Spring Play Starts Run Tonight

"The Male Animal," a comedy by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, will be presented by the Little Theater at 8 tonight and Friday in the Hays High School auditorium.

Activity tickets will admit students.

Harriet Ketchum, assistant professor of speech, will direct the three-act play assisted by student directors Romana Bardot, Coldwater junior, and Joe Terry, Great Bend junior.

"The Male Animal" reveals various phases of college life including athletics, literature and the eternal romance triangle. "It is a delightful comedy in the typical Thurber fashion," said Miss Ketchum.

Auditions Scheduled

Auditions will be held Monday to replace three singers in the Impromptuos, a campus singing group.

The group needs two altos and one second soprano.

Interested students should contact Miss Mary Maude Moore in Coliseum Room 304 before Monday to get details of the audition.

First of Two Follies Shows Is Friday Night

FOLLIES STAR — Cindy Coppock, Goodland sophomore, is one of many FHS students that will be participating in the Fort Hays Follies Friday and Saturday night.

Campbell New SKSTA President

Buddy F. Campbell, Ellis sophomore, was elected president of the Student Kansas State Teachers Assn. for 1963-1964 school year at the ninth annual convention Saturday in Arkansas City.

Dr. B. W. Broach, professor of education and sponsor of the home chapter, automatically becomes state sponsor during Campbell's term.

The new president will represent Kansas college chapters at the National Teacher Educational and Professional Standards convention in Columbus, Ohio in June and the National Education Assn. convention in Detroit in July.

Campbell has been the FHS chapter vice-president of KSTA and SNEA this year. He is vice-president of Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary scholastic fraternity and his dormitory, Wiest Hall. He is a member of Seventh Cavalry, men's leadership organization and a two-year tennis squad member.

Concert Tuesday By Orchestra

A flute solo by Janet Buchanan, Healy sophomore, entitled Poem for Flute and Orchestra, promises to be one of the featured attractions at the College-Community Orchestra performance at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Sheridan Coliseum.

Edwin Moyers, director of the orchestra and assistant professor of music, explained that a solo is a rarity at these performances. The group, composed of FHS faculty and students, area public school students and local towns people, plays twice a year, in the fall and spring.

One of the oldest groups on campus, and one of the few of its kind left in Western Kansas, the 43-piece band will play selections from Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Tchaikowski, Delius, Borodin and Enesco.

By Arlene Goetz
Leader Feature Editor

Happy, hectic, hilarious, the 1963 Fort Hays Follies promises to be one of the liveliest floor shows ever performed.

Surrounded by an exclusive night club setting called the "Club Esquire," 11 acts will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Sheridan Coliseum.

Tickets are $1 at the Memorial Union information desk. Activity tickets will not admit students.

Members of this year's Follies production staff are: Production manager, Karen Bebb, Norton senior; business manager, Rex Gaskill, Hutchinson junior; faculty advisers, John Thorns, associate professor of art, and Miss Nancy Cotham, instructor of physical education, and Lynn Rogers, Hoisington junior, Memorial Union program director.

James Childers, graduate student from Lenora, will act as master of ceremonies.

Competing for the traveling sweepstakes, first, second and third group trophies are: Agnew Hall recalling "Highlights of Night Clubs;" Custer Hall dancing to the "Thermo Tempo;" Sigma Sigma Sigma depicting "International Showtime at Club Esquire," and Little Theater remembering "Esquire of Yesteryear." Alpha Gamma Delta will team up with Tau Kappa Epsilon for "Greek-Side Story," while Delta Zeta will join Sigma Phi Epsilon in the "Evolution of Night Club Acts."

Entered in the competition for three single prizes are: Merle Sanfield, Satanta junior, doing a monologue on education; Wayne Staab, Hays senior, relating "Broadcasting Anxiety;" Joe Do-lezal, Cuba sophomore, presenting "Professor Doley and His Magical Mist," and The Plainsmen, a vocal trio, rendering their talents in song.

Winners of the Follies awards will be named Saturday night following the performance. Judges are Dean Nolte, Garden City High School; Jim Simpson, Russell High School, and Clay Thompson, Hoisington High School. All are speech instructors.

Set designers Ken Zrubeck, Cunningham junior; Walter Wetzel, Pratt junior, and Frank Petersilie, Cunningham graduate student, will turn the club over to Phi Sigma Epsilon members who will serve as bartenders and wait on tables. The authentic night club setting includes bar, hat check, tables and low lights.

Lynn Hagerman, Long Island junior, is stage manager for the production and Bob Willems, Plevna sophomore, will handle the lighting.

The nights' proceeds will be divided between the L. D. Wooster Endowment Fund and the National Defense Student Loan Program.

Dating back many years, the annual student talent show has undergone quite a few changes since its origin.

First planned as a stunt night, the production was given in connection with Homecoming during the '30s. In 1952 The Leader carried a story declaring "Stunt Night Has Been Abolished." In its place came the Fort Hays State Review. Then in 1955 the music and dramatics department.

The Professor of the Year election will enable the student body to choose its favorite professor from the monthly winners.

Red Tactics Explained By Chinese Policy Expert

"Red China's Threat to the Free World" was discussed by Dr. K. C. Wu, widely recognized authority on China and former governor of Formosa, at the annual Honors Convocation Monday morning.

The convocation honored Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma members for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Dr. Wu replaced Saturday Review editor Norman Cousins, previously scheduled speaker, who was detained by the U. S. State Department on an overseas mission.

Wu said questions such as "Why did the Bay of Pigs invasion fail?" "Why do the Reds always seem to be winning in Laos?" and "Why is there no apparent decrease in guerillas in Vietnam?" may be answered by understanding how the Communists operate.

"Only after old China was lost was I able to find a pattern of operations," he said.

According to Dr. Wu, the Communists have a standard five-step operation which is set up as follows:

1. Preparatory stage—future

guerillas learn the language of the country to be infiltrated and smuggling routes are set up for carrying arms and personnel.

2. Underground movement of troops—guerillas are moved to the country to be taken and secure legitimate jobs for day-time cover.

3. Hidden stage—demobilization exercises are started, including armed robbery, murder and arson, to enable the guerillas to raise money.

4. Half-open stage—wealthy and prominent people are either murdered or blackmailed to provide even more money for subversive operations. Prominent people cannot ask for government protection because of the fear of being branded collaborators.

5. Open stage—everyone in the country is organized for "the cause," as Cuba is now. All citizens, under fear for their lives, strive to prove their loyalty to the Communist rulers.

In answer to the first question, why did the Bay of Pigs invasion fail? Wu said Cuba had already

Opera Singer Teaching Languages at FHS

By Mrs. Katherine Rogers
FHS News Service

It's a long jump from singing solos at the State Opera in the U.S.S.R. to teaching languages in a midwestern American college. But for a man with a bachelor's degree in music, a master's in library science and a doctorate in Slavic philology, nothing seems too unusual.

Contrasts are common to Dr. Roman Kuchar, German and Russian instructor at FHS, who has experienced the excitement of public acclaim, slavery of the iron mines, ated' into the 'Happy Prison of Nations.'

"When my country suffered immeasurably, and continues to suffer, I made a promise to myself that if I survive (as my family did not) I would do my best to spread the truth in the free world about the danger for the whole world of Russian communism."

Kuchar came to this country in 1951 to accept a scholarship at Colorado University where he received a bachelor of music degree. To fulfill his promise to him-spread the truth for the cause of freedom and this passion is carried to his classroom.

He thinks he has found what he sought; An opportunity to teach both Russian and German, a chance to speak in behalf of freedom from the tyranny of communism, an occasional singing engagement, and a home in an area strangely reminiscent of homeland.

The Rocky Mountains remind the Kuchars of their beloved Bavarian Alps, but perhaps dearer to their hearts are the plains of Kansas, similar in terrain, temperature and agriculture interests to the Ukraine.

"Even the yellow and blue of the Kansas flag are the state colors of my country, and the sunflower is our flower, too," says Kuchar. "New to us are the windmills and the oil wells, but we feel very much at home here."

Beta Beta Beta Initiates 15 New Members Today

Fourteen FHS students will be initiated into Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological sciences society, today in the Memorial Union.

Initiation is scheduled at 5 p.m. with a banquet following at 6. Speaking at the banquet will be Dr. Richard G. Beidleman of the Colorado College department of zoology, Colorado Springs.

Sponsored by the visiting biologists program of the American Institute of Biological Sciences, Dr. Beidleman's major fields of interest include species association groups among birds and vertebrate ecology of western communities. A native of Grand orks, N. D., he received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Colorado.

During his 15 years of teaching at the college level, Dr. Beidleman has directed five National Science Foundation summer institutes, four NSF secondary school student programs and two NSF general science in-service institute. He was a regional director for Beta Beta Beta from 1950-56.

In addition to his speech before the Hays Tri Beta chapter, Dr. Beidleman will be on the FHS campus throughout Friday to talk with biological science classes.

Those to be initiated into the group are: Orville Bonner, Hays senior; John Davis, Garden City graduate student; Darroll Eaton, Scott City junior; Fred Hamann, Tribune graduate student; Gene Hayes, Smith Center senior; Laverne Rexroad, Hutchinson junior; Girija Roy, India; William Stapleton, Belpre senior; Larry Stum, Ness City junior; Charles Suppes, La Crosse graduate student; Rex Trauer, Hanston graduate student; Eldon Whitmer, Dorrance junior; Ray Widiger, Bazine sophomore, and Dallas Wilhelm, Sterling junior.

To qualify for membership, each of the students must have had 10 hours in the biological sciences, a 1.5 overall grade average and a 2. (B) in their major field and be at least second semester sophomores. Initiates are nominated by a faculty committee.

ments took over the program, calling it a variety show. This was followed in short order by the Fort Hays Follies.

In 1959 the Memorial Union Program Council assumed responsibility for the show and has striven to improve the quality of it as well as its value as a fundraiser for scholarships each year.

The 1953 Review provided five scholarships, but by 1958 the Follies had gained enough popularity to net almost $1,000 and provide 13 one-semester grants. The trend has continued upward and reached a peak in 1960 when almost $1,600 was made, providing 24 scholarships.

Winners of last year's sweepstakes and first place trophies was the team of Delta Zeta and Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Alpha Phalfa Sorghums and Alpha Gamma Delta placed second and third.

Mary Lou Jorns and Joe Dolezal captured first prize in the singles entries. Billie Allen, Ellis junior, took second and Merle Canfield won third.

The versatile professor was born in Lviv, Ukraine, and is now a naturalized American citizen, living happily with his wife and three children in Hays, far from the turmoil which has characterized his earlier life. He studied philology at State University and voice at State Conservatory, both in Lviv, from 1940 to 1943, then went to the Viennese Music School for two years. He sang concerts in Germany, Austria and Ukraine, appearing as a soloist for the State Opera in U.S.S.R.

When the Ukraine surrendered to Germany in World War II, he was sent to Germany to work in the iron mines. After a year and a half, the Germans learned that Kuchar could speak three languages and took him out of the mines to be an interpreter.

He taught German, Russian and English to displaced persons in Germany and received a Diploma of Interpreter in Russian and German from the University of Heidelberg. ## Three Get Large Grants To Work On Doctorate

Three FHS students have received grants that will enable them to work for a Ph.D.

Lucille Dinges, Hays senior, has accepted a National Defense Fellowship worth over $6,500 for three years of study leading to a Ph.D. in English at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

Miss Dinges had turned down nine other fellowships before accepting this one. This grant carries a stipend of $2,000 the first year, $2,200 the second and $2,400 for the third. A waiver of tuition is included.

Lucille Dinges

She is a member of Lambda Iota Tau, French Club, Newman Club, Phi Kappa Phi and is listed in the College Who's Who.

A 1949 graduate of Marian High School, Miss Dinges is the daughter of Mrs. Matt Dinges, Hays.

Samuel Pancake, a biology major from Atwood, has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant worth about $5,400 plus tuition. He will begin work on his doctorate in biochemistry at Harvard University this fall.

Danny Martin, a botany major from Chase, has received a two-year National Defense Education Act fellowship for study at Montana State University, Bozeman.

Pancake's grant, renewable for three years, pays $1,800 per year plus tuition.

He has compiled a 2.89 grade average and will complete his work at FHS in August. It has taken him only six regular semesters and two summer sessions to complete requirements for his major.

Kappa Phi and Beta Beta Beta honorary scholastic organization.

Martin will get $2,600 the first year and $2,800 the second year. His grant also includes a waiver of all tuition and fees.

Martin graduated from Chase High School in 1956. In 1961 he earned his B.S. degree at FHS and plans to graduate with an M.S. this spring.

Over 800 Grants Are Available For Graduate Study Next Year

More than 800 United States government awards will be available to qualified American graduate students for study or research in any one of 49 countries during the 1964-65 academic year.

The graduate fellowships, available under the Fulbright-Hays Act of 1961, are administered by the Institute of International Education as part of the educational exchange program of the Department of State.

There are three types of awards: U. S. government full grants; joint U. S.-other government grants; and U. S. government travel-only grants. Full grants provide round-trip transportation, tuition, books and maintenance for study in 36 foreign countries.

A joint U. S.-other government grant is offered cooperatively by the U. S. government (which provides travel) and a foreign government (which provides tuition and maintenance). Joint awards are available for study in 18 countries.

Travel-only grants are intended to supplement maintenance and tuition scholarships received from a university, a private donor, or a foreign government. Travel-only awards are available for study in eight lands.

General eligibility requirements for all types of grants are: U. S. citizenship (at the time of application), a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant, language proficiency sufficient to carry out the proposed study project and for general communication, and good health. A good academic record and demonstrated capacity for independent study are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Students now enrolled in a college or university should consult their campus Fulbright Program Adviser about applying for the 1964-65 scholarships. All others may secure information and application forms from the counseling division of the Institute of International Education, 800 Second Avenue, New York 17, New York; or to any of IIE's regional offices (see letterhead).

All requests for application forms must be postmarked by October 15, 1963. At-large applicants must submit their completed applications to IIE by November 1, 1963. Enrolled students must submit applications to the campus Fulbright Adviser by the respective campus closing date.

Since the academic year 1948-49, approximately 12,000 American graduate students have studied abroad under the programs which are now covered by the new Fulbright-Hays Act. The Institute of International Education seeks to encourage international understanding and educational development through programs of international educational exchange.

Speakers and the Union

One coed who chose to "Unionize" instead of attending the honors convocation Monday said, "It was terrible—I could hardly find a place to sit."

There was no seating problem in Sheridan Coliseum during the convocation. In fact, there prevailed a feeling akin to loneliness so sparse was the (crowd?).

A speaker of the stature of Dr. K. C. Wu deserves a large audience, especially since the topic was of such import and timeliness. Had Norman Cousins been able to keep his engagement, he too would have been equally deserving.

We have learned from past experience that it does no good to preach about poor attendance at programs of this nature. It is doubtful that a verbal tongue lashing will magically change a person's interests or lack of interests.

It will happen again and again and again. But we are convinced that the students who did attend the honors convocation Monday have something over those that were sitting in the Memorial Union soaking up soda water and gossip.

What Court?

What has happened to the Almighty Department of Justice at Fort Hays State?

No wise decisions from the sages of the bench have been handed down since last semester. To be more accurate, it appears no decisions have been written, period.

During the organization of the court last year, proponents of the legislative body claimed a student court was practically an absolute necessity. They acted hard put to understand how the school had gotten along without it.

The new student court was to be of great benefit to the students. Those convicted of violations off campus and placed on probation or suspension were to have their cases reviewed before the student court in hopes of decreasing punishment or uncovering new evidence. Likewise, students charged with campus violations were to appear before the court to have fair justice meted out to them, which, it was feared, the administration would not do.

All-Student Council was to receive help in interpreting the student body constitution from the court.

The court engaged in some activity last semester, but that must have been before the newness of the organization wore off. During the spring semester it seems the only business conducted by the court consisted of straightening one of ASC's misunderstandings of the constitution.

We have heard of no incidents where students placed on probation or suspension had their cases reviewed by the student court this semester.

Perhaps those cases were of such a clear-cut nature that the administration thought the court had no business meddling with them. If this is true, then the court has little authority and is no more than a way to do nothing and get another activity listed after one's name in the yearbook.

Is the student court necessary?

Letter to FHS Students.

On behalf of the chairmen of the eight NCATE Committees and the college administration, I want to thank the faculty, staff and student body for the hospitality shown to the team of evaluators who visited our campus on April 8, 9, and 10. These gentlemen were very complimentary of the courtesies and thoughtfulness shown to them and the cooperative attitude of all those people from whom they requested interviews as they gathered information for their reports.

I am sure that they sensed the friendly feeling that prevails on our campus and this is one of the things that make me proud to have visitors here. Thank all of you for making our visitors welcome.

Mumblings

If I should ever get in a situation that needed the immediate help of the police, I hope it doesn't happen in Hays.

More than likely the whole on-duty force would be congregated at some corner on the other side of town looking at something.

The local police have a great penchant for looking at things.

I saw one the other day out on Highway 40 watching men build a fence around the buffalo. Maybe he thought a worker would try to steal one of the critters for his home freezer.

There was a minor auto wreck a few days previous to this which was well attended by two patrol cars and the motorized tricycle, with plenty of cops milling around to make sure a patrol car wasn't stolen.

I've seen another of the local policemen stopping regularly to watch someone burn his lawn or trash or just to talk. Maybe it's an approved way to relieve the boredom of the job.

Then there's the radar. When those guys go on a radar kick, it's a safe bet that anyone could go to the other side of town, slip a truck under a two-story house and drag it half-way to Ellis before the police figured out what was happening.

Maybe it's just typical of a small town, but it doesn't seem quite like the most efficient method of operation to me. drw

Some New Answers To Old Questions

(ACP) — THE EGYPTIAN, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., gathered up these student statements on examinations:

"The three stages of life are childhood, adolescence and adulthood. Some people never reach the third stage."

"Hamlet," one instructor learned, "is a revenge play with a duel and all that."

In Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Babbitt," "The bunch was a group of flivverous characters."

Poetess Elizabeth Barrett Browning was a "criple," said a boy who explained later that he chose that term because "I don't know how to spell 'invalid'."

Assigned to write on commuting, one student explained he goes home weekends "to get a bowel of my mother's vitals." Still another theme-writer revealed that her most precious possession is her "chester drawers."

Red Tactics . . .

reacher stage five of the Communists' plan. He said Kennedy didn't send air support for the invasion because he was counting on inside help from the Cubans.

Questions two and three fall under the hidden stage, especially in the Vietnam situation where guerillas keep appearing just as fast as they can be exterminated.

Wu said, "It was some time before we realized a crime wave preceded a Communist takeover. We thought the murder, robbery and arson that are characteristic of the hidden stage was the work of ordinary criminals."

Wu emphasized the difficulty of finding a way to combat Red guerilla tactics.

"You are the masters of the U. S. of tomorrow," Dr. Wu said. "It's up to you to take action toward defeating this threat."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I CAN ALWAYS SPOT A FRATERNITY MAN AT ONE OF OUR OPEN HOUSES — THEY SEEM TO MAKE FRIENDS SO QUICKLY."

One Man's Idea of the Wash-and-Wear Student

(ACP) — For once, says a letter to the editor of THE WESTERN MISTIC, Moorhead, State College, Moorhead, Minn., let us ignore the scholarly, the literate and the ambitious. Let us look at the average, everyday, wash-and-wear college student. What is he?

Why is he here? There is, of course, the over-riding, vital reason. A college degree is a key to a good job and a good salary for the ordinary person. It is almost a certain way to gain security. This, for the insecure, makes the pain of getting a college degree bearable. Not only that, college is the place to go after high school.

His intellectual qualifications are rarely considered when it is decided that he shall attend college. Here in the United States the education is required for the man, not the man for the education.

The ordinary college student treats classes as a necessary evil. He goes at the beginning of a quarter (to turn in his class card) and once in a while he goes to find out how much has been covered since the last time he went. He realizes he is in college to get a degree, and this means passing exams. Since he usually rides a curve, he does the minimum amount of work necessary to get over, with perhaps a small margin of safety.

He little knows what a student commission is or what it does. He knows there is a convention since he was asked to leave the library lounge. He is aware of a college paper with its comic strip. But he would never read this article.

He knows little and cares less about subcommittees. He does not participate in anything unless he is dragged to a social affair sponsored by students.

Since such a fuss is made over such organizations as fraternities, he is determined to join one. His chief concern then will be girls and sex. He probably will see movies that the censor board has not even had a chance at.

He is an enthusiastic member of some group of hard drinkers—or says he is—and tends to get stoned on weekends—or says he does.

His standard of an educated, well-informed person is one who reads "Time." He prefers "Life," "The Saturday Evening Post," "Sports Illustrated" and publications not on the "family reading list." ## FHS Receives $7,780 Grant For Mathematics Institute

A National Science Foundation grant of $7,780 has been awarded FHS to conduct an in-service institute in mathematics during the 1963-64 college year.

The institute will be similar to one now being conducted under an NSF grant. It will be open to mathematics teachers in grades 7-12 inclusive. Wilmont Toalson, associate professor of mathematics and institute director, said any person teaching one class in mathematics in these grades will be eligible.

Eleven Saturday meetings in the fall beginning Sept. 14, and nine in the spring are planned. Three credit hours are offered for fall and two for spring.

The fall course, modern concepts in geometry, will be based on School Mathematics Study Group materials. History of mathematics will be the spring course, with special emphasis on recent curriculum changes and development of concepts in the past 150 years. Toalson will teach the fall class and Miss Ellen Veed, instructor in mathematics, will be in charge of the spring course.

Twenty-five stipends, which provide an allowance for books, travel and fees, will be given. Objective of the courses is to increase the subject matter competency of the participants, Toalson said.

Thirty teachers are enrolled in this year's in-service institute. Application forms will be available in about two weeks and may be obtained by writing Toalson.

French Blue Blazers Being Adapted By Sigma Tau Gamma Wardrobe

By Deanna Nash
Leader Staff Reporter

Sigma Tau Gamma has sprung a new look for spring. Instead of the traditional navy blue blazers, the Sig Taus are adopting a new shade of blue called French blue.

"We looked for about two months before we decided on the color," said Marlin Butler, Lewis sophomore.

Jim Hartzell, Lincoln junior, felt that the lighter blue was in keeping with college trends of newer and brighter colors.

Another deciding factor, according to Marvin Shelite, Ulysses freshman, was the fact that the new coats would be easier to keep clean.

"Also, since our colors are blue and silver, we felt the lighter blue would look better with silver," declared Jerry Sherrill, Burrton senior.

Even though the new color had a practical aspect, the change of colors seemed to be favorable to most of the members.

LeRoy Sawyer, Lewis senior, said, "Most men wear dark suits, but with a brighter color we'll be more outstanding. Our navy blue was too much like another fraternity's color and we wanted to look more original."

Gary Naasz, Wellington freshman, summed up the general opinion by declaring, "I like them. They're more versatile, the crests look better on that color, and the coats as a whole will be more noticeable."

Netmen Face Defending CIC Champ Emporia Today, Pittsburg State Tuesday

FHS's tennis squad ends its fifth scheduled meet in eight days by meeting Emporia State, the defending CIC champs, today at Emporia.

The Tiger racketeers will resume their season agenda Tuesday against Pittsburg State at Wichita.

"There isn't an opponent left in the agenda that we can't beat, if team members play up to their capabilities," said coach Malcolm Applegate. "However, we can lose if we are not playing up to our expectations."

Against E-State and P-State, the Bengal netmen will play five singles and two doubles matches.

The FHS squad lost meets to Bethany College, Washburn University and a Kansas University freshman team before beating Kearney (Neb.) State, 5-2.

The Staters won three of the five singles matches and two doubles matches against the Antelopes Tuesday afternoon on the college courts. Earlier in the season FHS downed Kearney, 4-3. The season record now stands at 2-4.

Against the KU freshmen Saturday at Lawrence, the Bengals suffered a 4-2 defeat, and Friday afternoon at Topeka, Washburn U. dumped the Tigers, 6-1.

Byron Welch and Pat McAtee registered a victory for the Staters against WU in a doubles triumph. Welch added the second point for the Bengals with a singles victory.

Thursday afternoon on the local tennis courts, Bethany College handed the FHS netmen a 5-2 defeat. Welch garnered the Tigers' only singles victory, and then teamed up with Mike Minson for a doubles win.

Track Squad Enters Highly Rated Colorado Relays; Fall to Emporia

Fort Hays State's track squad travels to Boulder, Colo., Saturday to compete in the Colorado Relays.

"We will be running against universities and the competition will be the best," said coach Alex Francis. The veteran track mentor commented that he thought the competition would probably be stiffer than found at the Texas Relays.

Francis plans to run two teams in four events at Boulder. Jon Day, Dennis Mannering, Jack Harms and Dwight Gillespie or Mervin Poore will make up mile and two-mile relay teams. On the distance medley team and in the mile team race will be Don Lakin, Lowell Smith, Jerry Hertle and John Rose. Ken Richards will also be entered in the shotput, Bob Schmidt in the high jump if an injury heals and Clark Engle may possibly enter the discus, according to Francis.

Wednesday the Staters face Wichita University on the road for what Francis expects to be a tough meet.

"WU would have to be considered the favorite," he said. "They're pretty good and have the best team they've had in the past 16 years."

The Bengal thinclads fell to powerful defending CIC champion Emporia State, 79-53, in a dual track meet Tuesday at Lewis Field Stadium.

In the only home meet of the season for the Tigers, six meet records were broken and another was established in a new event.

A Tiger relay team of Larry Drees, Charles Lundblade, Harms and Day recorded the first standard in the 440-yard relay. The sprinters covered the distance in 43.8 seconds.

Three Hornet track men emerged double winners. John Camien won the 880 and mile, Charles Richards the 120-yard high hurdles and 180-yard low hurdles and DeWolff Roberts the 220 and broad jump.

Day, a three-year letterman, broke his old mark by winning the event in 49.0. He held the record of 49.1, set in 1962 and 1961.

Other Bengal winners were Schmidt, in the high jump; Ken

Richards, shotput, and the FHS mile relay team, which was made up of Bob Anthony, Mannering, Harms and Day.

In the Kansas University Relays Saturday the FHS squad failed to place. The closest the Staters could come was fifth in the distance medley relay. Rose ran seventh in the steeplechase. Contestants must finish in the top four to place.

Drees was also second in the 220, third in the broad jump and ran on the winning 440 relay team.

Golfers Tee Off Against Wichita

Members of Fort Hays State's golf team tee-off against Wichita University today in the second dual meet of the season. The Shockers from Wichita are looking for their third dual win of the season.

Following the action with WU the Tiger golfers travel to Atchison Monday for a meet against three conference opponents, Washburn, Emporia State and St. Benedict's. However, it appears Washburn and Emporia may not be able to attend so the meet may turn into a dual between FHS and St. Benedict's.

This will be the second quadrangular encounter involving the four teams this season, if all show up. They will meet again Wednesday at Emporia.

In the season opener the FHS golfers placed behind Washburn, 14-1, while defeating E-State, 8-7, and St. Benedict's, 9 1/2-5 1/2.

FHS was paced by R. J. Smiley, sophomore letterman from Hays, who fired a score of 80.

The Tiger golfers scored a decisive victory over Kearney State, 14 1/2-6 1/2, Friday afternoon at the Hays Country Club. This was the fourth triumph of the season for the Bengals.

Sophomore Roger Peatling and freshman Dave Wallsmith tied for medalist honors with 79's. Teammate R. J. Smiley, finished with an 80.
