ANNOUNCEMENTS

Change to Sign-In Experience

A change is coming to the sign-in experience for some sites.

In an effort to unify our users' sign-in experience, and provide better overall security, Technology Services will be making changes to the authentication method for a number of sites and services. Beginning on May 28th, users will no longer be presented with the "CAS" sign-in page, and will instead be directed to the new SSO sign-in page, also referred to as "ADFS". The only change will be the sign-in page itself; users will continue to use their TigerNetID credentials as usual. Below is a short list of some affected sites. If you have any questions or concerns, or experience any sign-in issues after this change, please contact TigerTech at 628-3478.
