For the first time in university history, a seminar course focused on Latino political opinion formation and socio-political behavior is being offered by the Political Science department. The online seminar will explore a wide array of topics, such as the following:

- What are the social and political factors that led to the development of the pan-ethnic labels of Hispanic and Latino to describe diverse ethnic groups?
- Which considerations can consistently predict whether individuals are comfortable identifying as being a member of a pan-ethnic group?
- Why do major Latino ethnic groups display differences in ideological views and voting participation levels?

- Under what circumstances do Latinos form political alliances with other prominent racial/ethnic groups (e.g. African Americans, Asian Americans, etc.)?
- How might recent controversies regarding immigration policy shape Latino political attitudes or beliefs about the American political system?

The seminar will be offered in the second half of the Spring 2019 semester (03/18/19 - 05/17/19). For additional information about the course, please contact Dr. Christopher Olds at cpolds@fhsu.edu.
