Submissions Due by 6/17 for Fall PDD

Greetings, faculty and staff,

We are now planning our annual fall Professional Development Day. This planning is somewhat fluid due to the Covid-19 pandemic; as we gather proposals, we'll know far better how to proceed. Because of all of you, we have seen increases in both session offerings and attendance at each subsequent fall and spring Professional Development Day, over the past three years. We truly look forward to reviewing your proposals, and assure you that we will do our best to provide a meaningful opportunity this fall, just as we strive to do at each professional development event.

Session Types and Tracks

As in the past, we are offering a variety of session types: traditional sessions, panels, and roundtables. You can also add a session type not included on the form. All sessions will run 45 minutes, for the sake of scheduling. We are planning for five session tracks, which may be revised depending on submitted proposals:

technologies, authentic assessment, active learning, collaborative learning, course and program assessment, simulations, rubrics, etc.

- Employee Relations: supervising, managing, managing up, workplace communications, chairing committees, teamwork/collaboration, working remotely on teams, supervising remotely, etc.
- Diversity, Inclusion & Equity: building a more diverse university/workplace, implicit bias, ethical interviewing and hiring practices, ally-ship the right way, anti-racist vs non-racist ideologies, microaggressions, gender issues at work, gender communications, ableism, disabilities, accommodations, etc.
- Workplace Technologies: Excel, PPT and other presentation skills and technologies, digital signatures, Adobe Premiere PDF editing, Workday, Qualtrics, CampusPress, etc.
- Work/Life Balance: time management, self-care, stress reduction, meditation, physical fitness, etc.

When you are ready, please submit your proposals here: Professional Development Day Call for Proposals
