ANNOUNCEMENTS

RAVE Emergency Messaging

For Faculty/Staff
RAVE emergency messaging

Most faculty and staff have already setup their emergency notification setting in Workday, but we are asking that all of you take a moment to double check your setting to make sure that we have your information correct. To do that, go into your Workday Profile (click on your picture or the head profile in top right corner, then click View Profile). On the left-hand side of the screen, click on Job, then in the top header, click on Additional Data. From here, you can see your entries for the Emergency Notification System. If you wish to make a change, click Edit. Your phone number should be 10 characters, no hyphens, spaces, or parenthesis (e.g. 7856280000). You can also put your FHSU email address in to receive emails of the emergency notices. You do have the option to not be contacted in the event of a campus emergency, but we do NOT recommend this.

For Students

RAVE emergency messaging

By default, all FHSU students are subscribed to the RAVE emergency notification system. You must opt out, to not receive those notifications. If you wish to check your settings and make sure that you are enrolled to receive those notifications, then please go into TigerTracks and check your settings. After logging into TigerTracks, click on Contact Information in the Personal Information section of TigerTracks. Make certain that your contact information is correct, and make certain that the option “I do not wish to be contacted in the event of a campus emergency:” is left unchecked.

COVID-19 Updates

The Office of Strategic Communications has developed a website with information regarding FHSU’s response to the coronavirus pandemic. This includes FAQ’s for faculty, staff, students and university stakeholders, a record of university updates, as well as recommendations and resources for health and wellness. Please see the website: <https://www.fhsu.edu/covid-19-response>

Information for Working Remotely

Tech Services has developed a website with helpful information for working remotely. This includes installing the VPN on your computer, forwarding your phone, using various collaboration tools, and other useful tips. Please see the website: <https://www.fhsu.edu/technology/working-remotely>

Also, a reminder that our FHSU Homepage has the FHSU Directory link, including searchable PDF of printed campus directory.

TILT Resources, Tips, and Support

As we discover new ways to connect and communicate with our students, hackers are looking for new ways to disrupt the process. Zoom-bombing, definitely something new in my vocabulary, refers to hackers ‘breaking into’ online meetings and streaming inappropriate content. The following link shows you how to set up a Zoom meeting with privacy settings to avoid this problem.

<https://youtu.be/XhZW3iyXV9U>

Here is a link to an article on Zoom-bombing: https://www.zdnet.com/article/how-to-prevent-your-zoom-meetings-being-zoom-bombed-gate-crashed-by-trolls/?fbclid=IwAR1AjQYExPMqHO768tYCg9AFUPy6SqHHao2ugicPehpXUOmz6Jz4t\_FMLlw

TILT continues to develop and share resources in support of remote course development and delivery. Please visit our webpage on teaching remotely <https://www.fhsu.edu/learningtechnologies/facilitating-class-remotely/>.

On that webpage we have provided links to all TILT member calendars so you can make appointments with each of us as necessary.

Earlier this week we introduced our short course on Remote Teaching and Learning. The focus of this short course is on providing you with tools and strategies for moving your courses online.

Thank you to everyone who has been sending questions and requests. Thank you also to faculty who are reaching out and volunteering to support those less comfortable with remote teaching.

More to come.

John Heinrichs Scholarly and Creative Activities Day UPDATE

In light of recent events, the SACAD committee would like to offer a simplified virtual platform for students, faculty, and staff to display and share their research and scholarly activity. We will continue accepting poster submissions and have extended the deadline to April 10th. Unfortunately, we have decided to suspend the oral presentations and art and creative works portions of the event. Below is a list of changes that are associated with the poster submissions:

- Posters will not be judged and therefore prizes will not be awarded.
- Posters will be available for viewing via a Google slide show on April 22nd. More details will follow.
- Door prizes will not be given out this year.

While we are saddened that the 15th annual SACAD event cannot happen in its full capacity, we are grateful that we can still offer an opportunity for you to share your hard work with the FHSU community. Those who have or were planning to submit an oral presentation are alternatively encouraged to submit a poster. Please let me know if you have any questions!

Poster submissions are still accepted at <https://fhsu.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1806323>. This announcement supersedes all details listed in the submission portal.
