How Do I Know If I Have Heart Disease?

Ask Your Personal Physician.

No one knows your personal health situation better than you and your own physician. If you have any of the following risk factors, an appointment with your personal physician is advisable.

- High cholesterol
- Over 50
- Diabetes
- Family history of heart disease
- High blood pressure
- Smoking
- Sedentary lifestyle

If cardiovascular disease is diagnosed, your personal physician can develop a program of prevention and treatment.
