NOMINATE: “My-Go-To”

April 1st is the last day we can nominate co-workers and colleagues for "My-Go-To" recognition this year! The link to the quick and easy nomination form is <https://goo.gl/forms/hUdF9x66vrEMvmsj2>.

Would you like to recognize a staff or faculty member who has guided, mentored, supported, provided leadership and/or fostered meaningful intellectual growth with you? If the answer is “yes,” the Scholarship Environment Committee (SEC) invites you to nominate that person/those persons. Again the link is at <https://goo.gl/forms/hUdF9x66vrEMvmsj2>.

See some of the nominating statements that have been submitted so far this year>>>>>

She has helped me remember that my research and writing are important. She also provides valuable advice for me, as I am on the tenure track, and she has helped me work through both teaching and service troubleshooting. I look forward to our writing time every week and I am glad she is collaborating with me to do our best to immerse in the research and writing work we love! I would not be so committed to this work without her support.

She is always willing to go the extra mile for the students, office and university. She is always thinking of new ways that our office can improve and always willing to help out in any area....a joy to work with. FHSU is very lucky to have her!

He helped me through my bad times when he heard that I was in trouble. He contacted me and helped me solve the problem using his past experience, which made me feel very warm and friendly. This spirit of dedication makes me feel that I am not alone in Hays, and affected me a lot. I will definitely pass this down to the others through my life.

A hard-working, dedicated member of the FHSU team. She supports colleagues in a very positive, non-judgmental way. Not only is she a good listener, but she gives sound guidance. She promotes morale by taking a personal interest in the people who work on campus, from the Deans to the support staff. She isn't afraid to get involved in a variety of activities on campus, and always contributes.

An amazing campus partner that has taught me to seek resources and perspectives in diverse areas. He is focused on creating a more inclusive and welcoming experience for our students, staff, and faculty. I have appreciated his critical thinking, vision, and willingness to ask the hard questions. Most importantly I have appreciated how hard he works to foster a spirit of assessment and collaboration.

Always has time for me regardless of his packed schedule. He will listen to any concerns I have even when he does not share them or agree with me. His answers are always validating of me/ my feelings or concerns and he is always honest. He will dig in and help me at any time with any topic, and has been in this field, community and university long enough to help me avoid pitfalls when they are foreseeable. He challenges me to improve my work at all times and he is always modeling improving his work as well.

He has a fantastic ability to provide constructive criticism and a "big picture" view of how an idea or initiative will impact multiple stakeholders and how it aligns with our departmental mission. He knows how to communicate in a way that demonstrates thorough understanding even if (especially when, actually) he doesn't agree. He knows how to turn something inside out, upside down and backwards and make sense of all the angles.

If she doesn't know the answer for something, she knows who to direct you to. She's always smiling and has made my time at Fort Hays so wonderful. Wouldn't be the same without her.

She is one person that shows her Tiger Pride each and every day. Whether it is to someone retiring, having health issues, a faculty or staff member, or student, she is there to lend a helping hand.

She has been supportive in confronting and solving conflicts and finding resolution. She has encouraged me to assist in recruiting at a time of need in the department and develop new skills. [She] has a vision and empowers her faculty colleagues to help her meet realistic goals of growth and excellence that impact the students, our department and the university and ultimately the world.

The sweetest person I know, she is kind and caring. She always has a smile on her face and knows how to make others feel better.

You have given me hope and the desire to care again. I have always loved my job and I love the students, but I want to come to work now because I feel like I matter. Your influence has made me want to do better because you take the time to care about your faculty, staff and students! Thank you for caring!

>>>For more information, please contact Robb Scott, Hendratta Ali, or Christine Hober, this year's "My-Go-To" committee members!

Call for Nominations for the 2018 Award for Outstanding Undergraduate Scholars

<https://fhsu.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1769884>

The Undergraduate Research Experience (URE) Steering Committee is seeking nominations from faculty and staff for the annual FHSU Award for Outstanding Undergraduate Scholarly Activity.

The URE Steering Committee offers this prestigious award to recognize undergraduate students who exemplify scholarly activity. Qualities that make a student successful in scholarly activities characterize those same qualities FHSU seeks to develop in students: original thought, creative ideas, communicating with professional colleagues, critical reasoning, analysis of research, translation of evidence into practice, and first-hand knowledge of how work is performed within a professional discipline.

The URE Steering Committee will provide five awards, one for an outstanding undergraduate student from each college. Nomination letters can come from FHSU faculty or staff, and should be submitted no later than March 16, 2018. Any FHSU undergraduate student--including KAMS and Virtual College students--is eligible. The research project may be from the award year or past years; however, the student must have been an undergraduate student for a minimum of one semester during the 17-18 academic year. The nomination letters should describe the scholarly qualifications and products of the student--for example, published papers, professional presentations, on-campus research activities, musical/artistic performance, or other novel scholarly activity. The nomination should clarify the role of the undergraduate student in the scholarly activity. Nomination letters should be submitted to <https://fhsu.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1769884>.

Winners will be recognized at the URE Scholarship reception on April 10 during Undergraduate Research Week.

For more information, contact Leslie Paige lp Paige@fhsu.edu.
