Rowan Next A&L Speaker

Carl T. Rowan, former director of the U. S. Information Agency, will speak at an all-student assembly at 9:45 a.m. Monday in Sheridan Coliseum.

Rowan's appearance at FHS is sponsored by the Artists and Lectures Committee and is the fourth in this year's series. He will also speak at the Wooster Fund Dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Memorial Union.

Although Rowan's governmental career spanned only four and one-half years it included an ambassadorship, a key State Department post and a National Security Council membership.

His morning lecture is entitled "America's Image Abroad" and the evening address is "New Dimensions in World Affairs."

Rowan resigned the USIA directorship last July and is currently a columnist for the Chicago Daily News, a news commentator for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., and a contributor to The Reader's Digest.

While directing the 12,000-man information agency, Rowan was the chief American propagandist abroad and was responsible for projecting the nation's image to the world.

Before succeeding the late Edward R. Murrow as USIA chief, Rowan was an ambassador to Finland. He is the first Negro to have membership in the National Security Council.

While a member of the National Security Council, Rowan advised President Johnson on the integration of domestic, foreign and military policies relating to national security.

In addition, the former USIA chief was Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs before being appointed to the Helsinki embassy by the late President Kennedy.

Panel Plans Discussion On Playboy Philosophy

Playboy Magazine, in the form of a film and panel discussion, invades the United Christian Fellowship at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the Memorial Union Gold Room.

The "playboy philosophy," advocating the use of all talents in the pursuit of women, will be discussed. Hugh M. Hefner, editor-publisher of Playboy, is the creator of this philosophy.

In a movie to be shown prior to a panel discussion, Hefner tells about himself and his philosophy. The movie, titled "The Most," was filmed at Hefner's mansion during a party.

The Rev. Myron Chartier, campus Baptist minister, said, "The program is being held because a majority of Playboy's readers are college students—almost half of them women—indicating the importance of Hefner's influence on contemporary America."

Discussion members will be Tom Jones, assistant professor of history; Father John Terbovich, Newman Club chaplain; and Mrs. R. Dale Dick, faculty wife. Moderator will be Dr. Ray Youmans, associate professor of education.

"It certainly is the type of thing that deserves an airing; after all it is one of the most popular magazines," Jones said. Playboy sells more newsstand copies than Life and Time magazines combined.

Rev. Chartier believes that what

Hefner says and what he is doing with his magazine has a taint of hypocrisy.

Father John said that he hadn't seen the film but the magazine seems to advocate the old Roman idea.

"Eat drink and be merry, for tomorrow you may die," seems to be Hefner's belief," he said. "This totally disregards any Christian philosophy."

Mrs. Dick said that subject seems to be in the forefront of the college student's life.

All panelists agreed that the subject is an interesting one and worth discussion.

DR. WILDA M. SMITH, associate professor of history, has been named by All-Student Council as the Professor of the Month for November. Dr. Smith received her A.B. in history at FHS in 1953, her M.A. in history at FHS in 1957 and her doctorate in 1960 from the University of Illinois. A native of Gove County, she taught grade school there and also taught at Hays High School from 1953-57.

Republican Sentiment Growing

Dole Stresses Party Unity

"The election of John Lindsay as mayor of New York and other Republican victories around the nation are significant," said Bob Dole, first district representative, in Wednesday's press conference at FHS.

He said, "I think it is indicative of a growing Republican party feeling in the United States." Dole stressed the party should be big enough to absorb all philosophies. "But," he added, "we can't concern ourselves with what happens in the Democratic party. We should be more concerned about our own party."

Asked if Lindsay is being considered as a potential presidential candidate, Dole said, "I don't really know. He has had a lot of attention and there will be a lot written about him."

"He is a fine person and a hard worker. He had a good organization, finances and is a good-looking candidate. With all the Democratic opposition he had, it is actually a miracle he won."

He added, "Lindsay's victory over Abraham Beame is also a loss for President Johnson and Robert Kennedy."

Concerning future Republican hopes, Dole said there will be no Johnson coattails to ride on in the coming election. He said, "Congress is sensitive about the 'rubber stamp' image and some think Johnson pushed too hard. Congress is not the property of the Johnson family."

Asked if Floyd Breeding is his potential opponent, Dole said, "I'm sure he is interested in politics and has ambitions for Congress. Yes, he'd be happy to take my seat, but I don't want to surrender it."

Office Clamps Down On Illegal Permits

Students now possessing illegal parking permits have one week in which to return the permits.

Anyone who is not a junior or above or who lives inside the restricted area, cannot hold a parking permit. Any student found guilty of possessing an illegal permit or having helped another student secure one shall be assessed a fine determined by the Traffic Tribunal.

Dr. Bill Jellison, dean of men, says that checking will begin within one week. He urges students to turn in illegal permits before the check begins.

ASC Continues Appointments

Paul Monty, Student Body President, announced his appointments to the Student Organizations Committee in Tuesday's All-Student Council meeting.

The appointments were confirmed by ASC. Those appointed were Loren Pepperd, Kinsley junior, representing fraternities; Mimi DeLay Oakley junior, sororities; John Stoskopf, Great Bend senior, independent male; and Carlene McGuire, Greensburg freshman, independent female.

Appointed as delegates at large were Helen Bogart, Salina freshman; Pat Spomer, and Blaine Roberts, both Hays seniors.

In other business, ASC decided to have 2,000 copies of the Associated Student's constitution printed at a cost of $100. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of a book store in the Memorial Union.

The finance committee asked that all organizations planning on requesting money from ASC have the requests in by Nov. 15. The budget is being drawn up and the amounts are needed.

It was decided by the Council to limit the number of tickets per student in the upcoming Ford Caravan show to two. The council felt the present number of six was too many for one person to exchange.

Reveille Wins A-Plus Rating

For the second consecutive year the Reveille has been awarded the highest possible yearbook rating by a national critical service.

The Reveille scored an A-plus rating by the National School Yearbook Assn., Memphis, Tenn.

The association defines the A-plus score as "a rare 'special excellent' which we apply to a limited few books in a class to denote that they stand out above the excellent books, in imagination or general all-around excellence."

"The Reveille received special note for its full sports coverage, the use of national current events for headlines in the senior section and the development of the theme—the College Anthem."

Editor for the 1965 Reveille was Candy Mitchell Kindsvater, Wichita junior.

Sammy May, Hays junior, was assistant editor and chief copywriter, assisted by Ron Fischli, Kirwin sophomore. Tom Kindsvater, Dodge City senior, was sports editor.

Mrs. Katherine Rogers, assistant professor of journalism, is yearbook adviser.

Dr. Leo Oliva, assistant professor of history, has written a book, "Soldiers of the Santa Fe Trail," which will be published early next year.

The book details historically the military activity along the famous trail from 1829 to 1880. Information on several old military forts along the trail is presented in detail. Indian campaigns and the Santa Fe Trail's role in the Mexican and Civil wars are also covered.

Oliva, a native Kansan, earned his bachelors' degree from FHS in 1950 and received his master's and doctorate degrees at the University of Denver.

'The Tiger's Roar' Plans Awards for Housing Units

Tiger's Roar, FHS's new coed pep club, is establishing a point system to coincide with the creation of its annual Tiger's Roar Spirit Award.

Acting president George Kay, Hays senior, announced that there will be two spirit awards, one for a fraternity or sorority and the other for a residence hall.

Housing units which get the greatest percentage of their membership in Tiger's Roar will receive the most points on the system, Kay said.

Organized housing is awarded points for membership and participation in activities supported by the newly-formed pep club.

The group is currently in its membership drive and plans an election of officers later this month. Each housing unit at FHS has a representative to handle membership.

The idea for the coed pep club was gleaned at cheerleader camp last summer, head cheerleader Tammy Weigel said. In the past, various all-girl pep groups have functioned at FHS, including Tigettes and Kit Kats.

The new organization, which is built around the pep band, is open to all FHS students.

Sackett Translates New Flemish Novel

Dr. S. J. Sackett, professor of English, has translated a foreign novel.

The English translation of "The Man Who Had His Hair Cut Short," by Johan Daisne, a Flemish novelist, was recently released by a New York publisher.

Sackett began learning Flemish after he came to Hays in 1954, out of curiosity to discover what was going on in one of the small literatures of the world. He wrote to Daisne after reading one of his essays.

Chemistry teachers from 17 area high schools are studying at FHS this year under grants from the National Science Foundation.

Enrolled in an In-Service Institute for High School Chemistry

Teachers, the teachers meet on alternate Saturdays to discuss the chemical bond approach of teaching.

Miss Alice Beesley, professor of home economics, will attend the Kansas Workshop on Low Income Families at Kansas State University, Manhattan.

The workshop is being held in an attempt to increase understanding of the problems of poverty, to gain further knowledge of the services of various organizations and agencies serving low-income families, and to identify the contributions of home economics in breaking the poverty cycle.

Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics chapter, held initiation services Tuesday for Vickie Wright, Kiowa junior, and Dedria Ashworth, Larned junior.

The Fort Hays State Nurses Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Hadley Memorial Hospital. A tour of the hospital will be conducted by the junior nursing students.

Plans Made For Dinner

Tickets are on sale now for the eighth annual Wooster Endowment Fund Dinner, which will be at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Memorial Union.

Tickets are being sold for $10 each by mail, on campus and at several Hays businesses. Proceeds above the cost of the dinner and incidental expenses go to the Wooster Endowment Fund for student loans and scholarships.

Day Football Anyone?

Should FHS have Saturday afternoon football games?

Students, coaches, faculty and local businessmen were asked by the Leader and their opinions ranged from an unqualified "yes" to a flat "no."

Some felt the college team couldn't compete in audience drawing power with the Saturday afternoon games on television. Others said local business people wouldn't have a chance to see the games if they were played in the afternoon.

Some businessmen said the games would draw crowds downtown to shop and others felt it would keep them away.

Only a few had any personal feelings against afternoon games. Most would like to see them, but felt for various reasons they wouldn't be economically feasible.

Coach Wayne McConnell said he would have no objection to day games, and the squad in particular preferred them. Cade Suran, athletic director, said he would like to see them. As a substitute, he suggested that only the last half of the schedule be played at day due to possible cold and bad weather.

President M. C. Cunningham and Walter E. Keating, comptroller, both feel TV would give too much competition. Cunningham said, "Personally, I like afternoon games, but I don't feel they would compete with TV."

Keating said he had no strong opinion either way to the games, but felt they wouldn't pay.

Jim DeMarco, manager of the Hays Chamber of Commerce, prefers the games to be kept at night. He says people come to town and do their shopping in the afternoon. He also felt night games give employers and employees a chance to see the games.

Manager of the Village Shop, Don Volker, holds an opposite view in saying the games would possibly get more people in town to shop. However, he prefers night games so people who work on Saturday afternoon could see them.

Harley Rhoads, Northwestern Typewriter Co.'s manager, would like day games. His alternate suggestion would be playing only conference games in the afternoon.

So there you have it. Should FHS have Saturday afternoon football games next season or should we continue with the night games?

The Leader's position is for at least a trial attempt. A winning team is going to get a following and a losing team won't, whether they play in the afternoon or evening.

Let's make the last half of the season, from Homecoming on, Saturday afternoon games next year as a trial.

Chairman vs President

Student elections prompted some confusion over the actual difference between the Student Body President and chairman of All-Student Council.

Elected at large by the student body, the president is head of the executive division of "The Associated Students of Fort Hays Kansas State College." His position differs from the chairman of ASC in that the chairman is elected from the Council by its members.

Since ASC is the legislative body of the Associated Students, the chairman is the functional head of student government. According to the constitution, his job is to preside over and be responsible for calling meetings, preparing an agenda for each meeting and in general be responsible for the activity of the Council. He votes only in case of a tie.

On the other hand, the president and vice-president have speaking privileges in ASC meetings, but are not allowed to vote. The president's job is to submit an oral and written report to ASC at the beginning of each semester.

He also makes recommendations for appointments to the Student Court, all student/faculty committees that students sit on and any other committees found to be necessary or requested by ASC. All appointments are approved by ASC.

Some colleges combine the two jobs in one person. He is usually paid because the job involves a lot of work and time.

ASC could effectively block any ideas or legislation the president could have or even impeach him. However, ideally the ASC chairman and the president work together running the student government. This lightens the work load of both.

As it is presently, the balance of power is in the hands of the ASC chairman. Even though limited in debate from the chair, he can, if he desires, wield a "big stick."

Officially, the Student Body President is not much more than a figure-head. He must depend entirely upon personal influence.

Pearcing Comments

I recently joined the ranks of students who wear glasses.

Granted, they're only reading glasses, but it was a decided blow to my vanity to have to start wearing them.

Having the classic symptoms, headaches, etc., I trooped off to the eye doctor and he came out of the examination $30 richer. Which was another blow.

As a small, rather ridiculous act of rebellion, I don't wear them as they are supposed to be worn. I prop them half-way up on the side of my head, and at times, even let them slip down my nose so I can peer, owl-like, over the top of them.

Two disadvantages. They are always somewhere else when I need them, or, if I do happen to remember them, they need to be cleaned. The speed with which glasses get dirty is amazing.

A big drawback is anything over three feet away is blurred beyond recognition so I'm forever taking them off and putting them on. This can be turned into an advantage by using them to point out things.

Having had the foresight to get dark, heavy, bookish frames, this gives me a chance to look wise and scholarly before I speak.

It works particularly well with fledgling Leader reporters. Then again, they probably walk away and say, "You know Pearce and that phony bit he does with the glasses?"—Dennis Pearce

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WATCH IT, MAC!"

Right 'In' The Kisner

As cars continue to crowd our highways in ever increasing numbers, a concern for improved driving—mostly by the fuzz—has made its mark on modern society.

A national television network recently offered a skills test on driving, which I failed miserably. Consequently, I've offered an improved driving test. Color it wretched, abnormal.

(1) Do you have an innumerable amount of accidents, because you count telephone poles and are afraid to take your eyes off them for fear of losing count?

(2) Have you noticed a recent influx in the number of pink elephants and purple snakes cluttering our byways waiting for a place to happen?

(4) Do you run over little old ladies, because you can't resist the urge to see your name in print?

(5) Have you ever parked your car on the Elm Street railroad crossing, because it's the only way to convince the authorities of the need for a warning device?

(6) Do you confess to all hit-and-run accidents, because you're afraid the guilty party will be jailed while you go free?

(7) Do you avoid safety checks, because your rodent propelled vehicle doesn't have any brakes, lights, horn, steering box, spark plugs and a sane, licensed driver?

Scoring:
0-20. Lie a lot, don't you? Add 20 points.

30-50. Flunked, didn't you?

60-70. You're a sure bet to make the headlines, plus your own wake.

80-110. Add your score again. Get the same total? Try freshman math.

Right to Protest Upheld; Flick at Malloy Blasted

To the Editor:

Last week I read published opinions about draft-card burning demonstrations.

I sincerely tremble when I read threats of reprisal and punishment for demonstrating against the governmental Viet Nam policy. Was it not an American who said, "I disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." If this right is gone, so is an imperative right of American heritage gone.

I quote the famed and respected Carl Sandburg:

"Pile the bodies high at Austerlitz and Verdun.

Pile them high and shovel them under;

I am the grass, I cover all.

Two years, ten years, and the passengers ask the conductor: What place is this? Where are we now?"

In spite of the fact that I am an American and would do again (I have already done a hitch in the U.S. Air Force) whatever my country demands, there is something to be said for the ultimate truth.

From my own travels and from talking with the much-traveled and even those of foreign allegiance, comes this conclusion: Regardless of their country or heritage, people are basically the same. They work, love, raise their children and take pride in the things they do. Everywhere, the man in the street would be content to live his life without any military service.

Most men do not need to seek enemies abroad; they have troubles enough at home.

No one can make me believe that the common man in Russia is a dirty rotten no-good. No one can make me believe that the common man in Communist China is a dirty rotten no-good. I already know that the common American is not a dirty rotten no-good.

Yet, as certainly as I am led to fear any Russian, or any man of Communist China, so also is the common man of Russia and China led to fear any American.

So, on both sides, the mis-led will stand, charge, fall and die. Only the Napoleons shall survive.

"Pile them high and shovel them under;

I am the grass, I cover all.

For both sides in the Viet Nam conflict, and the ultimate war to come I say: "The tragedy is that our Napoleons neither lead nor follow, but only stand and talk . . . All Aboard! The Ship of Fools is departing."

Regretfully,

To the Editor:

Sunday night we went to Malloy Hall to witness what we thought would be a fairly decent showing of a movie.

We weren't shocked too much at shelling out 50 cents to get into the activity ticket function, but the way the movie was presented to the unlucky souls who were in attendance was, at the least, appalling.

Between lip-reading, when the sound was off, and trying to pick the figures out of the curtains when the picture was off to one side of the screen, we were confronted with horribly distorted faces, if by some stroke of luck the cameraman would place the picture on the screen.

The atmosphere and comfort of Malloy Hall is very nice, but if the quality of the movies doesn't improve, we would just as soon go back to the Union and watch the flicks without any atmosphere and no distortion or sound problems.

As for the egg that was thrown while the movie was in progress, we feel it was in poor taste, but we also feel that the movie crew must have laid it.

Students Praise 'Clowns'

By Norma Basgall
For the Leader

"Very entertaining!"
"The acting was superb."

These are only two of the many favorable comments "A Thousand Clowns" first presentation of New Drama '65-'66, received from students.

Frosh Debaters Claim Fourth

FHS freshman debaters participated in the Kansas State University novice tournament last week and snagged fourth place. Thirty teams took part in the tourney with Nebraska University winning first place.

The team of Ron Morford, Oberlin, and Sharla Barber, Goodland, defeated Southwest Missouri State, College of Emporia and Butler County Community Junior College. They lost to the University of Wichita.

Mary Lou Smith, Garden City, and Marilyn Brubaker, Bird City, won over Fort Scott Junior College, Northwest Missouri State and Midwestern College of Iowa. They were defeated by Hutchinson Junior College.

Coach James Costigan described the win as an "excellent showing."

This week three teams will travel to Colorado University. Entered in the senior division are Richard Scott, Atchison senior, and Doris Scott, Downs junior; Nancy York, Hoisington sophomore, and Jean Oborny, Timken senior. The junior division entrants are Ron Morford, Oberlin freshman, and Sharla Barber, Goodland freshman.

Jo Anne Murphy is entered in legislative assembly debate, new event. All of the debaters are entered in individual events.

The play ran Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Felten-Start Theater, and concerned a stubborn non-conformist and his efforts to retain guardianship of his nephew.

His problems multiply as the child welfare board threatens to take his nephew unless the hero gets a job. Can he bring himself to accept a job he loathes? As the play tackles the frayed problem of conformity it has the ability to make one choke up and chuckle at the same time.

A sophomore speech major stated that she "was impressed with the audience reaction. They were quite responsive and I feel this will have a great effect on plays in the future. This play will encourage greater attendance as it got the

New Drama '65-'66 off to a great start."

A graduate student commented that "the publicity and set designs were great. The characters were very well cast and all did a good job of acting."

Other comments were commendable to the production. "The play itself was very good and I feel the acting was the best done since I've been a student on campus."

"The continuity of the play was great. The acting was superb for a college group. The overall enthusiasm was tremendous."

The great reception with which this play was received promises an even greater amount of enthusiasm for the upcoming production, "Rhinceros," by Ionesco.

THE ONLY PERSON CRYING was Sandra Markowitz, played by Polly Williams, Medicine Lodge junior, in the modern comedy production of "A Thousand Clowns." The play opened the "New Drama '65-'66" series at Felten-Start Theater last weekend. Looking on is Murry Burns, played by Ken Bauer, Garden City junior.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

We are proud to observe that the men and women of Fort Hays State College seem to care about their appearance. At a time when some students and faculty members around the nation are featuring anti-movements, including anti-cleanliness and grooming, we find our student body, as a whole, still interested in their appearance and steadfastly proud of their heritage.

We would like to see a movement undertaken at Fort Hays State to improve the image we already possess. A movement that stands FOR something rather than AGAINST everything, and a student body that looks successful instead of appearing on the threshold of poverty. We sincerely hope for action in this direction . . . It could create the kind of image our universities need today.

Indians Share CIC Leadership

Coming from behind to whip a determined Washburn squad, the Omaha Indians moved into a first-place tie with Fort Hays State atop the CIC standings.

Trailing 3-0 at the end of the first quarter and 10-7 at halftime, the Indians stormed back in the second half for two touchdowns and a 19-10 win.

In other action, Pittsburg State turned Emporia mistakes into touchdowns as the Gorillas romped over Emporia State 33-14.

Pittsburg took advantage of two short Hornet punts, a 90-yard punt return and a 10-yard fumble return for their second conference win against only one loss.

Fumbles also plagued FHS as the Tigers fell to undefeated but once-tied Southern Colorado State 24-14.

The Tigers fumbled near the end of the first half, and the Indians turned it into a field goal. Early in the third quarter, the Tigers moved 38 yards in six plays, only to fumble on the two.

Then late in the last stanza, Southern Colorado lineman Royce Stute raced 56 yards with a fumble for the Indians' final score.

FHS and Omaha are currently tied for the lead in the CIC with identical 2-0 marks. Omaha will carry a 6-1 season record into this weekend's battle with Emporia State, 0-2 in the CIC and 1-6 for the season.

FHS, 5-2 overall, will travel to Pittsburg for a must game with the Gorillas. Pittsburg State is 2-1 in the conference and 3-4 for the season.

Washburn, still seeking its first win after seven games, will be at home against Peru State. Washburn has lost three CIC encounters.

The Tigers won the CIC title in the four-mile event last year. It was the first conference cross country championship in FHS history.

Saturday, FHS placed third in the Kansas State Federation Invitational held at Lawrence.

Kansas University won the six-mile event with 36 points. Kansas State placed second with 37, followed by FHS 52. Emporia State was fourth with 107 points, Allen County Junior College fifth with 143 points, and Haskell County Junior College sixth with 170.

The meet, which was the Tigers' only six-mile event, was won by Kansas University runner Bob Lawson, who covered the course in 30:17.

Tigers Face Pittsburg; 'Must' Game For FHS

By Lee Mai
Leader Sports Editor

What test of strength does a coach look for in an "ideal" football game?

How about the conference's top rushing team against the conference's top rushing defense?

Or, better yet, how about the top two defensive teams in the conference?

Both can be witnessed when Fort Hays State travels to Pittsburg for a "must" game with the Gorillas at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Pittsburg State, 2-1 in the conference and 3-4 for the season, is leading the conference in rushing defense and is second in total defense.

Fort Hays State, 2-0 in the conference and 5-2 for the season, leads the CIC in rushing and total defense.

Another test of strength will be in total offense. The Tigers are second in the CIC and the Gorillas are third.

However, still another test of strength looms in the way of a hometown advantage. The Gorillas hold the longest home winning streak over the Tigers of any Bengal opponent.

FHS has not broken the Pittsburg dynasty at Brandenburg Stadium since 1940. Only twice have the Tigers been able to gain ties at Pittsburg since then.

Pittsburg won handily over Emporia State in last week's game, winning 33-14, with both Emporia touchdowns coming in the fourth quarter.

The week before the Gorillas drubbed defending CIC champion Washburn 20-7. Pittsburg's other win was over Central Missouri State.

The Gorillas have lost only to out-of-state opponents, falling to Omaha, Northeast Missouri, the University of Missouri at Rolla and Southwest Missouri State.

Despite losing to Southern Colorado State College 24-14 last weekend, the Tigers remained the only state college or university with a winning record.

The loss dropped the Bengal mark to 5-2 with two games remaining.

Three fumbles, four pass interceptions and 112 yards of timely penalties hurt the Tigers' bid to knock the Indians from the ranks of the unbeaten.

One of the Bengal fumbles resulted in an Indian field goal. Late in the game, a Tiger fumble was picked up by Indian lineman Royce Stute, who chugged 56 yards for a touchdown.

The Tigers also fumbled on the Indian two-yard line with Southern Colorado recovering.

The Bengal rushing game was forced to carry the full load as the Tigers were unable to complete a pass in 11 tries.

Rich Dreiling, sophomore fullback, responded with 109 yards on 20 carries while Bob Anthony, senior halfback, added 91 yards on 24 carries.

As a team, the Bengals rushed for 260 yards while Southern Colorado's total offense accounted for only 247 yards, 17 on the only pass completion of the game.

However, the big difference was in the score, with FHS on the short end of a 24-14 count.

Tiger Coach Wayne McConnell said the Tigers played a good game. "We blocked hard, our defense was good and our offense was good. We outtrashed them but we didn't outplay them," McConnell said.
