THE REVEILLE

salutes the centennial

of the city of Hays

Design: The Corinthian pillar is designed similarly to those of Picken Hall, oldest building on the Fort Hays State campus. At its base stands a symbol of the block house which still can be found on the site of old Fort Hays. Encircling the pillar, strands of grain represent the contribution of early Russian immigrants, who helped boost the agricultural growth of Western Kansas by bringing Turkey Red wheat to the state from their native land.

Agriculture has been a source of livelihood for Hays citizens and other Kansans since early days in the state. Farming methods have changed, but the beauty of a field bearing a plentiful crop still holds the same uniqueness.

Foreword — Hays Marks Century of Progress

Set in the fertile, petroleum-rich prairies of Western Kansas, Hays today is a bustling city of more than 13,000 people. Here stand one of the world’s largest dry-land experiment stations, two of the finest hospitals in Kansas and Fort Hays State, the only state college in Western Kansas.

Into the building of these accomplishments has gone a century of sweat and planning. It was 100 years ago, in 1867, that the city was founded.

But the city’s heritage reaches back even further to old Fort Hays, founded first as Fort Fletcher in 1865. There such men as Buffalo Bill Cody, Gen. George Custer and his Seventh Cavalry regiment, and Wild Bill Hickok, who later became Hays’ first marshall, were stationed at various times.

Today’s television Westerns have glorified and made legendary the type of life which characterized the history of the fort’s operation and the early years of Hays. Buffalo herds roamed the plains, and a man’s life was as good as his draw.

But gradually lawlessness disappeared, and in its place appeared the culture which is today ingrained into the life of the community. Dramatic clubs, literary societies, church groups and political parties found their way into Hays society.

In 1902 Fort Hays Normal School, forerunner of Fort Hays State, became a part of Hays’ story. From meager beginnings—34 students attending classes in the old fort hospital—has grown a vigorous liberal arts college which enrolls nearly 5,000 students and employs more than 250 faculty members.

Prospects for the future promise continued progress and expansion. And so the city and its college look forward to the challenge generated by this promise—a challenge filled with broad horizons, limited only by the genius of coming generations.
Laying the stone base, former student Pete Felten finishes work on an 18-ton limestone buffalo, located at the site of old Fort Hays.

At the north entrance to Hays, a view above the underpass of Interstate 70 reveals the recent expansion of the city northward.

Symbolic of learning, Picken Hall’s pillars stand as a distinguishing mark of the college.

Rich Heritage Distinguishes Western Kansas

Western Kansas is on the march educationally, culturally, socially and economically. Historical wagon trails, old forts, cattle towns, protected herds of buffalo, vast hunting areas, fleets of combines, plains that stretch for miles—all contribute to the distinctive heritage of the region.

Agriculture has become a way of life for the people of Western Kansas. It plays an important part in the economic well-being of the state.

With the stimulation of improved varieties of grain and other crops, farm yields have increased tremendously. Even though the government-administered allotment program has reduced acreage, the growing annual production of wheat has captured for Kansas the reputation of “The Wheat State.”

Western Kansas contributes to the state’s cattle market, fourth largest in the nation, and has helped place Kansas high in oil production.

Petroleum has played a significant role in the growth of Fort Hays State. In 1929 the Kansas Board of Regents authorized the leasing of state lands to drill for gas and oil. From the income received came the funds to finance the construction of the first unit of a men’s residence hall on campus.
Hunting has become a favorite sport in Western Kansas. Each year during the various hunting seasons, Kansas sportsmen and many out-of-state hunters take to the fields to try their luck.

Towering elevators handle millions of bushels of Western Kansas grain. Beef production also constitutes a profitable area industry.
New skyline structure in Hays is the Bell Telephone building.

Reminiscent of the city's heritage, the guard house building of old Fort Hays remains standing. The fort being a tourist attraction, current plans call for the structure to be remodeled into a museum.
Enterprises Spur Hays
To Prosperity, Growth

With the stimulation of retailing, medical facilities, farming pursuits and the cultural contributions of the college, Hays moves ahead.

Patients from a 21-county area are referred to Hays—“The Rehabilitation Capital of Kansas.” Hadley Rehabilitation Center boasts of being the first of its kind to be located in Kansas and the first in the nation to be established in a rural area.

An act in 1900 granted land to the state for the establishment of the experiment station, Fort Hays Normal School and a public park. Each year approximately 10,000 visitors tour the station, a branch of Kansas State University since 1902.

In keeping with the holiday season, downtown Hays comes to life with sparkling Christmas lights and decorations.
Fort Hays State Grows Out of Pioneer's Dream

To many, the idea of a school of higher education in Western Kansas seemed infeasible, but a few pioneers worked to fulfill the goal. Such was the dream of Martin Allen. But almost 30 years elapsed from the time when Allen first recommended the plan until the opening day of classes in 1902.

His foresight proved fruitful, for FHS has continued to grow. This year library facilities were transferred from the old building to a $1,500,000, three-level structure, which tripled space.

With enrollment expected to near 7,000 by 1970, plans have been completed for an adequate power plant, and construction on a new men's residence hall adjacent to Wiest Hall will begin soon.

Zest for fun pervades college life. A tug of war defeat at Homecoming will remain just as memorable as a victory.

Continually before collegians lies the challenge of broadening their knowledge and sharpening their capabilities.

During the growing season ivy adds to the beauty of Picken Hall, first permanent campus building, built in 1903.

Zest for fun pervades college life. A tug of war defeat at Homecoming will remain just as memorable as a victory.
Largest and newest of the five Fort Hays State residence halls, McMrides Hall accommodates more than 600 women.

Expansion of the college moves ahead, and the most recent sign of growth is the newly completed library building.

Top of the knee skirts, long hair, Sting Rays and the Animals distinguish present students' tastes from their predecessors'.

But the ever-broadening vistas yet ominous implications characteristic of the Atomic Age have prompted a more deep-seated difference. Despite the era's intensified demands for academic and cultural adeptness, collegians still enjoy the delighted squeal of a Homecoming Queen, the excitement of athletics or a bull session with friends.

This blending of fun with the tension of a fast-moving world provides the framework for another chapter in student life.
Even during enrollment before fee-payment time, occasional requests for money from enrollees arise.

Enrollment Jump Misses Prediction

Falling short of the projected 5,200 enrollment, 4,962 collegians poured onto campus to register in early September.

This total, however, represented an increase of 184 students over 1965 and an all-time record enrollment. Only the freshman class showed a decrease over 1965. Sophomore, junior, senior and graduate classes all recorded substantial gains.

New students were kept zipping from one place to another by the usual enrollment procedures and orientation activities.

College officials outlined rules at separate meetings for men and women. Get-acquainted sessions at residence halls familiarized students with their new homes.

Campus organizations made their pitches for new members at the activities merry-go-round, and churches sponsored suppers. The Tiger Hop and personal greetings from President and Mrs. M. C. Cunningham at their open house also helped break the ice.

Students are called into the Sheridan Coliseum arena, and enrollment procedures grind out methodically. Upperclassmen and graduate students registered on the first two days of enrollment, and freshmen enrolled on the final day.
In keeping with Fort Hays State's reputation as the friendly college, President and Mrs. M. C. Cunningham meet and welcome new students at their open house. Students also toured the president's home and received refreshments.

Even Dad shares in the activity as the process of moving in gets under way at Wiest Hall. Students checked into the five residence halls on the first day of enrollment, and the halls sponsored get-acquainted sessions the next day.
Registering in the Union, Moms and Dads arrive for Parents Day.

In the voting booths in Memorial Union, students indicate their preferences.

At the first pep rally of the year, football players are introduced.

At a fraternity smoker, sorority women clown out a comedy skit. All fraternities invited potential pledges to smokers in September and October to acquaint them with Greek life and to try to interest them in Greek organizations.
Fall Carries Variety Of Campus Activities

Balmy fall days arrived, and a variety of September and October activities occupied students.

College Appreciation Days, held for the first time, garnered $3,000 for the Fort Hays State Endowment Fund and promoted good will between the city and the college.

In elections collegians chose a Homecoming Queen from five finalists, freshman class officers, and Student Council representatives for graduate students, foreign students and residence halls.

Invited to the campus for a day of visiting with sons and daughters, parents attended special activities, toured the campus and watched Fort Hays State defeat Colorado State College in football.

At the annual Retreat, held at Camp Pecusa near Stockton, student-faculty problems were discussed.
Naomi Sheets  Homecoming Queen
AKL Candidate Wins 1966 Queen Honors

Sponsored by Alpha Kappa Lambda, black-haired, brown-eyed Naomi Sheets reigned as Homecoming Queen. A senior from Las Vegas, Nev., majoring in math, Miss Sheets was nominated frequently for campus queen titles before becoming Homecoming Queen.

Miss Sheets, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, was chosen by student vote from a field of five finalists selected from 17 candidates.

Robed by Dr. Richard Burnett at the bonfire, she was crowned by President M. C. Cunningham at halftime of the FHS-Washburn football game. The student body vice-president escorted the queen to the field, and the student body president presented her with a bouquet of roses from the students.

As queen, Miss Sheets reigned over the tug of war, parade and football game. She was interviewed by KAYS studios. Her attendants were Judi Sipe, Pam Engleman, Judy Marcotte and Phyllis Weigel.
Fighting the cold, Naomi Sheets represses a shiver before hearing the announcement that she is Homecoming Queen.

With low-hanging clouds threatening and icy winds blowing, students brave the weather to attend bonfire activities.

Purchasing a mum in Memorial Union during registration, an alumnus treats his daughter to a Homecoming corsage.
After gaining an early advantage, the sophomore tug of war team loses ground to the determined freshmen.

Capturing sweepstakes honors, Alpha Kappa Lambda’s float, “Bounty-ful Victory” keeps with the parade theme of “Great Books.”

Bad Weather Ebbs; Homecoming Crisp, Clear

Coach Wayne McConnell maps strategy on the sidelines. The Tigers downed Washburn 7-0 in the Homecoming tilt.

Cloudy, windy weather at the bonfire threatened to destroy the festive atmosphere of Homecoming, but the occasion dawned sunny, crisp and clear.

During the longest tug of war in history, the freshman team managed to pull their sophomore opponents into Big Creek. The battle lasted 3 minutes and 52 seconds. Early in the contest the freshmen found themselves in a precarious position at the edge of the creek but held on for the victory.

After the freshman-sophomore battle, 22 bands and 21 floats paraded down Main Street past rows of spectators. Alpha Kappa Lambda’s float, “Bounty-ful Victory,” captured sweepstakes honors.

First place in men’s competition was awarded to Sigma Phi Epsilon, and second place went to Delta Sigma Phi. Sigma Sigma Sigma and McMinides Hall won first and second places, respectively, in the women’s division. Newman Club garnered first place honors in open competition.

Don Lakin, track and cross country star while a student at the college, was awarded the Busch Gross Award as outstanding athlete in 1965-66.
Voicing his exasperations concerning "the system," Emile leads Mlle. DuVant to believe mistakenly that he is making advances. Scenes moved swiftly in the comedy, which drew large audiences at each of the three performances.
Emile moves to the front of the stage to explain the dilemma he has encountered in trying to enter "the system."

With the new baby capturing their admiration, Berthoulet, Lucie and Joseph pay a visit to Emile and his wife.

'The Egg' Launches Little Theatre Season

With an 18-member cast playing 32 roles, "The Egg" by Felicien Marceau launched the year's Little Theatre presentations. A large production staff was pressed into operation to aid with special lighting and sound effects and with numerous costume changes.

Employing rotating props in order to present the 19 different scenes, the saucy French comedy was concerned with man's use of the double standard, particularly in regard to sexual existence.

Cast in the lead role of Emile, Ken Bauer played a young man who appeared weak and innocent at first but whose character and reasoning changed with his experiences. Perry Schwartz directed the play.
Drawing a dynamic sound from his singers, Norman Luboff displays his directing ability. Performing before a full house in Sheridan Coliseum, the singers were backed by a piano, guitar, accordion and percussion instruments.

Comedian Nipsey Russell draws bursts of laughter with a routine of modern dances.

Cheers go up from the audience at Nipsey Russell's antics as he leaps to the stage wearing an FHS sweat shirt after being introduced by Belafonte.
Crowds Fill Coliseum For Belafonte, Luboff

Singer Harry Belafonte and the Norman Luboff Choir highlighted fall Artists and Lectures Series presentations. Capacity crowds poured into Sheridan Coliseum to see the recording artists perform.

Belafonte entertained with ballads, calypso, popular and protest numbers. Allowing the orchestra and audience to join him in the final number, Belafonte drew a standing ovation from the crowd.

Comedian Nipsey Russell and Greek songstress Nana Mouskouri accompanied Belafonte on his tour. With comic routines and demonstrations of popular dances, Russell delighted the audience. Miss Mouskouri performed songs in English, French and Greek.

With Norman Luboff directing, the choir combined classical and popular music in their program. Instrumentalists added variety to the selections.

Shifting from light comedy to more serious moods, Harry Belafonte demonstrates the style which won him stardom.
Percussion artist Derryl Goes joins Fort Hays State musicians in a number at the annual Varsity Band Show.

With the Varsity Band providing back-up music, trumpeter Earl Blauer adds swing to the evening’s offerings.

Percussion Artist Is Band Show Highlight

Derryl Goes, professional percussion artist, percussion instructor at Colorado State College and a 1956 graduate of FHS, highlighted the annual Fort Hays State College Varsity Band Show.

Directed by Lyle Dilley, the band presented a variety of numbers, which ranged from a Giovannini overture to Cole Porter’s “Begin the Beguine” and several selections by Count Basie.

Other features included music by the Jazz Ensemble and performances by a guest trumpet soloist and four student trombonists. Proceeds from the program went to the college scholarship fund.
About 100 Participate In Rush Week Events

Attending a series of teas and preferential parties, women interested in sorority life took part in Rush Week activities. Membership invitations to prospective pledges climaxed the week.

Approximately 100 women signed intention forms to participate in rush. Rushees were required to have a minimum grade average of 1.0, attend each sorority tea and observe quiet time during designated hours on the day before sororities sent bids.

With a maximum quota of 55 members, each sorority bade only the number of rushees which it needed to bring its chapter to full membership.

Exaggeration of the "I've Got a Secret" show provides the theme for a Delta Zeta skit at a party during rush.

Playing the role of the small girl Eloise, a Sigma Kappa woman introduces her pet at the sorority’s rush party.
Shortly after her crowning Janet Barnett receives congratulations from Jack Johnson and student council members.

In a holiday setting Janet Barnett and Jack Johnson reign as king and queen at the college's first Snowball dance.

Snowball Introduced
By Women's Group

Sponsored by Associated Women Students, the first Snowball dance on campus featured a Winter Wonderland theme. The semi-formal affair provided an all-campus dance during the Christmas season. Music for the event was presented by the Showmen.

Students attending the ball chose royalty from candidates sponsored by residence halls, sororities and fraternities. Janet Barnett won the Snowball Queen title, and Jack Johnson was Snowball King. Miss Barnett was nominated by Delta Sigma Phi, and Johnson was the McMindes Hall candidate.
Second on the list of scheduled Little Theatre productions was “Antigone,” a contemporary version of a Greek myth. The play depicted the attempts of the young girl Antigone to bury her dead brother even though she faced death for doing so.

Though the drama came under the classification of tragedy, it had touches of humor. Perry Schwartz directed the play.

In a tense scene Creon attempts to convince Antigone not to bury the body of her dead brother.

Narrating the action of the play, Doug Teel relates to the audience the movement and messages involved in the story of Antigone.
with the arrival of the holiday season, a variety of activities heralded Christmas traditions.
Faculty and students attended the annual Madrigal Dinner, which depicted 16th-century England. Both floors of Memorial Union were utilized for the banquet and the evening’s entertainment.
Christmas Vespers, presented by the Collegian Chorale and the Glee Clubs, featured a Bach cantata and a number composed by a faculty member.
On Memorial Union Christmas Day, faculty members served free coffee to students. President and Mrs. Cunningham received the customary Christmas tree bearing cards from campus organizations.
Preparing to entertain guests at the annual Madrigal Dinner, court dancers greet their partners. Costumes, decorations and entertainment in the 16th-century tradition added early English flavor to the atmosphere at the banquet.
Tests Bring Tension; Enrollment Revised

Six days of final examinations brought the customary anxiety, tension, exhaustion and relief. Then came a blissful, study-free semester break.

Most students left the campus to pursue a variety of ventures—relaxing at home, skiing in Colorado, visiting friends. Some, however, remained on campus to earn some extra money, meet a Reveille deadline or enjoy the offerings of the city of Hays.

Spring enrollment was conducted under a new procedure. Students classified as seniors during the fall semester were allowed to enroll first.

Capping a semester of study and preparation, collegians brave the nerve-racking atmosphere of final examinations.
An exuberant friend rushes forward to congratulate Ronda Chappel, who has just been crowned Sweetheart Queen.

Chosen during the dance, Ronda Chappel and Charles Myers reign as king and queen of the annual Sweetheart Ball.

Royalty Hits Spotlight
In February, March

Campus royalty dominated the FHS spotlight during the months of February and March.
Chosen by those attending the Sweetheart Ball, Sweetheart King and Queen were sponsored by McGrath Hall and McMindes Hall, respectively.
Ending the tradition of the Reveille Ball, the yearbook staff revealed the Reveille Queen at halftime of the final basketball game.
By winning a contest backed by the Union in conjunction with Glamour Magazine, Best-Dressed Girl on Campus qualified for national competition.
At the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, McMindes Hall's candidate was named Daisy Mae, and McGrath Hall's choice captured Bearded Joe honors.

New Method Decides
1967 Reveille Queen

Chosen by a new procedure, Nancy Ann Ward, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi, reigned as Reveille Queen. Active in campus organizations, Miss Ward was Alpha Lambda Delta president, Panhellenic Council treasurer and a member of All-Student Council. She was also a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and served on the executive council of Nurses’ Club.

An A-minus student, Miss Ward was Best-Dressed Girl on Campus for 1965-66. As talents, she listed singing, dancing and interpretive reading.

Naming five finalists, a five-member faculty panel interviewed 15 original candidates. The panel chose the finalists on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, activities, honors, talents and academic standing. The United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., selected the queen from photographs on the basis of beauty alone.

Formerly, selection of the Reveille Queen had been done entirely from photographs by a well-known personality. The queen was announced at halftime of the final basketball game of the season.

Drawing both applause and heckling, George Rockwell presents his views to the campus audience. Much controversy in area newspapers and on campus preceded the speech by the self-proclaimed leader of the American Nazi Party.
Reasoner, Pianists, Rockwell Appear in Spring

Performing on twin pianos, Ferrante and Teicher entertain with numbers from their seven gold-award albums.

Highlighting personalities appearing on campus in the spring semester, newsman Harry Reasoner, duet-pianists Ferrante and Teicher, and controversial George Lincoln Rockwell drew large crowds.

As featured speaker for the annual Wooster Fund Dinner, Reasoner presented views on “Citizenship, Cynicism and Computers.” The roving correspondent for CBS news also addressed an assembly on the meaning of the 1966 national elections.

Billed as America’s leading two-piano team, Ferrante and Teicher performed before a full house in Sheridan Coliseum. They played numbers from their albums and entertained with comic routines.

Despite protests from students and area organizations, All-Student Council brought Rockwell, self-appointed leader of the American Nazi Party, to campus. Received with resignation, Rockwell was allowed to present his views to interested persons.
Campaign banners supporting the Chipman-Baxter ticket urge students to vote. More than 1,000 collegians voted.

Casting their ballots, students select a student body president and vice-president and also elect new class officers.

Top Election Contests
Won by Independents

Drawing nearly twice as many votes as his Democratic-Justice opponent, independent candidate Clark Chipman swept to victory in the race for the student body presidency. Randy Baxter, Chipman’s running mate for vice-president, garnered the most votes given any candidate to gain a victory.

Advocating “the removal of paternalism and provincialism from FHS,” the two men expressed concern with what they believed to be student apathy and advocated removing, or at least revising, regulations on housing codes. They also expressed opposition to the existence of the college dress code.
Greeks Nab Spotlight During Week of Fun

Climaxing annual Greek Week activities, sororities and fraternities met in the park for a noon luncheon, an afternoon of games and an all-Greek dance. Points were awarded to winners of the various contests, and the high-point team received a trophy.

During the week women from the four campus sororities planned displays for downtown store windows. Displays of blazers, trophies and Greek symbols were arranged. Beginning with a dress-up day for all Greeks, the week inspired fun, fellowship and friendly competition with a variety of individual activities.

Placed on the block, Miss Jean Stouffer, dean of women, is sold to the highest bidder. The faculty slave auction netted about $25 for the Furlough Committee, which was responsible for determining the use of the funds.

Nearing the finish of the grueling bicycle race, a Furlough rider receives the flag which signals the final lap.

Furlough Queen Reigns Over Numerous Events

Crowned at halftime of the intrasquad football game, Janet Thurlow reigned as queen during the Fort Hays Furlough. In the football contest, the White squad defeated the Black team 14-0.

For the third time in four years, Women’s Recreation Assn. won the women’s 10-mile bicycle race with a time of 39:45.2. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes took top honors in the men’s 20-mile race, covering the course in 1:05:26.

Volunteering to work, faculty members were put up for bids at a slave auction. Held concurrently with the slave auction, an auto smash allowed participants to take a swing at an old automobile. A booth carnival in Sheridan Coliseum closed activities.

Money garnered by the events at the affair were presented to the Furlough Committee, which determined in what areas it was to be utilized.
After her coronation, Furlough Queen Janet Thurlow is escorted to her car to reign over the intrasquad game.

As part of her Furlough duties, Janet Thurlow presents trophies to the winners of the bicycle race competition.

Rain Dampens Rodeo, But Not FHS Spirits

Cool, rainy weather dampened the second annual Fort Hays State Intercollegiate Rodeo, but the spirits of Rodeo Club remained unaffected as FHS took top honors in the two-night affair. With the aid of four first places, the Fort Hays State cowboys and cowgirls defeated six other clubs from colleges and universities located in Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

FHS riders won honors for all-around cowboy and a tie for the women's all-around title. The Rodeo Queen was announced on the first night.

Held at the new arena on the college farm, the rodeo included numerous events. Men competed in calf roping, steer wrestling and in saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding. Women competitors participated in goat tying and in barrel and ribbon racing.

Selected from a field of five candidates by a panel of persons from the city, Sondre Hutchins is Rodeo Queen.
Bursting from the chute, a bareback rider begins his fight to stay atop his animal. Despite rain and cool winds, the second annual Fort Hays State Rodeo drew a total of approximately 2,800 spectators in its two-night run.

Range of Entertainment Closes Theatre Season

Production of an opera, a Tennessee Williams drama and two one-act plays wound up Little Theatre activities. Gian Carlo Menotti's comic opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball" was a cooperative effort of both Little Theatre and the music division.

Williams' play "Orpheus Descending" dealt with man's search for freedom in a decaying society which devours the individual who attempts to be free. Man's failure to communicate was examined by both the one-act plays—Edward Albee's "The Zoo Story" and Eugene Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano."

Although he is an innocent victim of circumstance, Amelia's lover is arrested for the murder of her husband.
Forming a trio of beauty, Miss Hays for 1967 poses with Deborah Bryant and Pat Spomer, the 1966 Miss Hays.

Adding the title of Miss Hays to her list of achievements, Judy Anderson smiles broadly after her coronation.

FHS Coed Wins Title
In Miss Hays Pageant

With Deborah Bryant, Miss America 1966, serving as mistress of ceremonies, Judy Anderson, Fort Hays State senior, captured the title of Miss Hays for 1967. Miss Anderson won the title over 10 other candidates. Performing a modern dance routine, Miss Anderson scored in talent competition. She also snared first place in the swimsuit division.

As Miss Hays, Miss Anderson won the right to represent the city in the Miss Kansas pageant in Pratt and to make appearances at the Hays centennial celebration and at area pageants. Her awards included a $250 scholarship and a $100 wardrobe.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity sponsored Miss Anderson. Other FHS coeds captured runner-up positions and the title of Miss Congeniality.
Leader Lass Chosen
By Men Students Only

Vying against nine other coeds, Linda Depperschmidt snared Leader Lass of the Year honors. Men students chose Miss Depperschmidt from the Lasses of the Month selected by the newspaper staff for feature spots in the State College Leader.

Allowing only the male segment of the student enrollment to vote in the annual contest was an innovation. Formerly, Leader staffers had opened the voting to all Fort Hays State collegians. In addition to Leader Lass of the Year, two runners-up were named to be featured in the Reveille.
Climaxing four years of study, the magic moment arrives as the registrar of the college presents the diplomas.

As shadows fell over the stadium, Dr. Orlo Choguill delivers his Baccalaureate address—"Not by Bread Alone."

Weather Conditions Drive Commencement Inside

Ominous weather conditions forced Commencement exercises to be held in Sheridan Coliseum rather than in Lewis Field Stadium. Prior to Commencement, the 585 degree candidates were fitted for caps and gowns, put through a rehearsal, congratulated by President M. C. Cunningham and members of the faculty at a reception, and treated to a luncheon.

Dr. Orlo Choguill spoke at Baccalaureate, and Kansas Gov. Robert Docking delivered the Commencement address. Nineteen seniors graduated with distinction. Alumni Achievement Award recipients were Glenn C. Archer, retired International Harvester Co. executive, and Dr. Maurice Faulkner, professor of music at the University of California.

Kansas Gov. Robert Docking urges graduates "to participate in life with the weapons of courage and truth."
Happiness is the anticipation of a diploma for the 585 degree candidates. The 19 seniors graduated with distinction were selected from those students who compiled at least a 2.6 grade average for four years of college.
Academics

When Jennie A. Ward enrolled as the first student at Fort Hays Normal School in 1902, little did she realize that the institution was destined to establish itself as one of the leading Kansas colleges.

Through the years FHS scholars have won such top awards as Woodrow Wilson and Phi Kappa Phi Fellowships. Faculty members, too, have distinguished themselves.

In its statement of objectives, the college pledges to pursue the scholastic challenge "to provide the opportunities for students to prepare themselves for constructive and responsible living in a democratic society."
President Lends Help To Promotional Affair

Pledging full cooperation with city personnel, President M. C. Cunningham and Fort Hays State officials backed College Appreciation Days.

Held for the first time, the project represented an attempt to promote better understanding between Hays businessmen and the college. Donations by merchants netted nearly $3,000 for the Endowment Assn.'s scholarship, loan and awards program.

In his 18th year as head of FHS, Dr. Cunningham saw construction completed on the new library.
Strolling across the grounds of the college which he has headed for 18 years, Dr. M. C. Cunningham surveys the campus. Since he came to Fort Hays State in 1949, enrollment has skyrocketed from about 1,000 to nearly 5,000.
Constructed in 1915, Sheridan Coliseum houses the offices of the president, the dean of the faculty, the registrar and the comptroller. History, health, physical education and recreation activities also center in the building.

New Position Created
In Administrative Staff

Dr. Bill Jellison, dean of men since 1960, moved into the newly created position of dean of students. Hired to fill the position of associate dean of students for men, Michael Stewart joined the administration. Miss Jean Stouffer received the new title of associate dean of students for women.

Administrative re-organization placed housing, counseling, health service and Memorial Union activities under the direction of Dr. Jellison.

After devoting 30 years as director of field services, Hugh Burnett died in December, 1966.
Board of Regents Says Okay to Wiest Addition

With the unit tentatively scheduled for completion in 1968, the Kansas Board of Regents gave approval to sell revenue bonds to finance the first of two seven-story additions to Wiest Hall. The board also requested $350,000 from the state legislature for the remodeling of the old library building.

Influenced by a marked drop in enrollments below the projected count, the board whittled funds from the educational and general operating budget requests of five of the six state colleges and universities. FHS was among those receiving budget cuts.

 Newly elected, Gov. Robert Docking recommended faculty pay raises and a 10 per cent boost in 1968 budgets of state colleges and universities.

Firemen fight a losing battle as flames demolish the art annex. In an attempt to aid in replenishing losses incurred by the blaze, students and faculty members conducted an art sale. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Fire Destroys Annex; Art Treasures Burn

Fire took its toll in the applied arts division. Flames consumed the art annex, destroying equipment and art work of students and faculty. Also in art, two FHS instructors placed works in the Ambassadors Show, which travels to foreign embassies.

Expansion of the electronics area was the main innovation in the field of industrial arts. A full-time instructor was employed for students working in that area of study. New industrial arts equipment, worth more than $5,000, was purchased.

Effort Made to Update Agriculture Program

Plans for the modernization of the curriculum in agriculture concerned faculty members teaching in that area. Efforts were made to establish closer liaison with Kansas State University.

Grants from the National Science Foundation and the Bureau of Reclamation were awarded to the division. Several biological science instructors published articles in various periodicals.

Among the physical improvements introduced to facilities in Albertson Hall were a new growth chamber and an artificial population sampler.

Economics, Business
Marketing Curriculum Receives Green Light

Upon final Senate approval in the fall, a full curriculum in the area of marketing was adopted in the economics and business division. With the adoption of the new program, students gained the opportunity to earn a bachelor’s degree in economics and business with emphasis in marketing.

Large classes in elementary accounting made it necessary to depend more on graduate assistants and to increase use of visual equipment. A course dealing with economic development of underdeveloped countries was among those added to the expanding curricula encompassed by the division.

Plans for New Facility Hit Preliminary Stages

Preliminary planning stages for the construction of a new health, physical education and recreation facility got under way during the year.

Strengthened offerings in the area of health were the main curricular additions. More stress was placed on modern dance. A dance specialist joined the staff. Under her direction several dance workshops and concerts were conducted. A new women’s fencing course also expanded offerings.

Revision of English Courses Alters Requirements

Revision of composition courses was a major innovation in the division of language, literature and speech. Expository Writing 51, to be taken in the junior year, replaced Composition 2 as a requirement. Emphasis was placed on drama in the area of speech. Four productions were staged, and vocalists combined talents with dramatists to present the comic opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball." The journalism department added a new laboratory for students.

Dr. Clifford D. Edwards earned a grant from the Fort Hays Committee for Instructional Research. The highest honor in the Kansas speech correction program went to Dr. Geneva Herndon. Members of the faculty gave a series of lectures on novels.

Since coming to FHS in 1965, Dr. William R. Thompson has headed the language, literature and speech division.

New Library Finished; Transfer Made in May

Library facilities at Fort Hays State were greatly improved with the completion of and move to the new $1,500,000 Forsyth Library. Plans for remodeling the old library building, located just across the street from the new structure, called for administrative offices to be centered there.

Containing three floors, the new building tripled the amount of space available in previous facilities. The new library featured the adoption of an open-stack plan as opposed to the closed-stack method which had been employed previously.

Originally scheduled for January, the moving process was postponed until May because of a delay in the delivery of library furnishings.

New to the music division this year, Dr. Janet Tupper was awarded a fellowship for post-doctoral study and research in Edinburgh, Scotland, under the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Four new additions to the music faculty helped meet teaching requirements. Extensive audio equipment for tape recording and record playing were acquired. Curricular improvements included greater emphasis on the study of music composition.

Recital activity was especially noticeable. Music programs occurred on the calendar almost every week. Faculty members presented six recitals. In cooperation with students studying in the fields of speech and drama, vocal students participated in the comic opera “Amelia Goes to the Ball.”
Striving for coherence and fluency, singers rehearse for an upcoming musical production. A number of vocal and instrumental groups for both music and non-music majors afford opportunities for expression at Fort Hays State.

FHS athletic history began humbly in 1902 with a women’s basketball team and a men’s football squad. Track and field gained momentum in the 1920’s. An early attempt to launch baseball was abandoned, but in 1966 athletes again hit the diamond.

In 1928 FHS joined the Central Intercollegiate Conference. Twelve years later the college claimed its first basketball title. FHS athletic honors include two national cross country crowns. With the college’s entrance into the expanded Rocky Mountain Conference, scheduled to become operational in 1969, growth continues.
Football Team Surges To Tie for CIC Title

Snaring a tie for the Central Intercollegiate Conference championship, the Fort Hays State football squad, coached by Wayne McConnell, moved to a 7-2-0 season. The record included a 3-1 conference mark, good for a share of the crown with Pittsburg State. The season was the best for the Bengals since 1954, when they also shared the title.

Seven team records and 15 individual marks were established or equalled. Bob Johnson, Tiger quarterback, set or tied a total of 13 records.

After losing its first encounter of the season, Fort Hays State roared back to defeat its next six opponents. A disappointing 21-12 loss at the hands of Pittsburg State followed, but the Bengals bounced back to cool Omaha University in the final game and insure the tie for the championship.

Tigers Drop Opener, Recover to Win Two

Fort Hays State opened the football campaign by hosting Southwestern Oklahoma State College. The Oklahoma team's grinding ground game coupled with the ineffectiveness of the Tiger offense helped boost the Bulldogs to a narrow 13-7 victory.

Traveling to Kearney, Neb., the Tigers bounced back from their first defeat to crush the Kearney State Antelopes 20-0. The victory evened the season record at one victory and one defeat.

Teamwork combined with solid offense and defense added up for a smashing 34-0 victory over the Bears of Colorado State College. In gaining what Coach Wayne McConnell termed "a great victory," the Bengals brought their over-all record to 2-1.
In an effort to break up a pass play by Southwestern Oklahoma State, Terry Shane moves in on a Bulldog end. Unable to move well against the squad from Oklahoma, Fort Hays State lost its first game to the Bulldogs 13-7.
Three More Wins Run Victory String to Five

Rolling over the Bearcats of Northwest Missouri State College 29-7, the Tigers chalked up their third straight win. The Tiger offense compiled its best yardage for one game, and the defense held the opponent to the season low in total offense.

On Homecoming Day the Bengals proved no disappointment as they nabbed their fourth win in a row, a 7-0 conquest of Washburn University.

Recording their longest winning streak in one season since 1948, the Bengals gained a 27-13 victory over the Emporia State Hornets.
Coach Wayne McConnell has led his teams to records of 6-3 and 7-2 in his past two seasons at Fort Hays State.

In Contest With SCS

Quarterback Bob Johnson established a new FHS record by scoring five touchdowns as the Tigers downed Southern Colorado State 38-21 at Pueblo. The victory moved the Bengals' over-all mark to 6-1 on the year with a six-game winning streak.

Pittsburg State handed FHS its first CIC defeat by downing the Tigers 21-12 at Lewis Field Stadium. The defeat shattered the Bengals' hopes for their first undisputed CIC crown since 1948.

Closing out the 1966 football season, the Tigers traveled to Omaha to do battle with the Omaha University Indians. Held to a meager 76 yards offense in the first half, the Bengals roared back for 186 yards and three touchdowns to scalp the Indians 19-0 and cinch a tie for the CIC championship.

CIC Crown Is Third In Row for Harriers

Copping the third straight CIC crown for FHS highlighted the cross country season for the Tigers. Fielding what he termed a "young, inexperienced squad," Coach Alex Francis also guided his team to 10th place in NAIA competition at Omaha.

One veteran runner carried the Bengal colors. John Mason led FHS to several dual and meet wins. Called by Francis "the greatest, most inspirational runner ever to participate at FHS," Mason was named NAIA All-American for the second time.

Most notable of Mason's performances was a 19:59.4 four-mile clocking at the NAIA championships, which stood as a new FHS mark and was the second fastest time ever for the Omaha course. The distance ace also smashed the old FHS three-mile mark with a 14:05 showing at Kearney (Neb.) State.

Several Fort Hays State runners remain in strong contention as the Tigers face Kearney (Neb.) State in a dual meet at Hays. The Bengals won all three of their dual contests for the season, defeating Kearney State twice.
3-5 CIC Mark Gains
Cagers Tie for Third

With an over-all 8-13 record and a 3-5 CIC mark, the basketball squad tied for third in the conference. At the outset, Coach Chuck Brehm tagged his team as “young and inexperienced.” Only three lettermen returned to bolster Tiger hopes. Five freshmen saw considerable varsity action.

At one time or another, cage teams faced by the Bengals rated at the top of the NAIA or small-college NCAA charts. Lincoln University, Southwestern Oklahoma State College and St. Benedict’s College, eventual NAIA champ, headed the list of powerhouse encountered by the Fort Hays State team.

Top Tiger performers included Fred Andregg and Alan Billinger. Andregg was the leading scorer through 21 games, and Coach Brehm termed Billinger “the best defensive player on the squad.” A three-year letterman, Billinger, who won the Ashleman-Walters award for the Most Inspirational Player, was the only graduating senior on the team.

Bengal Cagers Go 3-4 in First Seven Contests

Tiger cagers traveled to Weatherford, Okla., to open the season against Southwestern Oklahoma State College. SWO held off a Tiger rally for the win. Southwestern College of Winfield was next on the schedule, and the visiting Moundbuilders became the first victim of Coach Chuck Brehm’s Bengals.

Sporting a 1-1 mark, FHS rallied its troops for the invasion of Southern Colorado State College. Tall and fast, SCS slipped by the Tigers. Kearney (Neb.) State College provided the opposition for the Bengals in the fourth game. Solid offense and defense helped FHS down the Antelopes.

Carrying a 2-2 record, FHS journeyed to Pueblo, Colo., for a rematch with Southern Colorado State. The Tigers led until the final minutes, then bowed. Chadron (Neb.) State invaded Sheridan Coliseum with a perfect record. That, however, came to an end as a Tiger sank two free throws with one second left to give FHS a narrow two-point win.

Now 3-3 on the year, the Bengals faced Omaha University. Using a fast break and full-court press, the Indians sent the Tigers to defeat.
St. Benedict's Darryl Jones, NAIA All-American, maneuvers around four Fort Hays State defenders to score two in the Ravens' 78-67 win in Sheridan Coliseum. St. Benedict's later copped the NAIA basketball championship.
Fort Hays State Nips Bulldogs' Win Streak

Breaking the Bulldogs' eight-game winning streak, the Tigers closed out the old year by defeating Southwestern Oklahoma State College. Lincoln (Mo.) University then cruised to a win over FHS. Conference action became the order in January when Pittsburg State battled the Tigers. FHS went to the wire before eking out a two-point victory.

Now 5-5 on the year, the Bengals made their fourth straight home appearance against St. Mary's of the Plains. The invaders nipped the Tigers by one point. Next on the list of opponents were the veteran St. Benedict's Ravens. St. Benedict's blew the contest open during the second half.

Returning to CIC play, FHS faced Washburn University in a state-wide televised game. Fielding one of their best teams, the Ichabods took advantage of Tiger fouls and poor shooting to cop the decision. Coach Chuck Brehm's Bengals picked up their sixth win by downing Kearney (Neb.) State.

Alan Billinger, second team All-CIC choice, receives the Most Inspirational Player award at the final game.
Arch rival Emporia State felt the Tiger bite as FHS beat the Hornets by four. Next stop on the basketball tour was at Lincoln (Mo.) University, where the hosts posted a lopsided win. FHS moved into the thick of the CIC race by nipping league-leading Omaha University. At Emporia State, however, the Tigers ran smack into a pack of red-hot Hornets and came out on the short end of the final score.

Trouble came again at Pittsburg State as the Gorillas broke a 14-game losing streak. With all hopes of even a share of the CIC crown shattered, the Tigers returned home to meet Washburn University. The Ichabods clinched at least a tie for the CIC title by posting another win over FHS.

In their final outing, the Bengals hosted St. Benedict's. Ranked third in the NAIA, the Ravens had little trouble beating the Tigers.
Junior Varsity Posts
5-3 Over-All Record

Compiling a 5-3 season record, the junior-varsity basketball squad was coached by Les Ramsdell. The young Tigers defeated Kearney State’s jayvees twice, Colby Juco, Concordia Juco and Washburn’s jayvees. Losses came at the hands of Colby, Concordia and Washburn. Resulting in a 1-0 score, the win over Washburn came by way of a forfeiture. At the end of regulation time, the score was knotted at 88-88, and Washburn chose not to play an overtime.

Tiger Gymnasts Surge To 5-3 Season Mark

Under the direction of Coach Ed McNeil, the gymnastics squad posted a 5-3 season. In the first outing, the Tigers entertained Nebraska University and Central Missouri State College. The Husker squad tallied a score of 162.60 to the Tigers’ 159.95 and Central Missouri State’s 133.50.

FHS moved its season mark to 2-1 with a 161.90-156.60 win over Wichita State University. Journeying to Warrensburg, Mo., the Tigers garnered their third win. Central Missouri State fell 139.80-126.20 as Bengal gymnasts won five events.

McNeil’s squad won every event to cop a 153.50-117.85 decision from Northwestern Oklahoma State. Carrying a 4-1 dual-meet record, FHS traveled to Wichita for a rematch. The Shockers gained revenge for the earlier loss, posting a 161.20-155.80 win.

Failing to gain a single first place against Colorado State College, the Bengals dropped a 179.15-163.60 decision. Finishing against Northwestern Oklahoma State, FHS took a convincing 151.16-101.78 victory. Gymnasts closed out action at the annual NAIA championships at Natchitoches, La.

After completing his routine on the high bar, Bob Fussell dismounts. Fussell was second in scoring for FHS.

Working to perfect his style, Warren Teasley ends his routine by performing a handstand on the still rings.

Injury-Ridden Matmen Compile 6-8 Record

Wracked with injury, the wrestling squad compiled a 6-8 record. FHS grapplers placed fourth in the Northwest Missouri State meet and second in the Missouri Valley AAU. The Tigers got off to a good start with a win over Emporia State. Then disaster struck as State College of Iowa, Wisconsin University, Bimidji (Minn.) State College and Southern Illinois University all recorded victories over the Tigers.

Injuries began cropping up at that point, and the problem was persistent. The Bengals lost to Central Missouri State and bowed to Adams (Colo.) State College. Rebounding, FHS beat Fort Lewis (Colo.) College and Central Missouri State.

Nebraska University came to town and dumped the Tigers. Then Kearney (Neb.) State pulled an upset by beating the Bengals. Meeting for the unofficial CIC title, Omaha University and FHS battled, with FHS eking out a one-point win. Closing out action, the Tigers dropped Fort Lewis College and gained revenge by rolling over Kearney State.

Sending the dust flying while endeavoring to sharpen his driving skill, Dennis Close shows the stance that helped him lead his teammates to second place in the CIC tourney. FHS golfers also won the District 10 NAIA title.
Golfers’ 14-3 Mark Is One of Best for FHS

Tiger linksters ended the season with a 14-3 dual meet mark, one of the best in the history of golf at FHS. In his first year as golf coach, Dr. Al Hollister coached the Tigers to the District 10 NAIA title. The loss of two key players near the end of the season hurt the Bengals’ chances for the CIC title. FHS was second in the event. Leading the surge, Dennis Close, three-year letterman, played the number-one spot for the Tigers throughout the season.

Dropping Wichita State University at Hays, the Bengals opened the season on an impressive note. A week later, the Tigers dropped matches to Wichita and Pittsburg State but gained wins over Emporia State and two other Wichita State squads.

Hollister’s linksters then went on a nine-match winning streak. Victims of the Tiger bite included Kearney (Neb.) State, Bethany College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Emporia State, Ottawa University, Washburn University and Baker University. Washburn University finally broke the streak as the Tigers dropped their final regular-season match.

Bolstered by the return of five lettermen, the tennis squad looked like a CIC title contender at the season’s outset. However, things failed to turn out that way as FHS placed fourth in the conference and compiled a 4-6 dual-meet record.

Victories were recorded over Kearney (Neb.) State, Emporia State and Bethany College. Losses came at the hands of Emporia State, Wichita State University, Bethany, Northwestern Oklahoma State College and Washburn University. In the CIC meet, the Tigers capped only one singles match in six outings and failed to win a doubles match.

Athletic Director Cade Suran guided the team. Don Hockett posted the best over-all mark.

Under the direction of veteran mentor Alex Francis, Fort Hays State's track and field squad finished second in the CIC, won one of three duals and made good showings in eight major meets.

John Mason and Bernie Blevins led the Tiger charge throughout the year. Mason established two school marks of significance when he cruised the mile in 4:04.6 and the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:09.4. Blevins put his name in the books in both the shot put and discus, tossing the 16-pound ball 45-6½ and heaving the steel plate 159-5.

FHS copped fourth in the NAIA Meet. Mason was first in the mile and 3,000-meter steeplechase, and third in the three-mile. Blevins won third in the shot. Both were NAIA All-Americans.

Tigers Earn Honors
In Big-Name Meets

Placing fifth, the thinclads began the season at the NAIA Indoor at Kansas City. Tiger trackmen won first in the mile and third in the shot.

An indoor dual at Kearney (Neb.) State was next on the agenda, and for one of but a few times, the Antelopes defeated the Bengals.

Next the Tigers traveled to Omaha University, where they copped a triangular win. FHS participated in the Kansas State University Indoor, and John Mason was clocked in 4:06.9 in the mile. Other Tiger firsts came in the sprint medley relay and in the freshman high jump. Then it was on to the Texas Relays, where Mason ran his 4:04.6 mile.

Kearney State hosted the Tigers in a return dual engagement and took a narrow one-point victory. At the Emporia State Relays, Bengals won the mile, the steeplechase and the sprint medley relay. The Kansas University Relays found Mason finishing second in the steeplechase. One week later, Mason won the mile run at the Drake Relays, and FHS thinclads claimed firsts in freshman high jump and javelin events at the Colorado Relays, held in Boulder.

Traveling to Wichita State University, FHS came home with a dual-meet win. In defense of their CIC crown, the Bengals journeyed to Omaha. Five firsts and a host of seconds and thirds were not enough as FHS finished second to Emporia State.
Checking the charts, Wendell Liemohn, assistant track coach, and Neil Cleaves discuss performances. Fort Hays State lost the CIC track crown after copping two consecutive championships, but the Tigers were a strong second.
Scooping up a grounder, Jim Dreiling gets set for the throw to the Tiger first baseman. Dreiling led the team in walks during the season. He also received honorable mention in the balloting for NAIA All-American last year.
New Baseball Mentor Faces Hitting Problem

Compiling a 10-12 season record, the baseball squad tied for third in the CIC tournament. Earl Hobbs served his first year as baseball coach. Fielding a team for only the second time in some 40 years, the Tigers improved on last season’s 7-12 record. Lack of consistent hitting was the major problem faced by the Bengals. As a team, FHS batted .230 as compared to the opposition’s .234.

Notable marks established by the Tiger squad included 103 runs to the opponents’ 85 and 145 hits to 143 for the opposition. The team also scored a total of 17 doubles, 5 triples, 4 home runs, 99 bases on balls and 75 runs batted in. Members of the pitching crew compiled an earned-run average of 3.84 to the opposition’s 4.46. As a team, the Tigers fielded .941 to their opponents’ .922.

On the individual charts, Louis Brungardt led in hitting with a .328 average, in RBI’s with 12, in total bases with 29, in hits with 22 and in at-bats with 67. Brungardt and Roy Ralstin tied for runs-scored honors with 15 each. Ralstin stole the most bases—12. John Mastin led in doubles with five. Jim Dreiling drew the most walks—18.

Leading the pitching staff, Dennis Blankenship hurled 40 2/3 innings, gave up 35 hits, walked 14, struck out 23 and compiled a 1.99 ERA. Dennis Wells fanned 17 to win the strikeout title.
So-So Year Includes Low Tourney Finish

Kansas Wesleyan University furnished the opposition for the Tigers' season opener, and the Bengals and Coyotes split a twin bill. In their first home game, the Tigers hosted the Emporia State Hornets, and the visitors promptly added two more wins to their record at the expense of FHS.

Bouncing back, the Tigers grabbed a pair of twin-bill victories from Hastings (Neb.) College and McPherson College. Then Hobbs' team traveled to Hastings for a return engagement and split a pair. From there, it was on to Washburn University and Emporia State, where FHS lost two games to the Ichabods and split a pair with the Hornets.

Kearney (Neb.) State was next on the list, and the two squads split a doubleheader. Against Washburn University, the Tigers took the first game, but the Ichabods got revenge in the second.

Drawing Washburn in the CIC tourney, FHS fell victim to the Ichabods' big bats. In the loser's bracket, FHS pushed Emporia State 14 innings before dropping the decision. Closing out action, the Bengals split a pair with Kearney State.
Fort Hays State Snares First All-Sports Crown

Awarded this year for the first time, the annual sweepstakes trophy—given to the CIC member posting the best finishes over-all in conference sports—went to Fort Hays State. Tiger teams copped the trophy by nabbing first place in cross country, tying for first in football, gaining second in both golf and track, sharing third in basketball, garnering fourth in tennis and sharing third in baseball.

Work, Fun Combined In Women’s Athletics

Combining the seriousness of classroom work with the enjoyment of recreation, a broad program of activities was offered in women’s physical education and in its related organizations.

Sponsoring a series of Play Days for high school students provided practical experience for future teachers and encouraged sportsmanship at both the collegiate and secondary levels.

Fencing, archery, bowling, golf, swimming, tennis and dancing permitted students to select activity to suit their liking and provided a well-rounded program for women’s intramural competition.

Groups

Paralleling the growth of Fort Hays State, campus groups have encompassed college housing units, Greek social fraternities and sororities, academic and service organizations, and a wide variety of others.

Oldest of the host of campus groups, the State College Leader, student newspaper, was founded in 1906. The names of such organized groups as Seventh Cavalry and Custer Hall reflect the college’s heritage.

In group participation lies the challenge to learn to manage one’s time wisely, to increase one’s versatility, to mature socially and to grow intellectually.
Placing their bets, collegians try their luck at the Memorial Union Casino Party. Introduced this year by the Program Council, the project offered prizes to participants, who purchased play money with which to gamble.
Program Council Ups
Number of Committees

Expanding from three committees to nine, Memorial Union Program Council, a student service organization, coordinated Union activities. Program Council sponsored a Casino Party, a French gourmet dinner, two Tiger Hops, the Sweetheart Ball and aided with preparations for the annual Madrigal Dinner.

Members attended the regional conference of the Assn. of College Unions and the national conference in Philadelphia. Tom Baxter served as chairman, and O. Z. Bizzell sponsored the council.

Tribunal Alters Rules, Recommends New Lot

As its main project, Traffic Tribunal tackled the job of revising campus traffic regulations. The organization also was responsible for the recommendation of the new parking lot which was opened just west of Malloy Hall during the year.

Under the direction of Traffic Tribunal, the restricted parking area on campus was enlarged in order to accommodate additional faculty members and handicapped students. A number of appeals from violations were handled weekly by the group. Merwin Colburn served as chairman of Traffic Tribunal.
ASC Invites Rockwell For FHS Appearance

In order to introduce students to controversial ideas and to establish a fund for organizational expenses, All-Student Council brought George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party to campus and charged admission to his speech. The council also reintroduced its Professor of the Month election after several months' suspension.

Reversing former procedure, a bill was passed to allow seniors to vote in campus elections.

Court Handles Cases; Legal Board Enlarged

Comprising the judicial branch of student government, Student Court handled cases referred to it by its legal board or by other campus judicial bodies. The Student Court was revised during the year with the enlargement of the legal board.

Four faculty members served on the court. Officers included three justices, a chief justice and an attorney general. For the second consecutive year, Clark Chipman served as attorney general.
SOC Evaluates, Okays Campus Organizations

As a coordinating council, Student Organizations Committee evaluated the plans and purpose of each campus organization. The group approved new organizations, off-campus money-making projects and renewed recognition of existing clubs. Certificates of recognition were presented to approved groups.

Students and faculty made up the committee. Jean Stouffer was selected to serve as chairman.

Home Economics Groups Back Service Projects

As a service project, Home Economics Chapter made Easter favors for residents of Hillcrest Manor Nursing Home. The chapter sent delegates to the National Home Economics Assn. Convention.

Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honorary, sent coupons to Crossmore School in North Carolina, which enabled the institution to buy foodstuffs. Delegates attended a conclave in Washington, D.C.

Vicki Wright served as chairman of Home Economics Chapter, and June Krebs sponsored the group. Kathalie Dortland was elected president of Kappa Omicron Phi. Alice Beesley served as club sponsor.
Fair, Alumni List Are Industrial Arts Projects

Drawing more than 1,500 projects from 41 junior high and high schools, Industrial Arts Club sponsored the annual Western Kansas Industrial Arts Fair. The best entry earned the Ed Davis trophy.

Epsilon Pi Tau, industrial arts honorary, maintained a follow-up program on all industrial arts graduates since 1914. Each month members served on a Research Coordination Committee.

Lee Scott was elected president of Industrial Arts Club. Bryan Bachkora sponsored the organization. Delbert Martin headed Epsilon Pi Tau, and Dr. Richard Cain served as faculty adviser.

Delta Tau Alpha Tabs
Poster Contest Winner

Choosing a winner, Delta Tau Alpha, national agriculture honorary, judged conservation posters submitted by persons throughout Ellis County. Delegates attended the national Delta Tau Alpha conference at Arizona State University. The group presented a plaque to the outstanding freshman agriculture student. Frederick Schmidt headed Delta Tau Alpha. J. R. Wells sponsored the organization.

Students Request Help From Tri-Beta Tutors

Offering assistance in the area of the biological sciences to those students who requested it, members of Beta Beta Beta, national biology honorary, volunteered themselves for tutoring services. A member of the group was named to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary. Members elected Clair Sloan president of Beta Beta Beta. Dr. Howard Reynolds served as sponsor for the organization.
Chemistry Club Assists With Conference Plans

Chemistry Club assisted with plans for the Science Open House and the Undergraduate Research Conference. At the group’s banquet the outstanding freshman and senior chemistry students were named. A member of the club was elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary. Alfred Holstein was president. Sponsor was Robert Richards.

Representatives Attend National Math Meeting

Fort Hays State delegates journeyed to Atchison to attend the national convention of Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity. Six members of the group were named for inclusion in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Stephen Tebo was chosen president of Kappa Mu Epsilon. Robert Gum served as sponsor for the organization.
Pi Omega Pi Delegates Attend National Meeting

Pi Omega Pi, honorary for business education teachers, sent delegates to the national convention in Chicago. Members served lunch at the Kansas State Teachers Assn. meeting and assisted with Career Day. The club presented a Book Award and National Business Education Assn. Award of Merit. Robert Schlaefli was president. Sponsor was Dale Gust.

Alpha Kappa Psi Men Travel to Kansas City

Touring the commodity exchange and the Federal Reserve Bank, members of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, traveled to Kansas City. Completing its second year on campus, Alpha Kappa Psi awarded honorary membership to local businessmen and sponsored a scholarship. Jack Sidwell was president. Sponsor was Richard Osborne.
Local Members Handle State SNEA Positions

FHS members served as state president and secretary of Student National Education Assn. The FHS chapter sponsored a caroling party at Larned State Hospital during the holiday season.

Annual W. C. Wood awards were presented to two outstanding Kansas educators at the club's banquet. Members attended a workshop and the student KSTA convention. Lawrence Wendelin was president. Dr. Edith Dobbs and Dr. Gordon Price were sponsors.

New Business Group Organizes on Campus

Organized this year, Phi Beta Lambda, national honorary for persons preparing for careers in business and industry, sent delegates to area, state and national conventions. The groups presented Mr. and Miss Future Business Leader awards.

Representatives entered state competition in various areas of business. James Prinsen was Phi Beta Lambda president. Sponsors were Dr. John Bale Jr., Alan Atwater and Sharon Vlasak.

Award Funds Boosted By K-Club Pop Sales

Selling pop at Tiger athletic contests, K-Club contributed to the Busch Gross Award, presented each year to an outstanding Fort Hays State athlete. The club also donated money to the Athletic Awards and Scholarship Funds. As is customary, the group maintained the “K” on College Hill west of campus. Larry Noffsinger was elected president of K-Club. Cade Suran sponsored the organization.

WRA Members Take Ski Trip During Break

Heading for the snowy mountain slopes of Colorado, Women’s Recreation Assn. took a ski trip during semester break. Proceeds from concessions sold at football games financed a camping trip and an awards banquet. The group invited high school girls to campus for Play Day, Volleyball Sports Day and Softball Sports Day. Linda McHenry headed WRA. Monice Somers served as sponsor for the group.
Getting the feel of the trampoline, Kansas high school girls gather in Sheridan Coliseum on Play Day. The project was one of a series of such recreational days planned for secondary schools by Women's Recreation Assn.
Chopsticks and Far Eastern dress add spice to the Oriental banquet attended by Nurses' Club members and their guests. Members concentrated on issues pertaining to nurses and strove to improve their organization, formed in 1957.
Original Dance Show
Produced by Orchesi

To stimulate an interest in artistic and creative dancing, Orchesi presented an original modern dance concert, Choreutix. Dance club members participated in various dance workshops, the Madrigal Dinner and other activities. Sponsor DiAnne Damro and the officers were presented awards at the group's banquet. Ann Drescher was elected president.

Nurses’ Club Honored
For Group Enthusiasm

At the Kansas Student Nurses Convention, Nurses’ Club received special recognition for increased membership and interest. Three FHS student nurses were elected to state offices. Advised by Elinor Trobin, the club sponsored a Christmas party for patients at Hadley Memorial Hospital and three money-making projects. Cathy Brindle was president.

New Campus Groups Include History Club

Initiated this year, History Club became one of several new organizations on campus. The club worked closely with Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary. Members attended all Phi Alpha Theta programs in addition to planning separate meetings for the future. At these meetings, student papers will be presented and discussed. Larry Henry was president of the group. H. J. Schmeller was sponsor.

Honorary Hears Ideas Of Several Speakers

Speakers from the college, Kansas State Historical Society and Hays spoke at meetings of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary. During the year the group presented the annual Welty awards to the undergraduate student and graduate scholar who had written outstanding historical papers.

Deviating from normal scholastic activities, members of the organization socialized at a picnic. Glenn Pettengill was elected president of Phi Alpha Theta. Dr. Gordon Davidson, sponsor, assisted with organizational plans for the group.
Spanish Club Members Total More Than 100

With an increased membership of 115, Spanish Club presented speakers from Cuba and Argentina. The group attended the annual Cervantes Day celebration, where members presented Spanish poetry and prose. A Spanish film, "Dona Barbara," was shown for members and area high schools. Arlyn Smith was chosen president. Dr. Benito Carballo was sponsor.

Club Members Learn About German Culture

Music, lectures and films sponsored by German Club helped students to increase their knowledge of German customs. Members attended a conference of the American Assn. of Teachers of German and assisted with German tests given on campus. Book awards were made to active club members. Mark Stuart served as president. Dr. Roman Kuchar was sponsor.
Chatting Sessions Help French Club Members

Chatting sessions twice a week were added to the activities of French Club to give students an opportunity to practice speaking French. The club sponsored a French Christmas party, and club members presented three plays in French dialogue.

Outstanding students in French classes were presented with Certificates de Merite en francais near the end of the year. Loel Ann Brooks was elected president of the organization. Robert Gieber and Marwan Nahas served as sponsors for the group.

New Psychology Club Eyes National Affiliation

As a new organization on campus, Psychology Honor Fraternity concentrated on developing a strong club and planning activities. The group discussed possible future affiliation with Psi Chi, national honor society in the field of psychology. J. E. Benoit was elected as the first president of the club. Irving Rawlings advised the new group.
Sociology Enthusiasts Launch Organization

Devoting bi-monthly programs to such social issues as poverty and civil rights, interested persons organized a Sociology Club. The group sent delegates to meetings of the Rocky Mountain Sociological Assn. and the Midwest Sociological Society. As a professional club one of its main concerns was broadening vocational opportunities. James Green served as president. Terry Carlson was sponsor.

Sigma Alpha Eta Aids Handicapped Children

Providing help and encouragement for handicapped children, Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech therapy honorary, prepared Christmas cookies and bought puzzles and games for youngsters receiving help in Hays. The group presented nine awards to students with outstanding scholarship and participation. Two women, Carol Barnett and Cynthia Pahls, served as president. Dr. Geneva Herndon was sponsor.

Being accused of having a lover, Amelia is reprimanded by her husband in the opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball."

Little Theatre Stages Numerous Productions

Presenting a one-act play, Little Theatre participated in the Marymount Drama Festival. The special interest organization in the field of dramatics staged four major productions—"The Egg," "Antigone," "Orpheus Descending" and two one-act plays, "The Zoo Story" and "The Bald Soprano." The organization aided the music department with the production of the opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball."

Awards were presented for the best performances by an actor and actress and for technical achievement. Calene Bomgardner served as president. Sponsors were Perry Schwartz and Robert Reinecke.

Using modern radio facilities in Malloy Hall, a KFHS disc jockey plays music to be piped to residence halls.

Residence Halls Hear KFHS Radio Offerings

Completing their second full year in Malloy Hall, staffers of KFHS, campus radio station, beamed programs to the residence halls. From a supply of more than 2,000 albums, music to suit various tastes was selected. KFHS presented talk programs from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and from the Hays Chamber of Commerce.

To air student opinions, interviews were taped in the residence halls. KFHS also recorded interviews with personalities who visited the campus.

Using facilities costing more than $25,000, KFHS personnel had access to the latest in radio equipment. Dale Schields and Doug Teel served as station managers. Jack Heather sponsored KFHS.
Under the guidance of Jim Collier, who became newspaper adviser in 1965, the Leader has earned two A+ ratings.
Leader Sports New Flag; Staffers Travel to Denver

To help modernize the appearance of the newspaper, the Leader staff introduced a new flag (name plate). Leader staffers and other journalists utilized the extra working space made available by a new journalism lab.

During the first semester staff members journeyed to Denver, where they toured an advertising agency and the plant of the Denver Post. Snaring its second top award, the Leader won an A+ rating from National Newspaper Service.
Largest Reveille Uses Seven Color Pictures

Adding eight pages, the yearbook staff produced a 360-page Reveille, the largest to date. Seven full-color pictures were employed to carry out the theme, which honored the centennial of Hays.

Breaking tradition, the staff abandoned the Reveille Ball and announced the Reveille Queen at halftime of the final basketball game of the season. Formerly chosen on the basis of beauty alone, the queen was selected with regard to beauty, poise, personality, activities, honors and talents.

One of 33 yearbooks throughout the nation to gain the honor, the 1966 Reveille garnered an All-American rating from Associated Collegiate Press—the highest award granted by the organization.

Forensics Organizations Arrange Oratory Contest

Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensics fraternity, cooperated to host the Women's Christian Temperance Union Oratory Contest, in which FHS students competed. Debate Club held a debate retreat at Ellis for the purpose of analyzing and gathering evidence on the topic for the year—Resolved: that the United States should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments.

Traveling from coast to coast to compete in tournaments, the debate squad had an especially heavy schedule. Sharla Barber headed both Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta. D. L. Miller was sponsor.
Lambda Iota Tau Ups Membership Invitations

As a newly adopted project, Lambda Iota Tau agreed to help edit a script for a promotional film on Fort Hays State. In an attempt to increase membership, the national language and literary honorary offered additional bids. Speakers from the college and community discussed literary topics at club meetings. Lynn DeVore was elected president. Sponsors were David Ison and Dr. Samuel Sackett.

New Director Takes Charge of Men’s Glee

Under the supervision of the new director Patrick Goeser, Men’s Glee Club joined Concert Choir in presenting the annual spring concert. The club also offered a set of carols for Christmas Vespers, the traditional contribution of Fort Hays State College to holiday festivities. Open to all male students, membership in the vocal group totaled more than 35. Members performed special solos.
Band Activities Include
Tour of High Schools

Under the direction of Lyle Dilley, the band performed from the first football game until Commencement. During a three-day tour the group presented programs at various Kansas high schools.

Different groups within the band—Symphony Band, Marching Band, Tiger Pep Band, Varsity Band—fulfilled different entertainment needs and provided professional musicianship. Band members assisted with Band Day, an annual event at which numerous high school marching bands performed.

With spats flashing, the all-male Fort Hays State Marching Band progresses along the Homecoming parade route.

Leading the band in the College Appreciation Days parade, a Fort Hays State drum major sets the marching pace.
Top Vocalists Perform In Fort Hays Singers

Including some of Fort Hays State's top vocal talent, the Fort Hays Singers filled many requests for entertainment at the college and in the community and surrounding area. The group took a two-day tour of high schools in North-Central Kansas and climaxed the year by presenting a concert in May. Dr. Donald Stout directed the Fort Hays Singers.

Concert Choir Sings During Commencement

Selective in membership, Concert Choir performed at Commencement exercises. The group also entertained with two concerts—one in January and one in April. On a tour of several Kansas high schools, the group performed for students and personnel. Composed of 50 members chosen by audition, the choir was under the direction of Dr. Donald Stout.
Brass Choir Journeys To Secondary Schools

On a tour of seven high schools in North-Central Kansas, the Brass Choir presented a variety of numbers. In a January concert the instrumental group performed with Concert Choir. The Brass Choir was directed by Dr. Leland Bartholomew.

Clarinet Choir Helps With Spring Concert

Joining forces with Collegian Chorale and the Men’s and Women’s Glee Clubs, the Clarinet Choir performed in the spring concert. With the director Harold Palmer serving as guest speaker, the instrumental group performed at a banquet at Logan.
Recitals Draw Women Of Sigma Alpha Iota

Participating in contemporary and pledge recitals, members of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women, furthered their interest in music. Other activities included a bake sale, a Halloween party with Phi Mu Alpha, a caroling party and a buffet dinner. Jeannette Evans was president of SAI. Joan Henry served as sponsor for the organization.

Phi Mu Alpha Backs Jazz Ensemble Show

Promoting music on campus, Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, sponsored the Jazz Ensemble in the spring. Proceeds from the ensemble were used to start a scholarship fund for the most outstanding freshman pledge. The group also participated in a caroling party for music faculty. John Burley was president. Robert Brown was sponsor.
Chorale Goes on Tour, Helps Produce Concert

Joining the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, Collegian Chorale helped produce the annual spring concert. The group toured area high schools for performances. During the holidays Collegian Chorale supplied numbers for the customary Christmas Vespers program. The more than 60 singers in the group were under the direction of Patrick Goeser.

New 4-H Club Fulfills Social, Service Needs

Formed as a social and service organization, 4-H Club, a new group on campus, sponsored a variety of projects. Members judged at county 4-H days, served as tabulators at judging schools and helped with clean-up days at 4-H camps. James Trapp served as first president of the club. Barbara Garton and Don Necke sponsored the organization.
Group Supplies Guides For FHS Muster Day

Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary for freshman women who have obtained a 2.5 grade index, helped with freshman orientation, provided guides for Muster Day and promoted scholastic achievement.

Senior members with a cumulative grade average of 2.5 were given special awards. Nancy Ann Ward acted as president. Jean Stouffer was sponsor.

13 Scholars Welcomed To Academic Honorary

Thirteen new members were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men’s honorary fraternity. To qualify the men must have a 2.5 grade average for their first semester of college work. On Muster Day the group served as tour guides and hosts for the high school seniors. Wendell Nicholas was elected president. Michael Stewart served as sponsor.
Faculty Members Name 34 Seniors to Who’s Who

Thirty-four Fort Hays State seniors were chosen for inclusion in the 1966-67 edition of Who’s Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Faculty members selected students with regard to academic achievement, qualities of leadership, participation in campus activities and potential contributions to society. A minimum grade average of 2.0 and senior class standing comprised the basic requirements for membership in the elite group.

Who’s Who honors top seniors from 750 colleges and universities yearly. The number chosen from each is limited to not more than 10 per cent of the institution’s graduating class. Darwin Brown was among those chosen but is not pictured.
33 Undergraduates Initiated Into Phi Kappa Phi

Academic achievement, character and potential contribution to society comprised standards considered for electing new members to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary fraternity. Initiated in the spring, new members included 33 undergraduates, 15 graduate students, 4 alumni and 6 faculty members.

Two juniors, Kim Gottschalk and Ron Fischli, were elected. Gottschalk received a scholarship for compiling the highest grade average in the junior class and was named Junior Scholar.

Seniors elected but not pictured are Darwin Brown, Donald Forgue and Mary Lou Ruud.
WLO Seeks Link With Mortar Board

Seeking national standing, Women's Leadership Organization investigated possible affiliation with Mortar Board. Main projects of the group included ushering at Artists and Lectures programs, serving a breakfast at Homecoming and decorating the Christmas tree in Forsyth Library.

WLO helped Student National Education Assn. gather Christmas gifts to be sent to Larned State Hospital. For a money-making project the organization conducted a bazaar during the state teachers meeting.

Cooperating with the Field Service office and Seventh Cavalry, WLO helped select guides for Career Day. Members of the organization also co-hosted a Smarty Party for those students who had a first-semester grade average of 2.5 or better.

Late in the spring the group awarded a scholarship to a junior woman. Selection was made on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and personality. Nine WLO members were named to Who's Who and/or Phi Kappa Phi. One member earned an NDEA Fellowship. Avonne Rubottom was president. Sponsor was Alice McFarland.

In cooperation with Student National Education Assn., WLO members prepare Christmas gifts for delivery to Larned State Hospital.

Alpha Phi Omega Conducts Campus Blood Drive

Presenting awards to the campus organization supplying the largest percentage of its membership as donors, Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, conducted a campus blood drive for the Red Cross Bloodmobile. The group sponsored the traditional penny-a-vote Ugly Man on Campus Contest. Proceeds from the project went to the Endowment Assn.

Other projects of Alpha Phi Omega included ushering at campus activities, sponsorship of a leadership training program for officers of campus groups and assistance with financial drives for charitable organizations. Jim Prinsen was elected president of the organization. Sponsors were Michael Stewart, Jack Heather and Dr. Richard Burnett.

Solicited by members of Alpha Phi Omega, a student turns out to contribute blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile.
Dames Club Projects
Include Bazaar, Sale

Money-making projects of Dames Club included a bazaar and a white elephant sale. Members sold sandwiches at football and basketball games and celebrated Washington’s birthday with a cherry pie sale. As a service project, the women helped decorate a house for the Mental Health Clinic. Jan Liesveld was president. Beverly Lowen served as sponsor.

Women’s Group Plans
New Snowball Dance

For the first time, Associated Women Students, governing body for campus women, sponsored a Snowball dance during the holidays. To aid new women on campus, AWS distributed a booklet to answer possible questions. Members and sponsor Jean Stouffer attended a bi-state convention. Kathy Weigel was elected president of Associated Women Students.

Tiger’s Roar Presents
Awards to Boost Spirit

Tiger’s Roar, campus booster club, awarded annual Spirit Awards to the Greek group and residence hall earning the greatest number of points on an enthusiasm-evaluation system. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Custer Hall garnered top honors. The club also financed a scholarship for the athletic department.

Besides promoting spirit and attendance at athletic events, Tiger’s Roar supported worthwhile campus activities. Ted Tow sponsored the group.
New Arena Provides Site for Second Rodeo

Held in Rodeo Club's new arena, financed by funds from the 1966 rodeo, the second annual FHS Intercollegiate Rodeo occurred in the spring. Rodeo Club presented a scholarship to a top high school senior. Larry Kumle was president. Sponsors were Robert Lowen, Leon Maxson and Nancy Cotham.

Veterans Treat Elderly To Party at Christmas

Journeying to Ellis, Veterans Club members arranged a Christmas party for residents of the Good Samaritan Old Folks Home. The group won an award for donating blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Jay Deines was elected president of Veterans Club. James Gruber was sponsor for the organization.

Fighting to stay on top, a Rodeo Club member takes a practice ride to prepare for upcoming rodeo competition. After introducing an intercollegiate rodeo to FHS students in 1966, the club backed the event again this year.
Representing the branches of the armed forces, Veterans Club members lead the Homecoming parade. Striving to improve their organization, Veterans Club officers attended the leadership conference sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

Setting up a table on campus during enrollment, CYR members attempt to interest collegians in the organization.

Vote Campaign Backed By Young Republicans

In a joint effort with Seventh Cavalry, Collegiate Young Republicans backed a get-out-to-vote campaign. Delegates attended state, regional and national conventions. Awards were presented to the most active man and woman CYR members. Kirk Musselman was elected president of CYR. Dr. William Moreland served as sponsor for the group.
CYD Registers Voters
In Support of Docking

Helping register voters, Collegiate Young Democrats supported the election of Robert Docking for the Kansas governorship. The group also sent delegates to the state convention. Changes in the organization included framing a new constitution and acquiring a new sponsor, Dr. Gordon Davidson. Denny Keenan was elected president of Collegiate Young Democrats.

People-to-People Holds
International Art Show

Conducting the International Arts Festival, People-to-People showed graphic arts, films and entertainment representative of foreign nations. The group sent welcome letters to foreign students, helped them find housing and held a reception. Parties were also arranged during the year. Mary Schreiber was president. Sponsor was Mrs. Barbara Mulch.
At a Greek social function, sorority women and fraternity men don "Roaring 20's" garb for one of the year's informal dances. The party was one of numerous social activities conducted by the four sororities and seven fraternities.
Councils Support Greek Week, Centennial Drive

Working together, Inter-Fraternity Council and Panhellenic Council, Greek coordinating bodies, backed Greek Week activities and conducted a fund-raising drive for the Hays Centennial.

Both groups sponsored rush programs and recognized Greek organizations having the pledge and active classes with the highest semester grade averages. In cooperation with the Memorial Union Program Council, IFC helped organize an intra-collegiate College Bowl in which Greek and housing organizations competed for honors. Panhellenic Council planned a carnival for the Fort Hays Furlough.

IFC president was Keith Ogburn. Michael Stewart was sponsor. Barbara Bickford headed Panhellenic Council. Jean Stouffer was sponsor.
Alpha Gams Capture Several Royalty Titles

Alpha Gamma Delta coeds copped royalty honors. Alpha Gams were named Homecoming Queen, Snowball Queen, Pledge Queen and Best-Dressed Girl on Campus. One Alpha Gam was a Reveille Queen finalist and another was Miss Kansas Heart Fund Girl.

Alpha Gamma Delta had a good representation in campus groups with a cheerleader, Panhellenic Council president, senior and sophomore class vice-presidents, French Club president and a Student Council representative. An Alpha Gam was awarded the Wooster Scholarship. Members of the sorority were named to Who’s Who and Phi Kappa Phi.

For projects Alpha Gams conducted a rummage sale and made favors to take to Hadley Memorial Hospital during the Christmas season. The sorority socialized with an informal and the Rose Formal.

Home of 30 Delta Zeta members, the DZ house, located at 210 W. Sixth St., provides a meeting place for the sorority.

National Award Goes To Delta Zeta Woman

Sammye Hoss, Delta Zeta member, won recognition when she was awarded the national Arlene Davis Aviation Award presented to an outstanding DZ.

For a money-making project, the Delta Zetas sponsored a hat sale just before Easter. The sorority took pumpkins to Greek houses as Halloween gifts and participated in the Heart Fund Drive.

Social activities of Delta Zeta ranged from a Branding Party informal to the Rose Formal.

Members won recognition in WLO, Who's Who and Phi Kappa Phi. DZs were cheerleaders and finalists for Homecoming Queen. The sorority participated in basketball, bowling and archery intramurals.

Lattice work on the porch carried signs ranging from support for the Tigers to a welcome on Parents Day.

Tri-Sigs Pave Way Toward New House

Anticipating new living quarters, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority purchased property on which a new sorority house will be built. The Tri-Sigs sponsored a Valentine’s Day project at the Hays hospitals and participated in Christmas caroling.

“Tigers in the CIC,” the Homecoming float built by the group, came away with first place honors in the women’s division of parade competition.

Mrs. A. J. Farias, national officer of Sigma Sigma Sigma, visited the Alpha Gamma chapter on her inspection of chapters throughout the nation. The sorority held a reception in her honor.

Members and pledges participated in social functions with the various fraternities and sponsored an informal and a Deep Purple spring formal.

Members of Tri-Sigma were nominated for Homecoming Queen, Reveille Queen, Snowball Queen and IFC Pledge Queen. Two members of Fort Hays Singers, a cheerleader, Greek editor of the Reveille and members of honoraries belonged to Tri-Sigma.

Located at 417 W. Eighth St., Tri-Sig house, home of about 20 coeds, is the site of the sorority’s activities.

AKLs Have Top Float; Victory String to Four

For the fourth consecutive year, Alpha Kappa Lambda’s float entry in the Homecoming parade nabbed sweepstakes honors. In keeping with the parade theme of “Great Books,” the idea for the float, entitled “Bounty-ful Victory,” was inspired by the title of the novel Mutiny on the Bounty. Adding spice to Alpha Kappa Lambda’s Homecoming honors, the fraternity’s candidate was Homecoming Queen.

AKLs served as sophomore class and Inter-Fraternity Council officers and as Student Council representatives. An AKL was Snowball King.

Among the fraternity’s social activities were exchange functions with sororities, an informal Go-to-Hell Party and a spring formal. Alpha Kappa Lambda competed in all intramural sports.

Garnering top honors in the Homecoming parade, Alpha Kappa Lambda's float depicts life on an ocean-going vessel. The sweepstakes award received by the AKLs, their fourth in a row, set a new record for consecutive victories.

Prometheans Continue To Petition Sigma Chi

With word expected in 1967, Prometheans continued to petition for Sigma Chi affiliation.

Members helped build a fence around the Day Care Center, caroled at the hospitals at Christmas time and conducted an auto safety check.

Prometheans held class offices, All-Student Council membership and offices in various organizations. A Promethean was named Sweetheart King.

Social activities included an informal, a formal and exchange parties with the sororities.

Located at 213 W. 11th St., the Prometheans fraternity house is the home base for the only local social chapter.

Intramural Honors Go To Sigma Phi Epsilon

Active in intramural sports, Sigma Phi Epsilon snared first in swimming and bowling and garnered second in football and basketball.

Opportunities for socializing came with the informal Blue Mountain Blast and the formal Golden Heart Ball. Sig Eps raised money by sponsoring a spaghetti feed and sold tickets for the Lincoln Grade School carnival. Members of various campus organizations came from the group, and a Sig Ep was elected vice-president of Seventh Cavalry.

Sigma Phi Epsilon members live in two similarly styled fraternity houses, located at 402 and 404 W. Seventh St.

Dynamic noise maker at home football contests, the Sigma Phi Epsilon cannon is displayed by fraternity members.
Situated on the oldest existing fraternity on campus, the Sig Tau house, located at 518 W. 21st St., provides residence for from 20 to 25 members. The house served as a planning center for social activities during the year.

Sig Taus Win Awards For Donation of Blood

Producing a large turnout of members, Sigma Tau Gamma men earned awards for donating blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile during the fall semester. In competition with other campus organizations, the fraternity won two trophies for having the highest percentage of members who donated blood.

Competing in intramural athletics, Sig Tau teams garnered first place in horseshoes singles and doubles and third place in football.

Sig Tau social activities included a pledge class informal and a formal in the spring. A member of the fraternity served on the Student Court.

Foreign Students Join Agnew Hall Managers

For the first time on campus, Agnew Hall had as resident managers international students from Tehran, Iran—Mr. and Mrs. Manouchehr Sharifi.

Agnew Hall coeds socialized with a hall formal in the spring and a pizza party for the residents at Christmas time. Hosting parents, friends, alumni and Hays residents, the women held open house on Parents Day and during Homecoming activities.

Residents sponsored candidates for royalty contests. The hall added to student aids by sending two students to the Wooster Dinner.

Mrs. Esther Biays was housemother for Agnew women. Mary Stapleton acted as hall president.

Converted from a men's to a women's residence hall this year, Agnew Hall furnishes housing for 180 coeds.

Homecoming Honors

McMindes Hall’s float in the Homecoming parade, “The King and I,” snared second place in the women’s division, and the hall’s candidate for Homecoming Queen was named an attendant. Other candidates were sponsored for campus royalty honors.

To provide coeds with a break from the daily routine, the hall entertained with a spring formal, an informal dance, the KFHS Battle of the Bands and a Christmas party for residents.

Mrs. Mary Redd, Mrs. Adah Churchill and Mrs. Virginia Wright served as housemothers for the 600 women. Linda Malone was president first semester, and Darlene Linder the second term.

McMindes Hall women join other residence hall students at the all-dorm picnic. Held near the beginning of the fall semester, the picnic afforded an opportunity for the members of the various residence halls to get acquainted.
On a quiet evening McMindes Hall residents make use of one of five pajama lounges. During the year the women also relaxed and entertained friends in two downstairs parlors, a recreation room and a music listening room.
McGrath Hall Holds
Open House Twice

Providing an opportunity for parents and Fort Hays State alumni to inspect the hall and visit with the residents, McGrath Hall sponsored open houses on both Homecoming Day and Parents Day.

Get-together dances with Agnew, Custer and McMindes Hall women afforded change-of-pace breaks. Candidates sponsored by the hall competed for honors in various campus royalty contests. The hall’s candidate for Homecoming Queen was a finalist.

Boosting Wooster Fund proceeds, McGrath Hall contributed to the annual student-aid project.

Mrs. Beulah Lamb served as housemother for McGrath Hall. John Wheeler was president.

Settling down with a book, McGrath Hall residents look forward to a quiet evening of relaxation. Rooms provide a place of seclusion for studying, visiting with friends, listening to records or being alone with thoughts.
Taking time for a Coke break, McGrath Hall residents enjoy services of vending machines in the recreation room.

Making a date for the weekend, a McGrath Hall man talks on the telephone, a vital tool of college social life.
Providing a mixer to break the ice, Wiest Hall holds an all-dorm dance in the McMendes Hall recreation room.

Wiest Men Spark Fun With All-Dorm Dance

To help residents of the various halls get acquainted, Wiest Hall sponsored an all-dorm dance. Residents and their dates were invited to participate in the fun. The dance was held in the McMendes Hall recreation room to provide adequate space.

Wiest Hall sponsored candidates for honors in campus royalty contests. The hall contributed to student aid proceeds by buying tickets to send representatives to the Wooster Dinner.

Alumni and families of residents were guests at open houses on Parents Day and Homecoming Day.

Wiest Hall’s housemother was Mrs. Marguerite Walters. Richard Joyce was elected president.

Constructed in 1961, Wiest Hall provides air-conditioned housing for 120 men. Newer of the two men's halls, Wiest Hall was named to honor C. F. Wiest, who was a long-time professor of philosophy at the college.
Capitalizing on the relaxed pace of the weekend, two college men tackle the chore of doing their washing. During the year many students journeyed from their apartments to utilize conveniences of do-it-yourself laundries.

Apartments Are Home for Majority of Students

Whether for reasons of economy, freedom, privacy or marriage, nearly three-fourths of the student population lived in apartments both on and off campus, in trailer houses and in sleeping rooms.

College officials and Hays townspeople cooperated to provide sufficient living space for students. Several new privately owned housing units sprang up during the year. Providing living facilities for some of the married students, 84 Wooster Place apartments helped fulfill the need for housing. Several Lewis Field apartments, carry-overs from World War II, also provided low-cost housing accommodations for students.

Married students and single off-campus residents elected representatives to Student Council.
Taking time out from her studies, a coed enjoys the light entertainment afforded by evening television shows.

Bringing out the ironing board, an apartment resident takes part of an evening to press out her weekly washing.

With four units completed in 1961 and two in 1964, a total of 84 Wooster Place apartments serve married students.
Classes

In 1902, 34 students beginning classes at the Fort Hays Normal School were greeted by two faculty members and a campus of two classroom buildings. Today nearly 5,000 students attend classes on a spacious campus which has 11 classroom buildings, employs about 250 faculty members and offers almost a thousand different courses.

Authorities predict that such growth will continue. As future enrollments climb and then climb again, FHS personnel and students will face the challenge of meeting the lightning-fast demands of growth while maintaining high scholastic standards.

Supplying Fort Hays State’s thousands of personnel requires genuine community support. Hays meets the test. The city’s many businesses offer those connected with the college up-to-date goods and services.

Indicative of the cooperation which the community lends to Fort Hays State is the help it rendered toward making the first College Appreciation Days a success.

Mutual efforts of the community and its college have been a major factor in sparking Hays to prominence in Western Kansas. Continued cooperation will make possible the realization of tomorrow’s potential.

Working to conserve time, fraternity men aid sorority women with a change-off during Greek Week bicycle races.
Sawing lumber to be used in the construction of a float for Homecoming, collegians work to ready their entry.
Molding the clay into the desired shape, an art student prepares a piece of pottery for firing in the kiln.
Students passing to and from classes and meeting at the crosswalks of the campus comprise a familiar scene.
During the hectic period of examinations, fatigue overtakes a coed and the comfortable feeling of sleep ensues.
At a symposium backed by the Loader, students and faculty air views on provincialism and paternalism at FHS.
During the transfer of facilities to the new library, discarded materials prove interesting to youngsters.
And Finally . . .

In the heritage and traditions of Hays and Fort Hays State, the Reveille holds a small but significant place. The book began with the publication of a 154-page, paperbound volume in 1914. The current volume’s 360 pages, color photographs and modern typography contrast markedly with the appearance of the first book. Future physical, cultural and intellectual growth of FHS and the community will challenge successive yearbook staffs to further qualitative and quantitative improvement, for progress begets progress.

Many hands have helped produce the 1967 Reveille. All persons who contributed to its publication have my thanks. Although it is impossible to mention everyone, it is inconceivable for me to close without giving special credit to Mrs. Katherine Rogers, adviser; Leon Maxson and his photography crew; Ralph Hormel, graphic artist; Bob Lowen, sports information director; Deanna Miller, associate editor; Ed Allen, business manager; Paul McClellan and Taylor Publishing Co.; Jack Ekey, who photographed the Reveille Queen finalists; and Christopher Studio, which handled production of student and faculty portraits.

Having recorded another chapter in the story of Fort Hays State, the 1967 Reveille will help recall the heritage that belongs to those connected with the college and community. It is my wish that the book will become an informative and valued possession of each owner.
