Band Moves Outside For Concerts

The FHS Band will move out-of-doors Tuesday and May 15 on the lawn behind Picken Hall to present its "Under the Elms" concerts.

Under the direction of Lyle Dille, assistant professor of music, the 65-piece group will play 45 minutes of popular and marching music beginning at 6:30 p.m. both nights.

Connie Cramer, Healy junior, and David Ketchum, Rexford sophomore, are scheduled to sing vocal solos. The Trumpet Trio, composed of Byron Westerman, Hays sophomore; Kenny Faulk, Salina junior, and Joseph Spies, sophomore, will also play a few selections.

In case of inclement weather the concert will be held in Sheridan Coliseum.

Monday Is Beginning Of Annual Greek Week

Greek Week, highlight of the year for six fraternities and four sororities at FHS, will begin Monday and wind up Saturday with the chariot races at Lewis Field Stadium.

Greek Week activities will be launched Wednesday with an All-Pledge dance at 7:30 till 9 p.m. in the Memorial Union basement. A king and queen, elected by pledges from all the Greek organizations, will reign over the affair.

Candidates for the pledge king are: Joe Cress, Goodland freshman, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jack Hazlett, Minneapolis senior, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Art Bourbina, Abilene fresh-

All fraternities and sororities will compete in Greek Sing at 8 p.m. Friday in Sheridan Coliseum. Each group will render two to three songs. Last year's first place winners were Delta Zeta and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The Greeks will join forces Saturday morning for a campus clean up. Others will host high school students, who will be visiting the campus for pre-enrollment.

Later in the day, six fraternities will vie for a trophy to be awarded to the fastest Greek chariot. Each chariot, pulled by two runners, will accommodate one female rider. Winner of the relay race and the passenger will both receive trophies. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Pat-sy Leuty, Ellsworth senior of Sigma Sigma Sigma, have captured the trophies three years in a row.

Greek Week was set aside for the first time four years ago when it was thought that Greek activities should be coordinated into one week. The object of this annual event is to make the campus and community more aware of Greek organizations and their projects.

Car Wreck Victims Listed Satisfactory

Two FHS students and one Hays resident are reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Anthony Hospital following a one-car accident Sunday afternoon.

France Roe, Downs sophomore, received chest injuries; Dean Greig, Osborne freshman, suffered a broken ankle, right knee and shoulder injuries, and Donna Pfannerstiel, 406 East 16th St., received cuts and bruises.

The other three occupants of the car, William Lowen, Wichita freshman, Carl Buchanan, Hoisington freshman, Carl Buchanan, Hoisington freshman, and Patricia Schmidt, 409 East 16th St., were treated for minor cuts and bruises and released. Lowen was the driver of the car.

Undersheriff Eugene Doerfler, the investigating officer, said the Lowen car was traveling south on a country road two miles north of Hays and going over a hill when it hit a rough spot on the road. Lowen lost control and skidded sideways and overturned at least three times, coming to rest in a field on the west side of the road. The car was completely demolished.

Greeks Strive for Worthy Ideals

By Arlene Goetz
Leader Feature Editor

What is a Greek?

If you ask this question in some groups, you will hear comments about arrogant students interested only in the social aspects of college life.

Actually, there's more to fraternities and sororities than is usually believed. Since membership is by invitation only, a great deal of misinformation surrounds these groups.

Take a close look at some of the various angles of Greek life at FHS.

There are four sororities and six fraternities. All are members of the National Panhellenic Conference, composed of 29 national women's social fraternities, or the National Interfraternity Conference, made up of 59 national men's social fraternities.

All chapters maintain houses in which their members live. A few, like Delta Zeta, rent; some, like Delta Sigma Phi, own their houses, and others, like Phi Sigma Epsilon, are making the final payments. Sigma Tau Gamma members, who recently moved into a new house, are the latest property owners.

Social activities are only a minor part of Greek life. Anyone who joins a Greek organization must have a creditable scholastic record, learn about the organization he has joined and serve his group to prove his interest in membership during the pledge period.

Delta Sigma Phi has a program called "Engineered Leadership," which is patented in Washington, D.C. Every pledge is encouraged to belong to at least one organization on campus.

"By the time the pledge reaches an active status in the fraternity, he will be ready to hold a responsible office," explained Jerry Patterson, Hill City sophomore.

In all Greek chapters, if the pledge meets the requirements for membership, he is initiated. He continues to participate in group activities, in the social program and in college organizations.

Old initiation traditions, often associated with Greek organizations, are non-existent on this campus. "The idea of degrading and humiliating is a thing of the past," said John Murray, St. Louis junior, Phi Sigma Epsilon president.

Community service projects have been substituted by most chapters. Projects range from soliciting for local fund drives to national and international philanthropic programs.

The IFC solicited for the community's United Fund, Heart Fund and Cancer drives. All fraternities participated in the blood donor program at the local hospitals.

As a national project, Sigma Sigma Sigma donates money to the Robie Page Memorial Fund. Contributions go for medical research and building additions to a children's hospital in Chapel Hill, N. C.

Sigma Kappa gives to a Greek Farm School in Greece, where underprivileged girls are taught hygiene.

Greek, men and women are expected to maintain a high scholastic average. Panhellenic and IFC award trophies to the sororities and fraternities with the highest grade indexes among pledge and active groups.

Each Greek organization rewards its own outstanding students. Sigma Phi Epsilon has organized a Scholastic Review Board to aid students who drop below a 1.0 grade average. The board is composed of the dean of men, a faculty adviser, the president and keeper of the grades.

Alpha Gamma Delta adds an extra jewel to the sorority badge of the new initiate who has attained the highest grade point during her pledge period. Last fall two girls earned a 3.0.

Tau Kappa Epsilon awards citations to all members who acquire over a 1.7.

The financial obligations connected with membership in a Greek organization are not as great as one may be led to believe. Many fraternity and sorority members have part-time jobs. Living costs in a Greek house are no greater than dormitory rates.

"During 1958 approximately 70 per cent of the sorority women at FHS had part-time jobs," said Jean Stouffer, dean of women. "I doubt that the figure has changed very much."

Probably the greatest single reason college students join fraternities and sororities is the sense of belonging which membership gives.

"Sorority life means working and getting along together," said Delta Zeta president Judy Dresselhaus, Vesper sophomore. "You make friends that you will cherish all your life."

Chuck Miles, Garden City senior and president of Alpha Kappa Lambda, said, "The fraternity idea is based on ideals of moral and social impact, which are important to the fraternity man throughout life."

Not the least of their contributions, a fraternity or sorority is a place where a student learns to be a leader in the community.

According to Richard Burnett, dean of men, Greeks are substantial campus citizens.

"The tremendous potential of Greek organizations has not yet been realized," he said. "They exhibit mature leadership and are, for the most part, a positive force on our campus."

Committees and P-t-P

Since the organization of People-to-People, much good has been said about it. We believe the group merits the praise it has received on the basis of its ideals and aims—promoting international understanding.

But, the organization is in danger of not attaining its goals when it becomes as complicated as the chapter at Kansas State University.

A recent issue of the K-State Daily Collegian listed both the virtues and faults of P-t-P. On the fault side, an international student said it "has grown to be nothing more than a large organization composed of committees and subcommittees headed by persons more interested in position than people."

A Japanese student said, "The go-go-go attitude of the American people is something the foreign students should learn, but . . . friendship is not something that can be mass-produced through an assembly line. The most important thing is not the the amount of friendship—it is the depth of friendship that counts. Why can't American students receive foreign students as individual friends without having to go through a committee first?"

"I would prefer to meet people on a friendly basis, rather than through an organization," said a Grecian student. Another said, "The organization (P-t-P) isn't necessary, because nice people are accepted anywhere."

We have heard no similar comments from international students here, possibly because the local P-t-P group is nowhere near the size of the K-State chapter.

But there is always the danger of regimentation and overdoing the committee bit, which can cause the whole idea to lose its effectiveness. As the K-State group has found, too much organized friendliness, informality and casualness can easily become strained.

Everyone should be a P-t-P representative of sorts, whether or not he belongs to the actual organization.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Editor:

ARE YOU QUALIFIED?

Have you at any time performed your civic duty through service to your Federal, State, county, township, or city Government by holding a public, semi-military, or military position?

Have you at any time (aside from being ticketed) made any effort to become personally acquainted with at least five law enforcement officers of any capacity (federal, state, county or city)?

Have you at any time made it a point to become acquainted personally with any member of the Hays City Police Force?

Have you at any time made it a point to look into the records of the local police department to acquire knowledge regarding such things as number of unsolved crimes on record at present or how Hays rates as a police department as listed in the Kansas Law Enforcement Magazine?

Have you at any time acquired and studied the revised 1954 edition of the ordinances for the city of Hays, the booklet of traffic violations for the city of Hays, or the handbook of duties and conduct for Hays city patrolmen?

Have you at any time conducted a "man on the street" interview with at least 100 residents of Hays to acquire knowledge of public opinion of the local police force?

Have you at any time made any attempt to qualify yourself as an authority on the proper conduct of law enforcement officers aside from riding around in your little volkswagon dreaming up ways to improve situations you are completely ignorant about in the first place?

Mr. Editor, until you can answer yes to all of the above questions, I don't think you can call yourself qualified in any way to criticize any civil or military organization. If, after completing the extensive research it would take to enable you to answer yes to all of the above questions, you still feel as you do about any or all law enforcement and military organizations, then I would say you might be justified to criticize. Until that time, might I suggest you just keep on driving around in your little volkswagon, attempting to appear intellectual in your horned rimmed glasses as you observe a world you obviously know very little about and keep your d...d "mumblings" to yourself.

Sincerely written by
Patsy Ann Thomas
FHKSC Class of '62

ED. NOTE: I wonder what Mrs. Thomas' qualifications are for judging the intelligence and personality of a stranger?

Mumblings

Senior men looking for jobs in the help wanted section of metropolitan dailies are likely to become depressed if they aren't majoring in engineering.

Here are a few tidbits found in last Sunday's Denver Post.
MAINT. ENGR., M. E. $10,800
ELECTRONICS, deg., exp. $12,000
AERO ENG. $19,000
STAFF ENG. $20,000

Of course these salaries are for men with a few years' experience in most cases. But still, experience or no, these wages are nothing to be scoffed at.

Instead of comparing the above wages with school teachers, with comparable experience or degrees (they're unhappy enough already with their plight), let's look at another want ad for a job that takes considerable training.

CHEMIST, Ph.D., with experience, isotope analysis $9,475.
If a person is out for money, he can make much more money in the engineering field with less time in school, than in other areas. An engineer with a master's degree can start in the $800 to $900 range with no trouble at all.

An old friend of mine, age 23, with no previous job experience, recently landed a $10,500 per year job with his master's degree in engineering physics. His employer had never seen him when he was hired.

What does all this prove? Just that companies are willing to pay through the nose for engineers, providing, of course, they are good.

German Student Has Language Problem; Describes FHS Males As Gentlemen

"Someone once asked me about my grammar. I said she was just fine."

Ursel Rieser is a 19-year-old student from a small village in Southwestern Germany who has a small language problem, but after 17 months in the United States she is already an advocate of blue jeans, jazz, Chubby Checkers and FHS.

"I never liked school at home, but I really like it here. School here is much easier," she said. Miss Rieser attended a business school for three years in Germany before coming to Kansas. "I also like the new American dances and songs, but I still listen to some classical music."

writes English, but is taking English courses for foreign students, eight hours this semester, and working with tape recordings in the language laboratory, all no-credit classes. She is also taking an advanced German course.

Since she is unable to read or write English, she cannot take the ACT tests but attends school as an unclassified student. She will be allowed four semesters before taking the tests.

Miss Rieser has made no definite plans for the future but is considering becoming an airline hostess. She claims swimming, fencing, and sewing as her hobbies. She takes fencing lessons once a week from a local bank employee. In her spare time she tutors students taking German.

She is a member of the International Relations Club, People-to-People and logically enough president of the German Club.

Ursel Rieser

When asked to draw an analogy between the German and American young adults, she answered, "The American men are more friendly than the German men, but I feel the American women are not as friendly. American men are also more gentlemanly than the German men."

Miss Rieser spends her weekends and holidays with her sister and brother-in-law in Loretto. Her sister came to this country seven years ago, and her brother who now lives in New York arrived five years ago. Her mother spent two months in the United States about 18 months ago but returned to the old country because of homesickness.

When asked what she missed most about Germany she said, "I miss the large swimming pools with the surrounding lawns and open-air cafes." Miss Rieser explained that in Germany swimming is not a sport but an institution. "But I still like it here better than Germany," she continued.

Miss Rieser neither reads nor

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 2

Last week we discussed England, the first stop on the tour of Europe that every American college student is going to make this summer. Today we will take up your next stop—France, or the Pearl of the Pacific, as it is generally called.

To get from England to France, one greases one's body and swims the English Channel. Similarly, to get from France to Spain, one greases one's body and slides down the Pyrenees. And, of course, to get from France to Switzerland, one greases one's body and wriggles through the Simplon Tunnel. Thus, as you can see, the most important single item to take to Europe is a valise full of grease.

No, I am wrong. The most important thing to take to Europe is a valise full of Marlboro Cigarettes—or at least as many as the customs regulations will allow. And if by chance you should run out of Marlboros in Europe, do not despair. That familiar red and white Marlboro package is as omnipresent in Europe as it is in all fifty of the United States. And it is the same superb cigarette you find at home—the same pure white filter, the same zesty, mellow blend of tobaccos preceding the filter. This gem of the tobaccoist's art, this prodigy of cigarette engineering, was achieved by Marlboro's well-known research team—Fred Softpack and Walter Fliptop—and I, for one, am grateful.

But I digress. We were speaking of France—or the Serpent of the Nile, as it is popularly termed.

Let us first briefly sum up the history of France. The nation was discovered in 1066 by Madame Guillotine. There followed a series of costly wars with Schleswig-Holstein, the Cleveland Indians, and Jean Jacques Rousseau. Stability finally came to this troubled land with the coronation of Marshal Foch, who married Lorraine Alsace and had three children: Flopsy, Mopsy, and Charlemagne. This later became known as the Petit Trianon.

Marshal Foch—or the Boy Orator of the Platte, as he was affectionately called—was succeeded by Napoleon, who introduced shortness to France. Until Napoleon the French were the tallest nation in Europe. After Napoleon most Frenchmen were able to walk comfortably under card tables. This later became known as the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

Napoleon, after his defeat by Credit Mobilier, was exiled to Elba, where he made the famous statement, "Able was I ere I saw Elba." This sentence reads the same whether you spell it forward or backward. You can also spell Marlboro backward—Orobaram. Do not, however, try to smoke Marlboro backward because that undoes all the pleasure of the finest cigarette made.

After Napoleon's death the French people fell into a great fit of melancholy, known as the Louisiana Purchase. For over a century everyone sat around moping and refusing his food. This torpor was not lifted until Eiffel built his famous tower, which made everybody giggle so hard that today France is the gayest country in Europe.

Each night the colorful natives gather at sidewalk cafes and shout "Oo-la-la!" as Maurice Chevalier promenades down the Champs Elysees swinging his malacca cane. Then, tired but happy, everyone goes to the Louvre for bowls of onion soup.

The principal industry of France is cashing travellers checks. Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about France. Next week we will visit the Land of the Midnight Sun—Spain.

© 1963 Max Shulman

Next week, every week, the best cigarette you can buy the whole world over is filter-tipped Marlboro—soft pack or Flip-Top box—you get a lot to like.

Netmen Challenge Hutch Juco; Final Dual Meet With E-State

FHS Tiger tennis squad meets Hutchinson Junior College at Hutchinson Friday and closes its dual meet season Monday here on the college courts against the Emporia State Hornets.

The Hornets pulled out a 4-3 victory over the Bengals at Emporia Thursday. At Wichita Tuesday, Pittsburg State handed FHS a 5-2 setback.

In the season opener, the Hutch Juco team downed the Tigers by one point, 5-4, and last week the Emporia racketeers again surpassed them by one point. The Staters will be out to avenge these defeats.

"Lack of overall team effort has been our big problem," said coach Malcolm Applegate, "One or two of the boys have played well in all of our matches, but we never had all five playing well on the same day."

Defending CIC tennis champion E-State slipped by the Bengals at Emporia Thursday winning both doubles matches and two of the five singles matches.

Mike Minson, Hoisington sophomore, paced the Tigers, upsetting Emporia's Hank Wendland in the number-one match. According to Applegate, Minson played his best tennis of the season.

Bud Welch and Bud Campbell contributed the other singles triumphs for the Black and Gold. Campbell was filling in for Pat McAtee, who is the regular number-five player.

Welch and McAtee received the only two points against Pittsburg Gorillas by singles victories. They now rank as the only Tigers with winning records for the season.

Golfers Face Kearney; Last Action Before CIC Playoff

Fort Hays State continues golf action Wednesday when six linksters travel to Kearney (Neb.) State for a dual with the Antelopes. This will be the last meet for the Tigers before the Central Intercollegiate meet at Atchison May 13-14.

This will be the second meeting of the two squads this year. In the first meet the Bengals dumped the Nebraskans, 14½-6½, at the Fort Hays Country Club.

In this meet Kearney's best performance was handed in by Bob Simon, who fired an 87 on the local links.

Coach Joel Moss said he will take his regular top five golfers, R. J. Smiley, Roger Peatling, Jon Ficken, Dave Wallsmith and Bud Carlisle, plus John Francis, Hays freshman.

A "B" squad golf team from FHS will challenge Hutchinson Junior College Friday.

Making up the squad will be Rod Pekarek, Jene Miller, Ron Pizel, Tom Mock, Ficken and Francis.

In earlier action against Hutchinson, the Bengal varsity squad garnered a 12-6 victory.

The Tiger golf squad crushed St. Benedict's, 13-2, and lost to Washburn University, 9½-5½, in a three-team match Monday at Atchison.

This moved the Tigers' season record to 5-3 and assured coach Joel Moss and his golfers of a winning season. The varsity team has only one meet remaining before conference competition.

The Bengal golfers had defeated St. Benedict's, 9½-5½, and lost to WU, 14-1, in competition earlier this year.

Varsity ace R. J. Smiley led FHS with a 75, but Washburn's Jerry Adams won medalist honors with a 72. The Ichabods' other returning letterman, Bay Chotlos, fired a 74. St. Benedict's best score came from veteran Jim Rowan, who finished with an 81.

The Tiger golfers were overwhelmed, 19½-1½, by Wichita University in dual competition Thursday at the Wichita Country Club.

Wichita's Johnny Stevens paced the action with an outstanding score of 64. Stevens competed against Roger Peatling, sophomore transfer from Kansas State. Peatling fired a 75, his best round of the season.

R. J. Smiley, Hays sophomore, and Dave Wallsmith, Winfield freshman, both finished with 77's but lost out to Richard Russ and Ed Stephens, who shot 71's.

Physical Fitness Chairman Is KAYS Speaker

The chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Dick Snider, will be the featured speaker at the 1963 KAYS Sports Booster Club Athletic Achievement Banquet May 8 in Sheridan Coliseum.

The banquet honors athletic lettermen and coaches from FHS, Hays High School and St. Joseph's Military Academy. It is being sponsored for the third year by KAYS radio in Hays and members of the station's Sports Booster Club.

Snider is a former sports editor and managing editor of the Topeka Daily Capital. In 1961 he was appointed by President Kennedy to assist Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson in the national physical fitness program.

Dick Snider

While still active on the Topeka Daily Capital, Snider's sports column was syndicated in a number of Stauffer Publications newspapers. His columns on varied subjects now originate in Washington and appear periodically in the Capital.

Included among the honored athletes at this year's banquet will be more than 100 letter winners and all coaches in FHS's eight-sport athletic program.

Speakers at the two previous KAYS banquets were Doug Weaver, Kansas State football coach, and Jerry Bush, Nebraska University basketball coach for the past 10 seasons.

Thinclads Place Fifth In Colorado Relays; Wichita Last Dual Before CIC Meet

Tiger relay teams placed in two events at the Colorado Relays in Boulder Saturday to finish fifth in team scoring.

The Bengal runners garnered third place finishes in the two-mile relay and mile team race to earn the position among ten squads. Scoring was based on team entries only, with no individual events earning points.

Freshman Bob Schmidt and sophomore Clark Engle placed in individual events for FHS. Engle was third in the discus with a toss of 143-3 and Schmidt tied for third in the high jump with a leap of 6-2.

The University of New Mexico and host Colorado University battled for top honors, with the

New Mexico squad coming out on top 23-19. Well down the line in the third position was Colorado State University with 6, Denver University with 5 and Fort Hays State's 4.

Running for the Tigers on the two-mile relay team were Jack Harms, Dwight Gillespie, Dennis Mannering and Jon Day, and making up the mile team relay were Don Lakin, Gerald Hertel, John Rose and Lowell Smith. New Mexico University won both these events.

Wednesday coach Alex Francis and his thinclads traveled to Wichita University for a dual meet with the Shockers.

Francis said earlier in the week that this meeting may well break the undefeated 12-year winning streak the Tigers hold over Wichita. "They have the best team they've had in 16 years," commented the veteran coach.

Injuries add to the chances of the Shockers against FHS. Senior record holder Gene Hayes is still out of action, possibly for the remainder of the season, and sprinter Larry Pickering's availability was still questionable due to an injury over two weeks ago.

Leading Bengal scorer Jon Day has come up with a heel injury and is also a questionable entry and letterman Curt Ayres and Deke Brinkman may not be in the meet.

Last year the Tigers trounced Wichita University 91-39.

Results were not available in time for publication.

The meet with Wichita was the last dual action for the Tigers before the Central Intercollegiate Conference outdoor track championship at Pittsburg May 10-11.

The Tigers will be fighting an uphill battle to hold the second position they have had the last four years. Only once since 1947 have the FHS cagers place second or better, that being in 1958. The Tigers have won the championship twice and tied for it another time since 1947.

VETERAN HURDLER — Gary McCarty, three-year letterman from Lakin, is one of six seniors on the Bengal track squad. A hurdle specialist, he runs both the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard lows.

Men's Softball Organization Title Captured By TKEs

Tau Kappa Epsilon dumped Sigma Phi Epsilon, 17-10, to cinch the organizational softball championship Tuesday afternoon.

The organizational champs were trailing, 4-10, in the bottom of the fourth inning. In the fifth inning the Tekes rallied to tie the score, and went on to win the game.

The Tekes have an undefeated season and will play the winner of the independent leagues for the All-School Championship Wednesday.

This makes the third consecutive year the Tekes have won the IM softball title.

In the independent leagues the results of softball action have not been completed.

Two independent leagues, the Blue league and the Independent league, compete against each other to determine who will get a chance at the All-School Championship.

The Lakers and P. A. Pirates lead the Independent league with 4-0 records. The Strike Outs, McGrath Hall As and the Ferbers are ahead in the Blue league, each with 3-1 records.

WACS Offer Seniors New Option

The Army's "Choice Not Chance" program has a special option for women college seniors who are looking for a promising job after graduation—and for college graduates who have some job experience but want a greater challenge.

If qualified, women can become commissioned officers in the Women's Army Corps and grade for grade receive the same pay, allowances and other benefits as their male counterparts.

Some of the more tangible benefits accruing to the WAC officer are top-level training in a specialized skill, additional education, development of executive ability, world-wide travel, companionship, 30-day paid vacation each year and salaries equal to or higher than in civilian life.

The young WAC officer is only obligated to serve two years on her initial contract. She can marry at any time and remain in the service or elect to resign her commission in favor of raising a family.

The various jobs that WAC officers do within the framework of the Army are the counterparts of executive jobs spread throughout scores of civilian organizations. More information may be obtained from the local Army recruiter.
