FACULTY MEETING

November 12, 1957

The Fort Hays State Faculty met in Picken Auditorium at 4:00 p.m., November 12. Dean McCartney presided. He thanked the faculty members who have been helping each other by carrying extra classes while others had the flu.

He announced that the Faculty Senate has not taken any action since the last faculty meeting that would require action by the faculty.

Miss Stouffer said that the Custer Hall dining room had been set up for serving coffee in the mornings but that not very many had been taking advantage of it. There had been from 3 or 4 to a half-dozen going there. If there is no need for this coffee center, it should be closed. She said they would try it one more week then it would be closed if no more took advantage of it.

Mr. Doyle Brooks was called upon to discuss Faculty Association matters. He said there were some questions concerning the Faculty Association party. Mr. Horton, chairman of the banquet committee, presented the proposals. These included going to the Lamer Hotel, Jefferson West school, catering possibilities, and a dessert at one of the campus dining rooms. The group voted to have a dessert at Agnew Hall, 7:30 p.m., 50 cents per person, and have a program there. This was a temporary arrangement, for this year only, next year we can plan to go back to the Christmas dinner because the Memorial Union will be available.

REPORT BY CODER:

Dr. Coder reported on a meeting he and Dean McCartney and Mr. Dalton had attended recently. Dr. McCartney reported on the Dean's section of the same meeting.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Miss Ketchum reminded the group that "Media" would be presented on November 11 and 12.

Dr. McCartney called attention to another of Dr. Garwood's writings which is published in this month's KANSAS TEACHER.
