Probation System Reflects Two Major Changes

By Dennis Pearce
Editorial Editor

Effective the spring semester, a new academic probation and suspension system will begin at FHS.

According to Dr. John D. Garwood, dean of the faculty, the new system has two major changes. First, probation and suspension is no longer based on a two-semester grade point, but is cumulative; and second, a student on suspension would be asked to leave at mid-year.

Garwood said, "To be fair to others, we will suspend a student at mid-year in the same manner as we would at the end of the spring semester."

Last fall, the question of academic probation and suspension came under question by the Faculty Senate. It was felt by the members that the present system was not satisfactory and needed further study.

Last spring students on probation and suspension numbered: freshmen, 178-219; sophomores, 83-93; juniors, 76-82; seniors, 31-43; graduate students, 7-3; and unclassified, 2-3.

Garwood appointed a committee of the Faculty Senate this spring to analyze and evaluate the present system used at FHS and to report its findings and recommendations.

Dr. Jimmy M. Rice, professor of mathematics, was appointed chairman. Troy S. Cleland, assistant professor of physical education, and Lucille Felten, professor of music, were the other committee members.

According to the committee report, "A satisfactory system of probation and suspension should be simple, should be easy to administer and should fit the needs of the particular institution for which it is designed."

"During the study, the committee kept these guidelines in sight along with a few major weaknesses of the present policy."

"The committee feels that it should afford the deserving student a second chance to succeed, it should serve to warn and motivate the capable but unmotivated student, and it should serve to weed out the incapable student."

The committee report emphasized the changes were suggested not just for the sake of change, but to correct some inherent weaknesses in the present policy. It was agreed by the Senate that the rules should be tightened considerably.

The official policy statement says, "A student places himself on academic probation when his accumulated hours and grade points show that he is deficient from a 'C' average, six or more grade points on hours attempted but less than 18 grade points on hours attempted."

According to Garwood, this is the main change and the simplicity of the new system. To determine his standing, a student merely needs to look at his grade card.

The formula is, "Hours attempted plus or minus the number of grade points made."

For example, if a student attempts 15 hours and only makes 10 grade points, he is deficient by five points. A deficiency of six or more, but less than 18, places him on probation. If he should be 18 or more grade points behind, he is on suspension and asked to withdraw from school.

Garwood said, "The numbers 6 and 18 are arbitrary. If it is found that they need changed, the Faculty Senate, which makes the academic rules, can do so."

One other minor change is the word "Probation" will not be placed on a student's transcript. He and his adviser will be informed of his standing by letter.

However, under the new system, "no student will be suspended at the close of a semester or summer session during which he achieved a 'C' average or better. No freshman will be suspended for academic reasons at the end of his first college enrollment."

Garwood said, "This doesn't mean first enrollment at FHS, but includes any school he may have attended previously."

"In other words," he said, "a person who transfers in from another school on probation and falls 18 grade points behind will still be asked to leave."

A student asked to withdraw for poor scholarship will be out for at least one semester. "He may then (Continued on Page 2)

ASC Refuses IFC's Request For $100 Grant By 11-8 Count

By an 11 to eight decision on secret ballot, All-Student Council voted down a $100 grant to Interfraternity Council Tuesday.

The money was to be used to send four delegates to an IFC convention today, tomorrow and Saturday at Washington, D. C.

The request, brought on to the floor by IFC president Blaine Roberts, Hays senior, met heated opposition. Debate lasted nearly 20 minutes and was cut off only when the previous question, a motion stopping debate, was passed. A similar motion had been defeated once during the discussion.

ASC accepted a report on the upcoming Mid-West Model United Nations. Discussion centered around the proposed $450 cost of the trip.

Student body appointments to student/faculty committees, recommended in November by Paul Monty, student body president, were approved.

Those selected by committee were:

Personnel: Wayne Witwer, Abilene senior; Dwight High, Elkhart graduate, and Paula Blackwood, Belleville sophomore.

Human relations: Jim Rusco, Great Bend graduate; Sue Hudson, Hutchinson senior; Dave Meckenstock, Hays junior; Jo Anne Murphy, Russell sophomore; and Glen Degenhardt, Bison freshman.

Health: Perry Comeau, Plainville sophomore.

Public Relations: Kirk Musselman, Ransom junior; Connie Cusick, Minneola junior; and Randy Baxter, Stockton sophomore.

Honors Program: Doris Scott, Downs junior; James Adams, Great Bend sophomore; and Dave Fretz, Dodge City freshman.

Lake Retreat: Jean Oborny, Timken junior; Larry Watkins, Garden City sophomore; and Sue Mapes, Natoma junior.

Improvement of Instruction: Ernie Miller, Liberal graduate; Robert Johnson, Salina sophomore; and Ann Beeler, Beloit junior.

Ugly Man Honors Bestowed Friday

The ugliest man on campus will be announced during half-time activities at FHS's basketball game Friday in Sheridan Coliseum.

Balloting in the contest, which costs one cent a vote, will continue from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today and Friday in the Memorial Union. All funds in the contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, go to the Endowment Assn. for its scholarship fund.

A check will be given to the Endowment Assn. during the half-time. The sponsoring organization and individual winner will each receive a trophy.

Six Day Mission Opens Sunday; Missionary Will Speak at FHS

Worldwide missionary evangelist and author Dr. E. Stanley Jones will conduct a Spiritual Life Mission from Dec. 5 to 10 in Hays.

Part of the mission, which is sponsored by the Hays Ministerial Alliance, will be held Sunday at FHS.

Dr. Jones will open the six day mission with a mass meeting at 4 p.m. Sunday in Sheridan Coliseum. A meeting for college youth is slated for 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the Memorial Union.

Jones began his worldwide ministry in India as a missionary and was a friend and co-worker with Mahatma Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore.

He traveled around the world many times. In addition Dr. Jones has published 22 books. His first book "The Christ Of The Indian Road," was a religious classic and sold over one million copies. The book has been translated into 30 languages and in braille.

Jones conducts Ashrams, or retreats, as a means of drawing people together to study in depth their own spiritual natures and quest. He has been active in advocating the uniting of all Christian denominations, through the plan of Federal Union, into one United Church of America.

The public is invited to attend the mission. Following Sunday's meetings the sessions will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Hays.

Check Memorial Union For Tournament Info

Anyone interested in the Union Games Tournament is urged to sign up in the Memorial Union office. Lynn Rogers, assistant Memorial Union director, announced Tuesday.

No date has been set for the games tournament, but Rogers said the games will include chess, bowling, table tennis and billiards.

"We want students to sign up for the games so we can anticipate student interest," Rogers said.

Leader Survey Shows . . .

Students Want Elm St. Warning Device

By Becky Bodenhamer
Leader Reporter

"It's apparent that some kind of warning apparatus should be installed at the Elm Street Railroad crossing. I think flashing lights or gates would be appropriate," said Jerry Lohrmeyer, Logan senior.

Lohrmeyer was one of six FHS students interviewed on the Elm Street crossing.

Jim Roy, Syracuse freshman, gave his views on what should be done. "I think something should be done, but student demonstrations would be inadequate to the purpose. The townspeople seem to be against the students, anyway. Signal lights should be on every crossing."

"A committee of students, chosen by the top officials of FHS, should go before the City Council of Hays and let them know how the students feel," Roy added.

Ted DeVore, Ellinwood senior, believes "that part of the problem involves the individual himself." Although DeVore stated he definitely thought signal lights should be put up, he felt that if the driver were more careful himself some of the accidents could be avoided.

Stanley Gengler, Beloit junior, feels there should be more warning devices. "It's just as important as the crossing on Main and is probably used just as much. Blinking lights or cross-bars would be very helpful," Gengler added.

Sharon Loomis, Mankato sophomore, reflected this view by saying "I think that caution lights should be erected to make the drivers more aware of the crossing."

"I happen to come from a town where there was a similar problem," said John Davis, Hugoton junior. "Before they put up any real warning devices there were three major wrecks in one year. Finally they just put up signs and this seemed to help considerably. I think the city of Hays could at least do that much, if not more," Davis concluded.

DR. JAMES H. McMECHAN, assistant professor of physical sciences, has been named by All-Student Council as the Professor of the Month for December. Dr. McMechan graduated from Kansas University in 1958, earned his master's degree in organic chemistry at Nebraska University in 1960 and his doctorate in 1963. He joined the FHS faculty this year and has taught at the University of Nebraska.

Seminar Series Ends On College Teaching

A group of five FHS faculty members gathered Tuesday in the Memorial Union for the last in a series of five seminars on college teaching.

Sponsored by the FHS North Central Assn. Committee on Instruction, the session was originally scheduled for Dec. 2.

In the group's last meeting on Nov. 18 a five-member panel, moderated by Dr. Calvin E. Harbin, chairman of the division of education and psychology, discussed the topic "The Problem of Growing Enrollment."

In the last issue of the Leader it was erroneously stated that Harbin would be featured in the fourth seminar of the five-part series.

Members on the panel were Dr. Hulda Groesbeck, associate professor of education; Ron Morford; Dr. William R. Thompson, chairman of the division of literature, language and speech; President M. C. Cunningham and Harbin.

Tuesday's topic, "Problems of Graduate Instruction," was discussed by four panelists.

Panel members were Dr. Gerald Tomanek, chairman of the division of biological sciences; Dr. LaVier Staven, associate professor of education; Charles Evans, assistant professor of political science, and Dr. Ralph Coder, dean of the graduate division.

Dr. Coder served as program chairman and panel moderator.

Miss Bryant will make her selection on the basis of two pictures of each candidate, one taken in collegiate dress and one in evening attire.

Probation Reflects Two Changes

file a completed Application for Reinstatement form in the office of the dean of the faculty. Each application is considered on its own merits. Reinstatement is not automatic," according to the policy statement.

Appeal is also possible to the student who believes he has been unfairly affected by the system. The statement directs, "To make an appeal, the student should discuss the case with his adviser, then submit a written statement signed by him and his adviser to the dean of the faculty. He may ask to appear in person before the Committee on Reinstatement."

Seven advantages of the new system were given in the committee report.

1. No student will be dismissed who has an overall "C" average.
2. A student's total record rather than just one semester's work will be the governing factor for academic probation and dismissal.
3. The grade point requirements may be adjusted easily without affecting the overall structure of the policy.
4. The student is required to continue to make progress toward meeting graduation requirements.
5. The student is not allowed to place himself in a position in which he has little chance of graduation.
6. The policy would be easy to administer.
7. The policy is more lenient with the lower division student than with the upper division student.

In compiling the new system, the committee surveyed current literature and existing policies at other colleges and universities. The primary source of information was a large number of catalogs and bulletins of similar state-supported colleges and universities of medium size.

Garwood said, "This new system was discussed closely with members of each division and is the result of hundreds of hours of study by many people."

He also said, "It was passed unanimously by the Faculty Senate with no vigorous protest."

Jobs Provided 40 FHS Students Under Economic Opportunity Act

Nineteen men and 21 women at FHS are employed this fall under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Under this work-study program, college students may work up to 15 hours a week either on or off campus. The program, one of seven in the act, is part of President Johnson's anti-poverty program.

The act requires that preference be given in jobs which are coordinated with community projects. On-campus jobs serving the college community include Forsyth Library, language lab, alumni and endowment, the biology department, the political science office, the housing office, IBM programming, news service and Lambda Iota Tau, which is an honorary society for students showing superior achievement in literature.

Forsyth Library employs 15 of the 32 students working on campus under EOA.

The eight off-campus employed students work with Civil Defense, the Chamber of Commerce, the High Plains Mental Health Clinic or the Old Fort Hays Committee, which repairs the Fort Hays museum buildings.

Students applying for work under EOA are chosen according to family size and income.

Presently, the college or off-campus employers pay 10 per cent of the wages and the government pays 90 per cent. In September, 1966, the wages will be paid on a 25 and 75 per cent basis.

Miss Ethel Artman, executive secretary of student aids, says, "This is a new program which will expand in time."

Students Can Plan Spring Classes Now

Preliminary enrollment for the spring semester is now in progress.

Students are asked to consult advisers to discuss next term's program of courses. This program will be held by the student on a preliminary form. In January, the student will copy the planned program on a grid card and have his adviser sign it before going to the Memorial Union to complete enrollment.

Meeting time for two classes, English Composition II and Service Courses in physical education, should not be filled in.

The Registrar's Office requests that all students complete this preliminary enrollment before Christmas vacation.

Probation Revised

The two major changes in the new probation and suspension system are changes for the good.

As the Faculty Senate committee said in its report, the system should afford the deserving student a second chance, serve to warn and motivate the capable but unmotivated student and should weed out the incapable student. The two new changes fill the bill.

The old system took only the final two grades for two semesters. There have been cases of students maintaining an overall "C" average, and yet put on suspension and asked to withdraw from school.

Now that grades are figured on a cumulative grade point basis, this has been corrected.

Grades can slip for several reasons. A student can run head-on into a class that leaves him completely in the dark. Illness can either keep him out of class completely or keep him from performing up to par. A freshman may have trouble adjusting to college-level work.

Some students fall prey to a lack of motivation about half-way through their college life and just let everything slip. The stiff warning of a probation letter, or rasher yet, a semester out of school to think things over, may snap them back into action.

Cumulative grade points do slip up pretty fast so there isn't too much time for continued bad grades.

For instance, if a student attempts 15 hours and only makes 10 grade points, he is safe with a one-point margin. But, if in the next semester he attempts 15 more hours and only makes 10 again, he is deficient by 10 points and on probation.

The second change is that the college will ask a student on suspension to withdraw at mid-year. This is a grade-making incentive.

It can be hard to get a job at this time of the year. Also, if a person returns home, within a few days it is common knowledge why he is there with the accompanying embarrassment.

The Leader agrees with this change wholeheartedly. There is no reason for a student to get to stay in school another semester if his probationary period happens to be up at mid-year. As Dean Garwood said, it is not fair to suspend only at the end of the spring semester.

The changes weren't made just for fun or for the sake of change, but to correct weaknesses in the old system. The job was accomplished.

WASHINGTON (CPS) — Every school is having its parking problem and American University is no different. University officials feel the problem is so grave, in fact, that they have computerized it.

Officials say the new system will allow the business office to compute within 24 hours a list of parking offenders. Disciplinary letters will be prepared automatically by the data processing system and will be mailed to an offender within 24 hours.

According to the parking and traffic regulations office, "Any student who receives three or more parking violation tickets during the school year will receive the following disciplinary actions:

"Three violation tickets — a warning letter.

"Four violation tickets — a 30-day suspension of parking privileges on university property.

"Five violation tickets — dismissal from the university."

Progress Made

Progress—slow—but progress is being made at the Elm Street railroad crossing.

Although there has been no signal or even any attempt to get one, the trees in the city park next to the crossing have been trimmed to three feet high. This should help some.

No parking signs have also been installed close to the tracks to forestall any lack of visibility due to a parked car.

President Cunningham, Hugh Hull, city manager and Dr. Bill Jellison are planning a meeting.

To be discussed will be general problems between the campus and city. The first topic of the meeting should be the solving of the railroad problem. It must be of primary and prompt consideration.

The crossing is still there. The danger has been reduced somewhat, but more needs to be done. The Leader still advocates the flashing bell signal similar to the one at the Fort Street crossing.

It may be more expensive and the city government may be reluctant to part with the money, but it seems to be the best answer.

Pearcing Comments

Journalists occasionally deplore the fact that the comic page has a higher readership than the front page or the editorial page.

As a journalist-to-be, it does bother my ego a bit, but I'm also a dedicated comic page reader. Have been since childhood.

Where else can you find editorial comment, world-news, and the latest scientific advances? Sometimes, if you're lucky, you might even find a little humor.

Dick Tracy is a good example. Some people might think he is nothing but a flatfoot with weird friends and enemies. But no, Tracy is a hip cop. Courtesy of Diet Smith, he has the latest scientific advances right at his wrist.

Scientists, take note. To those of you planning on getting married, there are two comic strips to read. Women, you should read Blondie. This will give you ideas on how to control your husband-to-be.

In self-defense, men, you read Snuffy Smith. Now old Snuff has the right outlook on marriage and the proper place for women. Keep them working and out of your hair.

Philosophy? Human relations? Psychiatry? If you're interested in any of these, then Peanuts is your dish. Good old Charlie Brown. Everyone secretly identifies with him and his bumbling attempts to get through life.

Lucie's confidence, Snoopy's care-less attitude, Linus' security blanket and the other miniature people with their fetishes give you the feeling this has all happened to you.

Moving into military affairs, there is quite a selection to choose from. Beetle Bailey supplies an insight into the military mind, U.S. Army style.

Steve Canyon and Terry and the Pirates supply the Air Force with enough recruiting propaganda to warm the cockles of any Air Force recruiter's heart.

Politics is not forgotten. Pogo should be the journalist's dream because to really understand him and his swamp cronies, you must keep up to date on current world affairs.

Political comment, philosophy and views on the world situation are Pogo's daily fare. It takes a powerful front page to overshadow this strip.

To a lesser degree, but still sharing the political spotlight with Pogo is Little Abner. With its bare, Dogpatch foot in the ring, it ranks high in the realm of political thought.

Foreign affairs are taken care of aptly, it not a bit abruptly, by Andy Capp. Andy, a sotted, work-allergic little Cockney is the height of nonchalance.

But close and continued reading will show Andy dropping his defenses every once in awhile and showing a bewildered human being like the rest of us.

Knowing full well that I've neglected many, many comic strips all with an equally important message, I'll have to beg forgiveness. But, with the number of comic strips amusing and bemusing readers today, it would take more space than I have available to delve fully into each.—Dennis Pearce

CYD Plans Drive For New Members

The Collegiate Young Democrats are conducting a re-organization and membership drive today and Friday, membership chairman Charles Cummings, Morland junior, announced Tuesday.

Tables for signing up will be available from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today and Friday in the Memorial Union lobby.

The CYD's first meeting is tentatively planned within the first two weeks of December. An election of officers and a possible speaker are planned, Cummings said.

Membership is $1.50 per year.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WELL, MRS. DELANEY, YOU'LL JUST HAVE TO STOP MASHING POTATOES UNTIL THIS RASH CLEARS UP."

Right 'In' The Kisner

The great Thanksgiving vacation has now faded into memories of sleeping late, suffering the pangs of overeating and headaches created by holiday cheers.

Believe it or not, some students enjoy returning to FHS. Those students—Group A—are currently winning the grade point battle, eat regular meals (from money provided by countless scholarships) and love doing research papers on subjects like "The Wonders Of The Wild Woods In Winter."

Motivation Used To Predict Student Grades

Jackson, Tenn. (IP) — How much does a student's motivation influence his academic performance? Can you reliably predict his grades from scores on a motivation test?

Union University asked the Research Service of the American College Testing Program to help their test and measurement psychologists explore these questions.

First, the university administered a brief experimental inventory (the Sims Field-of-Study Motivation Record) to its 1965 entering freshmen to measure motivation for academic achievement in ten fields of study.

Next, scores on the motivation record were compared with the students' first semester grades. Union's director of testing, Louis Snellgrove, found that the motivation record provided valuable information for use in predicting grades in English, mathematics and the natural sciences.

The university then asked ACT's research staff to further explore the value of the Sims motivation record as a predictor. By reporting scores on this experimental device as local predictors Union was able to discover additional facts about these measures through ACT's Research Service.

Results suggest the motivation scores alone were less accurate predictors of college achievement at Union than were the standard ACT predictors—four ACT scores (test) and four high school grades.

However, a formula that combined the Sims motivation scores with ACT data increased the accuracy of predictions at Union as compared with those obtained from ACT data alone.

Donald Hoyt, coordinator of ACT research services, explained that such a motivation record can be used to complement test scores. "Once its local validity is established," he said, "such a measure can be particularly helpful in counseling students and in making administrative decisions about them."

"The Union study," he added, "suggests that the Sims device may be one of the best of its type."

Group A can be easily identified by mentioning the figures "38-26-38." Its members will immediately rush to Forsyth Library to see what book it represents under the Dewey Decimal System.

Other students—Group B—returned to FHS with a guilty feeling. This group tried a novelty called eating, caught up on their sleep and enjoyed the vacation at dad's expense. You can identify members of Group B at the drug store, where they've gathered to select get-well cards for the folks at home.

Still another group of students—Group U—has returned to campus haggard and bewildered. This group must face the problem of attending early morning classes (or better yet, not attending them), raking up coins to pay December's rent, stealing beans and hot dogs, or worse yet buying cheap hamburgers.

Members of Group U have lived such dogs' lives that Lassie now has sex appeal to them. Group U can best be identified on U. S. 40, where they drive 20 m.p.h. because they can't read and don't want a speeding ticket.—Gary Kisner.

Philadelphia, Pa. (IP) — Unlimited cuts for all students beyond the second semester with a 3.0 or above cumulative average will go into effect immediately, Dr. Paul R. Anderson, vice-president for academic affairs at Temple University disclosed.

Dr. Anderson said qualified students will be allowed cuts in accordance with a proposal passed by the Faculty Senate last May.

Students beyond the second semester having a cumulative point average of 3.0 or above and a record of 3.0 or above in a minimum of 12 hours for the previous semester shall be given the privilege of unlimited cuts for the following semester.

It is to be understood that a system will be devised for informing the instructor who these students are and the instructor may refuse to honor this privilege in cases where it is not appropriate academically.

R. Paul Day Jr.
Edits new magazine

The Sheaf, FHS's literary magazine, is dead.

Instead a new magazine, the Smoky Hill Review, has been born. Following a familiar literary format, the new magazine will include poetry, fiction and drama.

The magazine was developed by R. Paul Day Jr., instructor in English, and received publication approval by the college this fall.

Day says the major difficulty with the Sheaf was that "students weren't interested in it."

He pointed out that only four students contributed to the 18-page Sheaf last year, and it was a giveaway magazine appearing too late in the year to be distributed effectively to the student body.

"We hope to produce a magazine which can gain national recognition," said Day, "and to distribute it on campus with hopes of developing an independent financial operation."

Day, who will edit the Smoky Hill Review, said the new magazine will accept contributions from students, faculty members and any contributors to the magazine, and the best student writing will take precedence when material is submitted.

Deadline for contributions for the first issue is Jan. 3. Day hopes the winter issue, which will be composed primarily of student material, will be ready for publication by late January.

A second issue is planned during the spring semester. "Next year we will produce three issues, and depending on our success we hope to produce the magazine on a quarterly basis by 1967," the editor said.

"I hope to tie the magazine, creative writing class and the creative writing club (Scriblerus) together," he added. Day teaches Creative Writing 176, which will be offered by invitation next semester.

"Our goal of attaining national recognition depends on campus recognition," Day says. "We can't exist nationally unless we're first strong at FHS. Members of the campus community must be willing to buy, to contribute, to offer constructive criticism and to openly partake in the magazine's development."

Day noted that more materials for the Smoky Hill Review are needed, especially short stories. Contributions should be submitted to Day in Martin Allen 215.

John C. Thorns, associate professor of art, and Ralph Hormel, graphic arts designer for news and publications, have coordinated art work for the new magazine. Students and faculty members in the art department are also assisting with design work.

"I believe the magazine will be an expression of FHS," Day said, "consequently I'm working in full earnest to develop it."

All applications for directed teaching for the spring semester have been processed by the Council of the Preparation of Teachers.

Any student planning to enroll in directed teaching this spring who has not received a letter from the Council should contact the Education office, Rarick Hall 213.

Choir to End Tour With Concert Here

Climaxing a three-day tour through Southwest Kansas, the FHS Concert Choir will appear in an annual concert at 8:15 tonight in Felten-Start Theater, Malloy Hall.

The 56-member choir, directed by Donald Stout, associate professor of music, presented concerts in eight high schools earlier this week. The group appeared at Syracuse, Liberal, Hugoton, Sublette, Garden City, Leoti, Scott City and Ulysses.

The winter concert program includes mostly sacred music, with a few lighter numbers. Jerry Brown, Hays pianist, and Emilie Miller, Russell mezzo-soprano, will be soloists. A brass ensemble will accompany the singers for one group of numbers.

Selection Underway For Model UN Delegates

Delegate selection for the Midwest Model United Nations is under way, according to Student Body vice-president JoAnne Murphy, Russell sophomore.

This year, FHS will represent Argentina and Sierra Leone at the Model UN to be held in St. Louis in early March.

Application blanks have been distributed to all residence halls, fraternity and sorority houses. They can also be obtained at the Memorial Union.

The following schedule has been set up for selecting delegates:

Dec. 10: Application blanks due in the Dean of Students' Office.

Dec. 15: Applicants go before the review board. Faculty members on this year's board are: Dr. Leo E. Oliva and M. F. Mulch, assistant professors of history; Dr. Bill Jellison, dean of men; and Jean Stouffer, dean of women.

Students on the board are: All-Student Council chairman, Marilyn Wilson, Great Bend senior; Student Body president, Paul Monty, Concordia senior; Mimi DeLay, Oakley junior; and Dwight High, Elkhart graduate, both student council representatives.

Scriblerus Club Meets

Scriblerus Club meets at 8 tonight in the Memorial Union Prairie Room.

R. Paul Day, instructor in English, said that anyone interested in having anything published (faculty or students) or working on a magazine should attend the meeting.

On Dec. 16, announcement of the selections will be made.

Delegates will be expected to do much work, often at the expense of other activities, according to Miss Murphy. "They will have to attend approximately one meeting per week and be willing to participate actively in debate," she said.

While at the session, delegates will be responsible only for their own meals. Other expenses will be paid by ASC. According to Miss Murphy, overall proposed cost of the trip is $450.

Bengal Grapplers Oppose Hornets In Mat Opener

Fort Hays State wrestlers open the 1965-66 campaign Saturday when they meet Emporia State at Emporia.

It will be the first meet of the season for both teams and the first meet ever for the Hornets who added wrestling this winter.

The first home meet for the Tigers is Jan. 8, when they take on Adams State College of Colorado. Tiger Coach Dave Winters says,

"A major factor this year is our schedule, it is much tougher than last year's."

Last year the Tigers had 14 wins against only three losses.

Coach Winters returns nine lettermen for this year's campaign. Three-year letterman Don Keller, St. Francis senior, heads the list.

Co-captains for this season are Bob Ruda and Don Keller.

A rash of illness and injury has slowed down the squad. Out for the season with injuries are Bill Miller, Mill Hall, Pa., sophomore, and Darryl Heskett, Studley freshman. Mark Watts, Oakley freshman; is out temporarily with a broken foot.

Gymnasts Open Season Tonight With Double-Dual In Coliseum

Fort Hays State's gymnastics squad will open its 1965-66 season tonight at Sheridan Coliseum in a double-dual with Kansas State and Northwestern State.

Time of the meet is 7:30. The Tigers, coached by Ed McNeil, return five lettermen. Heading the list is three-year letterman Eddie Johnson, Hugoton senior.

Briggs and Johnson will lead the squad as co-captains this year.

"This is a rebuilding year for the Tigers. With only six upperclassmen there are many positions to be filled by new members," says McNeil.

The tentative lineup for tonight's meet is:

Rings—Gary Thompson, Eddie Johnson, Frank Yardley and Warren Teasley.

Horse—Bob Wilburn, John Bartholomew, Ed Johnson and Craig Simmons.

Long Horse—Mark Giese, Ed Johnson, Craig Simmons and Warren Teasley.

Free exercise—Ed Harvey, Steve Byram and Joe Briggs.

Parallel Bars—Ed Johnson, John Bartholomew and Mark Giese.

Trampoline—Mark Giese, Robert Fussell and Ed Johnson.

High Bar—Robert Fussell, Ed Harvey and Bob Wilburn.

Tumbling—Joe Briggs, Ed Harvey and Steve Byram.

Tigers Garner All-CIC Spots

Four Tiger gridders received spots on the 1965 Central Intercollegiate Conference first team released last week.

End Ron Morel, Palco junior, and fullback Rich Dreiling, Victoria sophomore, earned first-team offensive laurels, while end Jon Martin, Wichita freshman, and tackle Bernie Blevins, Yates Center junior, earned first-team defensive honors.

The CIC Champion Indians dominated the selections garnering five offensive and four defensive spots on the first team.

Tigers named to the second defensive team were Dennis Bean, Phillipsburg junior; Bob Anthony, Kensington senior; Max VanLangingham, Concordia senior; Gordon Mauch, Clyde senior; and Morel.

Named to the second offensive team were Larry Noffsinger, Phillipsburg junior; Jim Erickson, Scandia junior; and Bob Johnson, Red Cloud, Neb., junior.

Pittsburg gained four first team selections while Emporia State and Washburn settled for two.

Team Effort Produces Second Crown

For the second time in three years, Fort Hays State's cross country team won the NAIA National Championship at Omaha Saturday.

The Tigers won the title in 1963 and finished runner-up last year.

The Bengals, who won their second straight CIC championship earlier this year, tallied 43 points to easily outdistance runner-up Whitworth College of Washington, who scored 117. Third place was taken by Peru (Neb.) State with 171 points.

Pittsburg State finished fourth with 175 and Howard Payne University of Texas, which won the title last year, took fifth with 176.

Don Lakin, Pawnee Rock senior, lead the Tiger assault, capturing second place in the four-mile event. The NAIA All-American, who also finished second last year, covered the course in 20:40.

John Mason, Phillipsburg sophomore, finished fifth in 21:32 and Lowell Smith, Clyde senior, took tenth in 21:52.

"This has been a fine group to work with all year," said Tiger coach Alex Francis, "but they did an exceptional job today."

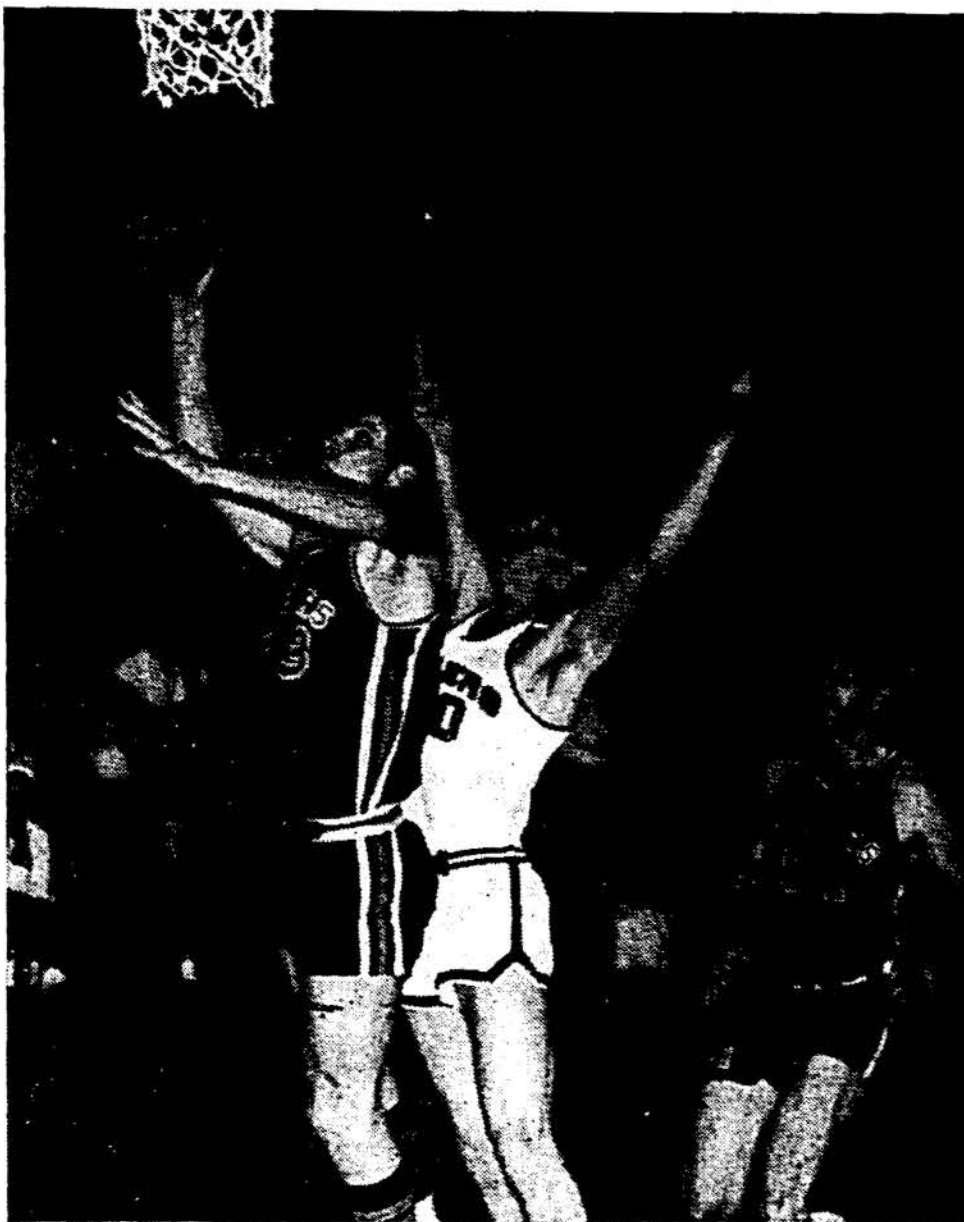

Francis, who was named to the NAIA Hall of Fame in 1963, led the Tigers to the national crown in 1963, and runner-up four other times.

Pat McMahon, an Oklahoma Baptist University freshman from Ireland, won the race with a time of 20:28.

Other Tigers to finish were Jerry Katz, Garden City senior, who finished 19th in 22:00; Jerry Hertel, Ness City senior, 46th in 22:36; and Joe Twyman, Overland Park senior, 51st, with a time of 22:41.

On Nov. 20, the Tigers, paced by Lakin and Mason, won their second straight Missouri Valley AAU title at Topeka.

"These are among the finest athletes I have worked with at Fort Hays State," said Francis. "They are a group of young men who won't give up."

TWO MORE — Tiger Bill Straight (53) adds two more points to the Tiger effort in the varsity-alumni tilt. Straight, with 21 points and 18 rebounds, led the varsity to a 98-71 win. Bill Royer, 1965 grad, is number 20; Cleat Doyel is number 51.

Tiger Cagers Face Lincoln, So. Colo.

After opening the 1965-66 basketball season on the road last night, the FHS cagers return home for a three-game stand.

The Tigers entertain Lincoln University of Jefferson City, Mo., tomorrow night; Southern Colorado Saturday night; and Kearney (Neb.) State Tuesday night.

All home games will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Sheridan Coliseum.

The Tigers will be seeking to improve last year's 9-13 mark which included a 4-4 slate and a second place finish in the conference.

In his first season at the Tiger helm, Coach Chuck Brehm welcomed eight lettermen back to practice.

Heading the list of returnees is all-conference selection Cleat Doyel. The 6-4 senior from Rush Springs, Okla., won honorable mention honors from the NAIA All-American squad while averaging 15.1 points-per-game last semester.

Johnnie Locke, 6-3 forward-guard, was a second-team all-conference selection last year. The Natoma senior averaged 11.2 points last season.

Senior Bill Strait will be looking for his second letter this winter. The 6-2 huskie hails from Concordia.

Sophomore forward Fred Andregg will be battling Locke for one of starting assignments. The 6-4 Hoxie product earned a varsity letter last season as a freshman.

A trio of juniors, Jerry Maska, Al Billinger and Darrell Ehrlich should handle the guard positions. Maska and Billinger, both 5-11 Hays products averaged 12 points a game between them.

Don Givens, 6-3 huskie from Phillipsburg, rounds out the Tiger lettermen. Givens, a starting tackle of the Tiger football squad, averaged 2.8 points through 12 games last winter.

Bengals Claw Winfield; Win Basketball Opener

Guard Allen Billinger scored 23 points—16 in the second half—in sparking FHS's 91-73 cage opener victory over Southwestern College Wednesday night at Winfield.

The Tigers jumped to a 15-point lead early in the contest but Southwestern bounced back to come within four points with a 38-34 halftime count.

Early in the second half the Moundbuilders, sparked by the shooting of Marvin Estes, grabbed a five-point lead, but the Tigers quickly regained. FHS then pushed to a 23-point lead before downing Southwestern 91-73.

Southwestern was hampered by the loss of All-Kansas Conference guard Bob Jackson. The 6-0 Moundbuilder star did not see action because of an emergency appendectomy Tuesday.

New Tiger head Coach Chuck Brehm watched his charges get into foul trouble late in the contest. Four Tigers finished the game with four personals and sophomore forward Fred Andregg fouled out.

Billinger paced the Bengals in the second half with 15 points and ended the contest with 23. Following Billinger was guard Jerry Maska, who tallied 18 points.

Forwards Johnnie Locke and Don Givens added 14 and 11 points respectively, while center Cleat Doyel netted 12.
