Please accept our invitation to participate in a special program at Fort Hays State University.

An area appropriately named "Contemplation Garden," was added to the campus in 1997. The garden, with two limestone statues and two benches, occupies a beautifully shaded area just south of Sheridan Hall. This wonderful project recognizes the efforts of women who through the years had a dramatic impact on our university. The area, which is lighted at night, has become a haven for contemplation and a gathering place for celebration.

Contemplation Garden

Dr. Ann McClure, an FHSU faculty member and local renowned sculptor Fritz "Pete" Felten worked together to give the campus an everlasting gift. In the process, an area was created where individuals and groups could pay tribute to any woman, living or deceased.

The garden has beautiful landscaping and will have a brick patio. Bricks with the names of women who influenced the university or women who influenced other individuals or groups will be placed near the statues, thus providing a beautiful patio as well as a lasting record of those women's lives.

You are invited to purchase one or more bricks to complete the patio. You may choose to honor your mother, a teacher, an administrator, your wife, a sister, daughter, or friend. The honoree does not have to have a connection with the university; she just needs to be someone you loved or respected.

And there's more good news. Proceeds above and beyond the cost of the patio will be placed in a scholarship fund named for Dr. McClure, whose vision enabled the garden to become reality. Scholarships will be given to women to attend our outstanding university. Thus the bricks will provide a foundation for the education of women in the future.

Additional good news is that your gift is tax deductible.

Won't you join us in creating a lasting memorial to the women of Fort Hays State University? Just complete and return the enclosed form to name your honorees. Thank you for helping make this project a wonderful addition to our campus.
