ANNOUNCEMENTS

COVID-19 Updates

The Office of Strategic Communications has developed a website with information regarding FHSU's response to the coronavirus pandemic. This includes FAQ's for faculty, staff, students and university stakeholders, a record of university updates, as well as recommendations and resources for health and wellness. Please see the website: <https://www.fhsu.edu/covid-19-response>

TILT Tip: Non-Digital Zoom Backgrounds: The Credibility Bookcase

Looking for a fun take/bit of advice on non-digital options for videoconference backgrounds? Check out this humor piece on "The Credibility Bookcase" from the NYT: https://www.nytimes.com/2020/05/01/arts/quarantine-bookcase-coronavirus.html?action=click&module=Top%20Stories&pgtype=Homepage&contentCollection=AtHome&package_index=0

Calendar: Upcoming Professional Development Opportunities

Check out upcoming professional development opportunities! The TILT TigerLearn event calendar is your go-to for professional development at FHSU! Check it out here: <http://tigerlearn.fhsu.edu/events/>.

To provide faculty and staff with one easy place to see all professional development at FHSU, we're happy to include your event on the TigerLearn calendar. We can include links to your registration site, contact persons for questions, etc. Just contact TILT-FacultyDev@fhsu.edu, and we'll add your event right away!

The Tiger Food Pantry is currently located in the Meadowlark Room of the Memorial Union, and is accessible from 8:30am-10:30am MWF. If you are interested in donating food items please contact Bob Duffy through email at Rduffy@fhsu.edu.

Academic Advising Training CANCELLED; Webinars Will Continue As Scheduled

The Academic Advising and Career Exploration Center offers certificates for academic advisors each semester.

In response to FHSU's COVID-19 response, the AACE Center has decided to cancel the Career Advising Certificate training sessions for the spring semester. The AACE Center believes that advisors play a significant role in the support of our students while they are transitioning during these unprecedented times.

The AACE Center remains committed to providing professional development to advisors. This summer trainings will resume with priority being the Advising Technology Certificate.

NACADA Webinars (delivery mode change)

The Academic Advising and Career Exploration Center and Office of Student Affairs will be providing access to the following webinars from NACADA: The Global Community for Academic Advising thanks to the generosity of the Office of Student Affairs. These webinars are open to faculty and staff. Links to the recorded webinar and handouts will be emailed within two weeks after the broadcast date to those that have RSVP'd, along with date the link expires.

Wednesday, April 15, 2020 - Academic Advising for Social Justice: Theory, Reflection, and Practice

Thursday, May 21, 2020 - Blunt Empathy: Skills and Techniques for Delivering Unwanted News in Academic Advising Situations

RSVP: Please let us know if you are planning to attend by replying to advising@fhsu.edu. We will send you a calendar entry that you will need to "Accept and Send the Response Now". This will allow us to provide appropriate access and handouts for each session.

Questions should be directed to advising@fhsu.edu.

Contribute to the Forsyth Library COVID-19 Archive

Submit materials: <https://bit.ly/COVIDarchive>

Forsyth Library is collecting COVID-19 stories from the FHSU and Ellis County Community to capture and preserve primary resource materials for the University Archives. These stories will be made available for historical and research purposes, exhibits, and public dissemination.

Submit Your Story

Submit text, photographs, journal and diary entries, and other digital evidence by using the project's submission form (<https://bit.ly/COVIDarchive>) or by emailing forsythsc@fhsu.edu. Share stories and materials that demonstrate how the COVID-19 pandemic has affected individuals, organizations, and the community, potentially relating to the stay at home order, social distancing, self-quarantine, delivery of online education, working remotely, and so forth.

Has Your Department/Organization Already Collected COVID-19 Stories?

If your department or university organization has already been gathering COVID-19 stories and would like to submit them to the University Archives for preservation please contact Special Collections Librarian and University Archivist, Amber Watts, at forsythsc@fhsu.edu.

Bigcat.fhsu.edu Decommissioning in August!

Technology Services is decommissioning the old production webserver, also known as Bigcat (bigcat.fhsu.edu). Most of the content on Bigcat is no longer used, however, we believe some content is still active and in use. If you are still actively using, updating, or linking to content on this server, you must reach out to Earl Ruder in University Relations and Marketing to have this content migrated as soon as possible.

Effective on Friday May 29th, the content will be frozen and no updates will be allowed on bigcat.fhsu.edu.

On Monday, August 10th, all remaining content will be archived and the server will be decommissioned. Requests for archived content to be migrated after August 10th can be directed to Earl Ruder.

If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to Earl at earl.ruder@fhsu.edu or by phone at (628)-4070.

Hobbies for Tigers

In an effort to continue student engagement and learning during these unique times, the Department of Campus Intramurals and Recreational Sports is looking for individuals who would like to share their hobbies or interests with our students. We are hoping to put together a program for the Fort Hays State University community known as Hobbies for Tigers. This program will consist of an individual with a hobby or skill that he or she would like to share with our community by recording a tutorial via vidgrid or another platform. For example, some ideas that have been suggested include fly-tying and crocheting. If you would be interested in providing an activity and training component for our students please contact Ron Haag, Director at rhaag@fhsu.edu or Jordan Barrett, Assistant Director at jrbarrett3@fhsu.edu.

Authentic Connections in a Virtual World

Tuesday, May 5; 1:00-1:30pm
ONLINE - ZOOM

We have lived in the virtual world for many years, but it took a global pandemic for us to fully consider how best to utilize online tools. This mini-workshop will help you reframe your approach to networking as well as how to use social media as a tool that goes beyond casual communication. In traditional networking, a focus on others, intentional & intelligent communication, and authentic & engaging interaction are all key; our virtual world is an exciting chance to get creative in accomplishing these goals in a new way.

Lunch 'n' Learn – Taking a Mindful Minute: Mindfulness Strategies to Manage Stress

Thursday, May 7; 11:30am-12:30pm

ONLINE - ZOOM

A 2012 study on mindfulness done by UCLA found that the practice can boost concentration, improve problem solving skills, and even heighten creativity. In addition to those benefits, mindfulness can aid in reducing stress. In this session, we will discuss various mindfulness strategies to help you give yourself a break throughout the busy workday, especially as we're adjusting to working from home and juggling a new set of circumstances. In addition, participants will be asked to consider new resources to manage feelings of stress. We will talk about various mindfulness practices including mindful breathing, a body scan, gratitude and appreciation, and how you can easily implement them. We'll also discuss various types of resources that will help you start (or continue) on your mindfulness journey!

Gain Control of Your Workday: Managing Self, Priorities, and Time

Wednesday, May 13; 9:00am-12:00pm

ONLINE - ZOOM

Your time is a precious resource to many; yourself, your family, your coworkers, and your boss. How can we plan to maximize our potential? When we consider the many infringements upon our day, including interruptions, excessively long meetings, shifting priorities, appointments, schedules, and deadlines, it's no wonder we struggle to get everything done. Being an effective manager of time involves being an effective manager of yourself and your most important priorities. Additionally, it involves determining your own person goals and which roles are most important to you. In this workshop, you'll get the chance to explore all that and more, including examining various strategies, systems, & processes to help you manage yourself, your priorities, and your time. This workshop features 4 hours of content to be delivered both asynchronously & synchronously via Zoom & Blackboard. More instructions given upon registration.

Supervising Virtually (Online Workshop)

Wednesday, May 27*

ONLINE – ZOOM & BLACKBOARD

Being a supervisor or manager at the beginning of March 2020 looks vastly different than it does in April 2020. Employers and managers are now no longer able to watch employees work, physically check quality, or call them into offices to discuss performance. While you are still expected to manage effectively, the way that you manage has likely changed considerably. In this MDC online training, we will be discussing the five effective supervisory skills, but using the lens of virtual or telecommuting to work. Basic principles remain the same; but the strategies, methods, or processes need to look different to adapt to today's unique challenges and circumstances. In addition to reviewing the five effective supervisory skills, we will also discuss strategies & ideas for making these skills more effective in a virtual environment.

6 hours of content to be delivered both asynchronously & synchronously via Zoom & Blackboard. More instructions given upon registration. Registration is $30/person.*

Register: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/supervising-virtually-tickets-103276384446>

Online training sessions are held via Zoom, a link to join will be sent to registrants prior to the event. If you have any questions or concerns about any of these events, contact Hannah Hilker at hehilker@fhsu.edu

Complete Count 2020

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic going on, it is important to clarify where and how college students will be counted for the 2020 Census. The Census Bureau HQ published this video over the weekend detailing important information about what students should do when filling out the census.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B4Ee8ol_LxY

Here is also the link to fill out the 2020 Census. <https://my2020census.gov/>

Student Engagement Office Hours

Student Engagement is offering students, and student organizations the opportunity to 'stop by' via Zoom every Wednesday from 10:30AM-12:30PM. You can come and go as you please! We want to hear how you are doing, help you brainstorm ideas for the remainder of the semester so you do not have to cancel all your events, and even plan for the next semester! It is an informal gathering, and we would love to see you! To get the link or ask any questions email engage@fhsu.edu.

New Class Offers FHSU Students Opportunity to Try Out the Military Experience

Have you ever wondered about life in the military? Are you looking for a different educational experience than the typical university course? If so, our new class, LDRS 120: Introduction to the Military as an Organization may be a great opportunity for you. This class will give you the chance to learn about different aspects of military life and skill sets associated with being a soldier. For more information contact Dr. Seth Kastle at sdkastle@fhsu.edu or Captain Craig McIntyre at Lonnie.c.mcintyre.mil@mail.mil.

Recipe for Success: Art 360

Need an upper division course that is hands on and a fun challenge? Art 360: Ceramics II, Throwing on the Potter's Wheel starts with the basics of centering and moves through the forming of bowls, plates, cups into more complex forms as you build skills. Our theme, Recipe for Success encourages the potter to explore the relationship between food, recipes and ceramics to develop a class book full of captivating images of pottery filled with mouth-watering dishes and how to make them. The course meets from 4:30 - 7:20 pm Tuesday and Thursday in the beautiful new, light filled Ceramics Lab.

Faculty and staff are most welcome to enroll and join the fun. No prior experience in Ceramics is required, but if you have skills you can certainly use them. Majors from all areas are welcome. Focus and a sense of fun while getting your hands dirty makes this unique experience both relaxing and a shared community experience. For more information, contact Linda Ganstrom 785-342-3584 or lmganstrom@fhsu.edu
