More Coverage Given By New Insurance

A report on a new health insurance plan which will be offered for sale to students next fall was given to All-Student Council Tuesday night.

The plan, offered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, has been adopted by the student-faculty Health Committee to replace the present Mutual of Omaha insurance. Dr. James J. Belisle, chairman of the division of health, physical education and recreation, gave the report. He said the contract was to be signed Wednesday.

According to Belisle, the new plan met with complete approval of the committee. He said that for the coverage offered by the new plan, the slight increase in cost was negligible.

The new plan for single students will cost $33 for a 12-month policy as opposed to $27 for the present rate. Married students will pay $117.48.

A vote of acceptance by the Council was contested by married students representative John Stoskopf, Great Bend senior, on the grounds that while both single and married students received the same coverage, the price between the two plans was excessive, but the motion passed.

In other business, Stoskopf introduced an amendment to the existing Bill on Elections calling for spring elections and representation of part-time students instead of only those taking 12 or more hours.

The bill was not considered when John Duff, Beloit senior, pointed that the Bill on Bills requires the submission of "sufficient written copies of said bill" be furnished members before any action can be taken. It will be introduced again at the next meeting of ASC.

Viet War Jeopardizes 1.6 Million 2-S Ratings

By Gary Kisner

Finals and grades might have an added interest to male students at FHS this semester.

Selective Service directors met in Ft. Steward, Ga., last weekend to present views on how to fill higher draft quotas caused by the Viet Nam war.

As America's military draft soars to its highest peak since the Korean War, Selective Service directors are looking at college students as a possible means of filling draft quotas. In an Associated Press release, Tennessee director Arnold Malone said, "We're going to have to put the screws on the students."

Ellis County Selective Service Clerk Henrietta Brull said she hasn't received any information concerning the drafting of college men yet. Presently, the individual draft boards watch a student's grades and academic work load to evaluate a student's deferment standing.

The possibility that the armed services might come knocking on the door of higher education was revealed Saturday. Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service, said that the Viet Nam manpower needs might force a return to the Korean wartime draft tests for college students.

During the Korean War the draft ran about 80,000 a month. Hershey, who believes deferments for college students will become more difficult to obtain, said a final decision on a student's deferment standing would possibly be based on a combination of tests and class standings.

Hershey told the AP that the steps of an increased draft would be available (1) 19-year-olds, (2) college students, (3) the IY category and (4) childless marriages.

Men who failed their written examination (IY) before Nov. 1, 1965 and who are high school graduates, meet physical requirements and scored above a 16 on the test are going to be re-examined, Miss Brull reported.

At present the Selective Service directors have still not made definite plans in establishing a system of reclassification for college students. However, the directors agreed that if the military situation gets worse the college students will find it tougher to get a deferment.

The deferments of 1.6 million students are a possible manpower pool which the draft directors haven't overlooked—and they're not about to.

Prof Discusses Ukrainian Novel; 'Orgy' Called Tragedy Of Dignity

The tragedy of the individual and national dignity in "Orgy" was reflected by Dr. Roman Kuchar in a Tragic Spirit Lecture Monday evening in the Memorial Union.

Drawing from literature native to his homeland, Dr. Kuchar discussed the work of Lesya Ukrainka's historical tragedy "Orgy," which was published in 1913, the year of her death.

Dr. Kuchar said Ukrainka is considered the foremost playwright in Ukrainian literature and her work has not been surpassed by any woman writer in Western literature.

The action in "Orgy" takes place in Corinth during the Roman domination of Greece. The conflict arises from the ruthless subjugation of the Greek nation.

"The Greek patriot Anteus," Kuchar said, "cannot reconcile himself to the humiliation of Greek art, its direct prostitution at the same time."

Anteus, the hero of the tragedy, is the foremost poet and singer of Greek art. He kills himself rather than degrade his art for the pleasure of the Romans' "Orgy."

"The playwright manifestly intended her readers to substitute Russia for Rome and the Ukraine for Corinth so that they may come to realize their own present plight," Dr. Kuchar said.

Students Can Receive Blood

American Red Cross officials have notified Alpha Phi Omega, sponsor of the recent campus-wide blood drive, that all members of the FHS community will receive blood entitlement cards.

The cards will entitle all college students, faculty and staff members to receive free blood, on a usage basis, without obligation to replace the blood. This will also cover the member's immediate family.

This action came despite the fact the Dec. 14 drive did not yield the necessary percentage of donations for full coverage. Originally, donations from 15 per cent of the student body were needed to qualify for campus-wide entitlement.

Entitlement cards will be issued to students during the second semester registration period, Jan. 31-Feb. 2. A plan for distribution to faculty and staff members will be announced later.

Armin Ruud, president of Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity which sponsored the drive, said he was gratified by the Red Cross action. "Our humanitarian project paid off in several different ways," he said. "It certainly gives us an incentive to work even harder to make future blood drives successful," he added.

Ruud also said, "The campus certainly owes a vote of thanks to the many donors and volunteer workers who took part in the drive—they are the persons who really made this possible."

During the December drive, more than 100 pints of blood were donated. The Prometheans fraternity was awarded a trophy for having the largest percentage of its members donate blood.

Another campus-wide blood drive is scheduled May 10.

pressed, and the importance of love.

"The Faces of Love," due for release Jan. 21, has the backing of Doubleday and Co., Inc., largest publishing house in the U. S.

"The book was written to cut through all the misconceptions and confusion prevalent today about the emotion of love and to clarify and crystallize a sound Christian concept of love," the author said.

"Although the book was originally aimed at the college and senior high school group, it is for a general audience," Father John continued.

Robert Cromie, a book critic for the Chicago Tribune, has promised a favorable review. The publishers of the book regard this as a good indication of its potential in the book stores.

"The Faces of Love" has been named book of the month for January by the National Literary Foundation.

Father John said that royalties will go to the St. Joseph's Military Academy building fund and to a Capuchin Franciscan Seminary. He is an instructor at the academy.

Shortly after coming to Hays, in September 1961, Father John became chaplain of Newman Club. He received his master's degree in English here in 1964, and was given additional duties as campus chaplain. Father John also is head of the publications at St. Joseph's Academy.

The contract with Doubleday, calls for two more books in the future, one hopefully within a year.

"Depending on the reviews, I may follow up by expanding on one part of 'The Faces of Love' or possibly a book for teenage boys on etiquette," he said. "At any rate I'll keep writing."

Father John said, "I'm pushing this book because I have a message I want read."

ROMAN IN THE GLOAMIN'

Now as the end of the first semester draws near, one fact emerges clearly: you are all going to flunk out of school.

There are two things you can do about it. First, you can marry money. (I don't mean you marry the money itself; I mean you marry a person who has money. Weddings between people and currency have not been legal anywhere in the United States since the Smoot-Hawley Act. Personna® Stainless Steel Blades, on the other hand, are legal everywhere and are, indeed, used with great pleasure and satisfaction in all fifty states of the Union and Duluth. I bring up Personna Stainless Steel Blades because this column is sponsored by the makers of Personna Stainless Steel Blades, and they are inclined to get edgy if I omit to mention their product. Some of them get edgy and some get double-edgy because Personna Blades come both in Injector style and Double Edge style.)

But I digress. I was saying you can marry money but, of course, you will not because you are a high-minded, clean-living, pure-hearted, freckle-faced American kid. Therefore, to keep from flunking, you must try the second method: you must learn how to take lecture notes.

According to a recent survey, eleven out of ten American undergraduates do not know the proper way to take lecture notes. To illustrate this appalling statistic, let us suppose you are taking a course in history. Let us further suppose the lecturer is lecturing on the ruling houses of England. You listen intently. You write diligently in your notebook, making a topic outline as you have been taught. Like this:

- I. House of Plantagenet.
- II. House of Lancaster.
- III. House of York.

Then you stop. You put aside your pen. You blink back a tear, for you cannot go on. Oh, yes, you know very well that the next ruling house is the House of Tudor. The trouble is you don't know the Roman numeral that comes after III.

It may, incidentally, be of some comfort to learn that you are not the only people who don't know Roman numerals. The fact is, the Romans never knew them either. Oh, I suppose they could tell you how much V or X were or like that, but when it came to real zingers like LXI or MMC, they just flung away their styluses and went downtown to have a bath or take in a circus or maybe stab Caesar a few times.

You may wonder why Rome stuck with these ridiculous numerals when the Arabs had such a nice, simple system. Well, sir, the fact is that Emperor Vespasian tried like crazy to buy the Arabic numerals from Suleiman The Magnificent, but Suleiman wouldn't do business—not even when Vespasian raised his bid to 100,000 gold piastres, plus he offered to throw in the Colosseum, the Appian Way, and Technicolor.

So Rome stuck with Roman numerals—to its sorrow, as it turned out. One day in the Forum, Cicero and Pliny got to arguing about how much is CDL times MVIX. Well, sir, pretty soon everyone in town came around to join the hassle. In all the excitement, nobody remembered to lock the north gate and—wham! before you could say ars longa—in rushed the Goths, the Visigoths, and the Green Bay Packers!

Well, sir, that's the way the empire crumbles, and I digress. Let's get back to lecture notes. Let's also say a word about Burma Shave®. Why? Because Burma Shave is made by the makers of Personna Blades who, it will be recalled, are the sponsors of this column. They are also the sponsors of the ultimate in shaving luxury. First coat your kisser with Burma Shave, regular or menthol—or, if you are the devil-may-care sort, some of each. Then whisk off your stubble with an incredibly sharp, unbelievably durable Personna Blade, Injector or Double Edge—remembering first to put the blade in a razor. The result: facial felicity, cutaneous cheer, epidermal elysium. Whether you shave every day, every III days, or every VII, you'll always find Personna and Burma Shave a winning combination.

Debaters Gain 5-7 Tourney Slate

One speaker point separated the senior division debate team of Doris and Richard Scott from qualification in the elimination round of the Illinois State University tournament last weekend.

The Scotts won four of six rounds of debate in the tourney, while the team of Nancy York, Hoisington sophomore, and Jean Oborny, Timken senior, managed one win while suffering five defeats.

Michigan State University won the tournament in which 150 teams representing nearly 50 colleges and universities from the east coast to Kansas competed.

The Scotts—a husband and wife team—upped their season record to 22-5. They captured first place in the Colorado University tournament and in the Kansas Wesleyan debate tourney earlier this season.

At Illinois State the Scotts earned a certificate of excellence in debate. Mrs. Scott gained a superior rating in oral interpretation, and Oborny received a certificate of excellence in persuasive speaking.

Saturday speakers and workshops discussing Newmanites on the move in current church and world affairs will be featured.

That evening, at the Convention Banquet, Mr. and Miss Newmanite for the Kansas region will be announced. The Best Club Award will be presented and the traveling basketball trophy will be awarded. The annual Convention Ball will follow.

Cost for the weekend is $15, including meals, convention fees, tickets to the ball and rooms at the Holiday Inn.

FHS Newmanites desiring to attend should contact Bill Feldt, Assistant Regional Director, at 205 W. 4th street, before Tuesday so reservations can be made.

Feldt said, "We hope a large delegation will attend to represent the FHS Newman Club."

Don't Draft Vietniks

Sit-ins protesting the draft continue amid controversy, name-calling and anger on both sides.

The big issue now is the possible revoking of the protesters' 2-S, or student deferment and drafting them for demonstrating against the war or draft laws.

General Hershey, director of the Selective Service, has said, "The Government would be committing suicide if it deferred students who defied the Selective Service laws." He also states that he views induction as a punishment.

The draft should not be used as a punishment for protesting for one major reason, namely, the Selective Service is not a judicial body and its jurisdiction does not extend to determining legal guilt or innocence.

The Daily Iowan, published at the University of Iowa, which has been against the Viet Nam war since the start, makes an interesting point.

"It may be suicide to defer them, General, but it's murder to draft them. What kind of army would it be that was made up of soldiers who won't fight? It's dangerous enough to be in a place where people are shooting at you, but if you won't shoot back, you can be in serious trouble. And what kind of job would an army of non-violent types do? The war effort would probably be about as effective as New York's transportation network."

At the risk of being accused of taking a sentence out of context and shaping it to fit our needs, the Leader takes the sentence, "What kind of army would it be that was made up of soldiers who won't fight?" only we look at it in a different vein.

The answer is obvious. It would be a poor one and this is the last thing we need. Front line troops, regulars and one-hitchers, deserve people they can trust when under fire.

The question is not whether the United States should be fighting in Viet Nam in the first place, but whether it can afford to have an army composed of non-fighters. The Leader says no.

Since the normal run of 3,500 Leaders last week lasted approximately three hours, we ran off 3,500 more final exam schedules.

It's surprising to know that final exams are so popular. Some quick figuring shows that we printed 7,000 copies of the schedule last week and will print 7,000 more during the next two weeks. This is 2.8 schedules for every student and faculty member at FHS.

Frightening, this love of education.

Right 'In' The Kisner

There is no fool like an uneducated fool, except perhaps, an uneducated fool.

However, the educated fool who devotes countless hours to learning about learning while never really learning what learning is about, must be the principal subject.

One such student was Hey U. Bone, who graduated with top academic honors from K. U. (Kennel University) and earned his Ph.D. of F.S. (flea scratching) at vet school.

Was Bone happy? Hell no! Although Bone loved animals and hoped to make an excellent vet upon graduation, he remained both unhappy and unaccepted by his chosen ones—mainly Homo sapiens.

High grades failed to buy happiness for Bone, so he turned to student government where his platform advocating a government of the dogs, by the dogs and for the dogs was strongly rejected.

Dejected, Bone returned to his home pad in an attic (campus approved) and devoted countless segments of time racking up a high grade index by memorizing scores of words for "examination regurgitation."

Not knowing how to apply subject material caused Bone, who once read about an exotic religion, to suffer a dilemma. He became the only member of the religion in the Northwestern section of Southeastern Kansas without realizing why.

So, for months, young Bone greeted the sunrise with dreary eyes and a weary heart to rub the belly of his stone god, which never smiled although Bone felt removing lint from its navel was a rather ticklish task.

Upon graduation, the young lad was quickly employed at the government's largest dog kennel. However, he was unable to apply his college knowledge, suffered a severe attack by the hounds and was fired before regaining his health.

But alas, a young lass at the hospital fell in love with our hero and helped him see the light. She told him that knowledge is useless unless one knows how to apply it and becomes active in society.

It was a comfort for Bone to realize that an application of knowledge would help him be welcomed by society. Happily he pounded his hard head with his softer hand, thus breaking three knuckles.

However, the pain didn't diminish his happiness, because Bone had a new leash on life. He returned to work and became a success instead of barking near the door of opportunity for admittance.—Gary Kisner.

Funds, Books Willed By Math Professor

FHS will receive a $5,000 scholarship fund from the estate of Edward Everett Colyer, long-time mathematics professor who died last August.

The fund, called the E. E. and Louise Colyer Scholarship Memorial, will be invested by the college Endowment Assn., with proceeds providing an annual scholarship of $200 to $250.

The scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding mathematics student by a committee comprised of the head of the mathematics department, the registrar and the bursar.

Colyer, who retired in 1943, also willed the bulk of his private library, estimated at 300 to 400 volumes, to FHS.

NOTE: The classes which meet for 75 minutes on Tuesday and Thursday will meet for their final examination at the time of the full 50-minute period used by the class. That is, a class meeting at 7:30 to 8:45 will meet at the time for the 7:30 o'clock exam period on Tuesday, and a class meeting at 9:05 to 10:20 will meet for the exam at the time for the 9:30 exam period for Tuesday classes.

A final examination period has been established for the sake of uniformity in completing the work of respective courses.

All classes shall meet for at least one hour at the time indicated on the examination schedule for the final summing up of the work of the course. Whether this "final summing up" is a written examination or a discussion or other form of summarization is for the instructor to decide. But, whatever the form, it should be a most profitable period to the student and instructor for a final appraisal of the course. Under no circumstance should this scheduled period be omitted, changed, or made of no importance.

No student is permitted to take an examination before the scheduled time for the examination.

A student who is unable to take the final examination at the scheduled time is required to pay a fee of $3.00 for each examination to be taken. The $3.00 fee shall be paid to the Business Office and the receipt showing payment must be presented, before taking the examination, to the person administering the examination.

Any student having more than three (3) examinations scheduled on the same day may make arrangements with the Dean of the Faculty to have an adjustment made in his examination schedule.

Pearcing Comments

Music majors take note. At the University of Iowa the Student Senate passed a resolution recommending that the physical education requirement for members of the college marching band and a drill team be reduced.

The Senate based their recommendation on the premise that "members of the two groups spend much time in physical effort in the organizations" and said that they should be exempted from two of the required four PE hours.

Call it what you will, pot, weed, tea, reefer, boo or marijuana, narcotics use is on the rise on American campuses according to Moderator, a national magazine for student leaders.

The stuff seems to be gaining "respectability." Money probably has a lot to do with it. As the old saying goes, "Smoke Pot. It's cheaper than booze."

Speaking of the "nectar of the gods," the Leader staff has been told that "constant reference to booze reeks of immaturity."

Maybe so, but the majority of college students are neither old enough nor have enough money to make much of a dent in the overall liquor traffic.

The high schools are at it again. First they started calling their schools "campuses," then they started apeing college customs, talk, clothes, manners and morals and now, according to Associated Press, they've taken up cheating, an art once an exclusive college domain.

Old grads, shed one tear for days gone by. One, two, bawl.

Seems as though a dead coyote was hung on the Custer Hall bridge last week and upset a few people. The Leader received an indignant letter, but whoever wrote it neglected to sign their name.

Sorry, "Those Who Give a Damn" just won't do. Come in and sign it and we'll be happy to give you your turn on the soap box.—Dennis Pearce

Financial Aid Given 25% Of FHS Students

By Avonne Rubottom
Leader Reporter

(First in a series pertaining to student aids at FHS.)

Over half a million dollars is spent each year to help one out of every four students at FHS, according to a recent review of the Student Aids program here.

Even though the State of Kansas supplies the greatest amount of funds, the Endowment Assn., the federal government and private enterprises play a big part in the Student Aids program.

The state pays the salaries of all student employees on campus. During the 1964-65 school term, these pay checks amounted to $228,531.

The Endowment Assn. works on a matching program for National Defense Loans. For every dollar designated by Endowment, the federal government provides $9.

Also, United Student Aids Loans, or USAF, are on a matching basis. In this case, private industry provides $11.50 for every dollar set up by the Endowment Assn.

During 1964-65, Endowment budgeted $22,575 for National Defense loans and USAF combined. The government and industry provided $203,175 together.

Endowment also has funds on hand which equal those institutional loans to students from banks cooperating with the association. This sum totaled $26,083 in 1964-65.

In addition, all scholarships and achievement awards are made from money raised by the Endowment Assn. Last school year, 148 scholarships totaled $35,179. Achievement awards to 110 athletes amounted to $14,805.

On Jan. 1, Endowment reached half of its goal of $90,000 from private sources according to Kent Collier, executive secretary of the association.

Collier said about $66,000 was collected during the last school term, with a goal of $70,000.

In addition, 19 men and 21 women are employed this fall at FHS under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. Under the work-study program the students may work up to 15 hours per week either on or off campus.

The program, one of seven in the act, is part of President Johnson's anti-poverty program.

Editor's note: Next week the Leader will present the second in this series about the procedure in obtaining loans.

Still Need Name For Auxiliary

The deadline for entries to name the women's auxiliary to the FHS wrestling squad has been extended until 5 p.m. Monday, according to Dave Winter, Tiger wrestling coach.

The auxiliary will assist at wrestling matches, keep time, scores, promote the squad and publicize matches. Entries may be turned in or mailed to the Leader office, Martin Allen Hall, first floor.

The auxiliary will judge the names. If a man wins the contest, he will have a date with the auxiliary woman of his choice. If a coed wins, she will be entitled to a date with the man of her choice on the wrestling squad.

Mountaineer Thrives On Battles With Self

By Terry Keenan
For the Leader

On the mountain Moran, just above Skillet Glacier, on a 30-degree upward slope, the petons, metal rings driven into cracks were secured . . .

The lower belayer, who held the rope to secure the position for the head climber, said to go ahead.

But the climber went too far—resulting in a 20-foot bruising fall on smooth rock.

Such a fall is not unusual, nor is it a disgrace for a mountaineer. "Climbing is a battle with one's self, not the mountain," according to veteran mountaineer Harold Woodham, Wichita junior.

And he should know—this incident is just one of his many experiences in mountain climbing. Majoring in wildlife management, Woodham became interested in mountain climbing after securing a job with the National Park Service.

The job sent him to Grand Teton National Park in Northwestern Wyoming for three summers, doing various work. He was there in 1962 when one of the most spectacular rescues in the park's history was staged.

Ten members of the Appalachian Mountaineering Club were stranded on the 13,700-foot Grand Teton in a snowfall. Only eight survived the rescue which Woodham observed.

Woodham has climbed the Grand Teton twice, leading an expedition the last time. Most of his summer weekends are spent climbing smaller mountains in the area and glacier skiing.

Next summer he hopes to become an assistant forest ranger—a step toward becoming a full-time range manager.

The competition involved in mountain climbing is what Woodham thrives on. When people start complaining about things going wrong, his usual rejoinder is, "Did you ever fall off a mountain?"

Trip sponsors are Mary Maude Moore and Nancy Cotham. Crested Butte features 26 miles of ski run, and group ski lessons are available for $6 per day.

Sigma Chi Chapter in Sight

By Pam Alspaw
Society Editor

Will there soon be a Sigma Chi fraternity chapter at FHS?

The decision is yet to be made, but it seems likely that there will be. Prometheans, a local fraternity colony, was founded on FHS campus in spring, 1962, with the major goal of becoming part of a national fraternity.

"Prometheans have absolutely the same objective today," said Gary Vernon, president, Colby senior.

Supporting Vernon, Craig Cousland, Liberal sophomore, said, "Going national would be the best thing that could happen to our fraternity."

At first, the Prometheans considered many national fraternities and chose Sigma Chi in the fall of 1962.

"We chose Sigma Chi because it was strong (referring to size, alumni, finance and national standing). Also, we found their idealized standards to be the same as ours," said Vernon.

Dave Aday, Wellington sophomore, said "I believe as our founders did, that no other national offers the standards and values essential for a fraternity that Sigma Chi does."

Before Prometheans can become part of Sigma Chi they must prove themselves worthy academically, financially and in membership. Through correspondence, newsletters and visitations they have presented themselves to Sigma Chi chapters in this province. Delegations were sent to chapters at Kansas University, Kansas State University, State University of Iowa, Iowa State University and Kansas State College of Pittsburg.

Because the University of Nebraska chapter is remodeling their house, no delegation has been sent.

"We are now in the final stage of affiliation," explained Vernon. "Our next step is to obtain letters of support from all Sigma Chi province chapters."

After these letters are received, the process of petitioning will begin. If the Prometheans' petition is accepted, their case will be presented in the Sigma Chi magazine to be voted upon.

Sigma Chi, showing interest in FHS Prometheans, sent Robert McDonald, assistant Sigma Chi executive secretary, to visit them recently.

Vernon was invited to a Sigma Chi banquet at the National Interfraternity Conference in Washington, D.C., in December of 1964.

"This honor gave me the opportunity to meet some of the more important Sigma Chis and discuss the Prometheans with them," he said. "And the discussion seemed favorable."

If we are accepted, which seems more likely every day," said Vernon, "we will be installed shortly after."

Prometheans plan to be the FHS Sigma Chi chapter by October, 1966.

RHYTHM ON PARADE — The FHS gymnastics squad and several coeds gave a joint performance Monday night in Sheridan Coliseum entitled "Rhythm on Parade." Dance numbers and gymnastics routines highlighted the event.

Old Crows Dump Dukes 45-37 For 3rd Orange League Win

In their quest for the Orange League championship in intramural cage play, the unbeaten Old Crows notched their third win of the season Jan. 6 with a 45-37 margin over the Dukes.

The "Crows" held quarter leads of 11-7, 23-11 and 36-21. In the final two minutes of action the Dukes rallied to cut the Old Crows' comfortable lead to six points, but that was as close as they came.

Mike Womacks, Champaign, Ill., junior, and Ed Woods, Lebanon sophomore, paced Old Crow scoring with 13 and 10 points respectively. Ken Patterson, Hill City junior, was high for the Dukes with 11.

The Old Crows won the game by their ability to control the backboards. Both squads shot 36 per cent, but the Old Crows were able to fire 16 more shots than the Dukes.

In other Orange League play, the Bangers squeaked past the Gents 39-35. This placed the Old Crows and Bangers in the league lead with 3-0 and 2-0 records. The Gents are 1-2 and the Dukes 0-2.

Scores of other games:
Jan. 3 — Patriots 46, 21st St. All Stars 26; Snafu 54, Hot Shots 35; Super Sports 46, Agnew III 45; P.A. Steelers 74, Kaders 47.

Jan. 5 — Stumbling Seven 52, Teutons 34; Stoned Rollers 48, Conqs 34; Roamers won forfeit over Withouts; Cruisers won forfeit over Fastbacks.

Jan. 6 — Randals 79, Morticians 29; Animals 70, Wiest Fairies 34; Old Crows 45, Dukes 37; Bangers 39, Gents 35.

Gymnasts Host Wildcats, Mules

FHS gymnasts will get back into action Saturday when they take on Kansas University and Central Missouri State in a double-dual at 2 p.m. in Sheridan Coliseum.

Heading the Tiger lineup Saturday will be three-year letterman Eddie Johnson Hugoton senior. Other lettermen include Mark Giese, Bismarck, N.D. sophomore; Bob Wilburn, Atchison junior; Joe Briggs, Beatrice, Neb., sophomore.

and Bob Kunz, Pratt sophomore. Johnson and Briggs lead the team as co-captains.

The Bengals, who have a 2-1 record for the season, won their opener Dec. 2 by defeating Kansas State and Central Missouri State's Mules in a double-dual at Hays. FHS captured three firsts in five of the eight events to easily outscore their opponents.

On Dec. 11, the Tigers traveled to Lincoln, where they were defeated by Nebraska University 155.1 to 143.7. Although Fort Hays State never gained the lead, the Tigers pushed Nebraska the entire meet, trailing by only 7.15 points going into the final event.

The only Tigers to capture firsts were Mark Giese on the trampoline and Bob Fussel on the high bar.

"The team shows much improvement," said Coach Ed McNeil. McNeil directed the Tigers to a 6-6-1 record last year.

Leading the Tigers in individual scoring is Eddie Johnson, who sets the pace with 53½ points. Following Johnson are Mark Giese with 36 and Ed Harvey with 27.

Other Bengals with points are Steve Byram, 23; Bob Fussel, 21; Joe Briggs, 17; John Bartholomew, 17; Bob Wilburn, 14; Craig Simmons, 11; Gary Thompson, 8; Frank Yardley, 8, and Warren Teasley, 4.

After Saturday's contest, FHS will remain idle until Feb. 5 when they take on New Mexico University at Hays.

Gymnasts Aware Of Blond Fresh Coed

By Susan Edmonston
For the Leader

A graceful blonde freshman may be edging out FHS gymnasts for college honors soon.

Sally Strobel, Protection freshman, began her gymnastics career when she was five years old. And now she can perform with a skill acquired from competitive meets, clinics and expeditions.

A member of her high school gymnastics team, Miss Strobel can perform on the balance beam, execute free exercise routines (she took first place honors in these events at a gymnastics clinic) and has even helped instruct physical education teachers.

In her sophomore year, she placed first in balance beam, free exercise and side horse vaulting at the Missouri Valley AAU meet in Wichita. She also performed in a joint expedition of her high school team and the Northwestern State College gymnastics team of Alva, Okla.

In addition to her long list of gymnastics honors, Miss Strobel was a cheerleader for four years, and received high recognition at a cheerleader camp in Norman, Okla.

At FHS, under the supervision of Nancy Cotham and Mrs. Suzanne Resler, instructors in physical education, she is working on the uneven bars, still rings and trampoline. She also enjoys swimming, softball, water skiing, ice skating, basketball and dancing.

IT'S FRUSTRATING — Losing close games is frustrating to a team's loyal fans, the team and cheerleaders. While the long-lasting effect is on the coach and his team, the immediate effect can be seen on the faces of the emotion-packed cheerleaders. FHS won six of its first seven games before losing three straight and four of its last five (before last night's game against Bethany). The losses, by four, two, one, six and 16 points, brought different moods to both coach and cheerleader. Tiger Coach Chuck Brehm and cheerleader Doris Leiker were caught by FHS photographers during one of the Tigers' losses.

Tigers Edge Swedes 69-68

Fort Hays State's Tigers won their eighth game in 13 tries downing Bethany College 69-68 in a rugged contest in Sheridan Coliseum last night.

The loosely played ball game saw Bethany turn the ball over 28 times without getting a shot with the Tigers giving up the ball a total of 18 times. The two teams were charged with a total of 34 fouls.

The Tigers held a 69-64 lead with 54 seconds left in the contest before the Swedes cut the margin to one. Fred Andregg led the Tigers with 16 points while Harvey Daniels was high for Bethany with 19.

The Tigers lost their fourth decision in five games Monday night, losing to St. Benedict's 69-53 at Atchison.

Facing a tight Raven defense, the Tigers were able to connect on only 27 per cent from the field, compared to the 47 per cent shooting of the Ravens.

Darrell Jones and Vince DeGreef paced the winners with 19 points each, while Jack Dugan came off the bench to add 15. Bill Strait led the way for the Tigers with 15, Johnnie Locke adding 13.

The Tigers snapped a three-game losing streak and won their first CIC contest in two tries Saturday night, downing the Omaha Indians 69-67 on a last-second shot by Strait.

Leading all the way, the Tigers used stalling tactics to counter a late rally by the home-standing Indians. Charlie Myers, Omaha guard, tied the game at 67-67 with 1:07 left in the conference contest.

The Tigers stalled the rest of the game until Strait's winning bucket. Larry Soice paced the Tigers with 17 points while Locke added 14. Dennis Browne led the Omaha attack with 19.

Matmen To Test St. Cloud Tonight

FHS's wrestling squad, after suffering two losses last week, will try to get back in the win column tonight when the Tigers take on rugged St. Cloud (Minn.) State at 7:30 in Sheridan Coliseum.

"St. Cloud is stronger this year and could be one of the toughest teams we will face this season," said Coach Dave Winter. The Huskies, who placed third in the NAIA last year, defeated FHS 29-3 in a match last year.

Saturday, the Bengals will host Central Missouri State. Fort Hays State defeated the Mules 24-10 last year, but Coach Winter looks for a much improved Missouri squad.

The Bengals traveled to St. Francis Friday where they were defeated by rough Colorado State College, 26-3.

Tom Perkins, El Dorado junior, captured the only Tiger win by defeating Harlan Heinz of CSC in the 160-pound class.

FHS suffered its second loss Saturday when the Tigers lost to powerful Adams State College, 29-3.

The only Tiger to win against Adams State was Don Keller, St. Francis senior, who defeated Rick Cortese in the 130-pound match.

Ralph Coder, dean of the graduate division, announced Monday.

He said the date differs from the schedule to allow students time to complete their work for the end of the semester.

Grad Is Co-Author

A FHS graduate now on the faculty at Arizona State College, Flagstaff, has co-authored a textbook on "Mathematics and the Liberal Arts."

Dr. Charles Little, who earned a master of science degree in 1955, and Charles Moore, a faculty member at ASC, wrote the book, designed for use in general math courses.
