Clearing Begins At College

The "wrecking ball" on the end of this mobile crane made short work of the roof of this college garage this afternoon as Hunter Construction company crews began clearing land for the new Fort Hays State college Memorial Student Union. The "ball," visible just above the garage, was necessary because of the slab concrete roof. A

"back hoe" then moved in and pulled down the walls. By 2:30 a grader and loader were also on the scene and five spruce trees had been removed. Doolittle Construction company, general contractors, expects to begin excavation the first part of next week. Groundbreaking ceremonies will be next Tuesday morning.
