Student Loans Are Based Upon Scholastic Rating

By Avonné Rubottom

(Second in a series pertaining to student aids at FHS)

Over a quarter of a million dollars was loaned to FHS students in 1964-65 through the Student Aids program.

Loan applications may be made by any FHS student who needs financial assistance. However, he must have established a satisfactory scholastic rating on campus.

In terms of a National Defense Loan, this means a student must have a 1.5 average both currently and cumulative. Other loans are generally granted according to basic need and passing grades.

Students wanting a loan should apply at the Student Aids Office, Picken 200. Applications are usually made prior to the session for which they are to be used.

The loans are administered by a Loan Fund Committee, which is part of the Student Aids Committee of 12 faculty members. Chairman of the loan committee is Dr. W. D. Moreland. The other members are Miss Ethel Artman, executive secretary of Student Aids; Kent Collier, executive secretary of the Endowment Assn.; Harold Stones, placement director; and Deans Jean Stouffer and Dr. Bill Jellison.

Money for the National Defense Loans, or NDFL, comes from matching funds of the federal government and private funds donated to the Endowment Assn.

United Students Aid Fund, or USAF, is set up by money donated by such companies as IBM and General Motors. In order for FHS to participate in this program, it must put at least $1,000 into the USAF pool. This entitles FHS to $12,500 in credit for every $1,000 deposited. In other words, the $12,500 credit serves as a guarantee to the banks that loan money to FHS students through this program.

Institutional loans are granted directly to students by the Student Aids Committee from private funds given to the Endowment Assn. for this specific purpose.

According to the 1964-65 volume, NDFL and USAF are the most familiar and the largest loan funds. NDFL was by far the largest with a total of $206,150. Then USAF followed with $19,600.

Two of the more outstanding institutional loan funds are the Alumni Student Loan Fund and the Rebecca Dubbs Memorial Loan Fund.

In 1964-65, the average amount per loan was $367 for 546 students. The actual amounts ranged from $1,000 for a NDFL to $6 for an institutional loan.

According to Collier, eight to 10 new funds are set up each year. One of the newer funds is the Kansas Student Loan Fund.

Begins Feb. 3

Enrollment Procedure Announced

Finals, semester break, enrollment and hitting the books once more in a new semester will keep FHS students busy for the next few weeks.

Finals will begin tomorrow and continue until Jan. 26, and mid-term vacation runs until enrollment for the spring semester Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 2. Classes begin Feb. 3.

Procedure for enrollment will be the same as for previous semesters:

2. Go to a classroom and fill out all cards in the packet accurately.
3. See your adviser for his help and signature.
4. Follow enrollment line in the main lobby in the Memorial Union and secure class cards in the Black and Gold Room.

5. After completing the enrollment cards, proceed to the check-out line in Cody Cafeteria.

Graduate students should go to the Graduate Office, Picken 212, and then follow the above procedure.

I through O, Feb. 15
 P through R, Feb. 16

Students enrolled in Saturday or evening classes may pay during the above period or on special dates as follows:

Saturday classes, 8 to 10 a.m., Feb. 12
 Evening classes, 6 to 7:30 p.m., Feb. 11.

Applications Available For Overseas Grants

Applications for Rotary International all-expense fellowships for overseas study in the 1967-68 academic year must be obtained by Feb. 10 from Dr. Richard Burnett, director of field services, in Museum 108.

Single male students of high scholastic standing who will receive a bachelor's degree before the fellowship begins and who are fluent in the language of the country in which they wish to study are eligible.

Some grants for women are offered.

O.K. Given Boiler Plant

A state architect's proposal that FHS's overage boilers be replaced by a new boiler plant will soon become a reality.

Gov. William H. Avery recently announced that money is being made available immediately on recommendation by the state architect. Consequently, the new plant won't be financed from FHS's 1967 operating funds but partly by the Kansas Education Building Fund and partly from general revenue.

President M. C. Cunningham requested the new boilers in a state Board of Regents budget hearing earlier this semester. Construction of the new plant is expected to be completed within the year, Cunningham said Tuesday. It will be located south of the tennis courts.

Avery also recently announced his proposed 1967 operating budgets at state colleges and universities would total $570 million. FHS's recommended share is $5,733,790.

Singing Group Will Appear

"Understudy makes good" could be the theme song for the Back Porch Majority, folk singing group which will perform at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 4, in Sheridan Coliseum.

Originally the group served as an understudy for its parent team, The New Christy Minstrels, but later achieved its own identity and style.

Randy Sparks, who originated the Christies, directs the seven-member group. Individual vocal ranges, choice of harmonic blend and distinctive instrumentation have set them apart from The Christies.

A limited number of tickets are still on sale for $1.50 in the Memorial Union, and will be available at the door, at 7 p.m.

The Majority's appearance is sponsored by the Memorial Union Program Council.

After the concert, the Tiger Hop will be held in the Coliseum. The dance is free and open to all students.

Help for Grad Study Available in Office

Seniors and graduate students interested in financial aid for advanced study should check the bulletin board outside the graduate office, Picken 212, for specific offers from various colleges and universities.

Guides to graduate study are available in the office, and Dr. Ralph Coder, dean of the graduate division, will counsel with students interested in further study.

Leader Out Early

The Leader is out a day early so Leader staffers can begin studying for finals. The next issue will be Thursday, Feb. 3, the day classes begin. This means that staffers will work hard during semester break. (Are we griping? Yea.)

Due to lack of space, the final schedule does not appear in this issue. Copies of the schedule may be obtained in the newspaper box at Martin Allen Hall.

A CHAT — Gov. William H. Avery talks with faculty members (left) Nancy Vogel, instructor in English; Leora Stroup, chairman of the division of nurse education; and Merrill Mulch, assistant professor of history. Test Ban Weakened Violations of dead week by test-happy instructors are not only an irritation and inconvenience to students preparing for finals, but against established college rules.

The Faculty Handbook states explicitly, "No written tests or examinations may be given in the last five days preceding the final examination schedule." Faculty members are also reminded of the test ban in ample time before finals to adjust their teaching schedules.

Dr. John D. Garwood, dean of the faculty, said, "All faculty members have been instructed not to give tests during dead week."

He added, "If any student does have a test during dead week, we'd like to hear about it. The tests may fit the instructor's need, but students are taking other courses also. Call our office and we will talk to the division chairman and the instructor."

"Dead week is not an arbitrary rule the Dean's Office just cooked up. The rules are established by the Faculty Senate. If we know they are being violated, we try to take care of it," he said.

"We aren't looking for informers," he said, "but we intend to enforce the dead week rule if we know of a violation."

If dead week is to be a reality, it must be observed by all instructors. The special few who don't want to or won't write their lesson plans to conform to this breathing spell should remember they aren't the only instructor their students are taking courses from.

If the 18 weeks of a semester aren't enough to complete the required course material, perhaps it should be expanded into two courses or a critical eye cast at it looking for superficialities that pass for requirements.

Any violation of dead week weakens its purpose. If it is to work, it must be observed by all. A select few shouldn't be allowed to blithely ignore the rules.

No, Agnew Hall has not reverted back to a women's residence hall as the Leader Lass cutline hinted last week.

Darla Fry lives in Custer Hall. While confusion isn't the sole property of the Leader staff, occasionally it seems so.

Right 'In' The Kisner

The young college student opened his moldy Chinese fortune cookie (purchased with his coolie student salary) and found, enclosed with an assortment of bugs, a fortune which read, "You will go far in this world."

Our hero, I. Ued Out, excitedly wondered how far his fortunes would take him. Several weeks later young Out again opened something—his mail—and found out he had gained an all-expense-paid trip to Viet Nam. No cookie had ever been so truthful.

Out, however, wasn't happy about the way the cookie had crumbled. Although he had been kicked out of 3,354½ colleges, seven universities, 34 taverns, 16 schools for protesters and 21 houses of ill repute, Out was dismayed at the reason for his being drafted.

His "uncle" wasn't shipping Out out because of existing academic failure. Instead, Out was labeled a Vietnik for suggesting that if America wanted war it should be waged on the LBJ ranch. Our hero protested to his Selective Service Board.

However, Out was forced to report for his armed service tests. In the reflex-physical test the doctor hit Out's knee with a sledge hammer, shattering our hero's kneecap. "Damn!" Out screamed. "No, the name's Jones," the doctor replied. "Incidentally, you passed the test," he added.

Out's next test—a one-question intelligence exam—was administered in an adjoining room. Our hero, with a crushed heart and a crushed kneecap, crawled into the room as the doctor stepped on Out's fingers to test their bone structure.

"What do you think of when you see trees?" the doc asked. "Dogs," Out answered. "You passed the test, soldier," the doctor said. "Hell!" Out retorted. "No, to Viet Nam," the doctor replied.

No truer words have been spoken. Our hero soon found himself defending the rights his nation had denied him. His was a sorry lot, but sadder still is the fate of a nation which dares forget its basic principles.—Gary Kisner

Leader Editorial Criticized

Dear Editor:

In your editorial entitled "Don't Draft Vietniks," your conclusion not to draft "non-fighters" is based upon two misconceptions.

The first is contained in your belief that all front line soldiers shoot back. According to a study conducted by the U. S. Army in World War II, less than 25 per cent of the front line infantry was shooting back. If this makes you a trifle uneasy, think what it did to the Army.

Disregarding the Army study for a moment, let's now consider what you called "non-fighters." I challenge the Vietniks to prove they won't fight. It is easy to hand a pistol to an American and say, "I won't fight you, even if you start shooting at me," because the odds are pretty heavy in your favor that he won't shoot.

I agree with you that induction should not be used as a "punishment," but when it comes their turn, they must go, too. If they are allowed to freely neglect their responsibilities, then why can't you and I neglect ours? It would be easy to suddenly have a snowball of irresponsibility under these conditions.

A nation which will not stand behind its chosen leaders is no nation at all.

To summarize, not all soldiers shoot back anyway, so why worry if a small minority is added? In this case, it is the 75 per cent who are there now and not shooting back that should worry you.

More importantly, in order to back up your claim of being a non-fighter, you have to be willing to go against the group while losing your rights of the group. Considering the latter, I don't think the Vietniks are the irresponsible fools they would have to be in backing their claim of being non-fighters.

FHS To Nationals In Indoor Track

Approximately 15 members of the FHS track team will christen the 1966 track season Saturday when they travel to Kansas City for the first NAIA Indoor Track and Field Championships.

With the recent abolition of CIC indoor track and field competition, the Tiger thinclads will open a four-meet season in what Coach Alex Francis terms "poor shape after the Christmas vacation." Francis said his charges won't be strong but will be competitive in the national meet.

Francis said that Southern University of Louisiana and Texas Southern are considered two of the top teams in a field of 48 schools.

He said he would probably enter teams as individuals in the relays, the middle and long-distance runs, shotput and possibly another event or two if personnel can come through.

Plan Ski Trip During Break

FHS's Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is sponsoring a Winter Sports Holiday at Bear Trap Ranch, Colorado, during semester break for anyone interested.

The ranch, located near Colorado Springs, has skating and tobogganing facilities. The lodge fee is $4; this includes room, meals, skating and tobogganing.

Skiing is available at nearby ski slopes but there is an additional fee. In order to go, a $5 reservation fee must be sent to the ranch before Tuesday.

The $4 rate will be offered only from Thursday to Feb. 2. Optional discussions will be held in the evening on "Personal Christianity."

Wrestlers Even Record at 3-3

FHS's wrestling squad will try for its fourth win of the season when the Tigers travel to Colorado for dual meets with Denver University and Colorado University. The Bengals will meet Denver University Jan. 29, after a two-week break, and will go to Boulder to face rugged Colorado U. Jan. 31.

In action at home last week, the Tigers brought their season record to 3-3 by defeating St. Cloud (Minn.) State Thursday and then bowing to Central Missouri State Saturday.

Fort Hays State won five of the nine matches and took one draw to defeat rugged St. Cloud 19-13. The only pin for FHS came in the 177-pound class when Charley Toedman, Newton sophomore, pinned Delroy Miller.

Saturday, the Bengals again were able to capture five wins but lost the meet 19-14. The only Tiger to capture a pin was Don Keller, St. Francis senior, in the 130-pound division.

The score was tied 14-14 going into the final match Saturday, but heavyweight Mark Watts, Oakley freshman, received a back injury and the Mules won by default. Watts will probably be out of action for the rest of the season.

"I was pleased with the team's performance in both meets," said Coach Dave Winter. "They gave the finest team effort I have seen against St. Cloud."

Cagers Seek Ninth Victory

The Fort Hays State cagers will resume action after a two-week lay-off next Wednesday night hosting Hastings (Neb.) College at 7:30 p.m. in Sheridan Coliseum.

The Tigers will return to conference action Jan. 29, when Emporia State invades the Coliseum. The Tigers are 1-1 in the conference and the Hornets stand 1-0.

After losing three straight, the Tigers have made somewhat of a comeback, winning two of their last three contests, moving their record to 8-5. The two wins were a 69-67 victory over Omaha University on Bill Strait's last-second shot and an unimpressive 69-68 win over Bethany College.

Cleat Doyel continues to lead the Tigers in scoring with a 16.6 average while Bill Strait ranks second with 13.0 points per game.

Jerry Maska is third on the Tiger scoring charts netting 10.4 per contest and Al Billinger and John Locke are scoring at a 10.2 clip.

Strait holds a slight lead in the rebounding department with an average of 11.1. Doyel is averaging 11.0.
