Light in the Dark Suicide Prevention/Resiliency Training

While the Kelly Center strives to prevent and treat mental and emotional health concerns, we also acknowledge that campus ministries have the ability to impact students who we may never intersect with. For this reason, Kelly Center staff members Jessica Albin and Sadie Spurlock have set aside a special night to equip those involved in campus ministry to tackle one of the most challenging issues we face, suicide. We want to provide FHSU campus ministries with a practical, Christian faith-based training opportunity so you can feel prepared to have these difficult yet essential conversations. Additionally, we will discuss how to promote resilience within your ministry groups, as growing resilience is one of the best protective factors to prevent suicidal thoughts from taking root in the first place. Light in the Dark on Thursday, November 12 from 7-8:30pm in the Black and Gold Room of the Memorial Union.

This event is free of charge and is open to the first 40 attendees. Anyone within the FHSU Community is welcome to attend, and this will be targeted approach to train people of faith. As always, please wear a mask and follow all social distancing requirements.

Questions can be directed to jkalbin@fhsu.edu or sespurlock@fhsu.edu

Yellowdig Classic is Ending! – Learn How to Transition from Yellowdig Classic to Engage

Yellowdig (Yellowdig Classic) will be updated to Yellowdig Engage in Blackboard by the end of the fall 2020 semester. This update will remove all the previous Yellowdig links from your courses in Blackboard along with any descriptions (i.e., discussion prompts) posted under the Yellowdig links. If you are using Yellowdig Classic and haven't transitioned any of those links to Yellowdig Engage, please register a Zoom live session with TILT [see event links] or follow the instructions in this interactive tutorial to update the links yourself. Please contact tigerlearn@fhsu.edu if you have any questions or concerns.

MDC Workshop – The Intersection of Public Health and Business: Applying COVID-19 Science to Your Workplace & Lifestyle

Tuesday, November 17 AND Tuesday, December 15 at 3:00-5:00pm (all sessions)
Workshop held via Zoom

Become a leader in the community conversation about public health! This comprehensive 400-minute (6.7 hrs) course provided by Johns-Hopkins University will teach you all you need to know about COVID-19 and contact tracing, including its origins, clinical signs and symptoms, risk factors, diagnosis, transmission, and the infectious period.

This course kicks off with a 2-hour virtual learning and discussion session led by three local professionals and their combined knowledge on COVID-19 related topics. This session will serve as your primer to the course, and afterwards you will be able to finish the course on your own time. You will gain insights from Johns Hopkins University on COVID-19 best practices to leave informed, confident, and safer. According to Johns-Hopkins University, FHSU is the only university using this course to educate their campus community!

Learn more: <https://fhsu.edu/cob/mdc/covid19-course/index>

As FHSU faculty and staff, your registration fee is complimentary, thanks to your FHSU Vice President. Limited funding is available annually per division. For those in Academic Affairs: your registration fees are complimentary for up to two workshops per year.

Registration can be completed online at <https://webapps.fhsu.edu/MDC2.0/Default.aspx> or by calling the MDC at (785) 628-4124.

Get in the Spirit with FHSU Alumni Author: Lynda Beck Fenwick

Tuesday, December 1st, 2020 at 5:00pm CST - Social Hour - 5:30pm CST - Talk with Author
Lynda Beck Fenwick

Online via Zoom

Register: www.goforthaysstate.com/FenwickBook

Kansas author and FHSU alum Lynda Beck Fenwick has a forthcoming book from the University Press of Kansas in December, just in time for holiday giving. Prairie Bachelor: The Story of a Kansas Homesteader and the Populist Movement describes the late 1800s, sharing daily journal entries of Stafford County homesteader Isaac Beckley Werner and Fenwick's research in cemeteries, courthouses, museums, interviews with descendants, as well as more traditional research sources. Werner, a farmer, contributed to populist newspapers and journals and was an active participant in the Populist Movement which made such an imprint on Kansas and the nation.

Fenwick will talk about her extensive research that reached into not only the personal impact of the Populist Movement on Isaac Werner and his pioneer neighbors but also changed the role of government today, including things we now take for granted that originated in this nearly forgotten Movement. The expected release for the book is early December, and you can learn more about the author at <https://lynfenwick.com> and her blog at <https://lynfenwick.blogspot.com/>.

REGISTER:

Make plans to join the event by registering at: www.goforthaysstate.com/FenwickBook

Registration deadline: November 30th, 2020

Registration includes:

- 20% discount code for the purchase of Prairie Bachelor: The Story of a Kansas Homesteader and the Populist Movement
- Bookplate autographed by the author
- “The Populist” signature cocktail recipe
- A Zoom link to attend virtually

This event is sponsored by FHSU Forsyth Library, FHSU Alumni Association, and the FHSU Foundation. For more information, contact alumni@fhsu.edu or call 785-628-4430.

FHSU Student Evaluation of Academic Advising - Live November 9 in Blue

On Monday, November 9, 2020 the FHSU Student Evaluation of Academic Advising went live for students in Blue. The move to Blue will:

1. allow for less confusion for students between this evaluation and course evaluations,
2. allowed for an adjustment of the scale to align with the course evaluation, and
3. easier access to results for academic advisors, chairs, and deans.

An email with more detail can be found in your inbox. Questions should be directed to advising@fhsu.edu.

Campus Climate and Victimization Survey

“Dear students,

This is to remind you that the Department of Criminal Justice developed a Campus Climate and Victimization Survey in conjunction with the Office of Student Affairs. You are invited to provide information to FHSU about your experiences since you first enrolled. This anonymous survey will measure campus climate and your perception of safety. The survey also asks about student victimization, access to campus resources, and satisfaction with university and police responses. The survey will take between 30 to 45 minutes. To participate, you must be 18 years or older. The survey will be available until December 15th, 2020.

To complete the survey, please click the following link:

Intersession Course for Students Majoring in a Healthcare Profession

Attention students majoring in pre-med, nursing, social work, psychology, or simply interested in learning more about corrections. The Department of Criminal Justice is offering CRJ 100 VB Workshop in Criminal Justice: Health Professions in Corrections during the intersession. This is a one credit hour course to familiarize students with the role of healthcare professionals in correctional facilities. A variety of healthcare professionals, including but not limited to medical doctors, nurses, psychiatrists, therapists, and social workers, are hired to work in these facilities, often with little to no knowledge of correctional operations. This course is a great opportunity to be informed. Contact Dr. Tamara Lynn at 785-628-5668 or tjlynn@fhsu.edu for more information.

Student Absences 11/13

The following students will be absent from classes on Friday, November 13th for an all-day virtual field trip for their Livestock Genetics course. They usually go in person to Clay Center, Nebraska to hear educational presentations from leading animal geneticists in the U.S. at the Meat Animal Research Center, as well as tour the facilities. This year the researchers will be presenting to them via zoom and they will remain on campus. The program will begin at 8:30 am and will end at approximately 2:00 pm. The students have been instructed to speak with each of their instructors about missed classes. I hope you will allow them to make up any course material they miss due to this event.
