GI Bill Extends Benefits Of Higher Education to Vets

By Marion Tomson
Leader Reporter

The Korean War G. I. Bill, with its multitudinous benefits for veterans, expired Jan. 31, 1965. Since this date, new legislation has been advocated and enacted to renew these benefits for the nation's ex-service men and women.

Public Law 89-358, commonly called "The New G. I. Bill," was enacted March 3, 1966. Purposes of this legislation, among others, are (1) to extend benefits of a higher education to qualified and deserving veterans who might not otherwise be able to afford such an education and (2) to restore lost educational opportunities to service men and women whose careers have been interrupted or impeded by active military service after Jan. 31, 1955."

Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., has said that as many as 13,000 Kansas veterans are expected to receive educational benefits from this law during the next five years.

An appropriation of $17.5 million has been made available to Kansas to finance the benefits of this enactment for the first five years. This amount, however, covers home loans, hospital and medical costs as well as educational costs.

Standlee V. Dalton, registrar and director of admissions, does not foresee any appreciable increase in enrollment at FHS next fall as a result of the bill. He estimates 75-100 additional veterans will enroll here in September as a direct result. The larger schools, Kansas University, Kansas State University, Wichita State, will attract far more of the veterans than smaller schools like FHS, Dalton says.

Dalton says the continued high draft calls, increased voluntary enlistments and stricter 2-S deferments will tend to offset any appreciable increase in enrollment from additional veterans.

The law covers those who have had active military service since Jan. 31, 1955. Those who served in this period are now in their late 20s and early 30s. It can be assumed that many of this age group are now married and settled in business or employment.

Dalton sees little possibility of this group leaving their business or employment to enter college. The stipend paid under the bill would not make this feasible, the registrar feels.

Full-time student veterans (14 hours or more) who are married are authorized to receive benefits of $125-150 per month, depending

No Final Exams for Seniors

By Becky Bodenhamer
Leader Reporter

It was announced in the April 14 issue of the Leader that seniors would not be exempt from taking final examinations this semester as proposed by the Faculty Senate.

The final decision of the Senate was that " . . . seniors will not take final exams this spring, but, starting with the summer session, the Faculty Senate will have seniors take final exams." Dr. John Garwood, dean of the faculty, said.

Dr. Garwood said that much thought and planning by the faculty took place before the final decision was made. The subject of reinstating senior finals was brought before the Senate from the division of social science.

Charles Evans, assistant professor of political science, said, "If seniors are exempted from a final examination, the implication is that the exam is more of a hazing technique than an integral part of the learning process."

Evans explained that some instructors, under the present ruling where senior examinations are left up to the instructor's discretion, will go ahead and give the senior exam early.

This is detrimental to the student because he probably will be given a different exam than the other students. If the senior takes his final at the same time as everyone else in the class, then he will have the same test, the same amount of time to study for it, and be able to have his grade averaged with the rest of the class.

"As a result of the problem presented from the social science division, we made the survey," Garwood said. The purpose of the study was to determine final examination-commencement procedures used at other institutions and to seek answers to questions posed by members of the Senate.

The study was limited to three classes of institutions: (1) Colleges and universities supported by the state of Kansas; (2) Colleges comparable in size to FHS situated in states which border on the state of Kansas; and (3) A group of colleges chosen at random regardless of geographic location.

Colleges and universities that participated in the study were: Central (Okla.) State College, Colorado State College at Greeley, Emporia State, Hastings (Neb.) College, Kansas State University, Moorehead (Minn.) State College, Omaha (Neb.) University, Kansas State College of Pittsburg, San Jose (Calif.) State, Southwest Missouri State, University of Kansas, Washburn University, Wayne (Neb.) State College, Western (Colo.) State College and Wichita State University.

A questionnaire was mailed, along with a letter of explanation, to each of the institutions. The questionnaires, upon their return, were tabulated and the summary created.

The questions asked and tabuon the number of family dependents.

Qualified veterans may draw this stipend for a maximum of 36 months. One month of training allowance is allowed for each month (or fraction of) served on active duty. A minimum of 181 days of active service is required to establish eligibility—and the service member must have been separated under conditions other than dishonorable.

What will be the impact of this legislation here at FHS? Ed Johnson, director of housing, foresees an even tighter campus housing situation, especially in married student quarters. "This new situation will be very inducive to married veterans to attend college," Johnson says.

Allowances for full-time married students, $125-150 monthly, will meet most of their living expenses. "Heretofore, our percentage of married students has remained fairly constant. This percentage will now increase. There are tentative plans to complete 36 new married quarters by 1968-69. However, the last of Lewis Field apartments are scheduled to be removed in approximately two academic years."

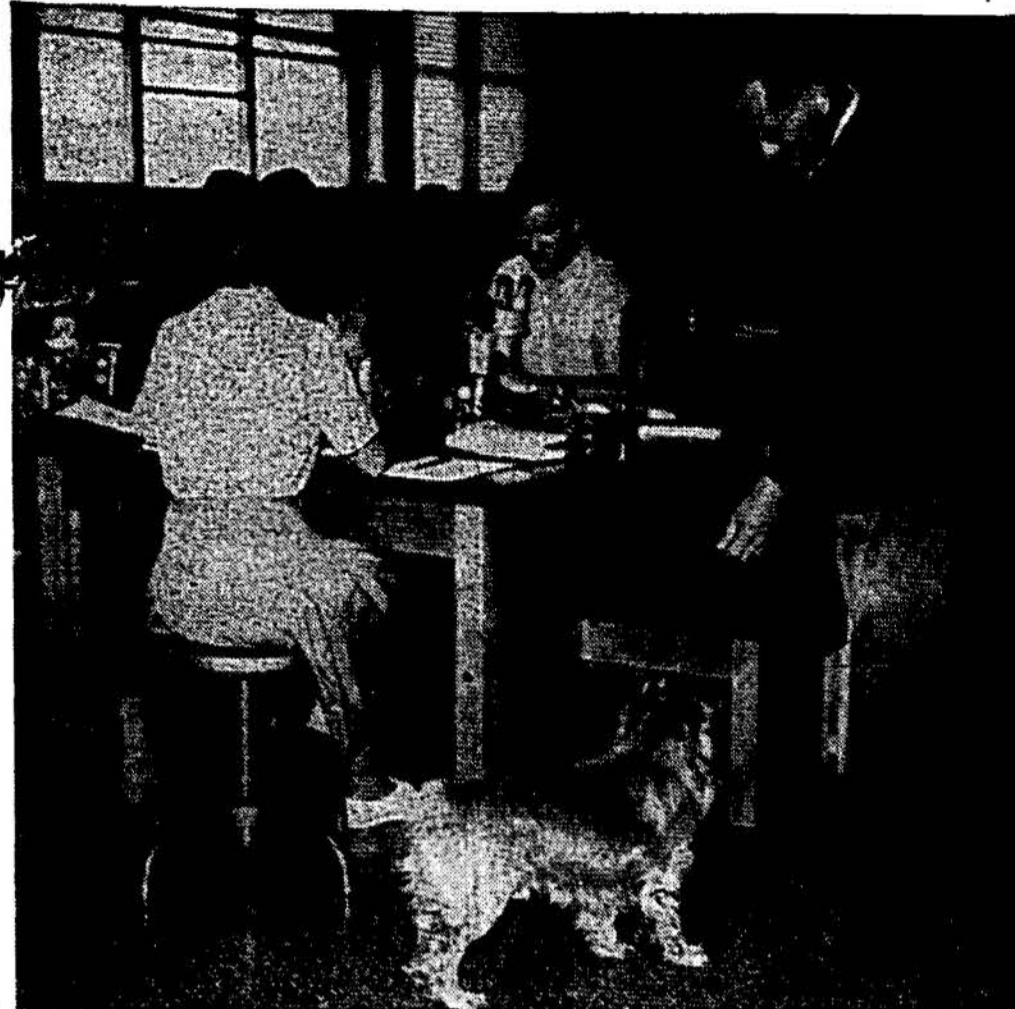

Private housing in Hays will also feel the effect of additional veterans. "A married student occupying an apartment in Hays will take up space normally housing four single students. This will create a competitive rent market and cause a rise in rents," Johnson believes. FHS will have an additional 20 faculty members next year, further compounding the private housing situation.

During the 1960-65 period, FHS completed campus housing for approximately 50 per cent of the enrollment increase. "In the next five years," says Johnson, "the college cannot provide for more than 15 per cent of the normally expected increase. The added veterans' enrollment will further compound this problem."

Statutory tax limits prohibit any acceleration or addition to planned construction of housing facilities, Johnson says. A new 350-450-man residence hall wing and a 36-unit married student quarters program are tentatively scheduled for completion during 1968-69.

Gov. William Avery has stated that he does not consider it an obligation of educational institutions to provide student housing. The governor considers it an obligation of private and municipal entrepreneurs.

NEVER IN THE DOGHOUSE — Buff, a spry cocker spaniel which has become an unofficial mascot at FHS, checks out a lab class in Albertson Hall with his master, Dr. Howard Reynolds, associate professor of botany.

Buff A 'Dogged' Example Of Desire To Attend FHS

By Gary Kisner

One "student" at FHS isn't content to live a dog's life, and although he might not receive a master's degree this year, it won't be because he hasn't attended college long enough.

The "student" is Buff, a spry cocker spaniel owned by Dr. Howard Reynolds, associate professor of botany.

Well known for his habit of begging doughnuts at Beta Beta Beta (honorary biology fraternity) meetings or poking his head into classrooms at Albertson Hall, Buff has become a tradition at FHS during the past six years.

Buff began his education at FHS in 1961 at the age of one—as a journalist. Owned by Jim Hudson, then Leader sports editor, Buff idled away many hours in the news and publications office in Martin Allen Hall.

However, in 1962, Buff changed his allegiance to the biological sciences. When Hudson left FHS in June of 1961 he gave Buff to Reynolds. "I had seen Buff on the campus and had fallen in love with him," Reynolds said, "so it was an easy transition for both of us to adapt after Jim left."

Reynolds calls Buff "a regular student dog" and the 6½-year-old purebred cocker spaniel enjoys the run of the campus.

"Shortly before I took possession of Buff he walked up to President Cunningham while he was handing out diplomas during graduation, so I've always said Buff got his bachelor's degree and is working toward his master's," Reynolds said.

Reynolds describes Buff as "the mascot of Fort Hays State and the defender of Albertson Hall." Noting his pet's strong territorial dominance, Reynolds says Buff chases other dogs away from the science building.

"Outside my office, Buff is everyone's friend," Dr. Reynolds said, "but when he gets in my office, he's a faithful watch dog. To my dismay I have not been able to convince him to be more friendly in here."

Buff, who was initiated two years ago as an honorary member of Delta Epsilon (honorary science society), also guards Reynolds' car. "When I park on campus Buff sits next to my car and guards it, although if it's cold outside, he often walks home. Buff is a very independent dog."

In the fall of 1964 Reynolds took a sabbatical leave from FHS to tour 15 European countries and study at Kew Gardens in London. Buff was forced to remain behind with friends where Reynolds said his pet waited faithfully, although, "Buff was a very sad dog."

While Dr. Reynolds was gone Buff made daily trips to Albertson Hall. He indicated his loyalty and loneliness by searching sadly for his master among the students and instructors that passed by.

The two were reunited five months later and are now happily back at work—Reynolds as a teacher and Buff, well, few students show more dogged determination to stay in school.

NOTE: The classes which meet for 75 minutes on Tuesday and Thursday will meet for their final examination at the time of the full 50-minute period used by the class. That is, a class meeting at 7:30 to 8:45 will meet at the time for the 7:30 o'clock exam period on Tuesday, and a class meeting at 9:05 to 10:20 will meet for the exam at the time for the 9:30 exam period for Tuesday classes.

A final examination period has been established for the sake of uniformity in completing the work of respective courses.

All classes shall meet for at least one hour at the time indicated on the examination schedule for the final summing up of the work of the course. Whether this "final summing up" is a written examination or a discussion or other form of summarization is for the instructor to decide. But, whatever the form, it should be a most profitable period to the student and instructor for a final appraisal of the course. Under no circumstance should this scheduled period be omitted, changed, or made of no importance.

No student is permitted to take an examination before the scheduled time for the examination.

A student who is unable to take the final examination at the scheduled time is required to pay a fee of $3.00 for each examination to be taken. The $3.00 fee shall be paid to the Business Office and the receipt showing payment must be presented, before taking the examination, to the person administering the examination.

Still No Cigarettes

Last Friday the Board of Regents didn't take action on the cigarette ban ruling . . . again.

This time, the resolutions calling for the lifting of the ban came from the Hays State and Kansas State College of Pittsburg. It met the same fate as the resolutions submitted by Kansas State and Wichita State University not too long ago.

As the Leader has stated before, the ban serves no purpose except inconvenience to the student and loss of revenue for the Memorial Union. It is assumed that the same problem exists at the other colleges and universities. Smokers can still turn the air blue with smoke, off-campus businesses can still add the Union's loss of revenue to their pockets and the Union student workers can still empty ash trays.

The idea isn't new, but maybe the ban doesn't go far enough. Why not do away with smoking on campus? The money saved in buying ash trays and paying student help to empty them could be used to pay the Campus Security Patrol Anti-Cigarette Division.

Dead Week R.I.P.

The other side spoke last week in a Leader poll giving its views on dead week and its recent demise.

Several good ideas were given. "The instructors put so much emphasis on the final examination grade, then they take away the best opportunity the student has to prepare for it," said Jackie Murray, Holyrood freshman. Dr. Ralph V. Coder, dean of the graduate division, said, "I favor having a dead week because I think it gives the student a chance to re-group information and get ready for final exams."

Fred Deal, Colby junior, and Bill Halpern, assistant professor of chemistry, suggested a "dead day" the day before finals on which no classes at all would be held. Maybe this is a possibility. It would be better than nothing.

In opposition, J. Dale Peier, instructor of economics and business said, "Dead week for most students was just a reprieve from the classroom and the students did not utilize the time that they had." And Nancy Aust, Palco sophomore said, "I think the decision the Faculty Senate has made is wise because a greater number of students won't use that free time to study for their exams."

The Leader's position has been stated before against the revocation of dead week. The grounds for Leader position is that it is a minority of students who don't use the week properly, not a majority. And that this majority should not have to suffer for the misdeeds of a few.

during the coming months because the rumor is out that fees will rise again.

Already stuck with a $2.50 hike in Memorial Union fees next year to help pay for the $1.5 million addition, FHS students may have to dig deeper into their pockets if the increase being considered by the Kansas Legislative Council is approved. The raise would be approximately $5 per semester.

Incidental fees have shown a steady increase over the years, not only at FHS, but in colleges and universities all over the nation. Even though fees have risen $32 in the past six years, they are considerably lower than at many other schools.

Which is good. If Leader staffers' bank accounts are representative of the student body, the anticipated rush for a college education may be curtailed.

Drama, an important part of any collegiate scene, was well represented this year by "New Drama, '65-'66."

Presenting many types of plays this year, the speech department admirably fulfilled its role of giving students a chance to act and the public to enjoy live stage entertainment. Perry Schwartz, instructor in speech, directed the plays and was in charge of all productions.

Pearcing Comments

Medical science has come up with an "assistant heart" which serves as a temporary substitute for a weak heart.

Doctors are working for the time when a complete new heart will replace the one that comes with the body.

Great! The only thing I question is the use of the word "installed" used in the process. Fuel pumps or engines are installed; a heart should be either "implanted" or "replaced." Installed is too mechanical.

Maybe it could be blamed on Spring, the traditional season for new life, engagements and student demonstration. Kansas State University's Student Senators are discontented with computer enrollment. Card Room Food Ban Protested

Dear Editor:

In the past few days a new regulation concerning the operation of the Memorial Union has been added to the already-full list of do's and don't's. I am referring to the rule forbidding food and drink in the Arapahoe Room.

As we all know, this is the area reserved for card-playing. During the course of a day a great many people with sandwiches and drinks pass through this area utilizing the facilities and leaving their debris behind, but no more so than students leave in the other areas.

By the rash action of either the directors or employees of our Union, it is no longer possible to use this room for its intended purpose, because by forbidding food and drink its full utilization is not possible.

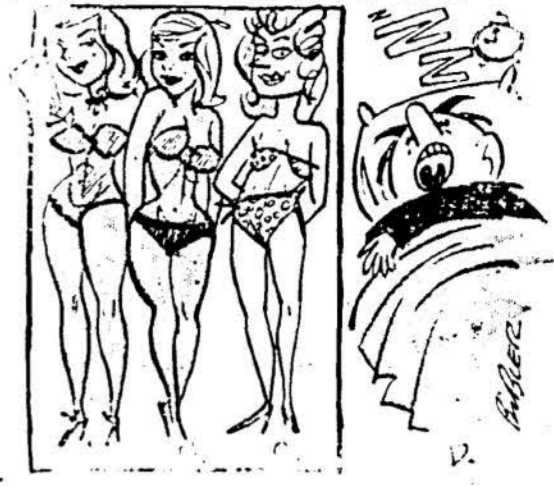

If it is the policy of the Union to restrict the use of the "Campus Living Room" to those of us wanting only a place to eat dinner or take advantage of the other fine services provided, then this policy should be stated; but if the Union is to be for all students, then make it so.

Admittedly, the debris does get quite high at times, but this is only in part the fault of the students. Another large part of the blame must fall upon the people directing and implementing these services. In the other most-used areas of the building, there are people collecting the trash and cleaning off the tables. Why can't

The acute housing shortage at Faulty Housing State College was "bugging" Delbert Disturbed.

One evening while crawling into bed at his college-approved abode, Disturbed was bitten firmly on his not-so-firm rumble-seat by a bug.

In anger the bug reported the incident to the college housing officials, who immediately dispatched a team of biologists to the "Disturbed" pad. Their study disclosed that Delbert was violating the rights of 3,432,978 different species of bugs, who had been granted college approval to form a bug refuge.

Delbert pleaded his case, but to no avail because it was impossible to get the "bugs" out of the housing problem.

Delbert realized that Faulty Housing State lacked a sufficient amount of dorm-a-bories, and consequently students were forced to compete for the limited number of over-aged, over-priced and overly-wretched apartments. The college couldn't solve the problem because it couldn't get dorms except on an outdated projected building plan favored by the Oak Board of Rejects and the city fathers refused to seriously consider the sad plight of the students.

So, Delbert and his fellow students were forced to endure the trials and tribulations of the housing shortage.

However, despite the bad effects of housing, Delbert managed to learn many valuable things. He learned to sit on the floor, because the furniture provided him couldn't support his weight. He learned how to read in the dark because the lamps didn't work.

lated results concerning senior examinations were: 1. Do you require seniors to take final examinations? — 13 yes, 3 no, 1 instructor's choice.

2. Do you require seniors to be tested in the period set aside for final examinations? — 12 yes, 4 no. 3. Does the registrar have sufficient time between the last test day and commencement to determine whether the candidate has completed all requirements? — 11 yes, 1 no, 3 candidates participate in commencement with requirements determined later.

4. Do you have complaints from graduates on being retained several days after final examinations? — 4 yes, 6 no, 4 commendement held before finals are completed.

5. Do you contemplate a change in policy in the near future? — 0 yes, 14 no, 1 under consideration.

The decision that seniors would take finals starting with the summer session, a unanimous decision of the Faculty Senate, will be on a plan similar to the University of Oregon.

According to the Oregon plan, if students cross the platform, it does not signify they have been graduated.

An explanation is printed in the front of the commencement program which states: "The students whose names are listed herein were considered candidates for the degrees indicated when the program was printed; this is not an official degree list. The appropriate diplomas will be issued to candidates who successfully completed all requirements by the end of the spring term."

A history major, Cook qualified as a result of high scores on a series of tests.

Nothing can take the press out of Lee-Präst slacks

Not that it's on his mind right now. And it needn't be. Those Lee-Präst Leesures can't help but stay crisp and neat. No matter what you put them through. They have a new permanent press. So the crease stays in. The wrinkles stay out. Permanently. And that's without ironing. No touch-ups, either. They're made from Lee's special blend of 50% polyester and 50% combed cotton. For wash and wear... with conviction.

Incidentally, that permanent press is the only change we've made in Leesures. They still have that lean, honest look... smart, tailored fit. New Lee-Präst Leesures. Test their permanent press yourself. It isn't necessary, but it's a great way to spend an evening. From $6.00 to $8.00.

AWS Week Highlighted By Tonight's Meeting

Closing hours have been altered for juniors. Beginning in the fall of 1966, juniors will have the same privileges seniors now have, late leave.

Associated Women Students' Council recently passed this measure after it was recommended by the AWS board of standards. Also planned is a unified campus code for all organized women's housing.

This week has been set aside to emphasize the importance of AWS on the Fort Hays State campus and to compare its work with other chapters' accomplishments.

A meeting open to all women students is being held tonight at 7:45 in the McMIndes Hall recreation room.

President of K-State AWS, Carol Christensen and Miss Carolyn Peine, assistant dean of women at Kansas State, will report on the 1966 regional AWS convention at Stillwater, Okla.

Bengals Open Home Stand

The Tiger baseball team will open a four-game series Saturday, when Kansas Wesleyan University and Wichita State University invade Larks Park.

FHS will face the Wesleyan Coyotes at 10 a.m. Saturday morning and will go against the Wheatshockers at 2 p.m.

Probable starting pitchers for the Tigers Saturday, will be Terry Thomas against Wesleyan and Bill Scott against the Wheatshockers.

Wednesday afternoon the Bengals will host the Kearney (Neb.) State Antelopes in a double-header.

An earlier game with the Antelopes was postponed due to bad weather.

Coach Bob Reising's charges trekked to Sterling for a rematch double-header with the Warriors Wednesday but results of that contest were unavailable at the time this was written.

The Bengals suffered their first two losses of the season last Saturday, when they were downed twice by College of Emporia.

In the first contest, C of E pounded out seven hits, including two home runs, to defeat the Tigers 3-2 in an extra-inning contest.

The Presbies went ahead 2-0 in the second inning on homers by Don Pacifico and John Malone, but the Bengals evened it up in the third when Dennis Beam singled to drive in two runs.

The score remained tied until the eighth inning when Malone singled to drive in the winning run for the Presbies.

Terry Tieger was the winning pitcher for C of E. Tieger pitched the full eight innings giving up seven hits.

Bob Power was the losing pitcher for FHS.

In the second game, Tiger hurler Terry Thomas pitched six innings of hitless ball before the Presbies pounded three singles and scored three runs in the seventh to win 4-3.

Winning pitcher for the Presbies was Terry Schields, who gave up four hits.

FHS's three runs came in the fourth inning, when Jim Pearce tripled to drive in two runs and then scored himself on a squeeze play.

Rodeo Club Lassos 2nd; Prepare for Home Show

The Fort Hays State Rodeo Club won second place in the Nebraska University rodeo last weekend in a tune-up for its own rodeo May 6-7.

Nebraska University won the rodeo in the 12-team competition. The FHS club will participate in the Kearney (Neb.) State rodeo this weekend.

Joe Hedrick, Nickerson senior, took second in the bare-back riding event; Neil Barstow, Johnson freshman, tied for fourth in bare-back riding; Mike Womacks, Champaign, Ill., junior, won second in calf roping; Sig Collins, Pretty Prairie junior, placed second in bulldogging; and Glenda Rudolph, Scott City junior, finished fourth in women's barrel racing.

FHS will host colleges and universities from Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma in the first annual FHS Rodeo at the quarterhorse grounds on East Highway 40.

Oklahoma State University, Kearney (Neb.) State College, Milford (Neb.) College, Nebraska University and Pratt Junior College have made application to join FHS in the event.

Bill Murphy, publicity chairman for the Rodeo Club, said more schools are expected to enter.

Advance tickets for the rodeo can be purchased at Dreiling's Western Wear or from any Rodeo Club member for $1.

PROBABLE STARTER — Bill Scott, FHS hurler, will probably handle the pitching duties when the Tigers face the Wichita State Wheatshockers Saturday afternoon at Larks Park. Scott won his first game of the season April 20 when he hurled a one-hitter against the Bethany Swedes.

Squad Divided For Grid Game

The "Blacks" will battle the "Golds" in the annual FHS intrasquad spring football game at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Lewis Field Stadium.

"We've had some fine hitting out there during the spring drills. If we can carry this through next fall and if all of these young men make their grades, we should have a fine squad," Coach Wayne McConnell said.

McConnell has split the 42-man team into what he hopes will be two equal units for the contest, which will be a part of the third annual Fort Hays State Furlough.

Juniors Larry Noffsinger, Ron Tuley and Charley Adams will tri-captain the "Gold" team. Co-captains Leo Hayden and Ron Darst, both juniors, will lead the "Black" team.

Seniors May Contribute

Seniors may make contributions for the senior class gift at the Alumni office, Picken 200.

The gift, roadside signs along Interstate 70 advertising FHS, was chosen at a recent meeting. Contributions may be made until May 25.

NINTH IN NATION — Jack Harms, left, and Lynn Havel, are two members of the FHS distance medley relay team which is currently ranked ninth among all colleges and universities in the nation. The relay team, which also includes Jerry Katz and John Mason, will be competing in the Drake Relays at Des Moines this weekend. Last week, the team won first at the Kansas Relays, setting a new school record of 9:53.3.

Thinclads To Drake, Colorado; Snag 2 Firsts At Kansas Relays

Fort Hays State's thinclads will keep extra busy this weekend as they compete in the Colorado Relays at Boulder and the Drake Relays at Des Moines.

Friday and Saturday the distance medley and two-mile relay teams and distance ace Don Lakin will run in the rugged Drake Relays which includes top teams from all over the nation.

Running in the distance medley relay for FHS will be Lynn Havel, Jerry Katz, Jack Harms and John Mason. The distance medley team, which placed fourth in the Drake Relays last year, is currently ranked ninth in the nation, next to UCLA.

The Bengal team in the two-mile relay will include freshman Bruce Zamrzla, Katz, Harms and Mason. Lakin will be competing for the Tigers in the six-mile run.

Approximately 15 other Bengal thinclads will be competing in the Colorado Relays, also Friday and Saturday.

Last weekend, Coach Alex Francis' thinclads captured two firsts and set three school records in the Kansas Relays at Lawrence.

In the distance medley relay, FHS finished first with a time of 9:53.3 which bettered the old record of 9:54 set earlier this year at the Texas Relays.

The two-mile relay team captured the other first for the Bengals, covering the distance in 7:37.3.

School records were also broken in the 10,000-meter run and the 880-yard relay.

Lakin finished second in the 10,000-meter event with a time of 30:47 which broke the old record of 32:14 set by Bob Mohler in 1962.

The 880-yard relay team, made up of Bob Newsom, James Alexander, Larry Pickering and Terry Shane, failed to qualify for the finals, but set a new record of 1:28.1.

Netmen Invade Topeka

Fort Hays State's tennis team will jaunt to Topeka Friday for a match with the Washburn University Ichabods.

In action last week, the Tigers won three out of four matches.

Saturday, the Tiger netmen split a double-dual with Pittsburg State and Emporia State at Emporia.

Coach Jerry Johnson's charges downed the Pittsburg team 5-4, winning three singles matches and two doubles matches, but lost to the Emporia Hornets 5-4, with victories in only two singles matches and two doubles.

Don Hockett and Dave Young were the only Tigers to win their singles matches in both contests. Mike McAtee and Young won two victories for FHS in doubles as did Hockett and Terry Cleveland.

Last Thursday, FHS shut out the Kearney (Neb.) State Antelopes, 7-0, for the second time this season. The Tigers opened their season with a victory over the Antelopes at Kearney.

The Kearney encounter was the second home meet for the Bengals this season. The netmen won their other home contest March 26, defeating the Bethany Swedes.

Antelope Golfers Here Monday

FHS's golf squad will host the Kearney (Neb.) State Antelopes Monday in the last home match of the season.

Last week the Tigers boosted their season record to 6-4, winning three out of four matches.

Monday, Coach Cade Suran's golfers swept a double-dual at the Fort Hays Country Club, blanking Kansas Wesleyan University and Bethany College, 15-0.

Leading the FHS attack was freshman Charley Fountain who shot a 70 to capture medalist honors. The other four Tiger golfers all shot rounds in the 70's.

The Tiger squad posted a team score of 364 against Kansas Wesleyan's 445 and Bethany's 452.

Earlier, on Friday, the Bengals split a double-dual at Topeka, downing St. Benedict's but losing to powerful Washburn University.

Dennis Close led FHS in the Topeka encounter posting a 78.
