ANNOUNCEMENTS

FHSU and K-State Juvenile Justice Initiative Seeks Locals

A team from Fort Hays State University is partnering with the K-State Juvenile Justice Collaborative on a project awarded funding by the Kansas Department of Corrections and the Kansas Advisory Group. The project, titled “Our Town, Our Kids,” aims to work with local communities in developing support systems for youth and families in order to prevent youth from entering the juvenile justice system and to provide services that maximize their chances of leading productive, successful lives. Michael Walker, director of the Docking Institute, and Dr. April Terry, assistant professor in the Department of Criminal Justice, are providing content expertise in the areas of data management and juvenile justice. They are joined by Luis Montelongo and Dr. Jian Sun as data analysts. The K-State JJC is comprised of Dr. L. Susan Williams, professor of sociology and criminology; Dr. Greg Paul, associate professor and interim department head of communication studies; Dr. Elaine Johannes, associate professor of family studies and human services and Extension specialist; and Bruce Chladny, K-State Research and Extension specialist.

Over the next two years, the group will work with stakeholders in 23 pre-selected Kansas counties (please see the website for a full list). They will build community capacity in data collection and analysis and foster community collaboration in support of youth and families. Professionals from K-State Research and Extension will facilitate local conversations that identify areas of concern and develop knowledge bases that will prepare communities to deliver best-practice programs in their respective areas. As part of the effort to engage positive community support, the group will develop a comprehensive toolkit for all Kansas communities that will facilitate local, sustainable systems that serve unique needs of youth.

If you have knowledge of any of the 23 pre-selected counties, and are interested in having your voice heard on issues related to youth in Kansas, please contact a team member below.

TILT Tip: Learning Objectives Series - Prologue

The Bloom's Taxonomy is the most frequently used framework for writing learning objectives in lessons and modules. It categories learning into six levels, depending on the complexity of cognitive processing. These six levels are: Remembering, Understanding, Applying, Analyzing, Evaluating, and Creating. When making a lesson plan, think about what types of knowledge and skills you would like your students to learn. For example, do you want them to memorize a term/date/name; do you want them to understand the mechanics of an objective; do you want them to apply a theory/model into solving a case; do you want them to criticize a phenomenon, or do you want them to create their own models? In the upcoming Tuesdays, we will provide TILT Tips regarding each level of learning in the Bloom's Taxonomy.

Student Recognition Programs

Greetings, friends! We are very excited to invite you in advance to this spring's upcoming annual Student Recognition Programs. As you may know from past years, SRPs are reception-style events held on-location throughout our Kansas, Nebraska, and Colorado recruiting territories. We will be travelling to Future Tigers' hometowns in an attempt to bring Fort Hays to them, for them.

Your enthusiastic participation is crucial to the success of these events! These programs are essential during the recruitment process in solidifying our prospective students' decision to become Tigers. For example, following last year's Topeka SRP, 45 out of the 47 students in attendance ultimately chose Fort Hays! Overall, 82% of the 2018 SRP attendees became Tigers. Way to go, team! Without your participation, this great return would not have become a reality.

As a reminder, alumni members and non-academic groups (clubs, organizations, etc.) are also welcome to join us on the road. The Office of Admissions will be providing transportation again this year for those who wish to travel with us. Please contact Jon Armstrong at (785) 628-4091 or jdarmstrong@fhsu.edu with any questions or interest in SRP participation.

To view the schedule of events, please visit <https://www.fhsu.edu/admissions/srp>.
