Honors Course Proposal Deadline – March 9!

The Fort Hays State University Honors College is now accepting Honors Course Proposals for the Spring 2019 Academic Semester.

The Honors College is looking for exceptional faculty to teach courses to outstanding students on campus. Participating in one of the university's Programs of Distinction is a chance to expand learning opportunities for students, as well as experiment with new strategies in and out of the classroom.

While FHSU strives for academic excellence in all classes, at the heart of a successful honors program is the unique interaction between teacher and student made possible by the opportunities in an honors course. Intellectual challenge is supported by pedagogy that stimulates students to think about topics in new ways, explore subject matter in greater depth or breadth, and gain first-hand exposure to issues through experiential learning. Quality is valued over quantity through rigorous and deeper course work that provides opportunities not available in tradition courses. Interactivity is not only gratifying in an honors course, but central to its success whether a debate, discussion, or connection outside the classroom.

The deadline for all Honors course proposals is March 9. The application form, as well as more information about the process and examples, can be found at <https://www.fhsu.edu/honors/Resources-and-Forms/>. All applications can be emailed to Jensen Scheele, Honors College Administrative Specialist, at jnscheele@fhsu.edu.

If you have any questions about Honors Courses, please feel free to contact Dr. Carol Patrick at clpatrick@fhsu.edu or 785-628-4406.

Special Education Leaders to Debate New License

Elementary education in Kansas is facing new challenges that are forcing teacher preparation programs to question the status quo and look to redesign traditional curricula.

A new unified elementary education license in Kansas requires teachers to learn knowledge and skills for working with all students, including children with significant disabilities. To contribute to discussions going on at institutions across the state concerning how to design programs to train teachers for this new license, the FHSU Department of Teacher Education and the FHSU Student Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) are hosting a panel, "Developing Partnerships to Build New Unified K-6 Licensure Programs," on Thursday, March 1st, at 3:30 p.m., in Rarick Hall 201.

Panelists will be: Colleen Riley, Director of Early Childhood, Special Education, and Title Services, KSDE; Jennifer Kurth, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Special Education, University of Kansas; Rebekah Helget, Executive Director of Special Education, USD 475 - Junction City Public Schools; Raj Sharma, Ph.D., Director of Special Education Services, USD 489 and Director of the Hays West Central Kansas Special Education Cooperative. Moderator for this panel discussion will be Jacqueline Lubin, Ed.D., FHSU Assistant Professor of Special Education.

This session is free and open to the public. It will be recorded and made available on the Internet as well.

Help Requested for the Black & Gold Academy

It's that time of year when many of you are undergoing rigorous application processes for next year's student leaders. Luckily, the Black & Gold Academy serves as a resource for developing student leadership skills. Last year, this event served nearly 70 students and in its second year, the Black & Gold Academy is seeking your support to remain a valuable program hosted within the Division of Student Affairs.

The Black & Gold Academy is a one-day student leadership institute scheduled for Saturday, March 10 from 8:30am to 4:00pm. This institute is available to all on-campus students at no cost. This year's event will feature speaker Jason Bosch, presenting his keynote address Leadership Matters, which discusses the importance of leadership in organizations and communities and highlights that anyone has the capacity to be a leader. With extensive experience in higher education, leadership and organizational development, Jason is now owner of Elevate Agency, a consulting firm based in Wichita, KS. He has helped thousands of individuals, and over 30 businesses, educational institutions, and non-profits elevate their leadership, teamwork, and performance.

With the event right around the corner, you can support this initiative in two key ways. First, please encourage any student leaders you work with to register for the event. Registration is available on TigerLink and closes Sunday, March 4. Secondly, you can volunteer to facilitate the small group component of the institute which will serve as a great professional development opportunity, also allowing you to work closely with our students in their leadership development journey. Facilitators will be asked to attend a one-hour training session on Friday, March 9 at 1:00 PM. If you are interested in facilitating at the Black & Gold Academy, please email Brittney Squire in the Center for Student Involvement at bmsquire@fhsu.edu.

Thank you in advance for supporting this unique opportunity for our students.

This event is FREE and open to the public.

In December of 1965, Martin Luther King Jr. opened his home for the first and only time to a television host, who spent four days recording Dr. King and his wife. This program has never been televised, and had remained unseen in the Michaelis Library of Living History.

George Silano, Emmy award nominated cinematographer, was the only cameraman/director to ever have been invited in to the home of Martin Luther King Jr. Buried in the archives for forty years, Silano has rediscovered this film and has shown it to rave reviews.
