERS are: V. Oldach, secretary; D. Schaffer, vice-president; L. Kopke, president; and C. Eaton, treasurer.

One of the activities sponsored by the council was the pep assembly to welcome the 1959 CIC Basketball Champions—the Fort Hays Tigers—back to the campus.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The class officers and student body officers combine their initiative and influence to become the driving force in campus-student government.

The student council is instrumental in promoting campus elections and conducting them. An outstanding senior man is selected each month by the council to represent Fort Hays State at meetings of the Hays Rotary Club.

The group accepts the responsibility for selling beanies to the freshmen at the beginning of each year. During the past year they purchased a crown and robe which is rented to campus groups for use in crowning royalty. Members of the group are in charge of promoting and conducting assemblies.

A Council-sponsored fifteen-minute radio program has been inaugurated for informing the public about campus activities and explaining the purpose and activities of the student council.

Two freshman women find out the consequences of being caught without the traditional beanie, which is sold by the Council each year.
SECOND GENERATION CLUB

Sons and daughters of former students and alumni of Fort Hays State are automatically members of the Second Generation Club.

The club is most active in the fall as their principal project is planning Parents Day. They serve as hosts to the many parents who come to the campus for the annual event.

SECOND GENERATION CLUB OFFICERS are: Norman Ochs, junior representative; E. Edwards, secretary-treasurer; K. Laizure, president; M. Chastain, publicity chairman; M. Schueler, freshman representative. Standing: H. Stones, sponsor; P. Rhine, senior representative; and M. Walker, sponsor.

STUDENT AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Each year the student council appoints five students and the president of the college appoints two staff members to become the Student Affairs Committee.

This group serves as a Board of Appeals for Fort Hays State students who have traffic violations.

They also receive applications for money-making projects from the campus organizations and help coordinate these ventures.

The committee is available as a disciplinary committee if needed.

MEMORIAL UNION

The next few pages show those people—students and faculty—who work behind the scenes in the new Memorial Union to make it possible for Fort Hays Staters to enjoy the many activities and functions that are held in the union. They work together to make up the union board, program council, and the union committees.

UNION BOARD

The Memorial Union is governed by a student-faculty-administrative group known as the Union Board. It is a policy-making group for the Union’s program activities services, and for its long range planning. Members of the Board were appointed by the president of the college.

PROGRAM COUNCIL

The purpose of the Program Council is to sponsor and expand the social, cultural and recreational activities of the college students through the Memorial Union. The Council seeks to guide the Fort Hays Stater to use leisure time in effective and proper ways, by attending Union sponsored activities.

UNION COMMITTEES

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

The Publicity Committee is in charge of promoting the Union's public relations. These students take the responsibility of putting out an activities calendar for each semester. They also distribute and post various forms of Union publicity.

Committee members shown working on the activities calendar are: G. Morris, B. Salmans, L. Thomas, S. Blain. B. Salmans is committee chairman.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Dance Committee is responsible for planning and administering all campus dances—large or small. They arrange for the bands, entertainment, decorations, and refreshments.

MOVIE COMMITTEE

The Movie Committee takes charge of all foreign and film classics shown in the Union. The committee selects, orders, and administers the films, as well as supervising the showings.

Setting up the camera for a movie are: S. Boos, M. Kirkland, W. Zavodsky, L. Meier, J. Cromwell, R. Steigleder. W. Zavodsky serves as committee chairman.

VARIETY COMMITTEE

The Variety Committee presents student programs, handles questionnaires concerning the Union and sets up the Talent auditions for the entertainment library. Their biggest project was promoting and sponsoring the Fort Hays Follies.

Looking over the Follies stage are: A. Wiesmann, V. Harrison, M. McIntyre, J. Harris, C. Baker, D. Adams, M. McGuire. Harris is committee chairman.
MUSIC COMMITTEE

The Music Committee encourages Fort Hays Staters to use the music listening room. They promote music to students through the use of Union records and music activities.

Playing a record or two are committee members: M. Davison, T. Hopkins, chairman; K. Norman, M. McIntyre, J. Poage, R. Hopkins. Seated are: S. Reddick, and B. DeLay.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

The Hospitality Committee members serve as hosts and hostesses to people who visit the Union. They promote wise use of the Union for the students.

EXHIBITION COMMITTEE

Planning displays and art exhibits for the Union is the job of the Exhibition Committee. Their purpose is to stimulate an appreciation of art by the student body.

Deciding on which pictures to hang for exhibition are: F. Christian, F. Buffington, M. Chastain, M. Terrell, H. Hagman. M. Chastain serves as committee chairman.

GAMES COMMITTEE

The Games Committee sponsors the games and recreational activities held in the Union. They sponsor tournaments and lessons to encourage interest in billiards, table tennis, bridge, and other games. Their main project was promoting the Ski Trip that 14 Fort Hays Staters took during Easter vacation.

D. Hough, committee chairman, illustrates to the committee members a billiards shot to be used in the National Intercollegiate Billiards tournament. They are: J. Shivley, B. Harris, J. Frederickson and D. Lessor.
PENGUIN CLUB

The Penguin Club provides the opportunity to develop the individual ability and understanding of creative expression through a medium of water ballet, synchronized swimming and aquatic arts. This organization hopes to give demonstrations of water stunts in the near future. Membership in this club is open to girls who show ability and who pass certain specifications in swimming.

ETA RHO EPSILON

Eta Rho Epsilon aids physical education majors in establishing professional values, attitudes, knowledge and relationships. Membership is open to all second semester physical education majors maintaining a one point grade average. Physical education minors may acquire membership by approval of major members.
As campus forensic interest grows, the strength of the Fort Hays State debate squad also grows. Comprised of 8 members, the squad completed its best year in a long time.

The season opened with the teams attending the Emporia Invitational tournament. Tournaments at Kansas State, Manhattan; Nebraska State Teachers College, Kearney, Nebraska; University of Nebraska, Lincoln; Southwestern College, Winfield; and the national Pi Kappa Delta Tournament in Bowling Green, Ohio, were scheduled.

Ratings included first place at McPherson and fifth place at Winfield, one of the largest tournaments in the nation.

Team members also participated in extemporaneous speaking, discussion, oratory and other individual events.

Fort Hays debaters and speech department acted as hosts for the CIC Debate Tournament held on the Fort Hays campus.

OFFICERS for Kit Kats are: M. Lofstead, treasurer; M. Horning, secretary; J. Harrison, president; D. Stephens, social chairman.

Freshmen who belong to Kit Kats—belong to an organization for promoting school spirit. Membership, this year larger than in several years, is open to all interested women students.

The Kit Kats prepare for future membership in Tigerettes.
Tigerettes

Gold and black identify the Tigerettes, a selected group dedicated to promoting school spirit. In evidence at all pep rallies, parades, and sports events, their vivacity and enthusiasm are well known to the student body.

Accompanied by the underclassman Kit Kats, they lead the varsity squads onto the football field or basketball court before games and become the center unit of the cheering section.

Tigerettes cheer the team in the Homecoming parade.

TIGERETTES OFFICERS are: V. Leydig, social chairman; J. Hegwer, president; L. Dyatt, secretary; and C. Bosler, treasurer.
The Women's Recreation Association strives to further the ideals of good sportsmanship, promote recreation and encourage the love of sports. Handling the concession stands at football games, sponsoring intramural sports, and planning Play Days and Sports Days provide the members with a consistent round of activity. Awards are given to members on merits of general ability, co-operation in WRA activities, sportsmanship and intramural points. Scholarships are awarded annually by the club. Membership rights are earned by participation in intramural and club activities.

Dixie Barb limbers up for a round of golf.
The “K” Club’s function is to direct the public’s attention toward athletics, also to foster fellowship among the members and encourage good athletics. The organization operates the concession stand during games. The “K” Club is composed of those students earning the “K” in intercollegiate athletics.

The Vets Club is composed of men who are veterans attending Fort Hays State.

The Club played a benefit football game on Veteran's Day to provide money for a scholarship they offer each semester.

They sponsored a candidate for Reveille Queen and had several speakers at their meetings.

Although they are now losing some of their members and becoming a smaller organization, they have been a club that has controlled elections and been influential in campus activities.

VETS CLUB OFFICERS are: P. Smith, vice-president; N. Hale, sponsor; C. Middlekauff, president; and J. Briggs, treasurer.

Vets Club members take a relaxing coffee break in the Union after a meeting.
The Fort Hays State Nursing Club's goals are to unite the members socially, spiritually and culturally toward professional advancement, forever encouraging and stimulating their interest in nurse's education. Meetings provide an insight into a nursing career with films and speakers bringing the members first-hand information. Membership includes all those enrolled in nurse education.

Women enrolled in nurse education receive part of their on-the-spot training at Hadley Memorial Hospital in Hays, with advanced medical and surgical nursing at the KU Medical Center in Kansas City, psychiatric nursing at the State Hospital in Topeka and obstetrical training at Lying-In Hospital in Chicago. About 16 months of a nurse's training is received off-campus in hospital experience.

Mr. Beck explains the principles of a suction machine used to drain fluid from the body to students in physics in nursing class.
ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega is a scout service fraternity composed of former Boy Scouts. This organization was designed to provide service on campus where the local chapter is located and to further the interest of young men in scouting. The chapter on this campus has not yet obtained the national charter but has served two years of pledgeship and is looking forward to installation as a chapter of the national fraternity.

COLLEGIATE 4-H

The Collegiate 4-H Club's purpose is to keep a group of college students interested and active in 4-H as they were prior to attending college. It is also the hope of the organization that the members will spread the standards and ideals of 4-H as leaders in 4-H clubs. Judging for County Achievement Days, checking Ellis County posters and secretary record books, entering a float in the Homecoming parade, and assisting with Senior Career Day filled a busy schedule this year. Members are usually students who have formerly been 4-H Club members in the past.

STUDENT NATIONAL EDUCATION

ASSOCIATION

The Student National Education Association promotes professionalism in education and its membership is open to those students preparing for a teaching career. The organization is nationally affiliated and has the largest membership of any group on campus.

Winning first place trophy in the combined float division at Homecoming, attending the Officer’s Work Shop at Topeka and providing SNEA members as speakers for service clubs in Hays have contributed to a full year’s schedule. Climaxing the year’s activities will be the state convention to be held here August 10 and 11.

Marilyn Wilkins, Treasurer; Bonnie Rogers, President, First Semester; Dr. B. W. Broach, Sponsor; Joyce Hockett, Publicity; Lynn Dratt, Secretary; Deanna Lockman, President, Second Semester; Dr. John Rogers, Sponsor.

SNEA proudly presents “Power Through Knowledge.”

SNEA has a membership of 195 and meets monthly to help prepare future teachers for their profession.
CHEMISTRY CLUB

Chemistry Club's goal is to promote interest in chemistry, giving the student members a better knowledge of the field that they might pursue chemistry as a career. Supporting this purpose the club conducts field trips and has visiting chemistry lecturers. New to the organization this year, is sponsorship of an award to the outstanding senior chemistry major. The club's financial support comes from the sale of chemistry handbooks and aprons. Membership is open to those interested in chemistry.

MATH CLUB

Math Club strives to stimulate interest in and give a better understanding of mathematics. The meetings are conducted by members presenting unusual problems either original or from a collection of interesting problems. This will give the member valuable experience useful to him after school. Necessary pre-requisite for membership is an interest and a willingness to study mathematics.
SCRIBLERUS

Scriblerus encourages original thought and serves as an outlet and inspiration for self-expression through creative writing. Meetings are primarily devoted to criticism and discussion of manuscripts written by the members. The club is open to any interested student though the membership is kept small to afford individual attention to creative work.

Dr. Sam Sackett, sponsor; Kay Smith, Charles Gish, Charles Wood, Gary Long.

CHANCERY CLUB

Chancery Club furthers the knowledge and interest concerning the legal profession so that the members may know more of the career they've chosen. The local club became Eta chapter of the national Chancery Club, a pre-law fraternity, in December when a group from Hays attended the national convention at the legal center of Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Guest speakers from Kansas law schools and lawyers from nearby communities sometimes speak at their meetings. Students interested in entering the legal profession may gain membership.

Officers include the chief justice (president), Larry Kopke; associate justice (vice president), Al Morris; clerk of the court (secretary), Frank Magana; and bailiff (treasurer), William McAdoo.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis strives to develop creative ability in dancing and to improve dancing skills. The club assisted the music department in the productions of "Guys and Dolls" and the Fort Hays Follies. Also on the schedule was providing entertainment for WRA Play Days and Sport Days. Membership is selected by tryouts of interested dancers.

Crapsshooters' scene from Guys and Dolls: F. Christian, D. Burandt, M. Wilson, J. Harris, L. Branda.

DAMES CLUB

Facing the common problems of temporary living quarters, studious husbands, and growing children, the Dames Club is composed of wives of Fort Hays State students. Their purpose is to provide a social opportunity for the student families.

LITTLE THEATER

Little Theater gives its members the opportunity to take part in any form of theatrical activity. It is established as a showcase for students' talents with the purpose of encouraging better drama on the campus and furthering interest in the dramatics department. In co-operation with the Pickens Players two major productions are presented each year. Membership requires students interested in dramatics: specifically, acting, directing, writing, and stagecraft.
LEADER

All phases of college life from orientation to graduation are covered by the Leader, the campus weekly newspaper. Written, edited and distributed by an all-student staff, the Leader keeps the student body, faculty and administration posted on the latest campus news.

Journalism majors, as well as students who just like to see their work in print, combine efforts to issue a bright, newsy publication.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club aims at creating a better interest in the German language and culture, and strives to increase the members' ability in German conversation to stimulate interest in the culture of the German speaking areas of the world. Wearing native dress and singing folk songs, the club entered the homecoming parade this year with their own German band.

Active membership is open to all currently enrolled in German or having German speaking and reading ability.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club's goal encompasses doing and learning as much as possible to acquaint the members with French culture. This includes practicing language skills of the French, listening to talks on the country, becoming familiar with the music, art and other aspects of French civilization.

The French Club participated with the German and Spanish Clubs in presenting programs identified with each culture in a joint Christmas party. Enrollment in French or having had French qualifies students for membership.
HOME EC CLUB

Celebrating the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Home Economics department at Fort Hays State was one of the projects of the Home Ec Club this year.

Members are students majoring in home economics. The club is a type of study group since its projects are concentrated on subjects which are directly related to home economics.

The club sold fruit in Custer Hall to raise money for a scholarship offered each year.

HONORARY AMBASSADORS

The Honorary Ambassadors of good-will are responsible for acquainting high school students from their home towns with Fort Hays State.

An ambassador is selected from every town and community represented by a student who attends Fort Hays State. The group is selected by the student leaders on the basis of ability to take the responsibility of encouraging the high school students to attend Fort Hays State.

The ambassadors visit the high schools during the spring and summer as well as during the various vacations such as Christmas, Easter and between semesters and speak to the students about Fort Hays. This program acquaints and brings many students to our campus.

There are 209 ambassadors who do the good-will work for the college under the direction of Hugh Burnett, director of the extension service.
INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

International Relations Club members are noted for their interest in foreign affairs.

They promote better world relations by giving a scholarship to a foreign student and take the responsibility of making that student feel at home in America, Western Kansas, and at Fort Hays State, both on and off the campus.

This year the scholarship recipient was Helen Amundsen of Norway. Included in the club’s membership are Luis and Carlos Revilla and Sombat Sangrungruang of Thailand. Foreign students speak and visit with many groups around the area.

The club sponsors the annual Leap Week dance and the Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae contest as a money making project to help finance its program.

The Indonesian statesmen visit with Dr. Albertson and Dr. Stage while they tour the college farm.

During the fall semester Fort Hays State was honored by the visit of three Indonesian statesmen. The Indonesians toured the college farm and the Fort Hays State Experiment station and studied the various methods used on the farms they visited near Hays.

The statesmen were not farmers themselves, but visited farms to enable them to take home better ideas for farm management and instruction for teachers in vocational schools in agriculture and home economics.

They were guests of the International Relations Club while they visited in Hays.

Open to all denominations, the Young Women's Christian Association has dedicated itself to the highest purposes of Christian living. The primary aims of YWCA are to foster Christian fellowship, to develop deeper personal religious experiences for its members and to share Christian living with all concerned.

The hour-long meetings are held every first and third Wednesday evening at 7:15 in the Santa Fe Trail Room of the Memorial Union. Miss Naomi Garner is the sponsor. Bi-monthly meetings include guest speakers, Bible studies and many informative discussions.

YWCA gave a food basket to a Hays needy family at Thanksgiving and went Christmas caroling.

CHRISTIAN COUNCIL

Sponsored by Rev. Victor M. Polley, of the Messiah Lutheran Church, the Campus Christian Council meets the second Wednesday of each month at 6:30 in the Memorial Union.

The aims of this organization are to stimulate religious participation and association among the Fort Hays faculty and student body.

This group co-operates with the individual churches and their associations in the promotion of church programs. Each church has three representatives: two students and one adult.

The promotion of programs and workshops of international nature are the aims of the Campus Christian Council.
Methodist College men at Fort Hays State have a local chapter of the national fraternity, Sigma Theta Epsilon. This fraternity meets the first and second Thursday evenings of each month at seven in the Methodist Student Center.

The aims of the organization are to develop high moral standards for the betterment of student life and future church leadership. M. W. Walker is the organization sponsor; while Rev. Walter Nyberg also takes an active part in the organization and its activities.

The programs throughout the year include guest speakers, films and many informal discussions. One special project of the Sigma Theta Epsilon is assisting with Sunday morning ushering at the First Methodist Church.
On Sunday evenings, Methodist students from the Fort Hays State campus are found taking an active part in the programs of the Wesley Foundation. These weekly meetings, along with various other meetings, are held at the Methodist church or in the new Methodist student center on the corner of 6th and Elm. The sponsor is Rev. Walter L. Nyberg.

The Wesley Foundation is open to all students and faculty members at Fort Hays State college. Membership lists are not maintained, though an accurate record is kept of all the Methodist preference students and their participation in the various phases of the Wesley Foundation.

The Wesley Foundation is proud of their new $125,000.00 Methodist student center, opened this year.

Kappa Phi pledges clean-up after a combined program for Kappa Phi and Sigma Theta members.

Members of Wesley Foundation placed second in the combined division with their Homecoming float entitled, "In God We Trust."
With Mrs. Larry Marshall as sponsor, the Methodist women's sorority, Kappa Phi, strives to develop an awareness of opportunities for Christian services. It fosters church leadership, the desire to be dependable and trustworthy, and to uphold Christian living. The basic aim of Kappa Phi is "to make every Methodist woman in the university world today, a leader in the church of tomorrow."

The group meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 7 p.m. To launch their activity program a Rose Tea is held to welcome the fall pledges. Pledges plan and hold a party at Christmas time.
NAZARENE FELLOWSHIP

The Nazarene Collegiate Association is a newcomer to the Fort Hays State campus this year. Directed by the Rev. Lewis Patterson, the group is under the leadership of Elmer Davis as president.

Worship and recreation meetings are held once a month at the Nazarene Church Fellowship Hall at 7th and Allen. Membership is voluntary and open to all students interested in the Nazarene Church.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Organized by the Rev. Sam Monk in the spring of 1957, the Canterbury Club has established a substantial place on the Fort Hays State campus. It is an organization composed of Episcopal Church members.

Sponsors of this young, but rapidly growing organization are Mr. Robert Spangler, Mr. Don Keller and Mr. Martin Kirkland.

Of its many goals and activities, the scholarship program is outstanding. A scholarship is awarded to a student who is deserving and needs financial assistance. Improvement on and within the church is another goal of the Canterbury Club.
NEWMAN CLUB

One of the larger religious organizations to be found on the Fort Hays State campus is the Newman Club. This organization was originated basically to promote fellowship among Catholic students on the campus. Of the 400 Catholic students on campus, over half are members of the ever-growing Newman Club.

The group meets every other Wednesday for their business meeting and holds socials with informal dancing on the other two Wednesdays of the month. Meetings are held in the gold room of the Memorial Union building. Highlights of the meetings are special speakers and discussion groups.

The Newman Club has sponsored several informal dances throughout the year. One of the most successful and most eagerly awaited dances of the year was the Spring Formal, which was held early in the spring.

Of the many activities of the Newman Club, the highlight of the year was the State convention, which was held on the Fort Hays State campus. Members of the Club played host to the various Newman Clubs from all over the state at the two-day convention held early in October. The objective of the convention was to exchange ideas for improvement of each organization.

Busy discussing Newman business after a regular Wednesday evening meeting are: Marla K. O'Halloran, secretary; Ed McNeil, sponsor; Father Camillus Schmidt, chaplain; Ace Ford, vice-president; and Kathy Anderson, treasurer.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Each Wednesday evening Lutheran students from Fort Hays State college meet in the Prairie Room of the Memorial Union at 7 p.m. These meetings are planned to strengthen and sustain students in their faith, through a program of worship, study, and fellowship.

The Lutheran Student Association sponsors a weekly Bible study group and programs with guest speakers from the faculty and students who speak on topics of interest to Christian students.

The organization is sponsored by Dr. Doris Stage and is associated with the Trinity Lutheran Church. Membership is on a voluntary basis and no definite membership list is drawn up.

CHRISTIAN YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Sponsored by Rev. Ward Patterson, the Christian Youth Fellowship is an organization composed of college students on the campus of Fort Hays State. This organization meets on Sundays from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at the Christian Church, located at 8th and Walnut.

The aims of the group are to bring Christian instruction and fellowship to its members and those connected with the Christian Church.

Swimming parties, visiting and working with high school members, and Christmas caroling were activities planned and carried out by the Christian Youth Fellowship.
“Gnosis Diakonia”; from these Greek words the foundation of Gamma Delta has been built. Knowledge and service are the cornerstone of the organization.

Gamma Delta is an international organization of Lutheran affiliated college and university students. The aims of the group are fellowship, service, and growth in Christian knowledge.

The Messiah Lutheran students on the Fort Hays State campus have named their chapter Alpha Psi. The group meets each Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. in the recreation room of the new Messiah Lutheran church on North Main. The sponsor is Dr. John Garwood. The Rev. Victor Polley is also on hand to welcome members and all others who visit the meetings.

Gamma Delta officers are: Ronald Seeken, president; Glenda Opitz, secretary; Carolyn Wanker, treasurer; and Verna Dumler, vice-president.

The majorettes with their controlled batons and flashy routines added greatly to the halftime football game shows. They are Mary Ann Lawler, Diane Colhour, Patsy Marcell, Sharon Troutman.
BAND

The "Marching 100," with the assistance of the drum major and twirlers, lends color as well as rhythm to college life. The band traditionally leads the Homecoming Parade and performs during halftime at Fort Hays State football games.

Director of all bands, Harold G. Palmer, selects from the "Marching 100" seventy musicians for the Concert Band, which makes an annual three-day spring tour and appears in home concerts. This spring, the tour included eleven towns in the south-central part of Kansas.

Another organization is the Pep Band, an informal group whose members are selected from the larger band to supply musical enthusiasm for basketball games and pre-game rallies.

For his second year John Harris, sophomore, is drum major for the "Marching 100."
MEN’S QUARTETS

Two men’s quartets have been organized this year by John Norman, director of the groups. New, this year is the Freshman Quartet which has helped meet the demand for appearances both on and off campus. The Upperclassman Quartet consists of experienced vocalists and has performed on campus for several years. Both groups supply colorful musical variety both at campus functions and on invitation for civic organizations. They tour with larger vocal groups during the entire year.

Members of the Upperclassman Quartet are: Monte Seibel, Don Moses, Jim Haney, Rollen Anderson.

Members of the Freshman Quartet are: Francis Wilson, Jon Shively, Don Crosby, Dennis Urban.

FORT HAYS SINGERS

Versatility is the keynote of the Fort Hays Singers, who fulfill many capacities musically during the school year. In the fall they presented a musical revue at the Homecoming Banquet, a concert tour and TV show during the Christmas season. The spring was dotted with performances on and off campus, a concert of Renaissance and contemporary vocal chamber music, and the presentation of opera scenes, where they appeared in “Orpheus” by Gluck.
CONCERT CHOIR

This choir of 60 selected voices has performed on many significant occasions throughout the school year. The musical, “Guys and Dolls,” was presented Thanksgiving week and a varied program was given in concert at the college and on tour in the spring.

CLARINET AND BRASS CHOIRS

Two special instrumental groups are the Clarinet and Brass Choirs. These groups perform during the Christmas season and on band tours. Fort Hays has the distinction of having originated the Clarinet Choir and it has gained national attention in music circles.

Brass Choir members are: Dennis Bozarth, Don Wittig, Roger Cody, Jerry Vance, John Strobel, Earl Blauer, Vayle Rohan, Phil Law.
SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sincere, active and interested in music are the members of Sigma Alpha Iota professional musical fraternity for women. To promote interest in the art, various programs, including the Pledge Recital, are presented annually. This year, the Sigma Alpha Iota members participated in the Christmas Vesper Program, and assisted during Band Day and the Music Festivals. Highlights of the year included a visit from Miss Gertrude Schideler, Province President, and Blanche Thebom, world-renowned mezzo-soprano.

Beverly Delay presents roses to Miss Blanche Thebom.
Alert, talented and interested in music are the members of Phi Mu Alpha, national professional music fraternity for men. This group participates in musical activities on campus and assists at concerts. One of the highlights for the year was a reception sponsored by the fraternity in honor of the United States Navy Band, world-renowned concert band.
One of the first problems confronting freshman women on entering college is learning to live together as a part of a 200-member unit in a dormitory like Custer Hall. Adjusting to new roommates and routine of living offers a challenge for each girl as she learns to fit into the pattern of community life.

Signing in and signing out at Custer Hall becomes part of the routine. The girls have a busy life in their college home. In addition to campus events and activities, Custer Hall residents find time to participate in intramurals, to entertain faculty guests, plan and complete a float for Homecoming, partake of the Thanksgiving and Christmas buffets, plan a Christmas basket for a needy family, hold open house, teas, a spring formal and hour dances.

The freshman women are divided into eight groups. Each week an upperclass counselor meets with the girls to discuss the problems that face a freshman, from etiquette to dating, to disliked courses and low grades. Each freshman is encouraged to bring her personal problems to her counselor.

AGNEW HALL ...

Governing without a written constitution, 144 upperclasswomen and 28 freshman women in Agnew Hall have house rules and an elected house council which enforces these rules. Residents find that living at Agnew provides an abundant social life. The girls entertain faculty guests in an effort to become better acquainted with their instructors. They set aside one night a week to dress up for dinner. As special projects they planned and worked together on the Homecoming float and house decorations, participated in the intramural program, and planned Thanksgiving and Christmas buffets, hour dances, and a fall formal.

Within the walls of Residence Hall is a spirit of sportsmanship and school loyalty known over the campus. In this homey and personal atmosphere 177 college men work, play and live together.

The men have set up a dorm council that plans activities such as hour dances, a spring formal, guest nights once a week and exchange dinners with Agnew and Custer Halls. This council also enforces dorm policies.

Touch football begins early in the fall semester with nightly practices on the front lawn. A few high passes make the receivers run to keep the ball from going into Big Creek. The men also participate in the intramural program on campus.

From a student body of individual personalities we choose to crown a few as our royalty. Chosen for their contributions to campus life, friendliness, courteousness, willingness to complete a duty undertaken, studiousness without isolation and attractiveness—all are influences that attribute to their selection. We set these Fort Hays Staters apart as our campus favorites.

Serenading a girl who has become “pinned” to one of their members is a traditional gesture of congratulations among fraternities.

In the years since they were founded on the Fort Hays State campus, Greek organizations have become an integral part of college life for many students. Fraternities and sororities provide opportunities for harmonious living in the relaxed atmosphere of a home.

Meeting weekly, fraternities and sororities promote scholarship, character and leadership. Stress is placed on ethical and moral standards.

Cooperating in social and service projects to train themselves for the future are the Greeks . . .
The purposes of Panhellenic Council are to unify the social sororities and to provide government as necessary. Each fall the Council sponsors a tea for freshman women. In addition, Panhellenic Council regulates Rush Week activities and plans a pre-Rush Week party for the sororities and prospective rushees. The Council awards a scholarship shield each semester to the sorority with the highest composite grade average. Erma Fross served as president this year and two representatives from each sorority completed the Council roster. Jean Stouffer, Dean of Women, acted as sponsor of the group.

The Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council work together in organizing the All-Greek Formal and Banquet, the All-Greek Sing, and Greek work days in the fall and spring. A new project this year was the leadership school for officers of campus organizations, conducted this spring. The Student Council, Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council had charge of organization and administration of the school.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Erna Fross and Marcelene Harper chat with Mary Frances Dale, Karen Cronic, and Ruth Baker during the brunch for freshman women.
The Interfraternity Council strives to co-ordinate and regulate the Greek fraternities. The Council organizes useful projects among the social fraternities and makes decisions, in conjunction with Panhellenic Council, on general Greek policies when necessary.

This fall the Council sponsored an all-fraternity banquet, which stressed scholarship. A trophy is awarded by the Council to the fraternity with the highest grade average. James Habiger was president and Richard Burnett, Dean of Men, acted as sponsor of Interfraternity Council. Two men from each fraternity completed the membership of the organization.

The Junior Interfraternity Council is reorganized every semester for new members of social fraternities. It is composed of two members of each fraternity’s pledge class, usually the president and one other, and operates for the period of pledgeship, which is about fourteen weeks.

Junior I.F.C. serves as a leadership training school and better acquaints pledges with fraternities, giving new members a chance to form and express opinions on Greek matters. It provides I.F.C. the opportunity to explain various fraternity and college policies.

Although Junior I.F.C. does not emphasize social activities, it did sponsor a successful dance for pledges of all sororities and fraternities.
Alpha Sigma Alpha held hour dances with fraternity groups throughout the year. Work on their homecoming float was fun as well as rewarding when they received an “honorable mention” for their entry.

Greek Work Day found the Alphas cooperating with the other Greeks in “painting the town.” The Alphas worked with the Union Dance Committee in decorating for the all-school Christmas dance.

“Underwater Winter Fantasy” was the theme chosen by the pledges for the Alpha Winter Formal. This was entirely a pledge project.

At Christmas time the Alphas went caroling in a group with their brother fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma.

An entry in the Follies, participation in the Greek Sing and other spring activities rounded out a full year for the sorority. The end of Leap Week found Elgerine Roth elected Daisy Mae.

Members of Delta Zeta sorority and their dates enjoyed a gay time at the winter formal.

Moving into a new house at 703 Fort signalled the beginning of the year for Delta Zeta. Once settled, the chapter entertained the alumnae with a tea to open their social calendar. Immediately the girls embarked upon a series of activities: they joined other Greeks during Greek Work Day; spent hours on homecoming decorations; attended the All Greek Formal. Rush Week brought the chapter 16 pledges, who were orientated into sorority life by hosting the Christmas formal December 11.

Between these events, Deltas found time for active campus participation. Kathy Anderson and Vina Oldach served on Student Council; Dixie Brown was president of Campus Boosters. Diane Amos was vice-president and Jan Ball secretary of the freshman class. Connie Nelson Staples and Dianne Miller were elected to Who's Who. Mary Desbiens served as vice-president of Panhellenic Council and assistant editor of the Reveille, while Kathy Anderson was elected vice-president of Campus Boosters.

During second semester the Deltas worked on their Follies number, "Carousel" and Greek Sing. They sponsored two money-making projects and a spring formal. A highlight for Delta Omega chapter was the State Day Convention May 9, of all State Delta Zeta chapters.

Winning the 1958 spring semester award for scholarship launched the year for the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. Presentation of the award was made at the All Greek banquet. Announcement was also made that the sorority was raising the grade average requirement to 1.5.

Greek Work Day found the Tri Sigmas lending a helping hand, with other Greek organizations, to help beautify the town. Their work schedule also included a shoe-shine day as a money-making project.

"Oriental Dreamland" was the theme of the Tri Sigma fall informal. Alumnae were entertained at a tea during homecoming activities.

Using the themes “Seeing is believing” for house decorations and “Fit for a king” for float, the Tri Sigmas placed second in both divisions.

Honor-wise, Tri Sigma did well this year. Kay Ann Kaufman was chosen Reveille Beauty Queen, and three of the Fort Hays cheerleaders were Tri Sig.

An informal, a spring formal and another work day were included in the spring activities of the Sigma sorority members.

A “shoe-shine” proved to be a profitable project for members of the chapter.

Theta Sigma Upsilon walked away with the first prize at homecoming in each division entered; first for house decorations, first in its class for float, and Sweepstakes for the best float in the parade. A homecoming banquet for Theta parents was held following the day’s festivities.

The Thetas received thirteen pledges during Rush Week and four during Open Bidding.

Other activities of the year were hour dances, Greek Sing and the Fort Hays Follies. A chili supper proved a most profitable project for the group.

In addition to its group activities, Theta Sigma Upsilon has had many individual honors. Karen Seery was chosen Sweetheart Queen. Deanna Lockman edited the Reveille and was vice-president and president of SNEA; Bonnie Rogers-Nelson edited the State College Leader and was first semester president of SNEA. Judy Hegwer presided over the Tigerettes. Connie Eaton served as Student Council secretary.

The “Rose Formal” climaxed a year of success and achievement for members of Theta Sigma Upsilon.
Delta Sigma Phi participated in a number of campus as well as Greek activities this year. Hour dances, Greek Work Day, Greek Sing, and two informals constituted a large part of the activities of Delta Sigma Phi. A special scholarship program has been set up for both the actives and pledges of Delta Sigma Phi.

"The Sailors Ball" was the theme of the Delta Sigs' winter informal and the "The Sphinx Ball" formed the setting for their spring informal.

Bob Scheuerman, an alumnus of Fort Hays chapter was elected Grand International President of Kappa Sigma Kappa and he and J. Feiden, R. Hutton, and L. Ensign flew to Manitoba State University in Winnipeg, Canada, to an annual Kappa formal banquet Feb. 27.

Leo Oliva, an active member of the local chapter, was elected president of the South-Central Province. The Fort Hays chapter was host to the South Central Province meeting this spring.

Follies and All-Greek Sing also rank high on the list of activities for the Kappas during the spring.

The highlight of the social season arrived in the spring with the annual Sweetheart Ball. Planned by the pledges, the event was enjoyed by members and alumni alike.

Members of Sigma Phi Epsilon participated in all phases of campus activity. Their social program included All Greek Work Day, the All Greek Formal, informal parties and hour dances with sororities. The Fort Hays Follies and Greek Sing filled out the calendar.

Participating in the intramural program, the Sig Eps won first in basketball, first in swimming, third in football and second in tennis.

Honors came to the fraternity with the election of Jerry Koeppen as Student Body president and the choice of Lois Boone, whom they sponsored, as Reveille Queen candidate, as one of the two attendants.

Wonder who's on the other end of the line that so engrosses Larry Stanton and Larry Douglas?
Sigma Tau Gamma began its year by participating in the All Greek Work Day. This was a combined effort of all Greek organizations to be of civic help to the community.

“Greenwich Village” provided the theme for the Sig Taus and their guests at the winter informal.

Several hour dances and occasional work days helped fill the schedule of social events. Cooperation with other Greeks in the Greek Sing and the Follies strengthened the bonds of fellowship.

The annual dance of the year, “The White Rose Formal” climaxed an enjoyable year for members of Sigma Tau Gamma.

Tau Kappa Epsilon was an active participant in many school and Greek functions this past year. Sports-wise, the TKEs ranked high among competitors in intramurals, taking many first and second place honors.

In the homecoming festivities, Tau Kappa Epsilon finished with a second place for their house decorations and second in the Sweepstakes award.

Tau Kappa Epsilon also participated in All Greek Work Day and entered a contestant in the Bearded Joe contest for Leap Week. The group also joined in the Greek Sing and the Fort Hays Follies.

"Go, Tigers, go!" With a keen sense of pride and loyalty, you identify yourself with the cheering student body.

The school spirit holds you and your fellow students together through wins and losses.

Promotion of standards is obtained through observation and participation in athletics...
The Fort Hays State campus experienced a surge in school spirit that was reflected in the performance of the Tiger football team. The wave of spirit came just in time for Homecoming, and was perhaps the high point of the entire season, finding Fort Hays State winning over Pittsburgh State 16 to 7. At the close of the season the Tigers found themselves in third place in the CIAC conference standings.

An integral part of the student spirit are the school colors, black and gold. The old colors of blue and gold were changed to the present colors at the suggestion of president W. A. Lewis, who came to the college in 1913. Another tradition to be found at all Fort Hays State games is the college Fight Song, “Go Hays Tigers.” The Fight Song has been played for as long as anyone can remember.

Of course the true goal of any student body is to support its team—win or lose—a goal which has been partially realized this season at Fort Hays State. Working together in the future will see its full attainment.

Leading the cheering section all season are four of the cheerleaders: Jeanie Morrow, LaVonne Bridges, Justine Beatty, and Kay InMasche.
McConnell, who is in his third year as head football coach at Fort Hays State, attended college at Kansas State, Emporia State College, and Washburn University. He has been coaching since 1943 and experienced winning seasons at Effingham, Gaylord, Downs and Manhattan high schools before beginning a six-year regime at College of Emporia.

His success at Emporia has become an athletic legend in Kansas as his teams won 49, lost 12, and tied one during the six-year era. In 1953 he was named Little All-American Coach of the Year by the Rockne Foundation.

McNeil, line coach for Fort Hays State, served under Coach McConnell at College of Emporia but had a year at North Dakota University as line coach before rejoining McConnell at Fort Hays State.

He played four years of football at Kansas State and was named to the All-Big-Seven Conference team in 1949. He was also a third team All-American selection.

In his second year on the Tiger coaching staff, McNeil was a regular tackle on Kansas State football teams in the late 1940’s. He received honorable mention recognition on All-Conference grid teams and was named to an All-American third team.

Throughout the season, Fort Hays State had the aid of three assistant coaches. Art Newcomer was an all-conference fullback at Bethany College before serving in the Army. He recently joined the Fort Hays coaching staff as a graduate assistant, working with the junior varsity.

Merle Garey played for Washburn in 1948 and for Fort Hays for three seasons after serving in the Army. He coached at Ellis High School before coming back to Hays as a graduate assistant.

Don Dempewolf, after playing three years as an end and halfback for Fort Hays State, is now serving as chief scout and working with the junior varsity squad.
The recipient of the "Busch" Gross Award as the outstanding senior athlete from the 1957-58 school year is Dan Johnson. The award is selected by a committee on the basis of leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and ability.

PAUL "BUSCH" GROSS, director of athletics

"Busch" was a Fort Hays State athlete in 1917-21 and later was a successful high school coach at La-Crosse, Howard, and Augusta. He returned to his alma mater as head basketball coach in 1930 and his cage teams won two conference co-championships. He has been director of athletics since 1935 and has served on the faculty at Fort Hays State for 28 years.

In his honor, the "Busch Gross Award" is given each year to the outstanding senior athlete on the Tiger campus.

WARREN MILLER, End
In the season’s opener the visiting Tiger team was defeated by the running, passing team of Kearney, Nebraska, 35 to 7. The lone Bengal tally came in the closing seconds of the third quarter when Vernon ran 30 yards to score after Stegman’s second blocked punt of the game.

The first home game resulted in a 13 to 0 triumph for Fort Hays State over Maryville, Missouri. An improved Tiger team held the visitors to a total of 36 yards rushing and passing during the entire game. The passing of Elliott was combined with the ground gaining of Vernon, Bechard, and Gilbert. Defensive play centered around Stegman and Kober.

In the third game the Tigers took to the air for their two first half touchdowns and then staved off a last quarter
Colorado College rally to win 13 to 7. Maska scored one touchdown and Miller scored the second tally after the Tigers made an 80-yard drive.

In the first conference game Fort Hays State scored in the first four minutes and then coasted to a 21 to 0 win over Southwestern College. Vernon, Elliott, and Bechard all crossed the goal line.
In the Homecoming game the Bengals triumphed over Pittsburg State 16 to 7, registering their fourth consecutive win of the season. Hildebrand and Elliott scored, with Jewell making two successful conversions. An automatic safety accounted for the other two Tiger points. Again it was the Hays defensive play that highlighted the win.

In the following game Fort Hays State and Emporia State, two defensively stubborn teams, battled to a 7 to 7 tie. Vernon scored the lone Bengal tally with Jewell making the conversion. The team that thwarted Tiger hopes for a CIC football championship, was the undefeated St. Benedict’s Ravens who rolled over the Tigers 41 to 0.

The final home game saw the Fort Hays State team defeated at the hands of Washburn, 19 to 6. This game knocked the Tigers out of the runner-up spot in the CIC. A strong running and passing attack by Northwest Oklaho- home handed Hays a 34 to 14 defeat at Alva. Hildebrand and Vernon accounted for the Fort Hays State scores. The loss left the Tigers with four wins, four losses, and one tie for the season.

GARY GOODHEART, Guard
BASKETBALL
After twenty-five years of successful coaching, the 1958-59 season has been one of the best for Coach Cade Suran.

The 1959 team has rolled to 18 wins against 2 losses for the best mark in Coach Suran's 13 years as head Tiger coach. The only conference defeat was a 63-61 overtime game at Pittsburg despite a brilliant come-from-behind effort.

Fort Hays State hadn't won the CIC basketball title since 1950, which was Suran's 4th year at Fort Hays State. In that season Fort Hays State had a 10-2 win-loss record in league play and 19-8 for the season.

Suran had twelve years of high school coaching experience in which his teams won 85% of their games before he came to Fort Hays State in 1946. Formerly an all-Kansas Conference forward and leading scorer at Kansas Wesleyan, he coached 2 years at Harlan and 5 each at Downs and Wellington.

During his 13 years at Fort Hays State, Suran's teams have won 173 and lost 102. The 1949 team finished with a 17-6 record, as did the 1952 group. The Tigers had a 16-4 record in 1954, won the Sunshine Tournament at Portales, New Mexico, and finished in the runner-up spot in CIC play.

Characteristic of this season's winning team and Suran's style of play are the fast break, set offense revolving around a high post, and the wagon-wheel offense that has been spectacular against a man-to-man defense.

Statistics reveal one important aspect of the Tigers' success; they made 42% of all field goal attempts and 69% from the free-throw line.
The three junior varsity coaches for this year were Guy Conner, Don Dempewolf and Galen DeVore.

Guy Conner is from McCracken, Kansas. He attended Fort Hays State from 1949 to 1952 and played basketball four years. He was on the Conference Championship Team of 1950 and was given honorable mention on the All-Conference Team.

He spent two years in the U.S. Army from 1953-55. After returning from the army he coached for three years at Brownell High School from 1955 to 1958. He has attended Fort Hays State this year, working on his master's degree and will graduate in August, 1959.

Don Dempewolf is from Colby, Kansas. He served in the army from 1952 to 1954. He enrolled in Fort Hays State in 1955 and graduated in 1958. He is now completing his graduate work and will also get his master's degree in August, 1959.

Galen DeVore is an undergraduate, majoring in physical education. He graduated from Macksville High School in 1956 and will graduate from Fort Hays State in May, 1959.

JUNIOR
VARSITY BASKETBALL

Climaxing the best season in the school’s history, the Fort Hays State basketball team won the CIC championship for the first time since 1950, and within a week, won the playoff for the right to represent Kansas in the NAIA tournament in Kansas City, March 9-14.

The Tigers held an 18-2 record in regular season play and won the first two playoff games from the Ottawa Braves to win a berth in the twenty-second NAIA tournament.

Bill Ehlers, one of the regular Tiger guards, graduated at the end of the first semester. Dean Larson, K-State transfer, became eligible and filled the vacated spot in the starting lineup.

Ottawa University, champion of the Kansas Conference, came to the Sheridan arena for the first of the three-game series. The Tigers put on a fabulous shooting display to win 86 to 71 for a perfect record on the home court in ten starts. At Ottawa the following night the Tigers defeated Ottawa again, 79 to 70.

The UPI selected Coach Cade Suran as the Coach of the Year. Leading scorer of the season, Merl Sturd, won a first-team spot on the UPI and CIC all-conference team. Others selected were Gary Casey and Don Bigham for the second team and Duane Channell, Merle Harris, and Dean Larson for honorable mention.

NAIA TOURNAMENT

The Tigers got off to a blazing start, defeating Westminster College of Ogden, Utah, 70 to 63. Then Arkansas State of Jonesboro fell before the Bengals 59 to 49. Moving into the semi-finals in the third game, an inspired Tiger team almost outdid itself, scoring 98 to 83 over West Virginia Wesleyan. Exhausted, plagued with flu, but still fighting, the Tigers then dropped their last two games to Pacific Lutheran and Southwest Texas State to finish fourth in the tourney.

Excitement reached an all-time high as Fort Hays State entered its first NAIA tourney. As the winning streak progressed, the Tiger section in K. C. grew, until Municipal Auditorium held almost as many familiar faces as Sheridan Coliseum. On Saturday night the team was presented the trophy; Merl Sturd and Gary Casey received watches for selection on the all-tournament second team.

Back on campus, the coach and squad received a standing ovation in a special assembly—a fitting finale to a spectacular season.
CROSS COUNTRY

NAIA MEET

Richard Lotton, Garden City junior, led the Tigers with a sixth place finish in the field of 120 runners. The Tiger squad was ninth of the 14 teams that finished complete squads.

Bob McVicker ran a fine race to close his cross-country career at Fort Hays State, as he finished 38th. Hal Morris, two-year letterman, finished in 46th place.

The NAIA cross-country meet was held at Omaha, where 14 colleges were represented.

CIAC MEET

The Fort Hays State cross-country team traveled to Pittsburgh November 22 for the CIAC cross-country meet. Running for Fort Hays in the meet were Bob McVicker, Richard Lotton, Hal Morris, Bill Stapleton, and Melvin Bremenkamp.

Emporia won the meet with 32 points, Fort Hays State was second with 50 points, and Pittsburg third with 60 points. In individual scoring Richard Lotton took third place, Bob McVicker eighth, Hal Morris tenth and Bill Stapleton, thirteenth place.

GYMNASTICS

Colorado and Nebraska Universities were the guests as Fort Hays State opened the gymnastic season December 13. Three returning lettermen were included in Coach McNeil’s Tiger squad: Julian McEwen, Gerald Fahey and Ron Halling. Fahey specialized on the parallel and horizontal bars. McEwen is an all-round performer, while Halling competed in the horizontal bar and trampoline events.

WRESTLING

Five returning veterans formed the nucleus for the Fort Hays State wrestling team this season as Coach Fred Reith prepared the matmen for an 18-meet schedule.

Back from last year's team are Curtis Karr and lettermen Barry Kratzer and Bill Pickinpaugh.

Promising freshmen added to the Tiger squad were James Beltch, Ron Greenwood, Jerry Jackson, Charles Kvasnicka, Dennis McKee, William McLeon, Gerald Paxton and Ronald Reed.

Other upperclassmen on the squad include Merlin Burr, Gayle Garrels, Jack Kerin, Dan Martin, Billy Price, Kenneth Usrey, and Larry Bradfield.

LOYD KEPFERLE

Sue Seaman, free throws sports manager, and Dixie Barb, winner of the basketball free throw tournament.

Shirley Mathias, first place winner of badminton singles.

DeAnne Aldrich, golf sports manager; Dixie Barb, first place in golf singles competition; Sue Kinyon, second place in golf singles; Jeanne Arnold and Esther Thompson, first place in golf doubles.

Sue Beal had the highest individual average in bowling competition.
WOMEN’S INTRAMURALS

The women’s intramural program under the auspices of Miss Joan Bailey of the Department of Health and Physical Education offered a well-rounded athletic program for all women students. Medals and trophies are presented to the winners of each of the ten individual and team sports. The objective of the women’s program is to provide recreation and to promote a wider interest in athletics. More than 300 women participated in the intramurals program during the 1958-59 year.

Basketball free throw champion is Dixie Barb.

Golf doubles champions are Jeanne Arnold and Esther Thompson.
Fort Hays State’s intramural program is due largely to the work of Coach Alex Francis. There is keen competition among the men for the intramural trophies at the end of each season.

Men’s intramurals offered 14 individual and team sports this year to all male students. The purpose of the program is to provide entertainment as well as to teach good sportsmanship and encourage physical fitness.

Competition was divided into independent and organized leagues, with the winners playing for all-college championships. Over 1,000 men participated in the 1958-59 intramural athletic program. Intramural managers for this year were Doug Morrissey and Bob Teegerstrom.
Ronald Walker, Kappa Sig tennis singles champion.

Ed Schwartzkopf, independent golf champion.

Square dance champions were TKE and Tri Sigs.
Top row: L. Bradfield, M. Bender, M. Ihrig, G. Hannan.

Second row: R. Wilson, G. Lindsey, B. Schultz, B. Tregerstrom.
Our story is a colorful and busy one—with its dances, parties, informal gab sessions, football and basketball games, organization meetings and the books studied late at night.

As we reach our goal of graduation and education, we remember the obstacles overcome day by day. These memories formed of people and events during the year will be recalled with the reading of the story.

Each segment pictured in our book—classes, athletics, organizations, faculty and administration and royalty—all make up the story of the year . . .

STORY OF THE YEAR . . .
"How can one girl have so many boxes?" wonder members of APO, service fraternity, as they help move students into the dormitories.

Campus residence halls, sorority and fraternity houses, Hackberry Trailer court and Lewis Field apartments begin to fill. Carrying armload after armload of clothes, boxes, books, and suitcases into your campus homes, you make new acquaintances and greet friends.

Another school year is launched. Using the Orientation booklet as a guide, you are introduced to the fast pace of campus life and to other students. You become Fort Hays Staters.

Sign up here, the Union committees welcome volunteers.

During Orientation Week you participate in social, recreational and religious activities. President Cunningham officially welcomes you and your parents to the Fort Hays State campus. Following this opening convocation in Sheridan Coliseum, the churches of Hays open their doors to welcome and introduce their facilities to you.

Mrs. Landrum chats with Helen Shearer and her aunt over a cup of punch at the Union open house.

Engrossed in conversation with Dr. Sackett are Mary Shaffer and Kay Smith.

BELOW: Mr. and Mrs. Bemie Horton look on as Matt Benton presents Martin Kirkland with the music to the original song "Open Up the Union."
ENROLLMENT AND CLASSES BEGIN . . .

Monday morning appointments with advisers, choosing a curriculum, checking in the Registrar’s Office or taking tests, all are crammed into your busy schedules. Group sessions designed to present special information are sponsored by the Women’s Leadership Organization, Seventh Cavalry, student leaders and members of the Honors Seminars.

AT LEFT:
1. This student has plenty of help as he enrolls. 2. Marvel Albin and Marion Dreiling hand Jim Gilbert and his friend their car registration cards. 3. Making her last stop, Diana Goddington pays her tuition.

Balmy fall weather accompanies the first days of school.
Enrollment begins Tuesday morning and the hectic process of trying to get into already closed classes, or rearranging a confused schedule, or smiling at a camera for your ID picture, or writing your name fifty times in the enrollment booklet—all become reality for you. It is with a sigh of relief that you reach the end of the line in Forsyth Library.

An information booth has been set up between Picken Hall and Sheridan Coliseum to supply you with advice and information.

Despite the fullness of your schedules, you find time to attend the President’s openhouse and the “Hello” dance, to become better acquainted with the faculty at the student-faculty picnic and the square dance.

Thursday morning classes begin, and the campus settles into a calmer routine.

Ken Griffin applies lipstick as Claude Hansen holds Nancy Mitchell to prevent escape.

Anxious for the opening of the Memorial Union, Carolyn Lockman, Sharon Troutman and LaDene Votruba discuss campus activities.

Movies are one of the Union’s many features.
Gamma Kappa Epsilon entertains with a fraternity smoker.

“Refreshments, boys?” Rushees are served by Lamara Ostrander.

Parents greet M. V. Walker during Parents’ Day.

Upper: Is that line straight? Christine Wickizer and Ayn Trexler paint a cross walk during All-Greek Work Day.

Lower: Other Greeks give the park fence a new coat of paint.

Virginia Ramsey pins a registration tag on her father as her mother looks on.
In addition to their search for knowledge, Fort Hays State students broaden themselves through social activities. As the new social center on campus, the Memorial Student Union serves the college well. Officially dedicated October 18 during the Homecoming celebration, the Union becomes a meeting place for alumni, students, faculty, and guests.

Immediately after Homecoming the Union facilities are launched into a busy schedule. With the snack bar opening October 30 the students begin to assemble daily for coffee, card games, billiards, ping pong and television. A major service, the Cody Cafeteria, is put into use November 18. The Union office schedules all social events, while the Union committees work to present many programs and activities — some of a broad, general appeal, with others aimed at only a small interest group. As the year progresses there are art exhibits, movies, numerous dances and concerts. Organizations hold business meetings and give all types of parties in Union rooms that were not available to them last year.

After years of planning, the Memorial Union is an actuality—a beautiful new building, one of which Fort Hays Staters may well be proud.

Lynn Kaye, Carol Booth, Judy Belisle and Kay Eckel drink coffee with President and Mrs. Cunningham as they attend the Faculty Women's Tea.

Students dance at one of the many Union-sponsored events.

Lola Hendricks and Rev. Ward Patterson examine a piece of clothing from the Middle East. The Union Variety Committee sponsored his talk on Europe and the Near East.

Ila Hulett, Charles Hendrix and Margaret Stapleton chat with Miss Katharine Nutt after her lecture, "Indian Kaleidoscope."

Agnew Hall girls enjoy an informal hula hoop session.
HOMECOMING

Highlighting the homecoming activities is the long awaited dedication of the Memorial Union. The Rev. Wilbur DeYoung, '38, gives the dedicatory address Saturday morning. Assisting him on the speaker's platform are: Mr. James Sturt, Dr. Otis Dickey, Dr. Donald Stout, and Larry Kopke.

A plaque commemorating graduates and former students who died while in service is unveiled by Larry Kopke, president of the Student Council. The program is closed with the playing of taps.

About 270 alumni and friends attend the annual banquet in the Black and Gold ballroom. Mrs. Nita Landrum, chairman of the homecoming committee, is honored.

AT LEFT:

Participating in the dedication ceremony of the Memorial Union are Prof. James Sturt, Dr. Otis Dickey, Rev. Wilbur DeYoung, Larry Kopke and Donald Stout.

The Rev. DeYoung delivers his dedicatory address.

Larry Kopke unveils the commemorative plaque.

President Cunningham presents a gift to Mrs. Nita Landrum in appreciation of her work as Secretary of the Alumni Association.

Judy Greiner and her parents serve themselves at the Union smorgasbord.
The Homecoming Queen candidates are: LaVonne Bridges, Bonnie Rogers, Justine Beatty, Bonnie Harbaugh, Sybil Henry, Yvonne Smith, Erma Fross, Dianne Miller, and Sylvia Kaiser.

Anticipation of Homecoming festivities after last year’s cancellation reaches a high pitch as you work to complete house and float decorations. The schedule of activities begins to unfold for you as more than 900 alums register. During this registration you with other Fort Hays Staters form a huge serpentine parade and advance to the Custer Hall bridge and the banks of Big Creek for the pep rally and traditional tug of war. Shouts ring out as the sophomores pull the freshmen into the muddy creek. Beanies must be worn until Thanksgiving.

A special treat is given you, alums, other students and faculty in the form of a concert by Blanche Thebom, noted mezzo soprano star of the Metropolitan Opera.

Let’s go, Tigers!”—spirits are high as the cheerleaders and the Tigerettes boost morale just before the Homecoming Parade.

Miss Blanche Thebom is surrounded by admirers Carol Kuhlman, Charlotte Baker, Mary Ellen Mainberg, and John Harris following her concert.

Big Creek was filled with freshmen after the tug of war.

Pete Womachil, Denis Shumate, and Fred Christian put finishing touches on their tiger before the judging of floats and house decorations.
The Homecoming parade complete with tigers, gorillas, thirty high school bands, nineteen floats, the mounted Seventh Cavalry, new, foreign and sports cars, hula hoops, the queen and her court, all led by the Marching 100.

Organized houses are transformed from the ordinary to the unusual as they apply the theme of "famous slogans" to house decorations.

With this exotic float Tau Kappa Epsilon won first place in the men's division.

These little monkeys rode the SNEA float to first place in the combination division.

The tiger twins hitch a ride during the Homecoming parade.

A tiger lily dominated the Theta Sigma Upsilon float and the Thetas dominated the judging, winning first in the women's division and the Sweepstakes prize.

The Marching 100 form a heart as the Queen is crowned.

The Homecoming Queen, Justine Beatty, beams on the crowd at the game. Her escort is Larry Kopke, president of Student Council.
Queen Justine Beatty reigns as the Fort Hays State Tigers plunge to victory over Pittsburg State. The calendar of events is climaxed with a Homecoming dance in the Black and Gold Ballroom of the Memorial Union. Tired but happy, you agree it's been a tremendous Homecoming.

The Queen and her court stand at attention as the band plays. They are: LaVonne Bridges, Tom Gilmore, Marcelene Harper, Lurry Kopke, President Cunningham, Justine Beatty, Darrell Schaffer, Jerry Koeppe, Yvonne Smith, and David Mosier.

Proudly clutching their first place trophies for float and house decorations are Boyd Limes, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Connie Eaton, Theta Sigma Upsilon; and Eugene Velharticky, Student National Education Association.

President Cunningham presents roses to Queen Justine Beatty.

Fred Christian, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Dick Fisher, Wesley Foundation, Marcelene Harper, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Paul Nelson, Men's Residence Hall, display their plaques for second place in house and float entries.
As the calendar progresses, campus entertainment is provided for you by dramatic and music productions or by the organizations to which you belong.

BERNADINE

The Little Theater group, directed by Miss Harriet Ketchum, assistant professor of speech, presents "Bernadine" October 30-31. Picken Hall is filled to capacity both nights as the curtain rises. The Mary Coyle Chase play shows family relationships and emphasizes problems of adolescents and their solutions to these problems. While light and humorous on the surface, the play has some important things to say about parents and their attitudes concerning their children.

"Beau" gives "Gibby" a little advice as the gang looks on.

Selma gives the boys a cold shoulder.

Miss Ketchum and student directors Bill Collin and Charlotte Baker discuss a program.

Winners of the intramural square dance contest, Larry Bradfield, Marlene Bender, Meredith Ilfirt, Gary Hanna, Gerald Wanker, Celeste Batner, Kay Kaufman, and Danny Erbert, represent Sigma Sigma Sigma and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Guests at the Artists’ Ball came as characters from famous paintings.

The entire cast of "Bernadine" takes a curtain call.
DON COSSACK CHORUS

A Don Cossack dancer performs his sword dance specialty.

The Don Cossack chorus and dancers, directed by General Platoff, provided entertainment November 18.

The Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers perform a large and varied program of Cossack war songs, Russian folk tunes and gypsy songs. Nicholas Kostroff, director, organized the group in 1927; since that time they have given over 6,700 concerts on five continents.

GUYS AND DOLLS

For two nights Damon Runyon's colorful characters provide light-hearted entertainment as "Guys and Dolls" is presented November 25-26 in the Hays High School Auditorium.

Rosa Lee Hirt played Miss Sarah Brown, the "mission doll" who meets Sky Masterson, played by Jerry Stafford. Miss Adelaide, Elizabeth Higgins, does her best to snare Nathan Detroit, Don Moses, who is proprietor of the floating crap game. They were supported by a cast of 13 and assisted by a chorus, dancers, extras and an orchestra.

Donald E. Stout, assistant professor of music, directed the annual Fort Hays State Choir show. The proceeds are used for Concert Choir scholarships.

The "Guys" get into a little argument.

The craps shooters are at their favorite pastime again.

The "Save-A-Soul Mission" members drum up business.
RUSH WEEK

Formal sorority rush begins Sunday, November 16, after three weeks of “coke” dating. Each sorority gives their house a final inspection while the freshman girls dress carefully and adjust their hats. At 2 p.m. the “rush” officially begins with 69 rushees registering at each sorority house.

Monday evening the parties begin and extend through Saturday morning. From 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. the suspense mounts. Both sorority girls and rushees cross their fingers and wait while bids are being matched. Finally, the new pledges are welcomed with open arms.

Meeting a requirement of rush Judy Belisle signs the guest book as Lynn Kaye and Sylvie Kaiser look on.

When the shouting dies away, forty-three women are pledges of the five sororities.

Rushees and members of Alpha Sigma Alpha meet at the refreshment table.

Virginia Wood and Diane Amos receive from Panhellenic Council representatives their envelopes which contain their party invitations.

Kathy Smith chats with Roberta Hecox as Linda Lake and Joan Fink sip coffee.
Theta Sigma Upsilon entertains rushers at their house.

Rushers form a line as Sandra Boss and Eldred Gustavson serve them.

Playing games, girls? Celeste Butner is surrounded by freshmen.

The Thetas turn artistic for their second party.

ABOVE: Mrs. Robert Spangler and Jean Cromwell become better acquainted with freshmen, Judy Belisle and Jean Moody.

REVEILLE BALL

Opening the campus Christmas social season, the Reveille Ball is held December 6th in the Black and Gold ballroom.

Against a backdrop of a replica of the cover which reveals for the first time the design of the 1959 Reveille, Bob Berger and his orchestra furnish music for several hundred couples.
AND A QUEEN IS CROWNED...

At ten o'clock the beauty queen and princesses as chosen by Commander Charles Brendler, director of the United States Navy band, will be announced. Excited guesses are made as to the queen’s identity as the crowning time draws near.

The band plays a fanfare, and Cap Middlekauff, master of ceremonies, introduces the eight candidates, their escorts and Dr. L. D. Wooster, president emeritus, to whom the book is dedicated and who will crown the queen.

The letter containing the big news is opened for the first time, and Cap reads the selection of princesses, Mary Deshien, assistant editor, presents them trophies.

The big moment arrives—Kay Ann Kaufman is announced and crowned queen of the Reveille ball. Congratulating the queen, editor Deanna Lockman presents her with a dozen red roses and her trophy. Immediately following the crowning, the queen’s proud escort leads her and the royal court to the dance floor.

Strains of music drift across the campus from the Black and Gold ballroom, and the Christmas season is launched.

ABOVE: Queen Kay Ann smiles happily.

BELOW: Reveille Princesses, Jerie Belisle and Lois Boone, display their trophies.

The candidates and their escorts dance after the crowning ceremony.
The audience participates in the Vespers program.

Eleanor Zohmer and Max Hilgers greet Santa as he descends the Union staircase.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON...

Snow and Santa Claus come, and spirits are gay. Music becomes prominent as the Christmas season advances. The first of several musical events is presented by the Hays College-Community Orchestra.

"Fantasia on Christmas Carols" is the closing number of the Christmas Vespers sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha. A concert from the roof of Sheridan Coliseum by the Brass Choir rounds out the musical presentations.

Fun, cold hands and feet, and later, a cup of hot chocolate are ingredients for an informal Christmas caroling party.

The Hays College-Community Orchestra receives applause after its concert in the Black and Gold Room.

Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha present the Christmas Vespers.

Agnew Hall girls and their dates prepare for a caroling tour.
FREE COFFEE DAY

"Coffee?" Today, faculty members serve free coffee, the Union's Christmas gift to you. As Christmas music is heard throughout the Union, a day of busy celebration begins.

During the morning a Christmas tree decorated with greeting cards from campus organizations is presented to Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham by the Union Committee.

Children of students and faculty fill the lounge in the afternoon as they enjoy a party held in their honor.

After the concert by the Fort Hays State Orchestra, dance music is provided by the Phi Mus in the Cody Room. The "Blue Christmas" dance concludes the Union activities for the day.

Singing Christmas cards, the Concert Choir opens the Christmas celebration in the Memorial Union.

Paula Schumacher, representing the Union Program Council, presents Christmas card tree to Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. McFarland serves coffee to James Keperle and Gerald Orr.

Students take advantage of "free coffee day" in the Union.

"Fill it up, please." Mr. Keller cheerfully pours coffee for Lynn Wickizer as Gary Schonlaw waits his turn.
Christmas is also observed in the residences of students and faculty, with Christmas trees, decorated windows, and special dinners. Between classes, students attempt to finish their shopping, then they exchange gifts with close friends and pack for the trip home. Christmas Day finds the campus buildings standing silently waiting for the students to return from vacation.

Student and faculty children chew on candy canes and listen to a story.

The Cody Room is turned into a "Blue Christmas" for the celebration.

Custer Hall's Christmas buffet brings the girls out in force.

Mrs. Helen Zimmerman, Dr. W. D. Moreland, Beverly Suchy, and Dr. Alden Flanders examine Custer's Christmas tree.
The library card catalogue is kept busy by students finishing their research papers.

Midnight oil, last minute cramming, notes, outlines and library research, every day you search for knowledge and skill. This search is made through the classrooms, contacts with instructors, the use of specialized instruments and equipment and the persistence of your probing. As you read about vitamins and apply this knowledge to planning menus, as you memorize the formulas and apply them in experiments, as you learn the principles of teaching a child to read and apply these principles in the classroom—all these and more—aid you in obtaining that which you seek, your education.

Browsing in the radio department.

Working out a chemistry experiment.

A grade school class visits the museum in Forsyth Library.

Brooks Kellogg, Bill Oblemeier, and Phil Webber run through a broadcast in the radio department.

John Berland's "Flight into Egypt" is passed daily by students checking out books.

John Thorns hangs part of an art exhibit by Kaethe Kollwitz.
ENROLLMENT AGAIN...

After Christmas vacation and final test week, the second semester rolls around. You are again faced with the process of enrollment and especially a new system in the Memorial Union which is puzzling on paper but much simpler in practice.

Your schedule contains a new slate of classes, but your calendar is occupied with much the same events as first semester—a winning basketball team, Dylan Todd, national billiards tournament, pitch or pinochle in the Arapahoe room, Lotte Gosler’s Pantomime Circus, movies, meetings and many others.
KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS ARE CROWNED . . .

Using the theme “With a Song in My Heart” the Union committees have planned big things and busily decorate the Black and Gold Ballroom for the Sweetheart Ball.

Larry Kopke, master of ceremonies, introduces the candidates and presents the princes and princesses, Shirley Beeler, Susan Reiter, Tom Fellers and Darrell Luthi. Karen Seery and Howard Riedel, selected by popular student vote, are announced King and Queen of Hearts. Performing the coronation honors is Standlee V. Dalton, registrar.
Leap Week is here again, March 22-28, and the tables are turned. You must carry books, open doors, provide cigarettes for the men or face trial at 3:30 Tuesday and Thursday in the Memorial Union.

The Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae contest is in full swing. With a penny you may cast a vote for JoLynn Fredickson, Mary Bowen, Elgerine Roth, Patricia Scheck, Linda Luke or Ann Estes for Daisy Mae. Bearded Joe candidates are: Ken Boomhower, Jim Goeken, John Hays, and Ralph Walker.

Leap Week is climaxed with the dance Friday night in the Black and Gold Ballroom. Elgerine Roth and Jim Goeken are presented plaques for Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe.

Sponsored by the International Relations Club, returns from Leap Week, the Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe contest and the dance are used to bring a foreign student to our campus.
But college is not all play, the biggest aspect is the serious, the academic side. Whether it be writing a term paper or working out an experiment or student teaching, you are preparing for the attainment of your goal, an education.

Your choice may be to become a teacher. You have observed instructors and their methods, now you have the opportunity to practice these methods.

Marilyn Wilkens displays cypress wood to second graders.

Use of the T-square is explained by Robert Christians.

Harlan Berland demonstrates the square ruler.

Knowledge is power.

This budding artist is helped by Barbara Stephenson.

"The knife is placed to the right of the dinner plate," explains Kathy Smith.
Mr. Keller explains the operation of an adding machine.

Throughout each department, each hour of the day, students are engaged in the pursuit of knowledge. Instructors through lecturing and answering questions guide the searching of students.

The attainment of goals depends upon the application of each of you in your study and research.

Pressing is but one step in the production of dressmaking for Mildred Peterson and Donna Heinze.

A light modulator is the object of Donna Stevens' concentration.

Dr. Doris Stage presents Jack Stout the outstanding chemistry student award.

Patience and "elbow grease" are the ingredients which give this small table a smooth surface for Leland Opliger and Delmer Thibault.

Charlotte Baker, LoRita Edwards and Dennis Urban look over the textbooks in the curriculum lab.
AND THEN SPRING . . .

As the weather warms and trees bud, your mind wanders to the outdoors. Steps become slower. The wind and snow are gone. Smiles are gayer. You no longer hurry to the Memorial Union for coffee breaks but pause and take part in the gab sessions which again populate the sidewalk and the edge of the fishpond.

The old saying goes “in spring a young man’s fancy turns to thoughts of . . . ,” and so it would seem across the campus. Summer plans are made. Finals approach and the packing begins. Seniors look forward to the forthcoming Senior Week and Commencement exercises.

A convertible, a pretty girl, a spring evening—what more can a young man want?

The photographer catches this Fort Hays Stater cat-napping between classes.
ADVERTISING . . .

Our advertisers are those people who represent the city of Hays to the greatest number of us. We recognize and appreciate the cooperation between the city and the college. Mutual benefits are derived from the relationship which exists between the townspeople and the students. We cherish and strive to cultivate this relationship.

Our special thanks to those businessmen who have promoted student activities and who patronized the Reveille with their advertising . . .

Exam Week
Returns
To FHS
After a year's absence, Fort Hays State is returning to the system of scheduled final examinations during exam week. The schedule for next week's exams appears on page two of this issue.

According to Dean E. R. McCartney, the college has returned to this method of testing after a system of no off-scheduled tests for a year. Dean says that many of the faculty and administration had been discussing this idea for some time and that it has been decided this year to have an examination every day.

Last year's system of no test was greeted with considerable criticism from the students but much of it seemed to be more for the sake of complaining rather than any specific flaws in the plan.

Afterwards, many students felt that the last year's plan was bad because many of the classes were scheduled for a meet after the test had been given. Some three-hour classes were so much so the

The Incomplete Story . . .

As you reach the end of the book you may have observed certain omissions in it. We have presented the portion of the story of the year available at the time of our final deadline date.

An innovation of the 1959 Reveille has been the assembling of a summer supplement which will be mailed to all students receiving yearbooks.

This addition is designed to fit into the main book between this page and the last page of the index section.

The part to come will include spring activities, sports and graduation. It is our idea through the supplement to present a more complete coverage of the year's story at Fort Hays State.
In Appreciation...

As the last of our copy is prepared, we think of those who have contributed their time, effort and cooperation to help make the 1959 Reveille a success.

A big vote of thanks is due the staff members who patiently spent long hours planning pages and photographs, writing copy and drawing up pages.

Without you, Mrs. Rogers, and your advice, guidance and answers to endless questions, we could never have completed our jobs.

You, the student body, faculty and administration, are to be commended for the cooperation we received, even though arranging a meeting, dressing up or standing in line to have pictures taken seemed a trial. Only with your help could we assemble a book that fully represents Fort Hays State.

We heartily thank the Memorial Union administration for accommodating our photographers and the groups to be photographed.

Paul McClellan and Taylor Publishing Co., this is your book, too.

Our thanks go to Larry's Studio for their photography, and to our advertisers.

Without the aid of these people, the 1959 Reveille would not have been possible.
