FOREWORD

Many true campus scenes of college life appear to be distorted by discontinuous observation. However, through the use of silhouettes, unimportant trivialities are often discarded and a clear-cut outline remains, representing the true form.

In this yearbook, our theme, silhouettes, symbolizes every person on campus and recognizes the importance of all. It is not the individual who is significant, it is his symbol and the goals which he exhibits.

A silhouette delineates the contour of an individual, just as college stands for the contour of his future life. He strives day by day to fulfill his final objective—to make a place for himself in the world. He also endeavors to develop his silhouette into a true form, which will be distinctively visible and remembered by all.

We are all individuals with unique personalities, desires and ideals, yet our silhouettes can scarcely be distinguished from those of our fellow students.

Silhouettes help to mold memories of college life, while activities tend to round out those memories, making them something which will be cherished in years to come.

We have attempted to produce not merely an outline of the school year, but to capture the spirit and symbols which are a part of all college campuses.

Through the use of silhouettes, we have developed these ideals, both social and academic, which maintain the purpose of campus life and help to unfold our future lives.

The Editors
SALUTE TO KANSAS
Fort Hays State Plays Important Role in Education in Western Kansas

In this Centennial Year for Kansas, Fort Hays State is proud of its position as the only state college in the Western two-thirds of Kansas and of the contribution made by the college to the education of the youth of Kansas.

Founded in 1902 as the Western Branch of the Kansas State Normal of Emporia, Fort Hays State became independent in 1914 and gained the right to confer liberal arts degrees in 1931.

Fort Hays State is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, the National Association of Schools of Music and the American Association of University Women.

Supervision of operations of the five state institutions of higher learning and the schools for the deaf and blind rests with a nine-member Board of Regents, appointed by the Governor of Kansas.

FORT HAYS, KANSAS STATE COLLEGE IS THE ONLY ACCREDITED FOUR YEAR STATE COLLEGE IN THE WESTERN HALF OF THE STATE.

COLLEGE ANTHEM

On the plains of Western Kansas
Stands a school we all love well,
'Twas built by the toil of our fathers;
To its glory our voices swell.

Chorus:
Hail to old Fort Hays State!
Let your voices ring!
Praise for the Black and Gold
We will ever sing.

Long may our valor last
Through the future days,
Hon'ring and praising
Dear Fort Hays.
The silhouette of your college life as represented by the REVEILLE is an outline of you, your fellow students and your activities during the year. In the future, this profile will enable you to recall many whose friendship you make while at Fort Hays State. Moreover, it will empower you to project your memory in vivid tones upon a background of many trying but rewarding experiences of by-gone days.

Those of us who remain on the campus hope that the silhouettes projected upon the screen of your mind will be etched in black and gold, that the pictures shown there will bring pleasant memories of the educational opportunities which were offered you.

We hope that the images of the advantages you enjoyed and even the disappointments you endured will fill you with satisfaction that they served to develop you and to help you grow, and, last but far from least, that, having had opportunities denied so many millions in the world today, you are a Christian person better able to make a contribution toward your fellowman and thereby to aid in making a world into which may be brought respect for your fellowman and peace.

The 1961 REVEILLE is the silhouette of this college year. May each of you, throughout the years to come, leave upon the pages of time a silhouette as vivid and lasting. May your days be happy and the years bring you satisfaction in the knowledge that you have made your contribution to a better world for those who follow in your footsteps.

M. C. Cunningham
EDUCATOR, EXECUTIVE AND STUDENTS' FRIEND

Dr. Morton C. Cunningham, president of Fort Hays Kansas State College, is an excellent example of the leadership which is required to successfully guide the development of an ever-growing college.

The busiest man on campus, President Cunningham, gives of himself unstintingly to the advancement of all that is good, for his college, his church, his community, state and country.

In great demand in Western Kansas as a speaker, a member of numerous committees, boards and organizations, he still finds time to take a personal interest in students, to join with them in feeling the tension of a tight basketball game, the fun of the all-school fall picnic and the joy of Christmas.

One of the cherished newer traditions of the college is the presentation of the Christmas Card tree to the Cunninghams, bearing greetings from student organizations.
Dedication
The student, enlarging his span of knowledge, probably is the most important single component of our college.

The heart of any school is its students who make the inanimate buildings come to life as they spend untold hours in class and laboratories, in studying, experimenting, testing and writing to acquire the knowledge which will develop their future lives.

Taking a soil analysis for an agriculture class is by no means a simple job, as Dan Martin well knows.

Students enrolled in industrial arts courses learn many varied techniques which will be valuable to them in future years.

Practice teachers declare they often learn more than the students.
students

These students will be the leaders of tomorrow. Shaping the future of the millions of lives in America will be in their hands. Education, progress and determination must be held high and regarded in the light of our precious freedom.

The 1961 Reveille dedicates this yearbook of events to you, the students of Fort Hays Kansas State College.

For home economic majors, laying out a pattern proves to be a rewarding task, although it involves many hours of meticulous work.

Chemistry students spend many hours outside of class in the laboratory testing and experimenting.

Studying is a full-time job which always seems to be put off until the last minute.
Moving into the dorm proves to be quite exciting for Lynette Schuckman as she lends a helping hand to her big sister, Viattle.

A prospective Fort Hays Stater looks doleful as he tries on a freshman beanie for size.

Enrollment

Orientation week acquainted the freshmen with the academic and social regulations for students. After adjusting to their new life in the dorms, freshmen completed their enrollment while the other students prepared class schedules and stood in long enrollment lines.
All freshmen and transfer students were required to take hearing tests as part of the enrollment program.

and Orientation

Enrollment reached a new high with a record of 2,865. Because of the remodeling of Picken Hall, students found crowded classrooms and rearrangement of time schedules and classrooms. The new year of 1960-1961 had begun with diversified opportunities available to every student.

Due to crowded facilities, instructors were forced to hold classes in the hall.

Faculty advisor, Hugh Burnett, advises a student in preparing her semester's schedule.

After enrollment the students settled down to the academic phase of college life. Testing soil content is important to agriculture students.
Selling freshmen beanies proved to be quite hilarious for both student council members and freshmen.

Many bands came from surrounding towns to participate in band day.

Parents took the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the college, while visiting their daughters and sons on Parents' Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dragoo dance to the music of Ted Smith and his orchestra at the annual Tiger Hop.
Beginning the Year's Activities

Entertainment is always a large aspect of college life. Heading the list of good entertainment is the Artists and Lectures Series which presented well known talent. The first program featured the "world's greatest gospel singer," Mahalia Jackson, and a capacity crowd attended.

Fraternities and sororities had Rush Week, which included many parties and smokers for rushees. Student social activities included the traditional Tiger Hop, varsity dances after football games and Greek informals.

On Parents' Day the parade and game highlighted the activities as parents toured the campus and met faculty, while visiting their students and friends.

The terrace proved to be a popular spot during the Tiger Hop as several couples took time out from dancing.
Homecoming Brings

Homecoming brought a variety of activities to the campus and students were kept busy trying to participate in all events.

Fort Hays State students elected a queen and two attendants from a field of thirteen candidates nominated by various organizations. Mary Lou Horning, Patti Percival and Margaret Stapleton were chosen as the Homecoming royalty to reign over the activities.

Friday's highlights included the judging of the house decorations, a serpentine parade, barbeque and an informal dance. In the house decorations, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority was awarded the sweepstakes prize, while Alpha Gamma Delta and Tau Kappa Epsilon won first place in the women's and men's division respectively.

Homecoming Royalty and their escorts, pause after the crowning of the queen which was the highlight of the halftime activities.

Alumni, from all areas of the country, renewed old acquaintances at the Homecoming Banquet.

Thirteen co-eds, sponsored by dormitories, Greeks and organizations, competed for the Homecoming Royalty.
Varied Activities

Saturday events were the crowning of the queen, freshman-sophomore tug-of-war, Homecoming parade, football game and dance.

Twenty-six high school bands participated in the downtown parade, which was led by the Homecoming Queen and her attendants.

For the second straight year the class of 1963 proved victorious by pulling the freshmen in the creek, thus making the freshmen wear their beanies until Thanksgiving.

Darrell Hildebrand received the "Busch" Gross award which is given annually to the outstanding athlete of the preceding year.

The Homecoming Queen was crowned in a special halftime ceremony and her attendants and the other candidates were introduced. Winners of the house decorations were also announced at halftime.

Norman Reynolds' orchestra provided music for the annual Homecoming dance which climaxed the activities.

Sophomores winning the tug-of-war and the serpentine parade were added attractions to the homecoming activities.
Pictures of the thirteen candidates, nominated by Greek organizations and dormitories, were displayed in the new bulletin board in the Memorial Union prior to the Reveille Ball.

Jimmy Maxwell Combo provided much-enjoyed dance music for the couples who attended the Reveille Ball.

Reveille Queen finalists, anxiously await the announcement by Bill McAdoo, Master of Ceremonies, of the 1961 Reveille Queen.
December Provides Christmas Spirit

Announcing the 1961 Reveille Queen and her attendants was the highlight of the annual Reveille Ball. Sharon Seery, Sheila Lundgren, Deanna Link and Amy Graves reigned as queen and attendants, respectively, for the remainder of the dance. Revealing of the cover and the dedication were other attractions of the intermission.

The Jimmy Maxwell Combo provided music for the dance which was attended by approximately 150 couples.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," a one-act Christmas opera, was presented in December as an Artist Lectures program. Fort Hays State musicians assisted the professional cast in the two performances.

Memorial Union Christmas activities included the traditional Christmas tree presented to President Cunningham and the annual free coffee day.

All campus organizations supplied Christmas cards which decorated the seasonal tree. Faculty members poured coffee for several hundred students who took advantage of the free offer.

Amahl, portrayed by Lee Bratton, is comforted by his mother, played by Arlene Saunders, in a scene from the NBC Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Faculty members volunteered their time to pour coffee for the students during the free coffee day held in the union.
Concern for Is Seen

Students were faced with perhaps their most crucial hours of college as they prepared for the last requirement of all courses—FINALS. Intelligence, a pen and paper were the principal tools used by the students as the flow of knowledge was reversed and instructors found themselves at the receiving end of the information.
Final Exams
Among Students

After the last question was answered and the final test completed, students took a breather of a few days, before returning to the campus for another semester of classes.

Through pictures, we have tried to capture the student as he really is. His own moods, positions and expressions make him unique as he prepares for semester examinations.
Five Candidates Vie for Sweetheart Honors

Valentine was the theme used for the annual Sweetheart Ball on February 11, in the Memorial Union.

A king, queen and attendants were chosen from five candidates sponsored by dormitories, Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council.

Larry Pedigo and Janet Finley, elected king and queen to reign over the ball, were crowned by last year’s royalty, Mary Ann Lofstead and Larry Davidson. Winners received 15-inch engraved trophies.

Music for the formal dance was provided by Johnny Chambers Quartet.

All five candidates for the sweetheart royalty reigned over the dance as members of the royal court.
Gals Foot the Bills for Leap Week Dates

Campus females played the dominant role in the annual Leap Week activities as they chose their own dates and paid their bills. Two trial sessions were conducted by the Chancery Club for coeds who did not abide by the Leap Week rules. Those women who were found guilty were fined.

Nominations for Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae were made by campus organizations and 50 cents was required to nominate a candidate. Each vote cost one cent and proceeds went to the International Relations Club fund which is used to bring foreign students to Fort Hays State. Winners of the contest were announced at the Leap Week Dance which climaxed the week’s activities.

Approximately $400 was added to the club treasury from the week’s festivities.

Dressed in typical dogpatch costumes, Jane Schnoebelen and Jack Stout won the prize for the best costumes at the Leap Week Dance.
Some Moments Are Meant For Fun

College is many things and there is a place for fun as well as study. The icy blast of winter brought opportunity for hockey and skating, fraternity foolishness brought apprehension and laughter, the Hawaiian Luau publicity during enrollment week in January helped relieve the tension of long lines of waiting students.

“I was sure there was supposed to be a hockey game here.”—Pat Kennedy.
Salome’s interest in Fort Hays State is purely non-academic, according to her Sig Tau friends.

Big Creek provides a skating area for students during bleak winter days.

Ona Ona, destined to be served at the Luau, was spared a long life because of her likable personality.
Centennial Attracts Many to FHS Museum

Fascinating exhibits in three museum areas of history, natural history and geology are located in the Fort Hays State Museum, housed in the Forsyth Library.

The first major accession to the museum was a collection of mounted birds and animals presented 35 years ago by a local enthusiastic amateur taxidermist. Since then, several faculty members made sizable contributions and local citizens began to contribute to the growing museum.

George Sternberg, an independent field vertebrate paleontologist, was appointed curator of the museum. He now works with M. V. Walker, professor of geology and director of museums.

The museum, which is now one of the finest in the country, houses over 12,000 types of specimens.
Radio programs which are written and produced by the radio classes are taped for use on radio stations in western Kansas.

Radio Department

Students at Fort Hays State write and produce their own radio programs which are used on stations around the state. In addition to radio programs, students receive training in radio news announcing and writing.

"Folk Tales of the Prairie," was the fifth series produced by the radio department and was carried for 20 weeks over KAYS radio in Hays.

Also, a 15-minute program entitled "Coaches Corner," is heard each week over KAYS and KKAN in Phillipsburg. Students of the advanced radio announcing class do interviews with coaches of high schools and colleges in this area.

Jack R. Heather, head of the radio and television department, supervises all class productions.

As in all reporting classes, students in the radio news writing class must use a typewriter and quick thinking in writing news stories.

Jack Heather supervises as Mary Lynn Scott learns to operate the controls for a radio program.
Preparing charts for data is one of the many requirements these graduate students face in preparing a master thesis in botany.

Bob Chism puts the finishing touches on a cast iron project which he has made as part of his graduate work.

Much close cooperation and endless checking becomes essential as the finishing touches are put on a master thesis.

Graduate Study
In Knowledge

Three advanced degrees are offered in the College's rapidly growing graduate division.

More than 200 are currently enrolled in either the five or six-year program leading to Master of Arts, Master of Science or Specialist in Education degrees. This study will lead to better teaching performance and higher salary schedules.
Develops Students and Research

Dr. Ralph Coder is Dean of the Graduate Division, with a graduate faculty of 37, who teach courses in 11 fields of study.

Encouragement is given to students to develop understanding, accurate judgment, facility in independent thinking, superior knowledge of the study field and a desire to do creative research.

Examining grasses which are not common in their native countries proves to be interesting to these students from India and Korea who are working for degrees in botany.

Graduate students spend uncounted hours each day in the library doing research which is a necessity in any field.
BUILDINGS

A characteristic symbol of almost any college is its architecture.

Fort Hays State is recognized throughout the country for its beautiful campus and distinctive architecture. All academic buildings are built of native limestone, much of which was quarried on college land.

Like an oasis in a desert is the abundance of trees on the campus, with a variety not found elsewhere in this part of Kansas. The devoted service of men like the late Dr. L. D. Wooster, former president of the college and a true nature-lover, lives for future generations of students in the memorial of a verdant campus.

Buildings are named for individuals who have added to the history of Kansas and of the college. Sheridan Coliseum and Forsyth Library for generals stationed at old Fort Hays, and Custer Hall for Elizabeth Custer, wife of General George A. Custer.

Other buildings bear the names of persons more directly connected with the college. Martin Allen Hall, named for the man who was instrumental in having the land of the fort given to the state for use as a college; Picken Hall, now in the process of being remodeled, named for the first president of the college; Lewis Field and stadium, named for the second president; Rarick Hall, the education building, named for another president who worked for many years for improvement of rural education as well as for the college; Agnew Hall, a women's dormitory, named for the first dean of women of the college.

Others have more prosaic names: Memorial Union, a tribute to Fort Hays Staters who gave their lives in the service of the country; Science Hall and Applied Arts, whose functions are self explanatory.

Three service buildings were completed in the fall of 1960 which are used primarily to house maintenance materials, shops and for laboratory space for botany classes. Also completed for use second semester were the married student apartments, located just west of Hackberry trailer court.

A four-story dormitory, with rooms for 124 men, will be ready for occupancy in September.
Faculty and Administration
ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Administration of a college involves a multitude of miscellaneous tasks to be performed by members of the staff. Whether these duties are figuring a budget, counseling students, supervising housing, considering new policies of the college, determining curriculum changes, studying academic standards, developing the graduate school program, or providing service to schools of Western Kansas, these administrators find each day of the calendar year filled with its own problems, whether school is in session or not.

Students learn to appreciate the administration through the year as they feel an ever-deepening sense of cooperative endeavor for the mutual good of faculty and student.

Without any one of these administrators, the mechanics of running the college would be seriously impaired.

E. R. McCARTNEY—Dean of the College (professor of economics and business), A.B., University of Wisconsin; M.A., ibid. Ph.D., University of Nebraska.

RICHARD E. BURNETT—Executive Assistant to the President (assistant professor), A.B., Fort Hays Kansas State College; M.Ed., University of Colorado; Graduate Work, ibid.

WALTER E. KEATING — Comptroller (associate professor of economics and business), A.B., Fort Hays Kansas State College; M.S., ibid.

RALPH CODER—Dean of the Graduate Division (professor of English), A.B., William Jewell College; M.A., State University of Iowa; Ph.D., ibid.
Graduate Division Grows Rapidly

One of the rapidly growing divisions of the college is the Graduate School. The college now offers a master of science, master of arts and the six-year program leading to a specialist in education degree. Graduate students work closely with their faculty committees, especially as they near completion of theses and approach the comprehensive examinations.
Biological Science

The work of the botany department in grasslands study has attracted international respect. Contracts with the Reclamation Bureau and the Kansas Fish and Game Commission for study of salt cedar along Kansas streams and vegetation in the Cheyenne Bottoms area have involved untold hours of work for faculty and students.

Feeding and farming projects, zoological studies of Kansas animal life and associated programs are major endeavors in this division.

Memorial Union—Extension

The Memorial Union, is the heart of the campus, serving the College in numerous ways. The food services, dancing and entertainment facilities, music and program offerings, entertainments and meeting room arrangements for organizations, conventions and conferences, make college life more enjoyable.

Three faculty members, assisted by a student Union Board and various committees keep the complicated schedules operating smoothly.

Participation in the college health, physical education and recreation program not only prepares future teachers, but promotes the physical well-being of the students while in college. Such a program instructs and guides students in healthful experiences so they will take care of their physical well-being when out of college.

By participating in these courses and activities students begin to realize the importance of good health and physical habits.

Economics and Business

Economics and business offer a wide range of courses to afford the student a sound foundation for a position in the business world.

Secretarial courses taken in this department carry full academic credit for a B.S. in business and furnish practical and worthwhile experience.

Economic students study the monetary aspect of the business world. This is one of the largest departments on campus and one which encounters no difficulty in placing its graduates.

Social Science

The teachers of political science help students build a foundation for professional fields as law, social service and government service.

In sociology students learn to understand the social life of man, so that they themselves will function more effectively.

Teachers of history encourage the student to seek accurate information concerning the past, to form a background for reaching intelligent opinions on problems of concern today.

Applied Arts

Teachers of art furnish opportunities for students to secure enjoyment, practical knowledge and uses of art in the commercial and vocational fields.

Home economics teachers help the students to prepare themselves for a vocation and to meet the problems of home and life.

Industrial art teachers prepare the student for vocations in the field, and provide practical experience in the development of “handy man” abilities used in everyday life.
Educational Psychology

The aim of philosophy is to help the student to inquire into the meaning of the world in which he lives and to live more harmoniously in it.

Teachers in education prepare students to be teachers of tomorrow at the elementary, secondary and junior college levels.

The department of psychology prepares students for careers and helps students to understand and improve their personalities. An added contribution to Western Kansas is supplied through the psychological services for children of this area.

In addition to classroom instruction on the campus, student nurses receive medical and surgical training at Hadley Memorial Hospital in Hays, and through affiliation with other hospitals, the advanced students go to Chicago for obstetrical training at Lying-in Hospital, to the State Hospital at Topeka for psychiatric instruction and practice and to Denver's Children's Hospital for pediatrics.

FHS nurses have an enviable record of achievement on State Board examinations.

Physical Science

Physical science includes chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics, and astronomy. Many courses in physical science are tool courses while others contribute to cultural and professional training.

Some students of mathematics this year supplemented their regular classes with enrollment in the popular T.V. Continental Classroom, college algebra the first semester and statistics in the spring.

One of the growing departments at FHS is geology with an ever-increasing number of students studying the earth's surface and its history.

Music

Music instructors of the FHS campus instill and create music appreciation by teaching the basic concepts and by making available to the students music by the artists.

Student organizations such as the college band, orchestra, choir and glee clubs, provide music on the campus and surrounding areas. Highlights of the year include Band Day, The Choir Show, organization tours, assistance with high school district and state contests and concerts by major music organizations.

Organizations
Chancery Club

"This court is now in session. Will the prosecuting attorney please state his case!"

This terminology is the rule rather than the exception for members of the Chancery Club. Membership in Eta chapter of the National chancery club is open to all pre-law students interested in furthering their knowledge of the legal profession.

Throughout the year, club members invite guest speakers (lawyers) to the meetings and visit the district courts and Kansas law schools.

Officers are: Chief Justice, Lou Jean Brown; Associate Justice, Bob Mulch; Clerk of the Court, Carolyn Dennis, and Bailiff, Tom Scott.

Alpha Phi Omega

A service fraternity with a host of activities all beneficial to the campus describes Alpha Phi Omega. The fraternity is composed of former Boy Scouts now enrolled in the college. The past year the Alphas served as ushers for various Artist and Lecture programs, helped move girls into the dormitories in the fall, and sold unclaimed articles from the lost and found department plus the services of different faculty members at an auction held in the fall.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club is an organized student chapter of the American Chemical Society. Membership is open to all students interested in chemistry. The club helps prepare its members for possible careers in chemistry and encourages students to further their study of this science.

This year's activities included sponsoring a visit by an outstanding chemist and co-sponsoring science open-house. Members held two meetings a month with student programs or guest speakers. Handbook sales and field trips are also included in organization activities.

The outstanding senior chemistry student of the year is given an award by the club in the spring.

Math Club

A better understanding of math in informal study makes Math Club valuable to students in the department. The program consists of members presenting special problems either original or from a collection of interesting problems, with the organization working toward a solution. Discussion of mathematical problems that may occur in many life situations and the history of math are topics at meetings.
Young Democrats

Political Enthusiasm Reaches Peak

Ever since the visit of Senator John Kennedy to the campus in the fall of 1959, the Young Democrats of Fort Hays State have felt a special interest in this year's election. Through forums, group discussions and rallies, they have promoted an understanding of politics and the platform of their party.

The planned climax of their campaign was to be a visit from Sen. Estes Kefauver, shortly before election. Inclement weather forced cancellation of his plane trip.
Young Republicans

On Campus

in November

It was a good year for the politicians. The Republicans of Kansas elected a governor and the Democrats of the nation elected a president.

Locally, the Young Republicans caught the political fever and stimulated interest in the election. Through rallies and special programs, posters and slogans, students were encouraged to exercise their prerogative and vote.

Debate

One of the busier organizations on campus is the Fort Hays Debate Club which enthusiastically discusses the pro and con of questions of the day as well as participates in extemporaneous speaking, discussions, panels, oratory and other individual events.

The debate schedule is heavy, and concentrated in the winter months. Two-member teams are selected for each tournament, with from one to four teams entering each meet. Harold Stones and Jim Costigan divide responsibilities as coach.
International Relations Club

The East and the West Meet at Fort Hays State

Believing that through knowledge and understanding may come peace, the International Relations Club sponsors a Foreign Affairs Conference each fall, bringing representatives from foreign embassies together on campus.

Foreign students are made to feel welcome and encouraged to share with the student body the enrichment which comes from association with citizens of many lands.

History and political science students belong to International Relations Club.

French Club

After a year’s lapse, the French Club was reorganized this year to give its members practice in language skills and to acquaint them with aspects of French culture through a study of art, music and customs of the country. Dr. Audrey Greenwood sponsors the group and officers are Joyce Roberts, president; Judy Weis, vice-president and David Baker, secretary-treasurer.

German Club

Calling all German students!

The German Club, sponsored by Dr. Graber, aims to increase its members’ understanding and appreciation of the German language. Members study the German culture and customs and at the same time try to increase their German speaking ability. Guest speakers are invited to several meetings throughout the year.
Penguin Club

Membership in the Penguin Club is open to all girls interested in swimming who can pass the requirements of the club. The club strives to produce a greater interest in swimming, to promote self-confidence in water, teach its members aquatic skills and water ballet, and to produce swimming shows and swimming choreography.

The group plans to attend water shows held in the Kansas area. Meetings are held every Tuesday evening. Miss Joan Bailey is the sponsor.

Orchesis

Membership in Orchesis is chosen by tryouts of interested dancers. The purpose of the class is to develop a creative and intellectual attitude toward dancing as one of the arts. Members strive to develop creative ability in dancing and to improve dancing skills.

Patti Thiele, Luanne Engel, and Gay Paustian were featured in special dance in the Christmas opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors. Spring activities included presentation in the Follies and in "Guys and Dolls."

Orchesis is directed by Miss Elizabeth Barbour.
ETA RHO EPSILON

Women having a major or minor in physical education are eligible for Eta Rho Epsilon. The purpose of the club is to aid majors in establishing professional values, attitudes, knowledge and relations. It helps promote and support the profession of health, physical education, and recreation.

Eleven members attended the state meeting at Topeka this year. Women also went to the Division of Women's and Girls' Sports outdoor clinic, held at Elmdale, in the spring.

The club sponsored a freshman Women's Physical Education picnic, two faculty fun nights and held work days to earn money for scholarships and help send members to State Physical Education functions.

Future physical education instructors maintain a full-year schedule of sports and recreation for students.
Active membership in W.R.A. comes through participation in team and individual intramural sports. The Association furthers the ideals of good sportsmanship, and creates the love of sports in each of its recreation programs.

W.R.A., affiliated with the National Organization of the Athletic Recreational Federation for College Women, sent two delegates to the national convention at Northwestern University and two delegates to the state convention. W.R.A. also participated in the National Officials' Rating Clinics held in Morland and McPherson, by sending representatives in volleyball and basketball.

Enthusiastic members worked diligently in concession stands at sports events throughout the year to earn sufficient capital to provide a two-semester scholarship for a freshman woman interested in the purpose of W.R.A.

This service organization, through its parties, sports days, play days, and intramural programs, enables college women to make new friends, learn new activities, improve old skills, and to have a good time at F.H.K.S.C.

Pretty fair jumping, but where's the ball? A well-rounded intramural program keeps the p.e. girls on their toes.
Always ready to support every season's sport are the Kit Kats, an organization open to all interested freshman women. Attired in the traditional Kit Kat uniform, the members sat in special sections cheering with colorful animation.

The Kit Kats' purposes are primarily to inspire good sportsmanship and to foster programs that benefit the entire athletics program. Members also work at money-making projects throughout the year for special programs under the leadership of their officers who are elected at the beginning of the fall term.
PEP
Tigerettes

Vigor, zeal and genuine school spirit mark the Tigerette organization as one of the most foremost in supporting the athletic sports on campus. The past year’s activities have included participation in Band Day and Homecoming parades, the sponsoring of pep assemblies and the revision of their constitution.

The Tigerettes work with the Kit Kats in leading the team onto the field and court during football and basketball seasons and in sitting in special sections at games. At Christmas they have a combined Christmas party.

Plans for the future include new uniforms for the Tigerettes.

The cheerleaders, who lead the Tigerettes, work diligently to produce new and effective formations resulting in a better pep section for home games.
Campus Boosters

It's all in the name... the Campus Boosters organization is responsible for school rallies of various nature, pep assemblies, and in general the promotion and stimulation of school spirit. Pep assemblies are the most noted activity. The club holds rallies to see the teams off, plans half-time entertainment at all home basketball games, and is responsible for assisting with publicity of sports on campus. It is a vital organization on campus and is composed of representatives from every campus organization.

Student Affairs Committee

Like a judge and a jury, the Student Affairs Committee hears traffic violation complaints, acts on requests for money making projects of organizations and establishes parking regulations.

Membership includes five students appointed by the Student Council and two faculty members appointed by President Cunningham.

Service on this committee may be a thankless job but few students consider the consequences if the committee ceased to function.
Student Council

Duties of the Student Council, which is the governing force on campus, are the consideration of student body problems and activities. The Student Council has fifteen members consisting of the three class officers elected from each class and the student body officers.

"Stuco" is the promoter of campus elections, selection of an outstanding senior man for Junior Rotarian, and the selling of the beanies to incoming freshmen at the beginning of every year.

The Council meets weekly and welcomes suggestions. Dean McCartney is the sponsor.
Dames Club

Wives and mothers of married students, and married women students may belong to Dames Club, a national organization established 40 years ago to promote a spirit of friendliness and to provide social opportunities among its members.

The local program is developed by the chapter and includes meetings for women only as well as social functions for husbands and wives. Program topics are selected to appeal to young marrieds—recipes and homemaking hints, with fun added at such functions as the Mad Hatter’s Party when members wore hats decorated to suggest their husbands’ major field of study, a Christmas party and a children’s party.

Collegiate

4-H

Students who have previously been members of 4-H Clubs and are interested in 4-H work on campus belong to Collegiate 4-H. Meetings include programs of educational talks, social functions, and work in foreign affairs.

This year, members assisted the local county agent in judging secretarial books and helped with the county activities. They also participated in Achievement Day, held early in spring.

The organization is sponsored by Alice Beesley.
Women enrolled in any home economics courses or who are interested in professional careers in home economics, participate in the activities of Home Economics Club. The organization is a part of the Kansas State Economics Association and plans its activities in accordance with purposes of the state organization.

Each semester the club sponsors a project with the dual purpose of financing a local scholarship for a deserving student in the department and in supporting the International Scholarship Fund.

Primarily designed to provide members with professional development in home economics and to further their interests, the club this year has helped the department celebrate the 50th anniversary of the establishment of home economics in the curriculum.

Fort Hays State and its home economics department were featured in one edition of the national home economics magazine, THE DISTAFF, this winter.

Ambassadors

Dozens of students serve as Ambassadors of the college each year. Theirs is the task to establish friendly contacts with hometown prospective students, to answer questions, to impart information about the college and its opportunities for potential students and interested parents.

Throughout the school year, various students go with faculty members to high schools of Kansas for Career Day, to help tell the story of Fort Hays State and what it has to offer.

A group of Ambassadors meet with Hugh Burnett, director of extension for a briefing session.

Scriblerus Club

Scriblerus Club encourages students of Fort Hays State to nourish their originality and self-expression in creative writing. Each club member receives individual assistance and encouragement. The main purpose of the club meetings is to evaluate and criticize individual manuscripts. Through constructive criticism the students correct and improve their original work.

Outstanding work contributed by the students is sent in to magazine publications, to be evaluated for its originality and merit. Many pieces of work are accepted for publication.

"The Sheaf," an annual literary publication, sponsored by the English department, depends greatly upon contributions from members of Scriblerus.
Union Board

The "executive" branch of the Memorial Union consisting of seven students and five faculty members is the Union Board, specializing in harmonizing activities of the Union. Included on the Board's yearly agenda are planning and recommending policies concerning programs of the Union, preparing a schedule of charges for Union facilities, compiling building rules for conduct, helping in social events, helping to review the annual budget, and advising Union Directors.

In the course of fulfilling its duties, the Board stresses improvement and development of services to students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the college.

Advising and coordinating is the responsibility of the Program Council. Its membership consists of three officers and a chairman. The sponsor is Miss Nancy Geist.

Union Committees

All activities sponsored by the Memorial Union are planned and prepared by the Union Committees. The chairman of each committee serves on the Union Board which is responsible for the co-ordination of all programs presented by the various committees.

Publicity

The Publicity committee works for the benefit of the other committees. It handles their publicity, prepares the Memorial Union Calendar which posts campus activities, and promotes good public relations. The committee is made up of nine students and the committee chairman.

Movies

Members of the Movie Committee select and present all the foreign, classical, and American films shown as part of the Union’s program. Each semester’s schedule brings a wide variety of films to the campus at bargain prices.

Variety

Responsibility of the production of the Follies rests with the Variety Committee, which also promotes student activities such as the varsity dances. The Committee also sponsors a cultural series, Kaleidoscope, throughout the year.
Dance

Varsities, as well as special dances like the Sweetheart Ball are the special contribution of the Union dance committee. This group of eight, under direction of Miss Nancy Geist, strives to give FHS students a balanced program of dances throughout the year—from Tiger Hop to May Farewell.

Exhibitions

Planning art exhibits and displays for the Union is the job of the Exhibition Committee. The union has limited its exhibits in order to give the art students a chance to display their work on the second floor of the Union. The purpose of the committee is to stimulate an appreciation and interest of art by the students.

Games

Bridge lessons, intramural game tournaments and similar recreational activities are sponsored by the Games Committee. The committee sponsors tournaments and lessons to encourage interest in billiards, table tennis, bridge and other games.
The Reveille

For the first time in many years, responsibility for production of the Reveille lay on the shoulders of co-editors. With the assistance of the other staff members, the co-editors have planned and constructed a volume which tells a complete story of the year's activities. An enthusiastic staff began work early in the fall combining ideas and efforts to make possible a more successful and reputable publication than ever before. Besides their main project of editing the Reveille, the staff makes possible the Reveille Ball, the first winter formal, this year held Dec. 3. At the dance the yearbook queen is announced and the cover design is revealed.

The Leader

Martin Allen Hall is a home away from home for staff members of the State College Leader. The light burns late many a night as reporters "burn the candle at both ends" in an effort to meet the Tuesday noon deadline.

The Leader, published weekly in the college print shop, strives to be an "echo" of all activities, opinions, or ideas of Fort Hays State students and faculty. Student contributions are welcome and the Letters to the Editor provides an outlet for airing any controversial topic.

It's always a big moment when the press starts to roll. A recent acquisition is the Miehle 00 press which turns out 1400 Leaders per hour. Ted Tow, sports information, watches while Bob Spangler, director of news service and publication, reads the first copy and the three printers, Ed Urban, Jim Uht, and Bob May, make the wheels go round.
Little Theater
Gives Dramatic Training

Students wishing to know more about the theater, or desiring to do a little acting or directing, find an outlet for their talents in the Little Theater.

This year's major productions, "The Potting Shed" and "Diary of Anne Frank," presented by The Picken Players, the acting group of Little Theater, proved both challenging to the club and popular with the public.

Miss Harriet Ketchum casts and directs major productions, while one-act plays are presented as class projects of the dramatics department.

"The Potting Shed"
Has Three-Day Run

Bill Ohlmeier and Kenneth Ruder, who played the Callifer brothers in "The Potting Shed," take the drama seriously as they work on interpretation of lines during a dress rehearsal.

To unite the members socially, spiritually, culturally toward professional advancement is the goal for the Nurses Club. It encourages and stimulates interest in nurse education.

Women enrolled in nursing receive on-the-spot training at Hadley Memorial Hospital in Hays, pediatric training at Denver Children's Hospital, psychiatric nursing at the Topeka State Hospital and obstetrical training at Lying-in Hospital in Chicago.

Meetings provide interest in a nursing career with films and speakers bringing the members first-hand information.

At Christmas time the Nurses Club made and sold toy kangaroos to send a student nurse from Kansas to Australia to the International student nurses' meeting. They worked with the district club on this project.

Also they sold cookies at the hospital for their local money-making project, to send two members to the National Convention in Chicago.
Industrial Arts Club

Sponsorship of the Industrial Arts Fair is a major project for the men in Industrial Arts Club. This fair, now in its second year, attracts entries from high schools throughout Western Kansas and encourages fine craftsmanship on the part of both high school and college students.

Student National Education Association

Student National Education Association is an association specifically organized for future teachers with the purpose of offering professional and educational experiences for its student members in the teaching field.

SNEA meetings are concerned with various projects—including speakers, panels, conventions and socials, all basically furthering knowledge of the teaching profession.

This is one of the largest organizations on campus and is nationally affiliated.

K-Club, composed of Fort Hays State lettermen in any sport, aims to promote student spirit with the help of the Kit-Kats, Tigerettes and cheerleaders. Members operate the concession stands during all home games to raise money for scholarships and to purchase the Busch Gross awards.

Lyle Wingate is president of the K-Club. Others officers are: Dean Larson, vice president; Elbert Cobbs, secretary; and Jon Day, treasurer.

K-Club officers discuss plans for their annual picnic which is held each spring for new members.

Fort Hays Singers

One of the best-known vocal groups is the Singers, heard innumerable times and at all sorts of occasions. The 16-member group, directed by Eugene Schweitzer, makes an annual tour with the Brass Choir, sings for Civic organizations, and adds sparkle to events on campus throughout the year. A special event this year was participation in "Amahl and the Night Visitors" with a New York cast.
Selection for membership is a coveted honor for music students.

Concert Choir

Largest of the vocal groups, the Concert Choir might be called the musical voice of the campus. From early fall until commencement night, the Choir represents the College in song. A two-day tour and a formal concert in December followed closely after the first major public appearance of the group in connection with "Amahl and the Night Visitors."
"Anything Goes," which was scheduled to be presented in the spring, was cancelled at a late date and the choir did not have a major spring concert.
Brass Choir

Big things are often in small packages and the Brass Choir is no exception. Take half a dozen horns (and students) and director Leland Bartholomew, well seasoned with countless hours of faithful practice. The result is an instrumental unit that holds a specific spot in the music program at Fort Hays State. The Choir is in demand, especially at Christmas, for appearances at Church programs, and, like other music groups, makes a tour to high schools and gives a formal concert on campus.

College-Community Orchestra

Musicians in and around Hays join with college personnel to compose the College-Community Orchestra. From this organization a symphony orchestra was selected to provide the accompaniment for "Amahl and the Night Visitors." A mid-winter concert and assistance with other productions contributed to the cultural program for the year.
Clarinet Choir

One of the distinctive music organizations at Fort Hays State is the Clarinet Choir, directed by Harold Palmer, who has been promoter of instrumental choirs for many years, particularly through his High Plains Music Camp each summer.

The balanced choir has 16 members who play all types of clarinets. The group makes an annual tour and most of the members also play with the band.

Fort Hays State College Band

Limitations on practice area forced curtailment of band activity this year. The membership was restricted and the "Marching 100" of former years was inactive. However, there was a band at each football game and a pep band during basketball season.

The traditional band concert in April was a climax for the year's activity.
VOCAL ENSEMBLES OFFER VARIETY

Brand new this year are the Women's Glee Club and the Impromptuos. The Glee Club is composed mainly of non-music majors, while the Impromptuos are the combined Men's Quartet and Women's Sextet.

Some of the public appearances of the glee club were at the Faculty Christmas Party, a spring concert with the Men's Quartet and Women's Sextet, with the Impromptuos, a program for radio station KSAL of Salina.

The Impromptuos, a popular musical group on campus, provided short entertainment at both the Homecoming dance and the Reveille Ball. They have appeared numerous times at Schilling Air Force Base of Salina. Their style sets the group apart from other music organizations on campus in that they provide popular show music.

The Women's Sextet composed of six members in three-part harmony is available for public and campus appearances. Another busy music organization is Men's Quartet, now singing together for their third year and in great demand for off-campus entertainment.

Sextet is Organized This Year

Non-Music Majors Sing In Glee Club

Members are: Don Crosby, Jon Shively, Francis Wilson, Patti Percival, Priscilla Taylor, Myrna Steinhower, Lou Jean Brown, Sue Pfoertner, Julie Riise, Marvin Cochran, Shirley Paige, accompanist Mary Maude Moore, director.

PHI MU ALPHA

Men majoring in music belong to Phi Mu Alpha, a professional music fraternity. Activities include ushering at Artist and Lecture Series, giving receptions for artists following concerts and recitals, and assisting in musical productions on campus. This year the group co-sponsored a bus to Manhattan to attend the presentation of Mozart's Opera, "Don Giovanni." Phi Mu’s sponsor is Harold Palmer.

Actives

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Women music majors are eligible for Sigma Alpha Iota. Its aims are to uphold and further interest in music. Members took part in a program at the Rehabilitation Center of Hadley Memorial Hospital and sponsored receptions following several concerts and recitals. Several members attended Theta Province Day at Kansas City.

In connection with the Kansas Music Teachers Association, Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota members were present at an opera recital given by Don Giovanni at Manhattan. The two organizations frequently combine talents for recitals and programs.

Sigma Alpha's sponsor is Lucille Felten.

Pledges

Actives

Canterbury Club

Episcopal students belong to Canterbury club. Some of the activities include Bible study, guest speakers, "sloppy joe" suppers for money making projects. The group awards a scholarship to a student who is deserving and needs financial help.

The purpose of Canterbury Club is to promote fellowship and growth among those who are interested in this denomination.

The organization is sponsored by Father Trask. Meetings are held on Wednesday evenings.

Campus Christian Council

The Christian Council's objective is to encourage cooperation between the individual churches. The group encourages the Fort Hays State faculty and students in religious participation and association.

This year, being the Council's rebuilding year, they planned a Religious Emphasis Week, an interfaith picnic, several speakers and a directory of churches and religious organizations. Dr. Ward Sims is the sponsor of Christian Council.

Gamma Delta

Gamma Delta is the international religious organization of Messiah Lutheran college students. The chapter at Fort Hays State is called Alpha Psi.

The purpose of this group is to encourage and maintain fellowship, and to keep students closely affiliated with the church. Through fellowship and worship, the members further spiritual growth and render service to God and Church.

The meetings are held every Wednesday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the Messiah Lutheran Church. The group has a speaker and a chapel service each meeting. Gamma Delta's sponsor is Dr. John Garwood.
Newman Club

Catholic students on campus "get better acquainted" through the Newman Club, sponsored by Fr. Camillus, Ed McNeil, and Andrew Rematore. Membership is open to all Catholics attending Fort Hays, and interested non-Catholics are invited to participate at any meetings or socials.

The social highlight of the year is the spring formal at which "Mr. and Miss Newmanite" are crowned. This year a large group also attended a Newmanite Convention held at Emporia in November.

Officers are, standing: Ervin Birzer, Tony Axman. Seated are: Marge Rohr, Pat Younger, Father Camillus, sponsor.
Christian Youth Fellowship

Members of the Christian Church are members of the Christian Youth Fellowship and have the goals of fellowship and understanding. They seek to enrich the social, mental, and spiritual lives of students connected with the organization.

Activities include parties, caroling, and fund raising programs for the Christian Church building fund. The group is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skates. Meetings are held each Sunday evening at 5:00 at the church.

Kappa Phi

The goal of the Methodist Women's organization, Kappa Phi, is to make every Methodist woman in the college world today a leader in the church of tomorrow.

A Rose Tea is held for the new pledges each fall. Other social events include a traditional Christmas party and a parents' banquet in the spring.

Like other religious organizations, Kappa Phi strives to maintain a religious influence for college women. The group meets every second and fourth Thursday of each month with their sponsor, Mrs. M. V. Walker.
Wesley Foundation

Faculty members and students with Methodist preference constitute the membership for Wesley Foundation. They hold weekly Sunday evening meetings at the Methodist Student Center. Evening meals are followed by a forum discussion by members.

The aims of the Wesley Foundation are to promote the personal religious life of its members. Other purposes of the group are to develop Christian fellowship, leadership and to help build a Christian world fellowship. Reverend Norman Simmons sponsors the organization.

Ken Griffin gives instructions to several members of Wesley Foundation as they prepare to leave on a good-will tour to Western Kansas.

Several members of the cast of "Death of a Salesman," discuss last minute changes to be made in the production.

Study groups, one of the new programs offered at Wesley, enables the student to present his views on various subjects.

Students take part in preparing and serving meals each Sunday preceding the Sunday evening forum.
LSA

Lutheran Student Association serves the students of the National Lutheran Council on the campus. The organization met on Wednesday evenings in the Memorial Union except during Lent when the members attended services at Trinity Lutheran Church every Wednesday evening.

This year's topics and discussions have varied from politics to travelogues. Speakers gave short talks on their trips to other countries and faculty members discussed politics and other interesting topics. Also included were Bible study and discussions on other phases of religion.

A dinner was given at the beginning of the school year to introduce new members and get acquainted. A regional conference in Lincoln, Nebraska, was attended in the spring. During the summer, this year's national LSA convention, the Ashram, will be held at Lake Geneva, Wis. Some members will attend this spiritual retreat.

Roger Williams Fellowship

Students of Baptist faith join the Roger Williams Fellowship which is affiliated with the Baptist Student Movement through the Kansas and American conventions. Some of the members have attended the annual conference in Green Lake, Wis., as well as state conferences.

Meetings are held Sunday evenings at 5:30. Dr. Geneva Herndon sponsors the organization.

The purpose of Roger Williams Fellowship is to achieve Christian fellowship and Christian Witness on campus.
United Students Christian Fellowship

This fellowship of Presbyterian students offers its members a program to benefit them in their worship and fellowship. It also gives them an opportunity to discuss religion in a community.

The group meets each Sunday night at Westminster Hall for lunch and worship. A major goal is growth in personal, religious and academic aspects of contemporary student life.

Membership includes student members of the four cooperating churches sponsoring the organization: United Presbyterian Church, Congregational Christian Church, The Evangelical United Brethren Church, and the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Sponsors are Rev. Sam Maier and Dr. Dale Dick.

Y.W.C.A.

The organization this year supported a Korean orphan by sending ten dollars each month for his care. This money was obtained from the association through self-denial boxes. The orphan was given special recognition at Christmas.

All women of any denomination interested in fellowship in Christian living may join Y.W.C.A. The club has as its objectives the developing of religious experiences and seeking knowledge of God.

Miss Naomi Garner sponsors Y.W.C.A, which is affiliated with the World Student Council of Y.W.C.A. and World Student Christian Federation.
Membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honorary society for freshman women, is the greatest honor a freshman coed can receive. Organized two years ago this spring, the society encourages and honors high scholastic achievement among freshman women. A formal banquet is held in the spring in honor of the initiates and the graduating seniors who have maintained their Alpha Lambda Delta average throughout their four years. The organization sponsored a project to collect overdue books for Forsyth Library with "no fines attached" which was a complete success with over 100 books returned.

Alpha Lambda Delta candidates must have a grade average of 2.5 or better for first semester or first two semesters.

Sandra Holmes is president of Alpha Lambda Delta. Other officers are: Betty June Schroll, secretary; Gloria Greenwood, treasurer; and Patti Thiele, historian. Dean Jean Stouffer is sponsor.
Lambda Iota Tau

Lambda Iota Tau, national honorary language and literature organization, encourages the recognition of scholarship achievement in the area of literature. The organization is not limited in size, but only those students with at least a 2.0 grade average in 6 hours of literature are eligible for membership.

For initiation, each new member must read a composition that he has written about some phase of literature. The group meets regularly to discuss recent novels, and in the spring publishes a collection of literary studies containing student written critical or research essays in literature. Dr. Sam Sackett is moderator of the group.

Kappa Omicron Phi

Membership in Kappa Omicron Phi, professional home economics fraternity, is a goal of students interested in home economics. To be qualified, coeds must have completed 12 hours of home economics with a 2.0 grade average in the courses and a 1.0 average in other courses.

Social activities of the organization include a formal tea held each September for students interested in home economics and an annual Mother-Daughter banquet commemorating Founders Day.

Clarene Reed is president of Kappa Omicron Phi. Others officers include Karen Selfridge, vice president; Edith Smith, secretary; and Joanne Griffitts, treasurer. Miss Alice Beesley is the sponsor.

Kappa Mu Epsilon

Kappa Mu Epsilon is a national honorary mathematics fraternity recognizing outstanding achievement and encouraging the interest of mathematics on campus.

To be eligible for membership a student must have completed 13 hours of mathematics and maintained a 2.0 grade average.
Freshman men with high scholastic achievement are qualified for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity for freshman men. To be eligible, a student must earn a 2.5 grade average for the first semester or first two semesters. Faculty members are also chosen as members of the organization according to superior achievement in their profession.

A formal banquet and initiation ceremony is held each semester.
Phi Delta Kappa

Phi Delta Kappa, now in its third year on campus, is a national professional fraternity for male educators. It is dedicated to furthering educational research and developing leadership. Chapters are located in universities and colleges which offer degrees in education. Members are chosen according to professional achievement and potentiality in the field. The fraternity is composed primarily of graduate students and administrators, although seniors with a B average or better, may be elected to membership.

Dr. Charles C. Clark, associate professor of education, has been president of the Hays chapter this year. Special services rendered by members of the local chapter include work with high school administrators at conferences both on and off-campus, drive-in conferences, career days and similar contact and assistance work with schools of Western Kansas.

Dr. Charles C. Clark

Teachers and administrators come from surrounding towns for periodic meetings of Phi Delta Kappa.
Phi Kappa Phi Initiates 32

Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, represents the cream of the crop scholastically at Fort Hays State. This organization is the top honor society at Fort Hays and is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa. Electees must be in the upper 12½ per cent of the graduating class and not more than 10% of the class can be chosen. Graduate students, alumni and faculty members are also selected on the basis of outstanding achievement.

This year the group initiated a program designed to encourage students to enroll in graduate programs and to take other courses in advanced study.
Pi Kappa Delta

Special recognition goes to Pi Kappa Delta, forensic fraternity, as the oldest honorary organization on campus. The Hays Chapter was chartered 1924 with James R. Startup as advisor — a position he still holds.

Participants in speech activities including oratory, intercollegiate debate, extemporaneous speaking, and other public speaking are eligible for election to Pi Kappa Delta. The organization places special emphasis on debate. New members are initiated each spring.

Warren Norton is president of Pi Kappa Delta, assisted by Steve Staub, vice president.

Members of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics honorary fraternity, are chosen by their outstanding achievements in dramatics. To earn points for membership in the organization, students participate in plays which are given on the campus and help on the stage crew.

Helping with the publicity, make-up and stage properties for all campus dramatic productions is one of the main duties of the club.

Glenda Morris is president of Alpha Psi Omega. Assisting her are Judy Braswell, vice president; and Gay Paustian, secretary. Dr Genevra Herndon is the sponsor.
Seventh Cavalry

General George Custer's well-known regiment is honored on campus via Seventh Cavalry, men's leadership fraternity. Male students who have attained the required scholastic standards and have demonstrated leadership capabilities may join. This service club aims to encourage leadership and assists in student projects which have "the good of the college" in mind.

Activities of Seventh Cavalry on campus are indispensable to the college. The group publishes the student directories, ushers at Artist and Lecture Series, and "peddles" popcorn at the Varsity games to raise money for scholarships.

Scholarship, potential leadership, citizenship, and promise for future usefulness are the qualities a senior must have to be selected to appear in the 1960-1961 Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Thirty-one Fort Hays Staters having a grade point of 2.0 or higher were chosen to fill the quota for FHS this year.
Women's Leadership Organization

It's been said a woman's place is in the home, but Fort Hays State women have also demonstrated outstanding abilities on campus. Women's Leadership Organization consists of those coeds who have a 2. grade average and who participate in extracurricular activities.

The group annually decorates the Christmas tree in the library, passes out programs at Artists and Lecture Series, and has organized a tutoring service for those students needing scholastic assistance as well as those needing financial assistance.

Margaret Stapleton is president of WLO, Joan Spicer, vice president; Kay Ann Feiden, treasurer; and Dr. Verna Parish is the sponsor.

First recipients of the newly-established Panhellenic scholarships were Marilyn McClellan and Sharon Peters.

First place in the Kansas Associated Press radio news coverage contest for December went to Bill Oehlemeier.

"Kansas, Symbol of U.S. Progress," was the prize-winning oration given by Marilyn Snell at Topeka for the Native Sons and Daughters Centennial Celebration.
Phi Alpha Theta

A local chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary society, was established at Fort Hays State this year. Eta Psi, the newly-formed chapter, encourages the study of history and offers fellowships to students. Membership is limited to individuals who have a B average in history courses and a B average in two-thirds of their other courses.

Epsilon Pi Tau

Epsilon Pi Tau, honorary industrial arts fraternity, gives recognition to those industrial arts students who have reached the top 25 per cent of their class in all subject fields. The Fort Hays State chapter, Beta Theta, was established in April, 1958. Admission is by invitation only, and membership is not limited to only those students on campus.

Raising money for scholarships which are given to industrial arts students is one of the major activities of Epsilon Pi Tau.

The officers of this group are: Tom Keenan, president; Ervin Birzer, vice president; Don Hrabik, secretary.
Seven coeds, with new uniforms and new cheers, identified the 1960-61 cheerleaders as their yells echoed throughout Lewis Field stadium and the Coliseum during campus sport events. Their cheering was not limited to these areas, however, for endless hours of practicing were required several times a week.

Elected by popular vote of the student body, the number of cheerleaders was increased this year from five to seven.

Leading the yells for her second consecutive year, Donna Stevens served in the role of head cheerleader. Other cheerleaders were Patty Thiele, Carolyn Cook, Luetta Wilken, Sharon Seery, Marjorie Rohr and Luanne Engel.
Vox Populi

Fort Hays students created a two-party political system this fall with the establishment of Vox Populi, the Voice of the People. Fred Stoskopf is the founder and acting president of the party.

The primary purposes of "Vox" are to nominate candidates for Student Council offices and to prepare and promote programs for the good of the student body. The first political action taken by the party was to submit the proposed Student Body Constitution to the Student Council. It was adopted and presented to the student body for ratification.

Vox Populi is organized into a General Assembly composed of all members of the party, and a Campus Committee composed of one representative from each voting unit within the party. Offices include those of president; four vice presidents representing Greek men, Greek women, Independent men, and Independent women; a secretary and a treasurer.

Progressive Party

Progressive Party, which was founded last spring just before the student body elections, has the distinction of being the first political party on the campus.

A group of students, primarily from the social science departments, organized the party with the idea of bringing responsibility to the student council offices.

The party now has about 100 members representing every department on campus. The membership is equally divided between Greeks and independents.

Using the slogan, "We need a Council made up of party policies instead of personalities," the Progressive Party nominates candidates for all campus elections.
Agnew Hall

Dorm parties, gab fests, a Christmas party for faculty children, special dinners and day-by-day living situations make Agnew Hall home to 175 women.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Esther Biays and her assistant, Mrs. Adah Churchill, the women have their own house government and plan their year's activities.

Proceeds from the milk and coke machines supply the capital for the dormitory's scholarship fund.
Custer Hall

Approximately 200 women learn the problems and pleasures of group living in Custer Hall each year. For the 150 freshmen, it is a new experience, and through house organization and a social program planned by the entire group, they acquire social graces and poise. Activities include seasonal parties, participation in Follies and establishing a scholarship fund.

Mrs. Kate Rawley is housemother, assisted by Mrs. Grace Goodman. Upperclassmen serve as counselors.

Residence Hall

Men in Residence Hall are kept busy during the year taking part in all the activities on campus. For homecoming they worked on the bonfire, entered the contest for house decorations, and sponsored queen candidates. Other activities during the year included hour-dances with Custer and Agnew Halls, a number for the Follies, participation in all the intramurals, informals and a formal dance.

Helping with these projects were the housemother, Mrs. Neta Bice and her assistant, Miss Beulah Lamb.

Lewis Field Provides Housing for Women

An emergency housing shortage last fall resulted in the establishment of apartments for women students in Lewis Field. A group of 25 upperclassmen moved into several units of the barracks and converted them into comfortable home-like living quarters.

Supervised by a graduate couple, Joe and Gay Hubbard, the women set up their own government and abided by rules similar to those enforced at the dormitories.

The project was termed successful but it is hoped by the administration that adequate dormitory space will soon be available making temporary housing unnecessary.

Housing Units and Service Buildings Are Completed

Among the newest additions to the campus, are the married student apartments, three service buildings and a men’s dormitory.

Forty-eight apartments were ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester, consisting of three units with twelve apartments in each. They are completely furnished except for draperies and carpets and are wired for air conditioner installation.

Three service buildings of concrete block and faced with stone and brick, are laid out in a U-shape, just west of the Memorial Union. They house several offices and classrooms and will increase the efficiency of the college service departments.

A four-story men’s dormitory is under construction and will be completed by the beginning of the fall semester. It will house 124 men.

West Hall is the new men’s dormitory, expected to be completed by fall. It is named for Dr. Charles F. West, professor of philosophy and religion from 1920-1948.

Married student apartments are now known as Wooster Place, in honor of the late Dr. Lyman D. Wooster, president of the college from 1941-1949 and faculty member for 50 years.

Three new service buildings afford the college adequate storage, central garages and shops as well as providing badly needed offices and laboratory areas for the botany department.

Panhellenic Council

Bill Motzner, Patty Scarlett, Judy Richardson and Wayne Staab, pledges, are selecting music at the all-pledge dance which is an annual project of Panhellenic and I.F.C.

Governing body of the four sororities on campus is the Panhellenic Council, composed of members from each sorority. Included are two representatives, the rush chairman and the official delegate from each chapter.

The council governs rules relating to rushing, pledging and initiation as well as other campus greek activities.

The group cooperates with Interfraternity Council on such matters as scholarship and other functions of the greek world.
The Nationally Affiliated Interfraternity Council is composed of representatives from each of the six fraternities.

The council aims at promoting good fellowship between sororities and fraternities and sets standards for fraternity participation in campus activities. The group is closely associated with Panhellenic Council and Junior I.F.C.

The members of Junior Interfraternity Council are pledges and work with the I.F.C. in planning greek activities.

Sororities closed their rush week by pledging a total of 57 women.
The 142 rushers started the activities by attending teas at the four sorority houses. Each sorority scheduled three parties.
Ribbon services were held October 9 and formal pledging took place the next day.
Two sororities filled their quota during rush week and during open rush, which began at the end of the first nine weeks; all quotas of 40 members were filled.
Initiations were held early in the spring semester.

... FROM SMOKERS TO PLEDGE DUTIES ...
Purchasing their home was unquestionably the big moment for the Alpha Gamma Deltas this year.

The newest project adopted was aiding the altruistic program which was financed by serving meals to fraternity members.

A Christmas party for the rehabilitation center children, informals, formals, Homecoming, follies and Greek week were activities of the year.

Themes for rush parties were centered around “Swiss Chalet” and “Garden of

Virgie McKenzie served as president with
Mrs. Sue Davidson as housemother.
Panhelleanic president Ruth Spencer presents the scholarship award to Alpha Gam representatives for receiving the highest grade point average among sororities for the 1960 spring semester.
The newest house of all Greeks is occupied by Delta Zeta. Equipping and managing the house was the Delta's biggest project. An open house was held to celebrate the occasion.

Deltas began their rush activities with a summer rush party "Hawaiian Aloha" followed in the fall by "Ship Ahoy" and "Japanese Tea House."

Delta Omega Chapter won three national awards at the Convention in California in June for membership, pledge program, and talent derby.

A Christmas party and the annual spring formal were highlights which closed the semesters.

President was Ann Estes with Mrs. Nita Stroup as housemother.
Delta Zeta pledges spend time at the hospital visiting lonely patients as part of the sorority's philanthropic project. However, when an active is a patient, she has no time to get lonely.
Sigma Kappa, formerly Pi Kappa Sigma, moved into a practically new home this year. The two-story white structure was completely remodeled and gained additional space. The fall semester found the Sigma Kappas enjoying the beautiful new interior.

Summer rush began with an ice-cream social and was followed by rush parties "Silvery Moon" and "Down at the Rainbow's End."

"Mardi Gras" was the pledges theme for the December informal Homecoming, Greek week, Follies, and the spring formal rounded out the year's highlights.

A special philanthropy has been the sponsorship of the "Golden Years Club" at Hadley Hospital.

Glenda Morris was the Sigma Kappa's president and representation was Mrs. Elsie Veatch.

Winning the 1960 sweepstakes for house decorations at Homecoming was a highlight for Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. The award was presented at the Homecoming dance.

“Southern Plantation” and “Oriental Garden” were the themes chosen for rush parties. The annual fall informal held in December was centered around “Sigma Snowflake.”

A chili supper on Parents Day, a shoe shine project, Greek Week activities and the spring formal were some of the many activities.

Tri Sigma president was Carolyn Wanker and Mrs. Agnes Townley, housemother.
Sigmas shine shoes for fraternity members as a money-making project.
The big social event for Delta Sigma Phi was the annual Sailors' Ball. A new feature was choosing the "Girl We'd Like Most To Be Shipwrecked With."

The Delta Sigs' activities were smokers, Homecoming, Greek week, hour dances, exchange dinners and a pre-dance buffet for members and guests before the homecoming dance. Follies, Greek week and a formal dance were on the Spring calendar.

James Griffin served as president and housemother was Mrs. Avis Thomas.
A Delta Sig and his date pose "aboard ship" at the annual Sailor's Ball. The men grew beards and chose a girl they would like for a shipwreck partner.
Kappa Sigma Kappa marked the fall semester by receiving a bumper crop of pledges with a total of 28 men. "Expresso Shop" was the theme for the fall semester beatnik party where members and dates drew artistic scenes for decoration. Prizes were awarded for the best. Homecoming and rush week activities, holiday dinners, hour dances, work days, Greek Week and the spring formal were highlights of the year.

Serving as president was Howard Guyer with Miss Eva Strecker as housemother.
The annual Thanksgiving dinner was held at the fraternity house with sponsors and wives as guests. Learning social amenities is part of the fraternity cultural program.
Phi Sigma Epsilon

Phi Sig pledges won the scholarship trophy for the 1960 spring semester and in an attempt to retain possession of the trophy, a study table for actives and pledges was established this year.

Zeta Chapter was represented at the Regional conclave at Pittsburg.

The end of rushing season marked 25 rushees as Phi Sig pledges. Initiation was held second semester.

Entertaining national officers, participating in Homecoming activities, giving smokers, in-formals and the annual spring formal rounded up the year’s activities.

Mrs. Alice Maddux was housemother and David Hopkins president.

Injuries repeat as Tigers’ number one opponent

An unexpected loss of 20 lettermen from the 1959 Tiger squad, due to injury and ineligibility, made the 1960 season one of rebuilding.

Freshmen dominated the 1960 FHS squad as only four seniors returned to the ranks which included only 14 lettermen.

Injuries, combined with lack of experienced material, proved costly for the Bengals who were able to finish no better than 2-7 for the season and 1-4 in conference play.

It was the second year in a row that the Tigers finished in a tie with Omaha University for the cellar spot.

Despite the won-loss record, the Tigers landed two players on the all-conference first team as junior halfback Wayne Schumacher and sophomore end Cliff Leiker drew the nod for their efforts. Leiker’s selection was his second for the honor as he was also a 1959 choice.

All-conference HB
Fort Hays State came from behind in the fourth quarter to edge Omaha University, 19-18, in the Tigers' conference opener. The Bengals marched 34 yards in seven plays for their winning touchdown after linebacker Jim Lee intercepted an Indian toss on the Omaha 34 to set up the winning score.

Quarterback Jim Hooten scored on a keeper from the two, early in the first quarter for the Tigers' first counter and then connected with halfback Wayne Schumacher on a 15-yard pass for the Bengals' second tally.

The clincher came on a 9-yard pass from Galen Howell to end George Daniels.

The win proved costly for the Tigers as halfback Jack Richardson was lost for the season following an ankle injury suffered early in the game.
Loss to Hornets proves costly

FHS 14
EMPORIA STATE 27

Fort Hays State dropped its second conference game by a 27-14 count to Emporia State at the Hornets' rain-soaked homecoming.

The Hornets managed to plow their way to paydirt twice in the opening quarter and pushed across counters in the second and fourth frames while the Bengals were held to one counter in the second and third quarters. Brown and Schumacher scored on plunges from the six and seven yard lines.

Three Tigers were sidelined for the season as a result of injuries. Brown and Gary Goodheart, junior tackle, suffered knee injuries and sophomore tackle, Ron Gardner, suffered a back injury which sidelined Bengal chances for a winning season.

Fort Hays State football coach Wayne McConnell examines the 1960 squad roster as graduate assistant Don Schmidt, line coach Ed McNeill and student assistant Dick Poage look on. Coach McConnell is in his fifth year at FHS.

ST. BENEDICT'S 26

An injury-riddled Tiger crew came within five points of scoring the upset of the year in C.I.C. football as the Bengals racked up a 21-6 halftime lead before an awe-struck St. Benedict's crowd.

However, the absence of seven injured regulars from the FHS lineup proved costly to the Bengals as the Ravens came back strong the second half to better the Tigers by a 26-21 count.

Two Tiger touchdowns in the first quarter and another late in the second put the FHS team into a 15-point lead as the half ended.

Hooten scored on a keeper from the one yd. line in the opening minutes of play after setting up the score with a 66-yard pass play to Leiker which carried the ball to the six.

Schumacher scampered over from the five to climax a 54-yard drive late in the second quarter and Trail ended FHS scoring on a nine-yard sprint seconds before the second quarter ended.

McClenahan found the mark on each conversion attempt.

The Tigers held a 21-12 lead going into the final period but were unable to check a Raven rally which saw them march 44 yards to pay-dirt in the final minute of play for the winning tally.

Wayne Schumacher, No. 40, plunges for two yards against Kearney State during the season's opener which saw the Tigers top the Antelopes 20-12 at Kearney.

Washburn ruined Tiger hopes for a third-place conference finish by thumping the FHS crew 33-7. The W.U. victory placed the Ichabods in a third-place tie with Emporia State and dropped the Bengals into the cellar with Omaha U.

The lone Tiger score came on a pass play from Hooten to Leiker who scampered 33 yards to highlight the Bengals' scoring efforts.

The Tigers threatened three times within the Ichabod 20-yd. line the second half but failed to penetrate into pay-dirt.
Ken Beals breaks into the Maryville secondary on an attempt to overcome a last-minute Bearcat tally which proved costly for the Tigers.

The Fort Hays State junior varsity fared somewhat better than did their counterparts as they posted an undefeated record for the season.

The junior Bengals, under the coaching of graduate assistant Don Schmidt and student assistant Richard Poage, chalked up a 3-0 mark with wins over Emporia State’s “B” squad and two wins over the Kearney State junior varsity.

The FHS reserves opened their season with a 26-0 romp over Emporia and then edged Kearney 27-26 at Kearney before wrapping up their season by walloping the Antelopes 40-7 on the home field.

Harriers Place Third in CIC Despite Injuries

Pre-season expectations of the Tiger cross-country team were short-lived this year as illness and injury plagued the harriers' chances to better their second-place conference finish in 1960.

The harriers opened the season by copping top honors at the Wichita University Invitational which saw the Tigers win over Emporia State, Wichita and Pittsburg State.

The Bengals then went on to win the number three spot at the CIC championship at Omaha University in their last competition.

Injuries and illness eliminated three leading harriers making it necessary for coach Alex Francis to withdraw from the NAIA meet at which the Tigers had finished seventh in the 1960 national competition.

Season dual meets found the Tigers edging CIC champs Emporia State, 27-28, at Emporia, while being downed by Kearney State 25-32, at Kearney.

Hutchinson Junior College dropped two meets to FHS freshman-sophomore competition while the Tigers, hampered by the loss of three key runners, fell to Emporia State and Kearney State in the Fort Hays State Invitational triangular.
A definite lack of height proved costly for the 1960-61 Fort Hays State crew as the season ended with the Tigers' league record standing at four wins and six losses for a fifth-place finish in the CIC race.

Starting off the season with six wins in their first eight starts, the Tigers were able to win only five of their last eleven contests.

Despite the lack of height, the Bengals managed an 11 and eight record in overall play. One of the highlights of the season was a 73-67 decision over highly-touted New Mexico Highlands, a 1960 NAIA power who finished fourth at the NAIA tournament.

The Tigers averaged just over 6'-1" in height with the tallest starter standing 6'-3", a factor which proved a definite handicap to FHS chances for title contention this season.

Norman Utz lays in two against New Mexico.
FH5–SW Oklahoma

Tigers rampaged to an 88-59 victory over SW Oklahoma in the season’s opener at the Coliseum. Dean Larson and Dick Anderson led the Bengal attack with 16 and 15 points respectively.

FH5–Hastings College

Fort Hays State opened up in the second half after a 38-38 deadlock at halftime to romp to an 80-69 verdict over the Hastings Broncos on the Tigers’ first road trip. Larson and Bill Townsend led Tiger scoring with 20 and 18 to their credit.

FH5–Colorado College

Cade Suran’s cagers belted Colorado College 84-73 for their third straight win after overcoming a 41-31 deficit at intermission. Again Larson was high for the Bengals with 16, followed by Anderson with 10. Anderson copped honors in the rebounding department against the invading westerners.

FH5–Omaha University

In the CIC opener, Omaha University fell victims to a Fort Hays State attack which saw the Tigers maul the Indians 81-64 on the home court maples. Anderson counted for ‘17 with Larry Daugherty pulling in timely rebounds to aid the Tiger cause.

FH5–Kearney State

Fort Hays State cagers suffered their first loss of the season when they journeyed to Kearney State where the Antelopes reeked the Tigers 95-78 to break a four-game winning streak. Lyle Wingate and Daugherty led FHS scoring with 16 and 13.
FHS–New Mexico Highlands

New Mexico Highlands, 1960 NAIA power, invaded the Coliseum riding on the prestige of a fourth-place NAIA finish last season, only to have the Tigers fight to a 73-67 decision over the highly-touted Cowboys. Norman Utz, Townsend and Larson, each collecting 16 points, led the team victory while Townsend drew praise for his outstanding floor play.

FHS–Prairie View A&M

National small-college power, Prairie View A&M wall-lapped the Bengals for their first loss at home, 95-79, with all-American Zelma Beatty controlling the boards and adding 19 points against the short FHS team. Larson dumped in 18 for the Tigers as they suffered their second loss of the season.

Jim Bodge guns for two against powerful Prairie View A&M.

Tiger Win Over Bethany Makes 200th Fort Hays State Win for Coach Suran

Overcoming a narrow 30-29 halftime deficit the Fort Hays State crew raced to a 76-56 trouncing over Bethany College in a home game which put coach Cade Suran’s FHS record at the 200-win mark. Larson led the Tiger scoring attack hitting for 19 points while Townsend turned in another fine floor game.
FHS–Pittsburg State

Fighting hard to overcome a 33-24 halftime deficit at Pittsburg, the Tigers came to within five points of their mark as the Gorillas managed to outlast the FHS team 66-61, to hand the Tigers their first league loss. Lyle Wingate was missing from the FHS lineup following an emergency operation earlier in the week.

FHS–Emporia State

The Coliseum jinx failed to impress the league-leading Hornets as they drubbed the Tigers 79-59 to hand the FHS crew its second straight loss in league play. A rough man-to-man defense held the Bengals to 22 points the first half as the Hornets jumped to a 37-22 halftime lead. Daugherty was high for the Tigers with 17.

FHS–Kansas Wesleyan

Anderson and Larson with 15 points each, led the Suranmen to a 71-62 decision over Kansas Wesleyan at Salina in a non-league game to break a two-game losing streak. Jim Bodge and Bill Townsend contributed a fine performance from the floor to pace the win.

FHS–St. Benedict's

The Ravens of St. Benedicts fell victim of the Coliseum jinx as the Tigers outran the visitors for a 65-61 win. Again Larson led the pack with 17. The win moved the Tiger mark to 2-2 in league play.

FHS–Washburn

A red-hot Ichabod five roared back the second half to drop FHS 79-73 at Washburn as the Ichabods connected with better than 56 per cent from the field.
FHS–Kansas City University

Freshman guard, Sam McDowell, potted 24 points to lead the Bengals to a 102-77 shellacking over Kansas City University at K.C. in non-conference action for the Tigers' ninth win in 14 starts.

FHS–Washburn University

Avenging an earlier setback, the Bengals dropped Washburn 85-73 at the Coliseum as Larson ripped the nets for 27 points to lead the barrage. Ten counters from the charity stripe in the final minutes proved the difference for the Tigers.

FHS–Omaha University

Pulling the upset of the season in CIC play, the Omaha Indians raced to a 32-27 halftime lead and managed to overcome second-half Tiger leads to win a 69-65 decision over a stunned FHS crew. The victory was the first league win for the Indians in two years. McDowell paced FHS scoring with 18.
FHS—St. Benedict’s

Hoping to stay in contention for a second place running, the Tigers fell victims of a red hot St. Benedict’s five by an 83-77 count at Atchison. The Bengals trailed 39-31 at the midway mark and were unable to overcome the deficit after coming to within four points of the Ravens in the final minutes. McDowell led Tiger efforts with 19. The loss was the second suffered on the road trip with Omaha upsetting the FHS cagers the night before at Omaha.

FHS—Pittsburg

Fighting off a second-half Pittsburg rally, the Tigers avenged an early season loss to the Gorillas by dropping the visitors 79-74 at the Coliseum. The Bengals raced to a 48-32 halftime advantage with the Gorillas opening up in the second frame to narrow the margin to three points several times before the Tigers widened the margin to five points in the closing seconds. Wingate, playing his final home game, led FHS scoring with 22 and was followed by McDowell with 20.

FHS—Emporia State

Hoping to end the season with a 5-5 mark, the Tigers saw their hopes shattered by league champs Emporia State 85-63 in the season’s finale at Emporia. Intermission found the FHS crew trailing by only three points, 34-31. In the second half, however, the Hornets were in complete control of the boards with the Tigers being outgunned by 14 points. Larson paced the Suranmen with 23.
FHS Junior Varsity Cagers

Fort Hays State's jay-vee crew failed to break even in the win-loss column and wound up the season with the record standing 4-7.

Coached by graduate assistant Merle Harris, the young ball club dropped contests to Pratt Junior College, Kearney State's "B" team, Hutchinson Junior College, with Emporia State and Pratt Ju-co winning two from the junior Tigers.

The Bengals' wins were over the Kansas Wesleyan "B" team and the Colby town team which dropped three games to the FHS team.

Tiger Gymnasts Look Forward to Next Season

Tiger Gymnasts competed in five major meets this season, meeting such opponents as Kansas State University, Kansas University, Nebraska University and Colorado State University.

Only two lettermen returned to coach Ed McNeil's squad as the season proved to be a definite building year in the sport.
Tiger Grapplers Take AAU Tourney for Best Season on Record

With only two regulars returning to the mats this season, Tiger wrestlers, under the coaching of Dr. Walter Kroll, compiled the best showing in the history of the sport at Fort Hays State.

The Tigers walked away with top honors at the Missouri Valley AAU Meet at Kansas City with one of the strongest performances ever made by Fort Hays State wrestlers.

The 1960-61 squad also compiled the best dual record on the books by posting a 5-3-2 record while taking a third place finish at the Lamar Invitational in the season's opening encounter.
Bill Soter and Gerald Paxton, lettermen grapplers, were top performers for the FHS crew this season.

Gary Harding filled the 137-pound class with a showing which ranked him among the team’s top winners.

Del Erickson, 167-pounder, returned to earn his second letter under Coach Kroll.

Men's Intramurals Competition Is High

With competition offered in nearly every individual and team sport, the Fort Hays State men's intramural program provides all men an opportunity to participate in the sport or sports of his choice. A full schedule of competitive events ranges from horseshoes to highly competitive football and basketball play.

This season found basketball at the peak of interest with 36 teams organizing to battle for the championship.

Under the supervision and direction of coach Alex Francis, the men's intramural program continues to grow with interest and competition at a new high this year.

Although not playing varsity competition, this grid team plans equally important strategy during a time-out.

Women's Intramurals

The general aims of the physical education department and women's intramural program at Fort Hays State are to stimulate interest in sports and to provide an opportunity for participation in wholesome recreational activities.

As an example of the success of the FHS program, participation in women's intramural activities increased to a new high this year.

Varied sports make up the intramural agenda including softball, speed-a-way, bowling, shuffleboard, square dancing, badminton, basketball, swimming, volleyball, table tennis, archery, golf and tennis.

A definite increase in participation has been made in bowling, shuffleboard, volleyball and swimming the past several years, with the intramural program continuing to grow to meet the recreational needs of Fort Hays State women.

Bowling Champs

In totaling the score, Pat Maddy finds her team on top in intramural competition. Seated: Pat Maddy and Sue Hinz. Standing: Alita Wells, Faith Givens and intramural high bowler, Karen Murray.

The top intramural attraction this year was bowling, with 155 women participating. Interest in bowling as a team sport has grown immensely in the past five years. Twenty-six women participated in 1956, and 155 in 1960.

Anticipation of graduation comes to the senior only after four preceding years of intensive planning, working and hoping. Each individual attended college with an aim in mind and the realization of a goal attained is a prize in itself, over and above the many wonderful experiences. His memories of events high-lighting his four years—the plays, lectures, parties, assemblies and games, are, and always will be, incomparable and unforgettable. And, in the course of events, the senior year must also end, as all good things do, and there are rows and rows of cap and gown-clad graduates walking down the aisle into the future and a new way of life.

Class of '61

Anticipating the future are the Senior Class officers, Bill McAdoo, president, Carolyn Wanker, secretary-treasurer and Bob George, vice president.

Declaration of a major is one important step for a junior. In this he determines his possible life's work and sets up as his goal a degree in his major field. A more polished, confident and learned student faces his studies with a clear aim in mind and works to satisfy an end; the achievement of a higher education. With the voice of confidence and experience, he offers advice to the freshmen and sophomores, then follows in the footsteps of the seniors.

Junior class officers: Marilyn McClellen, sec-treas.; Richard Packard, vice pres.; and Preston McLeod, pres., discuss several points they plan to bring up at the next student council meeting.

Juniors
CLASS OF '63

Classified sophomores began their year with proficiency tests, and, being more familiar with college life, began planning the best way to accomplish their goals. As a second-year student, a sophomore has more opportunities to hold offices in the organizations to which he belongs and may acquire an avid interest in particular courses; an interest that may lead to his choice of a major. A sophomore has learned to make the most of his time and how to use it to his best advantage. He is well on his way to attaining his goal.

Planning the strategy for the annual freshman-sophomore tug-of-war, lies in the hands of the sophomore class officers, pres. Patrick Dale, sec-treas., Marcelyn Stevenson and vice pres. Larry Ehrlich.

Hesitant and wide-eyed freshman students, perhaps recognized by their traditional beanies, are the most easily distinguished on campus, but they will have gained some of the most fruitful experiences of their entire four years by the close of their freshman year. With entrance exams, New Student Week, rush, acquaintance of new organizations as well as new friends and the biggest share of required courses behind the ear, they will have been initiated quite well for their second and future years of college.

Miss Agnew joined the faculty in 1910 as teacher of home economics. She was appointed dean of women in 1919 and served in that position until her retirement in 1943.

On suggestion of President M. C. Cunningham, the Board of Regents voted in 1955 to name the then new women's dormitory in her honor.
In Appreciation...

As the last pages are securely wrapped and shipped to the publishing company in Dallas, the editors are able to say those three long-awaited words, FINISHED AT LAST. It is the hope of the editors that the 1961 Reveille will always be remembered and kept among the students’ most cherished possessions.

A yearbook cannot possibly be produced by the editors alone and there are many people who have offered their time and talents in compiling this record of the years' activities.

To Mrs. Rogers, better known as "Mrs. R" to the staff, who takes the time to sponsor the Reveille, we say thanks, although we realize this hardly repays her for all that she has done. Only through her guidance, patience and understanding was the staff able to produce the Reveille.

Along with the sponsor, gratitude must be expressed to the members of the staff. They worked endless hours each day striving to meet their deadlines and trying to make this book one of which they will be proud.

We would like to thank the yearbook photographers and their sponsor, Jack Backer; Guercio's Studio, who handled our special pictures and Delma Studios who took the class pictures. Special thanks goes to the Memorial Union, who at the last minute, provided space for the Delma photographer as well as for numerous organization pictures.

The staff is indebted to LaDene Votruba who provided special art work for our book. Our thanks also goes to Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas and their representative, Paul McClellan, who played a big part in producing our yearbook.

Perhaps most of all, we owe thanks to the students and faculty, who cooperated with the staff in providing free models and symbols and took time to pose for pictures which helped to portray our story of a year at Fort Hays State.
