Retirement of Micki Armstrong

After many years of service to the Political Science and Sociology departments, online advisor and mentor, Micki Armstrong, has retired. Faculty, staff, and students from both departments gathered at Gella's Diner and Brewing Co. in Hays to eat, share memories, and celebrate Micki's accomplishments at Fort Hays State University.

Micki joined Fort Hays State University in 1998, and as of this year, has spent 23 years with the university teaching, mentoring, and advising students. She has worked meticulously to guide students through Fort Hays State online degree programs and has ensured that students graduate in a timely fashion. Students have praised Micki's expertise and her ability to put them at ease as they work through the advising process. Faculty, staff, and students will certainly miss her go-to advice and understanding of FHSU programs.

In addition to her work with the University, Micki has also long contributed to the Hays community through her counseling, mediation, and corrections work.

We hope everyone will join us in wishing Micki, this Forever Tiger, a wonderful retirement!
