VOLUME LIX

FORT HAYS KANSAS STATE COLLEGE, HAYS, KANSAS 67601 THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1966

NUMBER THIRTY-ONE

SHADES OF SUMMER — May's Leader Lass, Betty Haas, enjoys the warm (?) spring weather while getting an early jump on a suntan. Miss Haas, a

Ness City freshman, is taking secretarial courses at FHS. She is a member of Newman Club and lives in McMindes Hall. Election of Leader Lass of the Year is from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday in the Memorial Union lobby.

Housing Rules Changed; Legality, Cooperation Stressed

(First in a series on off-campus housing rules changes.)

Sweeping changes in off-campus housing rules were announced today by Ed Johnson, director of housing at FHS.

The new rules as announced by

Johnson are:

1. FHS makes no distinction in college-owned housing with regard to color, race, creed or national origin; FHS expects that the same position will be taken by landlords who rent rooms or apartments to FHS students.

2. Single men and women students under 21 are required to live in an accommodation where the householder or an authorized representative lives on the premises. In absence of the householder, a responsible person may be left in charge with the permission of the director of housing.

3. Students and homeowners are encouraged to complete their rental agreement in writing. Past experience has shown that many misunderstandings have resulted from oral agreements. Where no written contract is in force, the Kansas rental law, Chapter 58-2504 (30 days' notice in writing), will be in effect. It is generally expected that students will retain their residence a full semester.

4. Students are responsible for complying with State statutes regarding alcoholic beverages and shall be held accountable for any infractions occurring.

5. The General Statutes of Kansas Section 21-924, make all gambling illegal.

6. At no time should be men entertained in the rooms of women students, or vice-versa, unless in the case of a special event permission has been secured from the Dean of Students Office or from the householder.

7. Minor rules are left to the homeowner's discretion. These rules, such as car washing privileges, quiet hours, use of small appliances, cleaning of the premises, should be written into the householder-student agreement at the time of renting so these rules will be completely understood by both parties.

8. No guests shall be lodged in students' rooms without the knowledge and consent of the householder and/or the students. Charges must be determined prior to renting the accommodations.

9. A landlord must either rent to college women or college men, not to both in the same housing unit.

10. In addition to the above policies, all undergraduate women are governed by other general policies established by AWS. A copy of these standards is available in the Dean of Students' office.

"All single men and women students and landlords are responsible for observing the new policies," Johnson said.

He noted two advantages to the new rules: "First, we can now operate under a legal basis as much as possible," he said. "Second, we hope to make more housing available for FHS students. The new stipulations might possibly help us to obtain housing by developing a better relationship between homeowners and the students."

A Guideline to . . .

The Status of Academic Freedom

By Marla Bass
Leader Copy Editor

It isn't a loud demonstration, defiant sit-down or mass march, but a "quiet revolution" that is making a lasting mark on the nation's campuses today.

The "revolution" is academic freedom, and it concerns students and faculty alike.

Committee S of the American Assn. of University Professors, a group of eight college professors, and University of Minnesota Deans E. G. Williamson and John L. Cowan have published reports or issued policy statements on the subject.

The AAUP (there is a chapter of this organization at FHS) committee lists five areas where student and faculty freedoms are essential, including student rights, freedoms and responsibilities and professors' obligations to protect these freedoms.

Staff Positions Open On Leader, Reveille

Applications for salaried positions on next year's State College Leader are available in Martin Allen Hall, and several salaried positions also are open on the 1967 Reveille.

Deadline for returning the Leader applications is Monday noon.

Persons interested in working on the Reveille staff, both in the business and editorial departments, may apply at the Reveille office, first, floor, Martin Allen Hall.

The Minnesota dean's report, made to the National Assn. of Student Personnel Administrators, concerns itself with issues, problems and desirable forms of freedoms and facts about the status of students' freedom.

The five areas Committee S defines are: (1) the classroom, (2) student's records, (3) student affairs, (4) off-campus freedom of students and (5) procedural standards in disciplinary proceedings.

In the classroom, the committee advocates protection of freedom of expression, protection against improper academic evaluation (stemming from information gained about the student during the course of classroom work) and protection against improper disclosure (of the students' attitudes, views, class work, etc.)

13 Students in Honors Recital; Recognition Day for Miss Felten

An Honors Recital at 8 tonight in Felten-Start Theater and a recognition concert at 3 p.m. Sunday for Miss Lucille Felten mark musical activities at FHS this week.

In tonight's Honors Recital, three students will be making return appearances. Gerald Brown, Hays junior; Gary Merklein, Prairie View junior; and Bruce Staven, Hays senior, have been selected for repeat performances.

The Honors Recital is one of the top awards of the music division. Students are selected to appear on the basis of student recitals held throughout the year, and are chosen by fellow music students and music faculty members.

Larry Stetler, Glen Elder sophomore;

The Henry Edward Malloy award to the outstanding senior musician will be presented at the recital.

Sunday, the division of music will conduct a recognition day in honor of Miss Lucille Felten, associate professor of music, who will retire at the end of the summer semester.

Participating in the program in Felten-Start Theater will be the band, choir, Brass Choir and the Hays College-Community Orchestra. Howard Halgedahl of the Wichita Symphony will be the guest conductor of the orchestra, and John Huber, Colby, a former student of Miss Felten's, will also be on the program.

Two recitals are scheduled next week. On Monday, Bruce Staven will perform and Bonnie Storm, Hays graduate, will present her graduate recital Thursday.

WHAT'S THIS? — Debbie Lowen, daughter of Robert Lowen, instructor in journalism, inspects one of 112 works on exhibit at Davis Hall. The largest exhibit of the school year, featuring undergraduate work, is in its second week.

Academic Freedom . . .

The committee also says students should be free to take a reasoned exception to data or views offered to them in the classroom, a right upheld by professors at one major midwestern university.

One professor said, "we want the student to think for himself." And another said, "a student has to say more to me than, 'I disagree, and my opinion is as valid as yours.'"

Student records, the second area, should contain only information about academic status says AAUP. At FHS, certain cases of disciplinary action are recorded on student transcripts.

The third area, student affairs, the statement advocates freedom from arbitrary discrimination (on the bases of academic qualifications, race or religion) should be followed.

Freedom of association is also listed under student affairs. AAUP says that affiliation with an extramural organization should not itself affect recognition of a student organization; that organizations should be free to choose their own advisers without consequence; advisers should not attempt to control the policy of the organizations, and student groups should not be required to submit a membership list as a condition of institutional recognition.

The Student Organizations Committee (SOC) here requires such a list for all campus-approved organizations. Dean of Women Jean Stouffer says, "the list is used in a casual way, mostly to determine the size of the group and to compile a listing of officers."

Also in the area of student affairs, the AAUP maintains that students be allowed to invite and hear any persons of their own choosing.

In contrast, Deans Williamson and Cowan said that when students want to hear speakers on topics of their own choosing they want "to hear speakers who are the most radical, controversial and trouble-making."

Dean Stouffer said she feels that "FHS has a generally liberal attitude toward speakers." But she added, "if the president of the American Nazi Party was to speak, there might be some question, but the subject of a speaker being controversial has never been raised here."

Area three includes discussion on student publications. AAUP says the student press should be free of censorship; should be encouraged by arrangements which permit financial autonomy or complete financial independence; and that editors and managers be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage.

Freedom to editorialize, says the Minnesota deans, usually means freedom to attack the administration as the enemy or "bad guys."

"To be sure, once in a while we select an editor who does not have this kind of animus and is very decent with the dean of students and the administration. Those years are generally when the dean is on a sabbatical," the deans continued.

Off-campus freedom of students, area four of the AAUP statement, recommends students exercise rights of citizenship and be advised of legal rights by their institutional officials should they violate the law.

AAUP says institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws, and should be employed only where the institution's interest are distinct from those of the general community.

This semester, All-Student Council accepted a bill on student court which prevents the court from sitting in judgment of "any cases in which judgement has been passed by a criminal or civil court of any other elective government."

The student court now concerns itself only with on-campus disputes or offenses.

The fifth area, procedural standards in disciplinary proceedings, concerns investigation of student conduct.

Committee S states that except under emergency circumstances, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained.

For promises controlled by the institution, an appropriate and responsible authority should be designated to whom the application should be made before a search is conducted. Furthermore, the student should be present during the search. For premises not controlled by the institution, ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed.

What is the status of academic freedom on campuses today?

The Minnesota report reveals that in a 1963 study of presidents' and deans' attitudes in 850 institutions, 71 per cent of the presidents and 80 per cent of the deans agreed that an essential part of student education is the freedom to hear, critically examine and express viewpoints on issues that divide our society.

Only five and one-half per cent of this group disagreed with the idea that students should have these freedoms.

Agreement with the general principle of freedom was most pronounced in New England, the middle Atlantic and North Central states. Qualifications and restrictions were more pronounced in the northwestern and western regions.

Presidents and deans of private non-sectarian universities and liberal arts colleges and public universities held greater agreement with student freedom principles than presidents and deans of teachers colleges, Catholic universities and liberal arts colleges, the Minnesota report also revealed.

Retardation Topic Of Two-Day Meet

Mentally retarded children will be the topic for a two-day conference in Hays Friday and Saturday for school psychologists, speech therapists, teachers of retarded children, school counselors and administrators.

Co-sponsored by FHS and the Hays Public Schools, the conference will feature five specialists in the field of retardation.

The keynote address at the opening session will be given by Dr. M. S. Hiskey, professor and director of the educational psychology clinic at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Jack King, assistant professor of education, heads the planning committee.

day and Saturday in Sheridan Coliseum.

Directed by Miss Mary Maude Moore, assistant professor of music, the program will feature numbers by the men's and women's glee clubs, the Impromptuos and the Poise 'n' Ivy Dancers.

Numbers in the concert will range from selections from "Mary Poppins" to such familiar favorites as "Sentimental Journey," "Canadian Sunset," and "Cool Water."

Mrs. Suzanne Resler, instructor in physical education, is in charge of the choreography for Poise 'n' Ivy dancers.

Admission is $1 per person, with proceeds going to the Wooster Scholarship Fund. Previous profits from "Poise 'n' Ivy" have been used for matching funds in the National Student Defense Loan program. In the last three years, "Poise 'n' Ivy" has contributed $2,000 and made $20,000 available in student loan funds.

THE COLLEGE PRESIDENT: HIS CAUSE AND CURE

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married, picketing—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to Prexy.

(It is interesting to note that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are always called "Trixie." Associate professors are always called "Axy-Pixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

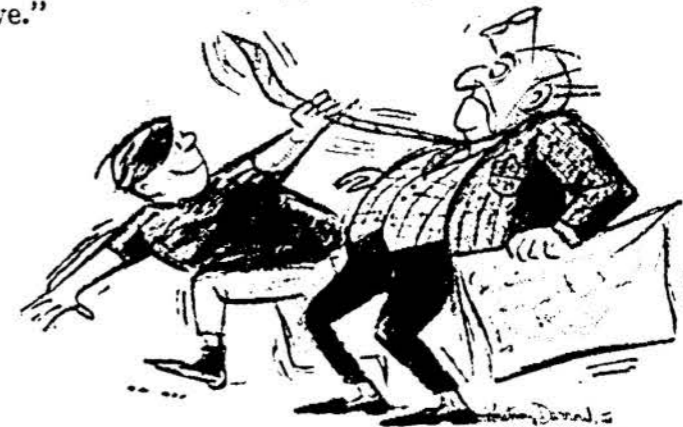

But I digress. We were speaking of Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. Why pathetic? Well, sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsomest group in the entire college—delightful you, the students.

It is Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He can only gaze wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how? It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry gaily, "Heigh-ho, chaps. Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your drear and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you sir."

"For me?" he will say, lowering his lids. "You shouldn't have."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this is a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and whenever I think of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, I think of you."

"Why, hey?" he will ask curiously. "Because, sir," you will say, "though you are no longer a young blade, still you gleam and function. Full though you are of years and lumps, rheumy though your endocrine and flaccid your hamstrings, still you remain sharp, incisive, efficacious."

"Thank you," he will say, sobbing. "So it is with Personna," you will continue. "Naturally you expect a brand-new blade to give a close, speedy shave. But how about a blade that's had hard and frequent use? Do you still expect a close, speedy shave? Well, sir, if it's Personna, that's what you'll get. Because, sir, like you, sir, Personna is no flash-in-the-pan. Like you, sir, Personna abides."

He will clasp your hand then, not trusting himself to speak.

"But away with gloom!" you will cry jollily. "For I have still more good news to tell you of Personna!"

"How is that possible?" he will say.

"Hearken to me," you will say. "Personna, in all its enduring splendor, is available not only in Double Edge style but also in Injector style!"

He will join you then in the Personna rouser, and then he will bring you a steaming cup of cocoa with a marshmallow on top. Then you will say, "Good-bye, sir. I will return soon again to brighten your dank, miasmatic life."

"Please do," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

To The Polls . . . Again

Students will be asked to go to the polls again Wednesday for two elections.

In the first, students are to vote on three amendments to the constitution of the Associated Students. Clarification and Leader policy statement on the three amendments follow:

1. The first amends Article VI, Section 2, subsection A and allows for an additional graduate student representative to be elected to sit on All-Student Council. The Graduate Division numbers 530 students and until now, has been under-represented as an academic division on the Council. This amendment would give equal representation to a group of students as nearly as any of the upper classes. Besides, the Council will benefit from the advanced level of thought coming from the graduate students.

Secondly, the amendment would give class vice-presidents a vote in ASC. This section the Leader cannot support and offers a modified version.

Give the vice-presidents the vote only in the absence of the president. As it was stated in last week's Leader, a vice-president's job is to assist and substitute for the president in his absence, not to have equal executive powers.

2. An amendment giving veto power to the President of Associated Students comes next. This power was given last spring, but the special election was thrown by Student Court in March, 1965, due to improper procedures used in calling it.

The amendment gives the President power to veto any legislation passed by ASC and he can be overridden only by a two-thirds vote of the Council.

The President should have this opportunity of final review and authority over legislation. Since he has no voting right in Council, his only recourse to authority is through student/faculty committee appointments. Finally, he should have this veto power as a check on the Council.

3. Foreign student would have a separate voting district and member on Council under the last amendment.

While the idea behind this amendment is commendable, the Leader cannot support it. There are only 52 foreign students on the FHS campus. This is too small a number to separate into a distinct district.

The Leader suggests that one of, or both of, the parties run a foreign student candidate. It only takes 25 ballots to assure a representative on the Council. With strong party backing and getting all foreign students out to vote, representation is assured.

Why Not Parking Meters?

Why not install parking meters on campus?

This would not only be a method of raising money for parking lots and improvements on the existing ones, but would provide a means of keeping the traffic flowing.

The meters would not be installed in faculty and staff parking areas. This could be one of the job benefits faculty and staff members would receive. The permit fee could be raised slightly to help even out the burden of payment.

Students, however, would pay only a minimum reduced permit fee, but would have to pay the meters between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., five days a week.

The Collegio, of Kansas State College at Pittsburg, can withhold names of students who write letters to the editor.

The college Student Publications Committee said it is to protect authors of letters from recrimination.

This could set a dangerous precedent and open the letters column to all sorts of mud-slinging. The Leader disagrees with this policy and feels it should be changed for the good of the newspaper.

"Yes sir, just fill out this form . . ."

"You, private! Fill out this form!"

"This form must be filled out completely and accurately for our records. Failure to do so will delay the processing of your application."

What a nuclear war couldn't do, the eradication of application forms would. The result would be complete, utter chaos.

Leader Lass of the Year To Be Elected Monday

One of eight FHS coeds will be selected Leader Lass of the Year in a student body election from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday in the Memorial Union lobby.

In the contest are monthly lasses Janet Barnett, Garden City; Bernice Polifka, Hays, and Sondra Peter, Goodland, all freshmen; Jennifer Fielder, Wakeeney, and Sherry Thomas, Logan, both sophomores; Polly Williams, Medicine Lodge, and Sheryl Brandt, Amarillo, Tex., both juniors; and Betty Haas, Ness City freshman.

Only coeds currently enrolled will be included in the election.

Skirts Are Up, Prices Are Up, Both May Stay

(ACP) — Hemlines have shot up like prices in the last two years.

The rise of hemlines in Vogue correlates with the lines on the financial charts in the Wall Street Journal, the Campus Chat, North Texas State University said in an editorial. The question is whether the increase of prices causes the shortening of skirts or the higher hemlines create an affluent economy.

Higher hemlines may be causing an air of happiness which causes men to spend money more freely. However, if the healthy economy causes the short skirts, then the American businessman has more incentive than the principle of capitalism to keep the bull on the stock exchange.

Women are not taking the situation sitting down. They can't. A coed cannot sit down in class without feeling like something on display in the window of a surgical-supply store. According to Newsweek, however, manufacturers are finally responding to the problem of revealing stockings tops and hosiery suspension systems.

Meanwhile, President Johnson is advocating an increase in taxes to discourage soaring inflation. The tax increase is not to be harsh enough to have any bearing on Wall Street.

In the next few years, prices and hemlines are both predicted to remain high, and Americans will be showing off their prosperity.

NOT ONLY ARE HIS EXAMS TOUGH — I UNDERSTAND NO STUDENT HAS EVER BEEN ABLE TO SWIPE A COPY OF HIS TESTS.

Right 'In' The Kisner

The draft test was bugging Frank Slowlyfailing, the 187½ slowest college dropout in the Bible Belt.

Slowlyfailing enjoyed his college life at ole Fort Hayseed College in 1866. He never attended class and never passed tests, which caused him duress as deferments during the Indian wars could only be maintained by passing the draft test or by good class standing.

Frank—who so poor a student that he didn't even have a class standing—failed the test and was shipped to the western outskirts of barbarianism to fight for liberty, motherhood and the flag.

However, Frank fell in love with a pot-bellied squaw named Ima Fink, daughter of Lots-Of-Bull, a tribal chief who didn't favor taking his braves out of trade school to fight wars.

Slowlyfailing, the 198½ weakest-minded traitor in the Boondocks, and his adopted tribe sat around in smelly sweatshirts, protesting the draft and anything else, drinking fire-water and chewing Peyote, while visions of cowardice danced in their heads.

Needless to say, the Indian's Utopia came crumbling down. The long knives defeated them, imprisoned Ima and did something worse than death to her father—like, they sobered the creep up.

What about out anti-villain? He never lived to see the Indians' downfall. Shortly before the tribe's defeat, Slowlyfailing joined a circus act in which apples were shot off his head.

The archer, Will Killum Tell, was a near-sighted Indian lush who missed more than he hit. In short, Tell gave Frank the shaft—arrow that is—right between his beady eyes.—Gary Kisner.

Dr. Harper Accepts Wisconsin Chairmanship

Dr. Jerry L. Harper, assistant professor of psychology, has resigned his position at FHS to become chairman of the department of psychology at Wisconsin State College, Eau Claire, Wis.

Dr. Harper, who joined the FHS faculty in the fall of 1963, received his bachelor's and master's degrees at FHS and his doctorate at Denver University.

His duties here concerned the psychology of the exceptional child and the study of mental retardation. He was also in charge of the school psychology department.

Dr. Harper will assume his new duties in the fall.

Protest Raised Over Leader Religious Poll

Dear Editor.

In the article, "Survey Shows—God's Alive at FHS," in last week's Leader, it appears that God has also been given the image of a material being. This is not surprising in the light of the increasing tendency to place virtue in league with wealth.

The very question, "Is God Alive?" seems to indicate that God is not only a physical or material being but also capable of living and dying.

The sophomore student's response that "a piece of material the size of God would surely envelop the entire campus . . ." was a subtle, and apparently unnoticed, jest concerning the material connotations implied by the question, "Does God belong on a college campus?"

The questions asked in the survey were ambiguous and, in fact, meaningless because of the continual reference to God as a tangible object.

This, coupled with the short and incomplete questioning, renders the survey totally incapable of determining whether or not the concept of God is prevalent in the thoughts and attitudes of the students.

The trite and traditional question as stated, "Do you believe in God?" has a tendency to provoke the traditionally emotional answer, "yes" without having tested a person's individual opinion. Failure to answer this question in the affirmative is hardly sufficient grounds for branding one an atheist.

It is apparent that the testing more nearly shows that the students are willing to pay lip service to an established idea. It leads the reader to believe that the students merely answered the questions to avoid affiliation with the "God is dead" cult.

Through Hays Families . . .

Foreign Students View Home Life

A group of international diplomats is quietly working to create better international understanding among foreign visitors in Hays.

The diplomats are 22 Hays families, and the foreign visitors are the many international students attending FHS.

These diplomats are working in the "Host Family Programs" for international students at FHS with the purpose of providing an opportunity for the FHS student to become better acquainted with American family and community life.

In its third year of operation the program "has made a definite contribution toward better international understanding," says Mrs. Harold Choguill, chairman of the Host Family Committee.

She says the program also has benefits for the host family. "By promoting an international exchange of customs and cultures, a host family's association with students from other lands is an enriching experience."

The program has the full endorsement of the college's foreign student advisor, Miss Jean Stouffer, dean of women, and also the cooperation and encouragement of the International Relations Club and People-to-People Club, both student campus organizations.

The program "is a simple matter of host families inviting the students to occasionally join in the normal activities and experiences of their home life," Dean Stouffer explained.

According to Miss Stouffer, two students are usually assigned to families who have expressed an interest in participating in the program. The host families receive personal information about the students and suggestions for their entertainment from the program committee.

"Nearly everyone who has participated in the program is enthusiastic about it — and wishes to continue supporting it," says Mrs. Choguill. "The response is really amazing."

Families presently participating in the program are: the Harold Choguills, Standlee H. Daltons, Robert Pokorneys, Gary Hannas, Thaine Clarks, Don Stewarts, Arlyn Humbergs, Robert Gumms, Edward Larson, Clarence Cooks, Richard Burnetts, Leo Olivas, Bill

Rosses, Warren Schmidts, Jerry Johnsons, Marc Campbells, O. K. Bakers, Robert Goodsons, Orlo Choguills, Robert Gays, Ned Links and Jimmy Rices.

CONGRATULATIONS — Last year's Miss Hays, Karen Fleming, embraces this year's royalty Patricia Spomer, Hays senior. As the 1966 title holder, Miss Spomer will be entered in the Miss Kansas competition June 15, and also won a $100 scholarship, a $100 wardrobe and a selection of jewelry.

Tryouts will be held at 2 p.m. in the Men's Gym when 15 coeds will be selected. Application blanks are available in the dean of students office, sorority houses and residence halls and are due Friday. Wednesday, cheerleaders will try out before the entire student body when six will be elected.

"Campus Talent '66," an hour-long television special, in which the FHS Impromptuos appear, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on KAYS. Produced by Corinthian Special Productions of Houston, the show is sponsored by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Alpha Kappa Psi's scholarship key, an honor awarded to the student with the highest grade point average for the first three years of academic work as a business administration major, has been earned by Walter Manteuffel, St. Francis senior.

Also honored by AKP recently were Norman Befort, Hays senior, who received the group's annual distinguished service award; Marietta Dechant, Salina junior, who was crowned Alpha Kappa Psi sweetheart; and President M. C. Cunningham, who received an honorary membership.

An additional test date Friday, June 24, has been set for students to take the voluntary Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Students who have not applied for the test to be given on Saturday, May 21 and June 3 are eligible. Applications for the test must be postmarked by June 1. Forms are available at any Selective Service office.

German Club will hold its annual spring picnic Sunday at Cedar Bluffs.

All wishing to attend should meet at 9:30 a.m. Sunday in front of Picken Hall. This will be the final meeting of the year.

Twelve members of the historical geology class will take a field trip to the Colorado Springs area from Friday to Sunday.

The group will study the effects on geology caused by the rise of the front range of the Rock Mountains.

Applications Due Now For Directed Teaching

According to W. Clement Wood, head of the education department, students planning to enroll in directed teaching next fall should submit applications before the end of the spring semester.

All applications for directed teaching that have been received have been processed and mailed to students by the Council on the Preparation of Teachers.

Students expecting to enroll in directed teaching fall semester who have not received letters from the Council should contact the Education Office.

Skiing Fever Envelops FHS Campus

By Pam Alspaw
Leader Society Editor

"I think it's the greatest thing since sliced bread," says Nancy Aust, Palco sophomore, when she describes skiing.

Skiing fever seems to be spreading like wild fire among FHS students since warm (?) weather has set in—and Kansas isn't lacking water sports facilities.

An FHS student can drive to Cedar Bluffs Lake, Webster Lake or Wilson Dam in less than an hour for a day of skiing.

"Skiing is different than any other sport, maybe because it takes more courage," says Miss Aust, who started skiing three years ago. She explained that it took her at least 10 tries to get up the first time but that it was worth the effort.

The cost of skiing depends on owning new equipment, used equipment or renting a boat and skis for the day. To rent a boat and skis, the average rate is from $5 to $10 an hour.

Owning equipment is much more expensive, as in any sport. A Hays boat dealer said the cost of new skiing equipment is: boat (15 foot)—$850; motor (40 horsepower, which would pull two skiers approximately 27 mph)—$650; trailer—$175; skis—$25; rope—$5; and life jacket—$8.

In addition, every boat must be registered and have a seasonal lake permit ($6). If a boat is pulling a skier, it must be carrying at least two riders, and each rider must wear a life preserver.

Sammye May, Hays junior, says, "I'm just a beginner, but I love skiing. It is such good exercise . . . leaves me comfortably tired."

"Really, skiing isn't too hard if you have a sense of balance, says Jerry VanDonge, Goodland sophomore. "It is a challenge to stay on top of the water, though."

Tips for beginning skiers, say those interviewed, are: relax when waiting for the boat to pull the skier up; keep the tips of the skis up and the rope between the skis; once up, lean back, keeping skis together and parallel; raise the hand to signal the driver to stop; and finally, if the skier falls—let go of the rope.

FHS 'Oscars' Will Be Given

Little Theater will present its equivalent of Hollywood's Academy Awards at a banquet Thursday.

Nominations in two categories, best actor and best actress, were made by Perry Schwartz and Robert Reinecke, theater directors and instructors in speech. Little Theater members will vote by secret ballot to select the winners who will be announced at the club's banquet.

Best actor nominee: Ken Bauer, Garden City junior, as Biff; Art Dirks, WaKeeney sophomore, as Willy in "Death of a Salesman," and Don Richardson, La Crosse senior, as Jean in "Rhinoceros."

Best actress nominees: Calene Bomgardner, Hill City freshman, as Sylvia in "The Typists"; Sue Ostrander, Burdett junior, as Linda in "Death of a Salesman"; and Janet Pechanec, Timken junior, as Daisy in "Rhinoceros."

AWS Chooses Officers for '67

A sophomore from WaKeeney, Kathy Low, has been elected president of Associated Women Students at FHS.

Other new officers are Janet Papes, WaKeeney sophomore, vice-president; Sharla Barber, Goodland freshman, secretary; and Virginia Wood, Geneseo freshman, treasurer.

The AWS constitution was approved, with votes listed 143 for, seven against.

Sororities and residence halls also chose representatives. From McMIndes: Cathy Cory, Concordia; Laura Lang, Jetmore; Kaye Swank, Osborne; Georgetta Wiens, Monument, all freshmen; Vergie Dean, Great Bend, and Diana Dietz, Russell, both sophomores.

Kathy Low

Custer Hall representatives are Linda Sheets, Phillipsburg, and Ruth Brockel, Hoisington, both freshmen. Two women will be elected in the future.

Each sorority can have one representative. Newly elected women are Sigma Sigma Sigma, Judi Sipe, Denver junior; Sigma Kappa, Linda Donahey, Logan sophomore; Delta Zeta, Cindi Holiday, La Crosse freshman.

Alpha Gamma Delta has not elected its representative. Married and off-campus representatives will be chosen in the fall.

A joint meeting of the old and new councils will be held at 7 p.m. next Thursday in the Memorial Union Trails Room.

IT'S A ROUGH LIFE — Bill Murphy, Pretty Prairie senior, gets a rough ride during the bare-back riding competition at the first annual Fort Hays State Intercollegiate Rodeo held last weekend. Hays won the team title.

Bengal Rodeo Club Wins First Annual Team Title

Fort Hays State's Rodeo Club lassoed two firsts and tied for another to capture overall first place in the first annual FHS Intercollegiate Rodeo Friday and Saturday.

The two FHS cowboys to gain firsts were Roger McCabe, Salina graduate student, who snagged firsts in the calf roping, and Neil Barstow, Johnson freshman, who placed first in the bull riding event.

Barstow, riding with four broken ribs suffered the week before in the Kearney State Rodeo, was the only entry to make a qualified ride in the bull riding event.

Joe Hedrick, Nickerson senior, tied for top honors in the bare-back riding event with Jeff Holden of Phillips (Okla.) University. The all-around cowboy title was won by Charlie Hill from the University of Nebraska. Nancy Simmens, a University of Nebraska coed, won the all-around cowgirl title.

Kearney State College won first overall in team scoring in the women's division.

More than 2,000 spectators turned out for both performances of the rodeo, which was the first event of its kind to be held in the Hays area in more than 20 years.

The FHS Rodeo club said it planned to make the rodeo a college event.

Tigers End Season Saturday

Fort Hays State's baseball team, 7-9 this season, will wrap up its first season in 42 years this weekend, when the Tigers jaunt to Emporia, for games with Emporia State, College of Emporia and Pan American University of Edinburg, Tex.

Friday afternoon, Coach Bob Reising's charges will meet the E-State Hornets and Saturday, the Tigers will face Pan American and College of Emporia.

Bill Scott, Osborne junior, will probably handle the pitching duties for FHS against the Hornets Friday. Scott owns a 1-1 record this year.

The Bengals have played both Emporia teams earlier this year. In an earlier encounter with the College of Emporia, FHS was downed by the Presbies, 3-2 and 4-3, in a double-header at Larks Park.

Emporia State downed FHS last weekend in the second round of the CIC tournament at Omaha G-4.

Tuesday, the Bengals suffered their third and fourth straight losses of the season, when they were downed twice by the Kearney State Antelopes at Kearney.

In the first game, the Antelopes jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, on a triple, a sacrifice bunt, a single and a series of walks. They scored again in the third and gained their final run in the sixth.

FHS's three-run rally in the sixth failed to stop Kearney, as the Tigers gained only one run in the seventh.

John Clabaugh was the winning pitcher for the Antelopes and Terry Thomas took the loss for the Bengals.

Both teams gained six hits in the first game.

In the second contest, Kearney again jumped ahead in the first inning 1-0, and got four more runs in the second on two base hits and three errors. They iced the victory in the sixth with a single and a home run.

Antelope hurler Del Prindle went all the way to blank the Bengals.

Starter Don Givens was the losing pitcher for FHS.

Last weekend, FHS was quickly eliminated from the CIC tourney at Omaha, losing in the first game to Washburn and then falling to Emporia State in the second round. Pittsburg State won the conference tournament.

Sherwood Forest IM King; Delta Sigs Snag Greek Title

Sherwood Forest buried the Pallbears 21-3 for the campus intramural softball championship Tuesday.

The Sherwood Forest victory ended the P.A. Steelers three-year reign over the softball title.

Scoring three runs in the first inning — two unearned — on two singles and two errors, the Sherwoods grabbed an early lead, and forged ahead 6-2 after two innings.

The winners iced the victory in the third frame by scoring eight runs on five hits — two going for extra bases — and three walks. They tallied five more runs in the fourth and ended their scoring by netting two runs in the fifth inning.

The Pallbears, who moved within one run at a 3-2 score in the first, earned their crack at the championship by blasting the Deadeyes 11-6 Monday in semifinal competition.

Sherwood Forest advanced to the championship tilt by defeating the Delta Sigs 12-1 Monday.

Two of the Pallbears' runs came in the first inning. Shortstop LeRoy Kraft walked, and advanced on a single by third baseman Charles Denny. Both runners scored on a ringing double into leftfield by centerfielder Ron Richards.

The final Pallbear score came in the fourth inning on a solo homerun shot by Richards, who had a perfect two for two showing at the plate.

The Delta Sigs won the all-Greek trophy in IM competition for the second straight year with 922 points. Sigma Phi Epsilon was second with 879 and the TKEs garnered third with 706 points.

A NEW RECORD — A FHS pole vault record was established by Wichita State's Fred Burton at Lewis Field Saturday when Fort Hays State's Tigers smashed the Shockers 97-48 in a dual track meet. Burton went 16 feet, 6 inches, at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, for a Kansas record.

Tiger Track Team Seeks 2nd Straight CIC Crown

Fort Hays State's thinclads, defending CIC champions, will make a bid for their second straight conference crown this weekend, when they jaunt to Emporia for the CIC Championships.

Coach Alex Francis, in his 20th year at the Tiger helm, says this year's meet should be one of the closest ever. "It's going to be tight all the way and if we expect to win, everyone must perform at his best," the Tiger coach added.

The other top contenders for the conference crown will be Emporia State and Pittsburg State. The Hornets finished a close second to FHS in last year's meet, and Pittsburg followed in third place.

Last Saturday, in the Tigers' final home meet of the season, FHS defeated Wichita State University 97-48 in a dual at Lewis Field.

Six dual meet records and one school record were broken in Saturday's contest.

The Bengals established new meet records in the shot-put, the 440-yard relay, 880-yard run, high jump and 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

The only meet record for Wichita came in the pole vault, when Fred Burton, the ace Shocker vaulter, cleared 15-6, bettering by a foot the old record which he established last year.

Bernie Blevins set the only school mark, when he heaved the iron sphere 53-1/2, bettering the 52-11 1/2 mark he established last year.

Golfers Muster 2nd in CIC

FHS's golf squad was dethroned as the CIC champion Tuesday as Washburn University breezed to a 50-stroke victory over the second place Tigers in capturing the conference title at Topeka.

Washburn carded a 928-stroke total during the 54-hole, three day event.

Bengal Netmen Own 8-4 Mark; Johnson Has High CIC Hopes

Fort Hays State's netmen will take an 8-4 record into the CIC tournament Friday and Saturday at Washburn.

Tuesday the Tigers rolled over Garden City and Dodge City Jucos by scores of 6-1 and 7-0, respectively, on the road. The Bengals beat Garden City in the morning then traveled to Dodge City to blank the Conquistadors in an afternoon match.
