FOREWORD

Reflecting is a pastime in which all of us indulge. Memories are personal impressions; each private reflection is as individual as the person to which it belongs.

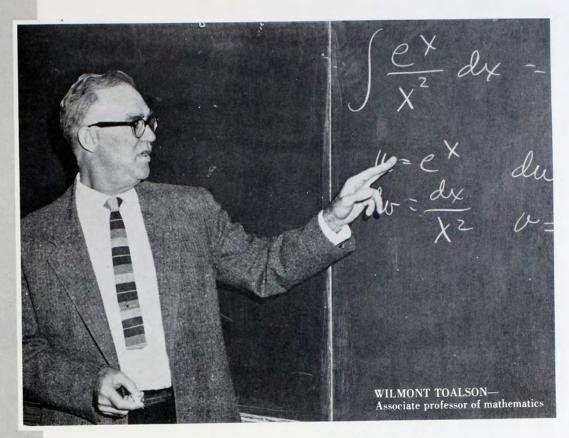

However, memories frequently become dim and indistinct with the passing of time. Names are forgotten; yesterday's events are slighted in anticipation of the future.

This book is designed in the manner of all yearbooks—to help you, the reader, remember. Pictures and words have been selected to make your memories more distinct. The Reveille strives to provide a glimpse of the things that were Fort Hays State during the year.

We of the staff hope that the 1960 Reveille will cast permanent reflections of the highlights and the sidelights of your college life.

Dedication . . .

Because he exemplifies the teacher at Fort Hays State . . .

Because he is respected as such and as a worthwhile citizen, not only of the college but the community in which he lives . . .

Because of the many hours he spends in extra work for the student and the interest he puts into student activities . . .

Because he represents others like him who are doing work for the future well-being of both the student and the college . . .

Because the staff of the 1960 Reveille wishes to recognize him and his associates . . .

We dedicate this yearbook to Wilmont Toalson.

The President

The theme of this 1960 yearbook is most appropriate, for all of you who are students will cherish the memories reflected in this Reveille. In the years ahead, I am sure you will find that the many happy memories of your days at Fort Hays State are very valuable possessions.

May the knowledge you have acquired here and the activities in which you have participated be a foundation upon which you may build a happy, successful, and unselfish life. May you furnish those qualities of Christian leadership in all fields of endeavor which will add to the well-being and happiness of mankind.

M. C. Cunningham, President

The President engages in serious conversation with Cade Suran during the Kansas Legislators' campus visit.

Due to busy schedules, an evening at home together is a rarity for the Cunningham family. The President, Chris, Mary Ann, and Mrs. Cunningham gather in their family room.

State Board of Regents

The nine-member Board of Regents is appointed by the Governor of Kansas, as is the permanent executive secretary, Hubert Brighton. The board supervises all operations of the five state institutions of higher learning and the state schools for the deaf and the blind. College presidents are elected by the Board of Regents. The state schools present annual budgets to the board, which adjusts them and presents them to the Governor.

Fort Hays State is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the National Council for Accreditation of Teachers Education, the National Association of Schools of Music and the American Association of University Women.

Seated: Leon N. Roulier, Colby; Clement H. Hall, Chairman, Coffeyville; Claude C. Bradney, Columbus. Standing: Russell R. Rust, Topeka; Ray R. Evans, Prairie Village; George B. Collins, Wichita; Charles V. Kincaid, Independence; Harry Valentine, Clay Center; Whitley Austin, Salina; and Hubert Brighton, secretary, Topeka.

THE CAMPUS

Forsyth Library

From the aged stone of the Coliseum to the dramatic glass and steel of the Union, this is the campus. The older buildings have a quality of strength and endurance that span the seasons; they reflect the past that has been Fort Hays State for fifty-eight years. The new buildings, the Applied Arts Building and the Memorial Union, reflect the spirit of growth that the college has been experiencing since its founding.

These buildings are the setting for our activities—our scholastic and social achievements and disappointments. We pass through their halls each day on our way to class, to relax in the lounge, to check out a book. They are the background of campus life and they assume importance in their own right.

Theirs are the tasks of coordinating, counseling, advising, and directing college activities and policies. # Student Body

Education centers around the student's chosen area of study. During under-graduate work the daily class schedule is the pivot point. Throughout the academic year, term papers, outside readings and meetings with faculty advisors form the groundwork of education. Required courses and a choice of electives give variety and round out the curriculum.

Class of '60

The Women's Ensemble made its first showing at Fort Hays State College this year. The newly-organized group is composed of 12 members and is a three-part ensemble. Under the direction of Miss Mary Maude Moore, the Women's Ensemble is available for public and campus appearances.

One of the busiest music organizations on campus is the Men's Quartet. Composed of upperclassmen with experienced voices, this group is always on the go, performing in Hays and various towns throughout this part of Kansas. They also add spark and variety to many choir performances. John Norman is the director.

Concert Choir

Outstanding in its choral performances, the Fort Hays Concert Choir provides musical entertainment in many areas of Kansas as well as on the Fort Hays State campus.

The 56 members of the choir, under the direction of Eugene W. Schweitzer, presented "Finian's Rainbow" as one of the highlights of their musical performances.

The choir also made a three-day tour of Northwest Kansas in March.

Members of the Men's Quartet are: Francis Wilson, first tenor; Jon Shively, second tenor; Don Crosby, baritone; and Marvin Cochran, bass.

The Concert Choir proudly displays black and gold robes as the group poses for a formal photograph.

"Finian's Rainbow"

"Finian's Rainbow," this year's production by the Concert Choir, was a fanciful musical which involved the poorer classes of Southern people during the development of the TVA. Problems begin when Irishman Finian McLonergen, portrayed by Francis Wilson, steals a leprechaun's gold and comes to Rainbow Valley, Missitucky, U.S.A., to plant it. Leprechauns, financiers, witches, senators, sailors, and sheriffs make the musical an exciting production. One of the highlights was a "jig" done by Finian and his daughter, Sharon, portrayed by Margaret Caldwell. All problems are solved and Finian devised a new means of becoming rich. The show was directed by Eugene Schweitzer and Karen Kennedy was accompanist.

Clarinet and Brass Choirs

One of the most popular instrumental groups at Christmas and Easter is the Brass Choir. This group makes a two-day tour of South-Central Kansas in December. The Choir, a highly selective group, is under the direction of Leland Bartholomew.

One of the newest instrumental groups on the campus is the Clarinet Choir, directed by Harold Palmer. They perform in connection with the Concert Band in the spring.

Counselors and housemothers meet to discuss dormitory problems. They are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hubbard. Mrs. Churchill, Mrs. Biays, and Mr and Mrs. Ed Barels.

Agnew Hall could now be called a sister dormitory to Custer Hall as it is no longer for upperclasswomen. The upperclasswomen find the freshmen "a swell bunch" as they share their dorm life with them.

Agnew's 170 women completed the year successfully with many activities. Among them were formals, guest nights, homecoming decorations, intramurals, and free baby-sitting for faculty during faculty night activities.

The dorm has set up a council program to make college life as comfortable as possible. Six upperclasswomen and two married couples are counselors to Agnew residents. Mrs. Esther Biays, and Mrs. Adah Churchill are housemothers.

Royalty

Once again the selection of royalty proves that our campus has its share of beauty and personality. Some queens were chosen by a popular vote of the student body; others were chosen by a judge considered to be qualified to recognize beauty. These are the special people who have won a deserved place as royalty of our college.

Competition and sportsmanship—qualities which train young adults for later life—are found in all sports. From the first pigskin pass to the last round of golf, the sports year at Fort Hays State encompassed eight competitive sports. Enthusiastic spectators provided the spirit needed to give that extra drive for the winning basket and the encouragement to pin an opponent.

Football

Injuries Mar Tiger Success

Fort Hays State finished the 1959 football season with three wins despite numerous injuries to key Tiger performers. From the opening kick-off of the Kearney State game when halfback Elmer Trail suffered a broken arm and was lost for the campaign and continuing throughout the season, Coach Wayne McConnell was faced with the problem of organizing new offensive and defensive units for each contest. A rugged schedule coupled with many Tiger injuries formulated six Tiger defeats.

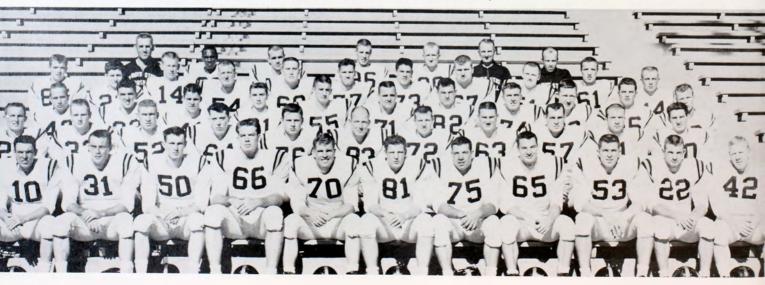

Cliff Leiker gained recognition in the Central Intercollegiate Conference for his spectacular end play, gaining a first-string berth on the All-CIC team. Other Fort Hays State players receiving all-conference positions were halfback Darrell Hildebrand and center Ron Campbell, who placed on the second team.

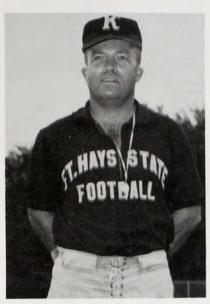

Leiker led Tiger receivers with 11 grabs and tied for team scoring leadership with halfback Wayne Schumacher.

Coach McConnell's forces forecast a successful campaign by showing a commanding offense and a compact defense.

After the Antelope clash, the Tigers dropped a 13-8 contest to Maryville, Missouri. The game was played in a field saturated with water and mud. The Fort Hays State offense faltered and the Tiger defense was unable to get set.

C. I. C. Enjoys Finest Year

The Central Inter-Collegiate Conference had three teams this year who would have been a credit to any post-season tourney. For the defending Fort Hays Tigers, injuries slowed them down as much as any opponent. Three of Coach Suran's top men never did mature into the limelight as they had been expected to do, because of pre-season and season ailments. Yet, the Tigers gave a good account of themselves in every game against the first and second place teams, losing two games in the last half-minute and another in a double overtime.

The season saw three teams, Pittsburg, Emporia and Hays, battle all the way down to the wire in close games. Pittsburg got off to a good start by nipping the Tigers and squeezing past Emporia. From then on it was anyone's guess as to whether or not the Hays team would be strong enough to stay in the race to tie in the next-to-last game, or whether a three-team play-off would be necessary. As it turned out, Pittsburg had what it took to withstand a fired-up Tiger bunch in a double-overtime at Hays.

For the year, Fort Hays State compiled a 15 win and 6 loss record, still one of the best in the basketball records of the college. Through the year the Tigers had a 40.5 shooting average against an opponent's average of 35 per cent.

CADE SURAN

Fourteenth Year for Suran

Over a period of fourteen years at Fort Hays State, Cade Suran has guided the basketball aspirations of the college to 188 wins against 108 losses. In rolling up this enviable record, Suran has won the conference title twice and last year pushed his men to fourth place in the N.A.I.A. post-season tournament.

This year's record of 15-6 compares favorably with some of the most outstanding years under the amiable coach's tutorage. The 1959 quintet finished with a record of 23-4 for the best year, followed by a 19-8 tally by the 1950 conference champs. Identical records of 17-6 were compiled by both the 1949 and 1952 editions. In 1954 the Suran delegation boasted a 16-4 year.

A graduate of Kansas Wesleyan, Suran himself has an All-Kansas Conference selection to his credit. While playing for the Coyotes he was the leading scorer. After graduating he coached at Harlan, Downs and Wellington before coming to Hays.

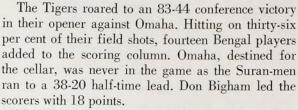

In mute tribute to the man and his abilities it can be noted that many Western Kansas high school teams have caused their opponents to fall victims to the Suran-innovated "Wagon-wheel offense." For the past two years Fort Hays State has been witness to a near-perfect execution of a favorite Suran recipe, steady shooting from a high post offense.

MERL STURD Led team in field goals with 140. Scored 336 points for 16 point average. Merl is a 6-foot senior.

Merl Sturd blistered the nets in the second meeting against the Indians from Omaha with a torrid 19-point second half. The Tigers won going away, 78-58, at Omaha. With Merl Harris and Dick Whitmer pulling in the rebounds, Sturd and Bigham counted 24 and 14 points.

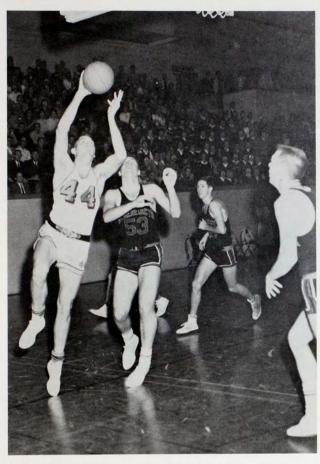

DON BIGHAM
Led team in free throws with
87. Led team in scoring with 353 for a 16.8 average. Led in rebounds with 224. Don is a 6-3 senior.

DEAN LARSON Led team in free throw accuracy with 79 per cent. Scored 109 points and got 108 rebounds. Dean is a 6-3 soph.

St. Benedict's Ignores Home Court Jinx

With a sweep of the arm and a head fake Merle Harris spins around his man for two.

Free throws spelled the difference in the first outing against St. Benedict's. The Tigers could do no wrong as they committed only nine fouls. Meanwhile the Ravens were fouling eighteen times. With 17 more points from the line, the Tigers won 66-53. Dean Larson and Merl Sturd combined for 38 points and Don Bigham added 15.

For the first time in two seasons, Fort Hays dropped a decision in the friendly confines of Sheridan Coliseum. St. Benedict's turned the trick with a 70-63 victory. The Ravens pushed through fifty-seven per cent of their shots and lead at the half 42-27. In the second half the Bengals managed to cut the lead to five before St. Benedict's could stall out the win. Don Bigham and Billy Townsend paced the Suran cagers with 19 and 16 points.

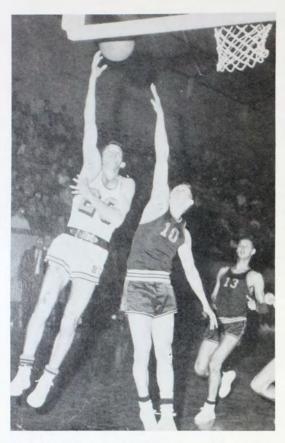

MERLE HARRIS
Top free throw shooter at 49.2 average. Scored 168 points and had 161 rebounds.
Merle is a 6-5 senior.

BILL TOWNSEND Excellent ball handler, scored 109 points and got 52 rebounds. Billy is a 5-9 frosh.

DUANE CHANNELL Injured early in the year, still totaled 101 points and brought 97 rebounds. Duane is a 6-5 senior.

Merl Sturd flips in the game-tying points to send the game into overtime.

A disputed call at Pittsburg told the story as the Tigers dropped their first conference game of the year. The Hays team got off to a fast start, hitting fifty-four per cent of their shots in the first half while Pitt could muster only twenty-seven per cent. At the beginning of the second half the Tigers began a delay game after leading 40-34, but they were unable to cash the easy shots. Billy Townsend put the Tigers ahead by two, with four minutes showing, but Pitt was not to be denied and came back to win it, 62-67. Don Bigham scored 17 to pace Fort Hays.

When Pittsburg came to Hays, the two merely took up where they had left off in the game at Pittsburg. Playing nip and tuck ball all the way, a double-overtime was necessary to separate the conference champs from the Suran-men. A steal by Dick Anderson and a lay-up by Merl Sturd knotted the game at 66-66. In the first overtime both teams pushed through six points to tie it again. Dick Whitmer came through with four points in the second overtime, but a reserve forward, Bob Gough, for Pitt, swished the game-winning basket with only four seconds on the clock. Merle Harris played the best game of his career, dominating both boards against the towering Gorillas, and added 9 points to the fray. Don Bigham counted for 20.

PAUL PALMER
Has earned three basketball letters. Scored six points and had five rebounds. Paul is a 6-2 junior.

JOHN SEARS Scored 46 points and grabbed 29 rebounds. John is a 6-foot frosh.

DALE GETTY
Pulled down 25 rebounds and got 23 points. Dale is a 6-6 junior.

Tigers Beat Emporia Here, Lose There

Lyle Wingate drives past Frailey and Slaymaker during the Tigers secondhalf rally at Hays.

Emporia State collapsed in the second half to allow the Tigers to hang a 56-44 loss on them. Trailing by 24-26 at half-time, the Fort Hays men blazed to take the lead with seven minutes remaining. Sturd and Townsend turned in their best defense of the year, holding All-Conference guard, Ron Slaymaker, to only four points while Sturd was arching in 19.

At Emporia, Fort Hays gave the Hornets all they could handle before Ron Slaymaker drove for a lay-up and a 62-60 win with three seconds left. Cade Suran's Tigers could not forge into the lead throughout the game, but managed to knot the score at 60-60 with a minute left. This set the stage for the Emporia guard's clutch shot. Don Bigham led the Hays scorers with 20 points.

LYLE WINGATE Scored 131 points as the fourth highest point producer. Lyle is a 5-10 junior.

RICHARD WHITMER Collected 34 points and 41 rebounds. "The Hook" is a 6-4 senior.

RICHARD ANDERSON Managed 85 points and gathered in 87 rebounds. Dick is a 6-3 soph.

Suran-Men Boost Averages Twice

NORMAN UTZ Scored 39 points and rebounded 23 times. Fouled only 8 times in 14 games. Norman is a 6-2 junior.

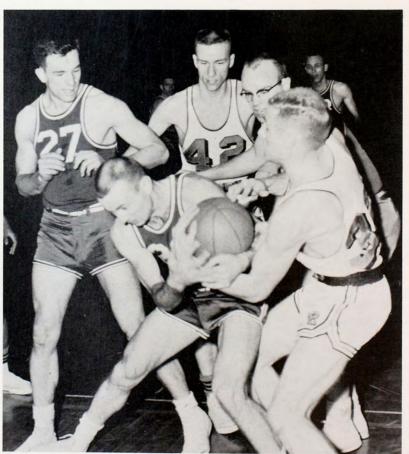

Fort Hays sneaked through a close game at Washburn, winning 71-68. Don Bigham and Washburn's Bill Quick locked horns in a scoring duel with Bigham getting 28 to Quick's 27. It was Dean Larson, however, who put the Tigers out of reach with a couple of free throws with fifty-five seconds left.

Coach Suran gave the fans a night to remember as he let his big guns play all but three minutes of a fast scoring, lopsided win over Washburn in the Tigers last outing. Seniors Merl Sturd and Don Bigham closed their careers with 23 and 22 points while Dean Larson pumped in 17. Leading 46-37 at half-time, the Tigers went on to post a 90-73 victory.

Dean Larson and Washburn's Jerry Milner give the ball a tussle while Dick Whitmer looks on.

Junior Varsity Wins Seven

Coach Guy Conner led his junior varsity charges to a seven win and two loss season. Several players should be in line for advancement to the varsity squad next year. Leading scorers for the Tiger Cubs were Don Reed, Duane McEwen, Everett Schoen and Jim Bodge. The two losses suffered were wild scrambling games, the Hutchinson Juco game featured a total of 62 fouls and the Great Bend Co-Op encounter found the Cubs losing by two points. The Kearney State battles found the little Tigers scoring 115 points in one game and holding their opponent to 15 points in the first half in the return match. Hope for the future was extended when the Emporia State juniors were beaten twice and Kansas Wesleyan was trounced 93-56. McPherson found the Cubs tough, losing 81-58.

Gross Nears Retirement

This year may mark the end of athletic directorship for Paul "Busch" Gross who reaches retirement age soon. A decision is in the offing for the board of regents as to whether the job of athletic director constitutes an administrative post or not. "Busch" has been associated with the college for 29 years. He was head basketball coach from 1930 until 1947. He has served as athletic director since 1935 and will continue to teach in the physical education department. His exact responsibilities for next year are still uncertain, but he will be in the department, teaching, encouraging, advising and supporting Fort Hays State and its athletic program.

Meet the Unsung Heroes

At the left are pictured two of the truly unsung heroes of the athletic department, Bill Townsend and Tom Bubonic. To them falls the task of assembling and distributing the programs for all athletic events. Their task includes soliciting for advertising and gathering helpers to sell the programs at games. Both men are scholarship athletes and play basketball.

TIGERS SURPRISE ALL; SECOND IN C.I.C.

The Tiger cross-country team surprised the experts by coming in second in the C.I.C. meet, placing behind national champs, Emporia State. Hays totaled 57 points, one ahead of Pittsburg who got 58. In cross-country scoring, only the first five members of a team are counted. Gary Donner placed eighth, Hal Morris was ninth, Jim Schulze came in number twelve, followed by Larry Davidson in thirteenth place and Dan Rose was fifteenth. Emporia dominated the first five places for the best possible score, fifteen. Omaha rounded out the field getting 105 points.

HARRIERS WIN SEVENTH NATIONALLY

In N.A.I.A. competition Fort Hays State proved their worth by winning seventh place in a field of twenty schools and eighthy-eight runners. Dan Rose was twenty-second, Hal Morris twenty-fifth, Gary Donner forty-third and James Schulze forty-eighth. As an indication of the caliber of competition which the Tigers face yearly, Emporia State took top honors and Kearney State ran second, only four points behind. Both teams are regular foes of the Tigers.

Gymnastics

Ten gymnasts met Coach Ed McNeil for a full schedule of precision acrobatic maneuvers. Captain Ron Halling was one of four lettermen on the squad. To become adroit at gymnastics takes many hours of tedious concentration and strict adherence to training and development rules. Gymnastics is one of very few sports where the small man may excel, as exampled in the fact that the average weight of this year's team was 155 pounds, while the median height was 5-8.

Squad members are: Ron Halling, Don Price, Mike Langley, Harold Wasinger, Larry Beaver, Stan Estes, Ron Heier, David Gagnon, Bill Walter, Duane Kraft.

Grapplers Schedule Eleven

Eleven matches were on tap for the Fort Hays State wrestling team this spring. Coach Walter Kroll had high hopes as eighteen men reported for duty in the fastest growing sport on the college scene. Competition is keen among the team members, as Western Kansas is reputed to produce some of the best wrestling talent in the nation. Among the more prominent schools the grapplers met are: U.S. Air Force Academy, Kansas State University, South Dakota University, Omaha University, Nebraska University, William Jewell College and Adams State. Climax of the year was Missouri Valley A.A.U. match at Maryville, Missouri.

Two wrestlers pyramid their troubles in an early match at the coliseum.

Intramural activity continued to gain members and prestige this year. Headed by track coach Alex Francis, both affiliated and unaffiliated men interested in athletic competition have their opportunity in intramurals. To add interest and bolster egos of those fortunate enough to win, trophies are given. In the Greek competition, added incentive comes with recognition of total point winners.

Fort Hays State recognizes the need to develop not only the highest in scholastic achievement, but also to provide for physical outlets for the tensions built up in the normal course of college study.

Francis has two assistants in Doug Morrisey and Robert Klein. Both men are delegated the authority to see that the whole intramural program is scheduled correctly and run properly.

SWIMMING PLACE WINNERS, SIG EPS: Reginald Milhon, Bob Powelson, Ben Crocker, Lynn Wickizer, Max McIntyre.

Tom Hamel, TKE table tennis champ and Evan Vernon, independent champ.

Melvin Gunn and Carlos Revilla, Kappa Sig table tennis doubles champions.

Gary Shaffer and Tom Hamel, TKE golf doubles champions.

Women Play, Too

The women of Fort Hays State take an active part in the intramural program. Competition is offered in ten separate sports and medals and trophies are presented to the winners. More than 300 women took part in the program this year. In charge of the proceedings is Joan Bailey, of the health and physical education department. Besides the purely recreational aspect of an intramural program, it is here that those desiring competitive sports to keep in trim, healthful, physical shape come. It has long been realized that one is healthy mentally only when one is healthy in a physical way also. The athletic department of Fort Hays State is providing an important part of cultural improvement in its women's intramural program.

Individual bowling winners were Dixie Barb, first; Martha Kerr, second; Shari Holliday, fifth.

Esther Thompson and Dixie Barb, shuffleboard doubles champions.

Agnew II won the team bowling. First row: Sherry Daniels, Judy Cole. Back row: Clarann Weis, Kay Richardson, Jan O'Neil.

Reflections

Enthusiastic cheers at a basketball game, the nervous smile of a freshman co-ed on the eve of her first college dance, the feverish, last-minute preparations for Homecoming—these are as much a part of college life as any class. College becomes a time of awakening social graces. This social development lessens the step from student to participating citizen.

The College Year Began . . .

Even Dad helped Barbara Dawe move into her new room.

Dr. L. D. Wooster was honored at the annual Faculty Dinner preceding the beginning of school.

The campus buzzed when students started moving in, unpacking, and meeting new people. Roommates, neighbors, fraternity brothers and friends discussed summer experiences, the current gossip, reminisced a little, or got acquainted with newcomers as they settled in rooms and prepared to begin another school year. Class schedules were examined intensively, while faculty advisors prepared to meet the wave of students who would need consultation.

The sororities entertained the women at a brunch which followed a Japanese theme. Kathy Anderson, Jean Morrow, Elgerine Roth, Karen Bruggeman, and Mary Bowen served tea and fortune cookies.

Joyce McNulty chatted with President and Mrs. Cunningham and Jan Smith at the Cunningham's open house for new students.

Mrs. Maxine Hoffman helped confused students straighten out their enrollment problems.

Soon students faced enrollment lines and made out schedules to fit required courses of study. Questions were asked and answered; finally enrollment was completed. In the last hours before classes began, many students attended the Tiger Hop, while others saw a movie, played ping-pong, or chatted before getting down to books, pens, and serious study habits.

Everybody enjoyed the Tiger Hop, the first big dance of the year, climaxing enrollment week.

With Orientation, Enrollment . . .

Dr. Dale Dick gave pointers to freshman women on "How to Study."

New students met each other at the student-faculty picnic during enrollment.

Two freshman co-eds happily completed their first day of classes.

Luanne Engel campaigned for office during the freshman class meeting.

Elections and activities were features of the new term. The freshmen chose class officers while upperclassmen voted on constitution amendments and other debatable issues.

The results of being without a beanie were witnessed when one met a lipstick-smeared girl and the chagrined face of a fellow just through the belt line.

The day-to-day routine of the college student was established and once again the busy campus was evidence of a growing college.

Mrs. Kate Raleigh talked to Warren Miller and Margaret Langrehr at Custer Hall's open house.

And Get-Acquainted Sessions . . .

Freshmen voted for their favorite candidates for officers to lead their class.

The consequence of being caught without the traditional beanie was the belt line.

Sometimes even the innocent suffered—as was witnessed when transfer student Margaret Caldwell said, "I'm not a freshman!"

And Soon October Came.

Second Generation Club members registered the parents who visited the campus for Parents' Day.

The Patricks came from Pennsylvania for Parents' Day to visit their son, Tom, a freshman.

Even the smallest guests registered for Band and Parents' Day.

Parents Day brought one thousand parents and thirty high school bands to the campus. Music filled the afternoon as the bands marched down Main Street. After the parade, students guided parents around campus and through dormitories and other residences. The day was climaxed by the Southwestern-Fort Hays State game, from which the Tigers emerged victorious.

Ever present in the schedule of events are the social functions scattered throughout the year. Fall semester found fraternities, sororities, and the dormitories entertaining guests with informal parties of varied themes.

Max McIntyre captured the mood of the Sig Eps' Blue Mountain Blast on film

Friday, the 13th, found Kappa's Don Darnell and Jerry Neely entertaining dates at an informal party.

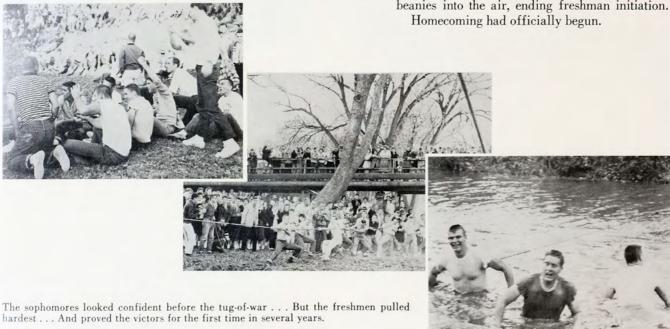

The tedious job of stuffing chicken wire faced many people before home-coming.

The College Celebrated . . .

In the weeks before Homecoming, the pace of campus activity picked up. Meetings, plans and negotiations occupied many minds. As the big weekend drew near, students slighted school and lessons to make last-minute preparations. Organization members stuffed napkins and Kleenex into chicken wire, while others used papier maché on floats and house decorations.

As eager as the students, alumni and friends of the college returned to campus to participate in the various activities traditionally associated with homecoming at Fort Hays State.

When the sophomores went into the water to conclude the tug-of-war, the freshmen lining the sides of Big Creek quickly tossed hundreds of beanies into the air, ending freshman initiation.

William Warfield autographed programs for Fort Hays Staters and guests after his concert.

Queen candidates were: Marilyn Chastain, Wanda Stewart, Kay Kaufman, Kayla Price, Marilyn Dreher, Lorita Edwards, Janice Fletcher, and standing, Jean Morrow, Charlotte Bizek, and Roberta Lucas.

A Memorable Homecoming . . .

Old friends met and discussed college days during class reunions. Ten hopeful coeds waited anxiously for the time when the identity of the 1959 Queen would be announced. The queen and attendants were announced shortly before the parade.

The parade started Saturday's eventful agenda. Featuring bands, new cars, and the queen candidates, it was a colorful affair, one that compared favorably with those of the past. Float competition was keen because each group sought the sweepstakes ward given by the Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the class of 1939 became re-acquainted during the Reunion dinner.

Gliding to Glory, Sigma Sigma Sigma's float won first in the women's division and the sweepstakes award.

The members of the 7th Cavalry led the parade.

Queen Lorita Edwards led the Homecoming Parade. She was chosen from a field of ten candidates.

"May Our Dreams Come True" won first place in the men's float division for Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The Queen Was Beautiful . . .

With the motto, "The Man You Save May Be Your Own," the old maids' club was one of the most amusing features of the parade.

The Young Republicans' Club float won first in the open float division.

And Work Was Rewarded.

The Alpha Gam's house decoration featuring a Genie won first in the women's house decorations competition.

The Phi Sigs won first in the men's division with their Thump 'Em Thumper decoration.

The finale of the festivities was the dance where former queens, present royalty, and winners of house and float decorations were honored.

Later the decorations came down, the floats were taken apart and another home-coming was completed. Tired, but satisfied, students once again resumed studying.

Left: The winners of the float and house decorations displayed the silver bowls awarded as prizes. The awards were presented at the dance.

The Homecoming Dance, featuring Matt Betton's dance band, climaxed Homecoming.

Things Happened Everywhere . . .

Top: This quartet composed of Leroy McMullen, Don Crosby, Marvin Cochran, and Jon Shively sang in the production.

Below: Beverly Stutterheim, Sharon Borell, Barbara Gerritzen and Betty Base were also featured.

One of the birthday presents for the Union was a number of record albums for the music listening room.

Randy Weller sang to Margaret Caldwell in the choir show, Finian's Rainbow.

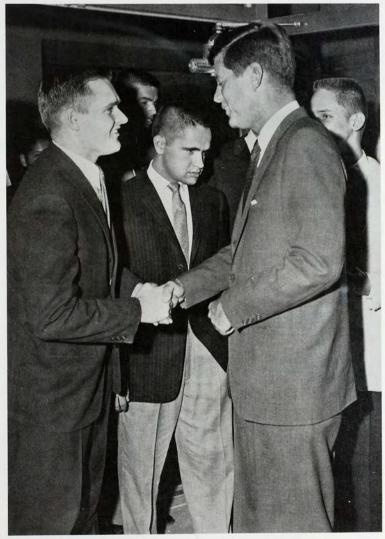

The year moved on. The Concert Choir produced "Finian's Rainbow," combining music with comedy, romance and drama. Picken Auditorium was the scene as the curtain went up on Rainbow Valley; Margaret Caldwell and Francis Wilson were supported by a large cast.

The Union continued its schedule, celebrating its first anniversary October 20. Business increased as the Union progressed into its second year. Around 2,500 cups of coffee were served each day. The Union's features ranged from art exhibits to state conventions.

The Union's birthday cake didn't last long. Ellen Duff and Dennis Popp served Dr. Thompson.

And it's Pizza time at the Union . . . Food Service Director Bill Moody offered the specialty to Douglas Daugherty. Ellen Duff approved.

Harold Stones met the subject of his master's thesis, Senator John Kennedy, when he visited the campus. Kennedy, a possible presidential candidate at the time was on a tour of Kansas.

As Autumn Rushed By . . .

Seemed to be good, too.

As Union functions continued, other parts of the campus contributed to the picture of campus life. The music department presented varied recitals, musicales and concerts. The Artists and Lectures series featured prominent artists.

To the political minded, the appearance of Senator John Kennedy was a highlight. The Collegiate Young Democrats sponsored the Senator's press conference at the college. Kennedy was guest of honor at a Democratic dinner held in Hays.

Mary Moore and Sylvia Zaremba discussed music before Miss Zaremba's piano concert. Her program was part of the Artists and Lectures series.

Rushees and sorority members got acquainted at the Greek Peek party given by the Panhellenic Council.

Informal rushing found sorority girls and rushees drinking cokes in the Union and coffee at the sorority houses where rushees learned about sorority activities, functions, and projects.

Roberta Stevens met Mary Thompson of Sigma Kappa at the registration tea at their house.

Right: Paula Schumacher and Lori Socha, members of Alpha Sigma Alpha, showed Sharron Northrup, Anita Palmgren, and Pat Hayes some sorority jewelry.

Sororities Added Forty-four

The Greek Peek Party provided information for the rushees about the sororities at Fort Hays State. An active member and an alumni member talked to the rushees about what it meant to be a sorority member and interested women registered for the formal rushing period.

Diane Amos and Virginia Wood talked to Becky Vance over a coke.

Formal rushing began Nov. 15 when each sorority entertained guests at the registration teas. The houses were spotless and sorority women greeted everyone with sparkling smiles. Rushees tried to leave their best impressions as they met the alumni members, housemothers, and advisors of each group.

After Rush Programs.

The first round of parties found sorority women and rushees informally getting to know each other more. Skits about each sorority gave information about the group and its association with college life. Rushees began thinking about the sorority with which they wanted to affiliate.

Donna Stevens, Lee Kimball, and Ann Estes entertained with a skit at the Delta Zeta party.

The Alpha Gams sang good night to the rushees as they left their Dreamland party.

Second parties featured a variety of themes from ships to fantasies and dreamlands. After the parties, suspense mounted while both the active sorority members and rushees observed the quiet hours of the silence period.

Tri Sigma's Jan Fletcher and Clarene Leonard found that cleaning up was part of entertaining during rush work.

Rosemary Gilson, Darlene McMullen, and Karen Hibbs admired each others new pledge pins.

And at last the bids were matched. Excitement and anticipation ran high as each group waited for pledges. And when it was all over . . . forty-four women were new sorority pledges.

Many Areas of Interest . . .

Layton Kaiser, David Hopkins and Larry Kahle talked to Shaul Ramati from Israel.

Left: Two of the leading characters in "The Country Girl" were Phil Webber and Rex Mahan.

This scene from the dramatic production brought a moment of suspense to the stage.

The pledges of both fraternities and sororities met and danced at the All-Pledge Party given by the Panhellenic Council.

The major fall production of the Picken Players was "The Country Girl," with Phil Webber, Patty Trent, and Rex Mahan in heavy roles.

The Foreign Affairs Conference sponsored by I.R.C. featured Middle East authorities. Saadat Hasan presented the Arab viewpoint; Shaul Ramati explained Israel's position; and Nejat Sonmex discussed Turkey's role in Middle East Affairs.

"Most Happy Fella," a Frank Loesser prize-winning musical, was the first Broadway Musical Comedy to be presented for several years.

The Panhellenic Council entertained pledges of all Greek organizations at the All-Pledge Dance . . . and the year moved on.

Two members of the cast of "Most Happy Fella" which was presented at Fort Hays State, appear on stage.

Occupied Our Time . . .

These two chess players were concentrating so hard on the game that they were completely unaware of surroundings.

Projects and papers drew students to the library searching for information and knowledge. Discussion groups, special reports and exams drew students away from coffee until after classes when projects were completed and classmates met to discuss just what was the correct answer on the already finished test paper.

Gary Kraisinger and Ann Boosa talked to Judy Ellison and Carl Mooney about seasonal activities.

Could it have been classroom work that Bob George and Rose Petracek discussed?

Four men found time to play a quick game of billiards.

Jon Dellett concentrated on the slide rule and books before nine-weeks exams.

Carol Steckline, Jerry Hauck, and Helen Mack paused between classes to catch up on posted activities.

Could this have been Continental Classroom at 6:30 a.m.?

Students Relaxed Occasionally . . .

Between classes, after studying at the Library, and on dates, students had time to relax and enjoy themselves. Such moments were occupied by watching television, simply talking over a coke or dancing. Generally speaking, everyone had a good time—when it was pleasure time.

The Corral was usually crowded.

These onlookers added to the confusion of the decoration project.

Bill Townsend, Jeanne Watts, and Tom Patrick strung tinsel in the Astra Room.

Terry Deal painted the huge wreath on one of the windows at the union.

The tree received a once-over from the committee.

Before The Christmas Rush Began.

Seasonal gaiety filled the air as the Christmas season approached. Suddenly the campus was transformed into a wonderland with Christmas surroundings. Decorating the campus became an all-student project as various spots, from the Memorial Union to Forsyth Library, assumed the Christmas look when students decorated trees, hung tinsel, and painted windows with gay scenes. Carolers' voices filled the air at times, adding a festive note.

"You can't tell, but it's going to be a fireplace," said LaDene Votruba.

The 1960 Queen was Lois McCoy.

Beauty Reigned at the Reveille Ball . . .

The attendants were Nancy Humes and Dorothy Voss.

The dance drew a large crowd.

Intermission was rest time for tired feet.

President Cunningham crowned the queen.

The candidates and their escorts posed after the crowning.

While the Band Played On . . .

The first all-school formal dance was the Reveille Ball held December 5. Ted Amith's Orchestra provided music for about 200 couples in the Black and Gold room.

Suspense mounted steadily in the early evening until Steve Staub as Master of Ceremonies opened the letter from Candy Jones, judge of the photos, and announced the 1960 Reveille Queen, Lois McCoy. Attendants were Nancy Humes and Dorothy Voss.

A hugh replica of the cover of the 1960 Reveille served as a backdrop for the crowning ceremony.

Mrs. Wilmont Toalson was guest of honor at the ball because the yearbook is dedicated to her husband.

These couples not only found time to dance, but to visit too.

The queen candidates were Jeri Wilson, Nancy Humes, Shara Bomgardner, Dorothy Voss, Lois McCoy and Mary Bowen.

Tired of dancing, couples relaxed in the lounge.

Nicholas Nyaradi, former finance minister of Hungary, talked to Fort Hays Staters about world affairs.

Fort Hays State's foreign students pictured with Dr. Craine, sponsor for I.R.C., were: Harpal Singh Gill, India; Myrna Domingo, Mexico; Romualdo Segovia, Mexico; Min Ja Pang, Korea; Tonis Kyriakides, Cyprus; Louis Naranjo, Costa Rica; Song Rin Ro, Korea; Sam Sangrungruang, Thailand. Not pictured were the Revilla brothers, Luis and Carlos from Peru.

Luanne Engel and Curtis Thompson stopped for a quick chat before an assembly.

Visitors Were Welcomed . . .

Students from seven foreign countries attended Fort Hays State this year. They picked the college for many reasons, perhaps from reading a brochure, meeting a faculty member in their home country, or because of the curriculum offered. Regardless of the reason, they were here, a part of college life, friends of everyone.

Julie Jenson, Joann Griffiths, and Karen Selfridge presented a check for the Home Ec Club loan fund to Mrs. Landrum. The fund is part of the National Defense loan fund for students.

Don Boese enjoyed even the last drop of free coffee when the faculty donned waiters' caps to serve students during free coffee day.

As Were Christmas Festivities.

Decorating parties were fun and the campus glowed with the warmth of Christmas. Tinsel and Christmas trees glittered—but alas, no snow! In spite of the "brown" Christmas, gifts and clothes were packed—and a few books—for intended study. The longest vacation of the school year arrived with caroling, eggnog, and cheery cards; it departed amid the confusion of whistles, confetti, and Auld Lang Syne. Classes began once more January 5.

A birthday cake formed into a Christmas stocking was presented to Mrs. Cunningham at Christmas festivities.

Student and faculty children were the center of attention at a special Christmas party. Dressed in Sunday best, they eagerly munched cookies served by the Cunninghams.

The traditional card tree, bearing cards from campus organizations, was presented to President Cunningham by Ellen Duff of the Union Program Council.

Merle Harris, the Tigers' 6'5" basketball center, found his height a hindrance when entering the college bus used for road trips.

Coffee at 9:30 a.m. is usually refreshing, Dr. Graber and Miss Stout agree.

January's Agenda Included . . .

The Picken Players rehearsed for "Ah, Wilderness," under the direction of drama student, Phil Weber.

The same scene looked quite different opening night! After adding costumes and stage sets, the show went on. It's not a phone booth packing—just an Agnew Hall stairway. The occasion? "A man in the house!"

The first winter storm left snow-covered walks as a warning for bundled-up students to tread cautiously to class.

Final Week and Snow . . .

A heavy snowstorm blanketed the city in mid-January, making the walk to school dangerous but beautiful. Ice-covered trees glittered in the sun, a winter wonderland.

Final week loomed in the near future, causing students and faculty to step up study programs. Classes became all-important. Dates and social life were forgotten as students concluded their courses of study for the first semester.

And then, with the last exam, a sigh of relief, and the selling of books, final week was over and it was time to enroll again.

Warmer days found skaters enjoying the icy lengths of Big Creek.

Students listened to lectures with renewed interest before facing finals.

"And grand right and left" was the call for the square dancers when they practiced for their final test.

Bridge fans attempted to improve their game through lessons.

Linda Riggs and Rose Petracek discovered that new classes with different books required library work.

Social and Scholastic Enterprise . . .

Classes changed, new faces appeared on campus, and social life picked up after enrollment. The Tiger Hop ushered in the semester; basketball games provided excitement; the usual round of "flu" took its toll.

Remodeling began on the old Social Building, converting it into areas for the news service, the print shop and duplicating services on the main floor. A second floor is being added to supply offices for the English and business departments.

The Tiger Hop was the first social function of second semester. Phil Aldrich, Louetta Wilken, John Boyd, and Bobbie Kingrey took time from dancing to drink a coke.

And Crowning of Sweetheart Royalty.

Mary Ann Lofstead and Larry Davidson, sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma and Agnew Hall respectively, were crowned Queen and King of the 1960 Sweetheart Ball February 13. Last year's royalty crowned the new King and Queen before approximately 300 couples during the formal dance sponsored by the Union Dance committee.

Larry Davidson and Mary Ann Lofstead discussed the ball after their crowning.

The trophies, crowns and cakes were displayed at the dance.

Attendants were Homer Unruh, Marjorie Rohr, Patti Percival and Harvey Leiker.

Anna Russell, the "Queen of Comediennes," appeared in Sheridan Coliseum Feb. 29.

Fans gave strong support to the basketball team.

President Cunningham celebrated his 14th birthday Feb. 29. Sondra Smith and Judy Langrein sign his giant birthday card.

Campus movies drew large crowds. Karen Veverka, Mary Fagan, and Elaine Peterman ponder one such attraction.

Campus Entertainment Highlights . . .

Jose Greco and his troupe of Spanish dancers appeared on campus February 5 through the Artists and Lectures series, giving a brilliant performance to an appreciative audience. Another Artist and Lectures artist, comedienne Anne Russell entertained in Sheridan Coliseum February 29.

February 29 was proclaimed President Cunningham Day as the college celebrated his leap-year birthday with festivities which included free coffee for students and a cake presented to him by the Student Council.

The President cuts a rare birthday cake.

Gary Griffith and Luetta Wilken were crowned Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae to climax Leap Week activities.

Leap Week Festivities . . .

International Relations Club sponsored Leap Week to raise money for a scholarship for a foreign student. Candidates were nominated and voted upon on a monetary basis, and royalty was announced at the Leap Week dance. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma came out on top with Bearded Joe candidate Gary Griffith and Daisy Mae candidate Luetta Wilken.

Jack Stout and Priscilla Imhof won prizes—a superdeluxe razor and a bar of lava—for the best costumes.

Joe Fisch, a tropical fish, came in second in the voting for Bearded Joe. Jim Griffin and Dick Wolf offer condolences to Joe.

IRC member David Hopkins encouraged students to vote for their favorite candidate at a penny a vote.

The girl paid for the privilege of a date. Carlos Revilla stamped Pat Edwards' hand as Janice Pinney approved.

Cheerleaders Donna Stevens, Jeanie Morrow, Kay ImMasche, Justine Beatty, and Karen Seery get into the swing of things before their last basketball game.

Led to the Beginning of Spring . . .

As spring approached, official duties of the five Fort Hays State cheerleaders ended. With characteristic enthusiasm, the girls put in many hours during football and basketball season cheering the teams and leading the student body's yells. It goes without saying that their spirit was appreciated.

Another group deserving special recognition is the Fort Hays State debate team. After early season triumphs, Hays was invited to the Harvard Invitational tourney, for the first time in school history. The men's team of Warren Norton and Steve Staub progressed through eight rounds of preliminary debate at Harvard in February, to rank as one of the top eight of 92 teams competing. The duo entered the quarter-finals and was eliminated by Loyola of Chicago. Also making the trip to Harvard with coach Harold Stones was the team of Jill Karst and Patty Trent. As we go to press, the debate squad is still competing, leaving final records incomplete.

Outstanding first-year debater Janey Weinhold with the teams of Jill Karst—Patty Trent and Warren Norton—Steve Staub confer with coach Harold Stones before the next tournament.

Painting is only one of the aspects of the primary grades. Elizabeth Edwards supervised the work of several children busily painting a land-scape.

Darrel Hildebrand gave instruction to a junior high student in mechanical drawing, representative of the work done in the class.

High school history is often confusing but with the help of Tom Kugler the story of the country is made clearer.

At Fort Hays State.

Spring or fall, a selected group of students receive valuable training in the field of education. Under the supervision of qualified master teachers, prospective instructors do seven weeks' teaching to qualify for their degrees. Cooperating schools help develop better teachers through experience.

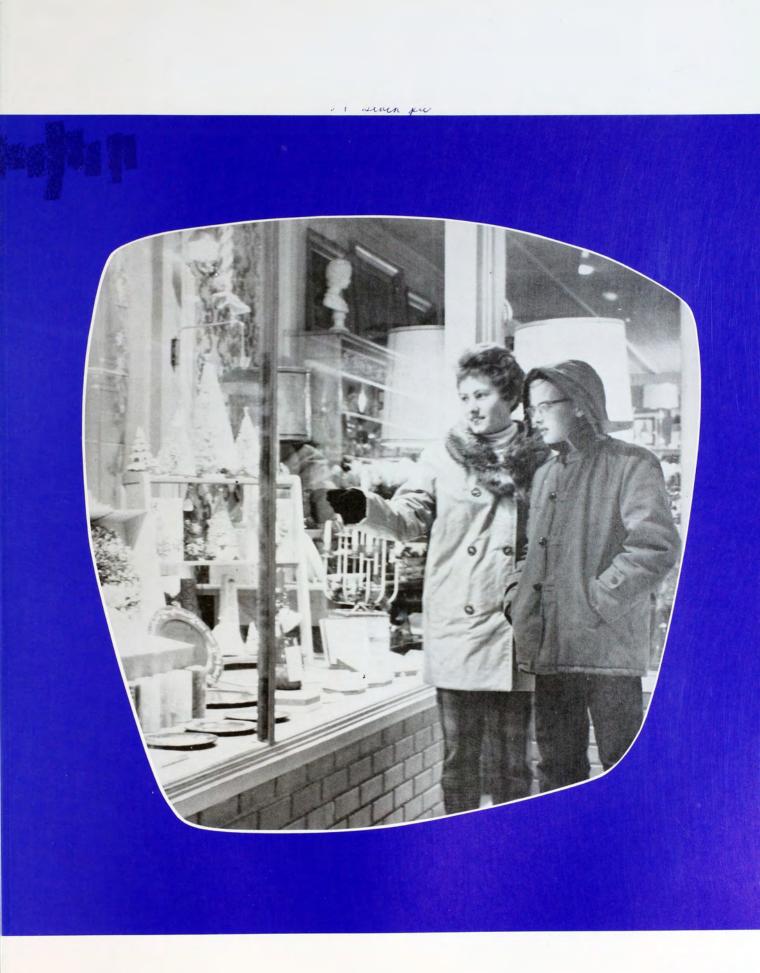

This page brings the story of the year to the first spring activities. Many more will be included in the sixteen-page supplement.

Under the direction of Hal Morris, this young man found that correct measurements and following instructions were most beneficial when constructing any article.

Advertising

The following pages carry advertisements of those business organizations who not only patronize the Reveille but give support to the college during the year in many ways. Both the college and townspeople strive to develop a better community. Since the city and the college are growing, the results speak for themselves.

In Memoriam . . .

Dr. Lyman Dwight Wooster, president emeritus of Fort Hays Kansas State College.

A member of the faculty from 1909 until his death February 21, 1960; Dr. Wooster taught science courses for twenty-seven years until his appointment as dean of the college in 1939. He was inaugurated as president in 1941 and served until his retirement in 1949.

"He was a fine educator, a fine scholar and, above all, a gentleman. The community of Hays, Fort Hays State and all of Western Kansas are much better for having him devote a lifetime to the youth of this region. At every opportunity he challenged the young citizens to develop qualities of leadership and responsible living. His influence was wide, touching the lives of thousands of students with whom he associated."

—President M. C. Cunningham

In Appreciation ...

As the last pages go to press and the staff breathes a sigh of relief, the editors pause to take stock of the work and figure out how it was finished on time. It occurs to us that many people, on and off campus, have played an important role in the production of the 1960 Reveille.

Without the staff members who survived the Saturday morning sessions, the emergency meetings, the rush for deadlines, the editor's jittery nerves and worried consultations, this book would not be in the reader's hands. So thanks, staff—for the many unpaid hours you spent planning pictures and layout, typing and drawing up pages. News service photographers supplied amusement, some harassment, and hundreds of pictures to help us. Delma Studios of New York and Larry's Studio of Hays also provided photos.

Mrs. Katherine Rogers deserves recognition for her guidance and her patience with procrastinations and "goofs" along the line. Her advice and encouragement were always welcome.

To those students and faculty members who posed (endlessly it seems) for us, we say thanks. We did appreciate the graceful endurance of photo sittings, scheduling of group pictures, occasional missed appointments, and the retakes necessary in the course of the year.

A special thanks is due to the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas and its representative, Paul McClellan, and to the Memorial Union personnel who accomodated our photographer in September when class pictures were taken and who allowed us space for offices when our regular offices were being remodeled.

It is the editors' hope that these people will be satisfied with the 1960 Reveille, because their efforts have made the book what it is.
